The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in the pamphlet which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions; they are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood which begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is thoroughly relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel to compare with them, but they are very dangerous to use unless with great care, for that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver, while Schenck's Mandrake Pills only unlock the liver.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and when used with the Sea Weed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and thus made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they destroy the stomach, the whole digestive apparatus, the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. SCHENCK, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever, but remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. This is the only way to cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a patient has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of tubercles, ready to cut and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The digestive organs have lost their power, or to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians all pronouncing his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He tried every of the aforesaid medicines, and from his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice should be addressed. He is also professionally at Nos. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours in Boston, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. dlyja4

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known Dr. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c. &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the EVRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECAY, NERVOUS DEBILITY, WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man,—young men in particular. Price only $1.00, sent free.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book contains the 25th edition, and is sold for $3.00. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life, Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

Holloway's Ointment.

—Unlike the dangerous nostrums that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it to be true. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

For the Chronicle.

THE PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—The existence of a Musical Society is a strong indication of general musical interest, as showing a certain degree of talent on the part of the association, and a fair appreciation by the public. That the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society possesses the first requisite, is already a fixed fact, well sustained by former concerts; and those who liberally patronized the "Haymakers" last season, will be prepared to find a steady improvement in the rendering of a more meritorious composition, and as the result of a continued practice.

The writer has been present at several rehearsals, and can bear witness to the artistic rendering of the Operata; and having attended the dress rehearsal, will testify to the elegant manner in which it has been put upon the stage. Rich and expensive dresses prepared expressly for this occasion have been procured from the well known costumers, Messrs. Curtis & Woodbury of Boston. These, together with the new and well adapted scenery recently purchased by Mr. Stavers, and now for the first time used, promise a rich treat.

The Society is composed of some of the best musical talent of the city. Their ability to produce a work of this kind, is beyond dispute—while a perusal of the book of Esther will attest the ample opportunity for stage development, and at the same time afford the audience a better appreciation of the dramatic force of the Cantata.

MUSICUS.

THE END OF THE SAWYER COURT MARTIAL CASE.—The sentence of the naval general court-martial, held some months ago at this Naval Station — in the case of Second Assistant Engineer George F. Sawyer, tried on a charge of using language disrespectful to the President of the United States, and sentenced to be suspended from rank and duty for one year and placed on half of waiting orders' pay during that time, and be publicly reprimanded by Sec Navy—is revoked. Mr. S. being recommended to the President for restoration by Secretary Borie, President Grant issued the following order:—

EXECUTIVE MANSION, March 12, 1869.

"The recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy for the revocation of the sentence in the within case is approved. U. S. GRANT.

We hope that the petty detective now on duty at the Yard, will soon be attended to, and that Surgeon Gihon will not be entirely forgotten by the new administration.

THE PORTSMOUTH DELEGATION.—The Manchester Mirror rightly describes Senator elect Bailey as "a man of energy, decision and uprightness," and says of the representation in the House;

One of the oldest members of the House is Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, of Portsmouth, who has served many years in both branches, and is not often surpassed in legislative tact and prudence. That city makes it a point to select men of influence and experience, and generally has a good delegation of both political parties. The Republican members are all excellent men, and in Mr. Reding the Democrats have an able partisan.

☞ At the North Church, where a volunteer Choir has furnished the music for a couple of years or more,—a Quartet has just been hired—consisting of Miss Jenny Bufford soprano, Miss Mary Freeman alto, Mr. W. N. Ilsley bass, and Mr. J. W. P. Carter tenor. Mr. Pearson continues organist and conductor; and the congregation will have the closing hymn from pew music books with the choir.—Nearly all the churches in the city now have quartets only.

☞ Mr. David Rodrick thinks his tonsorial saloon on Congress Street is the most convenient and the neatest in the city; and it is neat and tidy. Customers do not wait long before being served, as five workmen are now employed. Good for Rodrick!

☞ There are eleven different Scenes in the presentation of Esther, at the Temple this evening; in return for which, the Philharmonic Society would doubtless feel repaid by the one scene of a full audience.

☞ We commend to all smokers, chewers, and snuffers—and especially to all who are not addicted to either habit,— the very readable, sensible and true article on our outside, from Mr. Beecher.

GOSPORT HEARD FROM.—At the late election but 7 votes were thrown.—Stearns had 4 and Bedel 3. The vote for Senator was the same, and Rev. Mr. Beebe was elected Representative to General Court by the same vote.

STRATHAM.—Will some friend who knows, please send us the correct vote of Stratham for Senator?

Portsmouth Sportsman's Club.

The Second Annual Meeting of the Portsmouth, N. H., Sportsman's Club was held Feb. 17th, at the rooms of the Club, nearly all of the members being present. This club, which was started a year since as an experiment, has met with even greater success than its projectors hoped for, and is now in a flourishing condition.

So far as we know it is the only organization of the kind in the country and it has given proof in the short space of a year that the objects for which it was formed has been accomplished. Other clubs on the same plan will doubtless be started in various sections of the country. The club is composed of a limited number of members, embracing many of the business men of Portsmouth. At a certain season of the year they "camp out" for two weeks, and all participate in the sport; some going after game, while others with rod and line scrape acequaintance with the finny tribe. Besides this continued fortnight's sport, small parties start out at different times during the year when game is plentiful and generally render in a good account of their "day or two's shooting."

All of the game taken, whether of fur fin or feather, is recorded in a book kept for the purpose by the Secretary, and at the end of the year the whole season's doings is summed up, and it is then ascertained who has the largest score.

The record for 1868 is a good one. Upwards of one thousand birds of different species were "bagged," while of fish the record shows a number nearly as large. In Fur the score is of course not so high, yet a goodly number of different species stands credited to some of the members. The best specimens of the feathered tribe are stuffed and find a place in the club rooms, where there is already an assortment, while and excellent library furnishes food for the minds of the members. The club last season gave several Pigeon Shoots at the Rockingham Park, which were quite successful, and the coming year this sport will be included in the seasons' programme.

Many sportsmen on their way to and from the many hunting grounds in this section and beyond have been entertained by the club in a spirit of generous hospitality. The club has now become a fixed fact and by other seasons it will rank among the foremost clubs of the country that have as the principal feature of their organization the enjoyments of hunting and fishing in a rational manner.

The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Officers for 1869, being precisely the same as last year:—

President—Marco Bozarris Goodrich.
Vice President—Chas. W. Norton.
Secretary and Treasurer—James. F. Jenness.
Executive Committee—M. Eldredge, J. W. Bell and E. J. Connor.

The best records of 1868 were made by Messrs. Joseph L. Locke and John S. Sides.—Boston National Chronicle.

☞ The Republican State Officer who keeps the Saloon corner Penhallow and Caniel Streets, denies the statements of our correspondent, that he keeps a noisy place—and claims that he has respectable company and a quiet saloon. While we regret that any member and especially officer of the party, (or any man,) should be engaged in the business; still we do not see that he is more censurable than others who do likewise —and we certainly would not be invidious in relation to any one.

☞ The Portsmouth, Saco and Portland Railroad annually uses 27,000 tons of water and 2500 cords of wood at the Kennebunk station.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Shall I Begin To Use Tobacco?

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

A correspondent solicits our candid opinion, through the Ledger, respecting the use of Tobacco. We shall give it willingly. We are not disposed to take extreme ground on the Tobacco question, although we entertain very positive convictions of the mischiefs which attend its use. As is usual in all discussions, two extremes are developed in the controversy respecting tobacco. One party regards the use of tobacco as an evil, an evil only, and that continually; it holds that there is no such thing as moderation in evil; and that the least use of the weed is pernicious, impairing the health and shortening the life. On the other hand, the advocates of smoking and chewing take the bull by the horns, and undertake to demonstrate from the latest grounds of physiology, that tobacco is an article whose use, in due moderation, economizes the nervous force, repairs cerebral wastes, and prolongs life. We shall not take part in the controversy. There are several grounds on which we would dissuade young men, who have not formed the habit of using tobacco from ever learning to use it.

1. It is not necessary to health or to comfort. No one has a natural craving for it. On the contrary, it is utterly repugnant to a natural appetite. It offends the senses, and every vital organ. Men are obliged to train themselves into its use. The stomach, the heart, and the brain all protest against it, and submit, at length, only as they would to any other medicinal agent. That it may become, after long use, necessary to comfort, and even to the health, is saying of it only what may be said of opium, of strychnine, and of arsenic, all of which are employed for the very same purpose that tobacco is, viz., to produce excitement. But the need is secondary, artificial, and acquired. No man in health cares to use tobacco because he needs it. The habit begins in puerile imitation. It is an apish trick. Boys revolt against boyhood, and thinks they are men when old enough to copy the faults of an imperfect manhood. They are very apt to crawl into manhood through the dirty door of vice.

It may be said, that though there is no natural craving for any particular drug, like tobacco, yet in highly artificial state of society men crave stimulants, and that tobacco, alcohol, etc., if used with rigid moderation, dwarf themselves as artificial supplies to an artificial want.

That men living under the highly exciting conditions of modern society need certain stimulants, we are not disposed to deny. But in selecting, one should avoid those which are peculiarly liable to abuse, and employ those which experience has shown to be safe. Tea and coffee are useful stimulants. They are not degenerating. Whatever use tobacco and wine are alleged to have in repairing nervous wastes, tea and coffee will serve in like manner, without the temptations to excesses which go with these more violent drugs.

2. The habit of using tobacco leads men to vulgarity. I do not by any means say that every user of tobacco is vulgar, or that every one who betakes himself to it will, of necessity, become vulgar. But, as a matter of fact, users of tobacco grow indifferent to the feelings of others, and habitually keep before the eyes of their companions disgustful things, which true refinement would hide, or suppress. Even brute animals, moved by mere instinct, learn to hide the excretions of the body. The much-abused pig prefers cleanliness. Give him pure water and a clean bed, and he will keep himself clean.

But, whatever rare and polite exceptions there may be, it is undeniable that the users of tobacco become indifferent to others' feelings, and shock the tastes of men with scarcely the consciousness of offending. The chewer squirts his saliva as if he were a liquid artillery-man. The smoker carries in his hair, his raiment, and in his breath the fetid odor of tobacco. To some the fresh smoke of good tobacco is not disagreeable. But the residual smell which lingers in the pipe, on the clothes, or on the person, is disgustful to every one. If one will use tobacco, he should at least thereafter carefully purge and purify himself. But I have observed that persons who in all other things have gentlemanly instincts, in the use of tobacco seem to lose delicacy and generosity. I see a great degree of selfishness, and of indifference to others' comfort and feelings, in the use of this article. I do not say that tobacco brutifies men's feelings. But I have noticed that users of tobacco are, as a class, less careful of offending the tastes of others than are their fellows of the same rank in life who do not use it.

3. Tobacco has, upon some constitutions, a most deleterious effect, even when used moderately. No one can beforehand tell whether he will be its victim. That it acts upon many as an insidious nerve-poison, leading to dyspepsia, to headaches, to various derangements of the nervous system, seems beyond a doubt. Thousands of persons, after long suffering, have found themselves restored to health by simply discontinuing the use of tobacco. That, in such cases, there is an affinity between drinking and smoking, can hardly be doubted. That, in some cases, it leads to intemperance, seems clear.

Why should one incur even the remotest danger, by learning to use a disagreeable narcotic agent that a healthy man has no sort of need of?

4. There is an argument of personal liberty and of personal purity that has always seemed to us should be sufficient, with a generous and honorable nature. The habit of using tobacco, once formed, is well-nigh invincible. Now, no man of self-respect, not already entangled, should choose to go into bondage, to become a slave to matter of sensuous enjoyment.

There is, also, a reason of personal cleanliness. No man who habitually uses tobacco but must be offensive to delicate tastes. It is a matter of proper pride for one to be conscious that his person is pure, his skin sound, his mouth clean, his eye cool and clear. If one is unwilling to wear a filthy coat, he would less should he be willing to carry a filthy person? Now and then a tobacco user may by great care hide the effects of it on his person. But, in far the greater number of instances, even among well-bred people, one can at once see or smell, or both, the signs and effects of the noisome weed.

We hardly hope to influence any on whom the habit is fixed. We do hope to dissuade some young men from forming a habit which is utterly unnecessary to health and comfort, which in most instances is unwholesome, which sacrifices personal cleanliness, addicts one invincibly to a sensuous appetite, and which changes delicacy and kindness to a selfish indifference to the comfort and convenience of all who are brought in contact with us.—New York Ledger.

NEW SABBATH SCHOOL BOOK

"THE MORNING STARS,"

JUST PUBLISHED.

A Collection of Religious Songs, for SUNDAY SCHOOLS and the HOME CIRCLE.

This book of religious songs for children was undertaken because the authors could find no Book which appeared to them to be well adapted for the use of Sabbath Schools, and the choir of children whose musical instruction they have in charge.—Great care has been taken in this selection that the words might faithfully reflect the sentiment of the music as well as equal it in elevation of tone.

and Rye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales of the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, although very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioner of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all respects, will be cheerfully furnished for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with the common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HURSELL'S

PURITY,

FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
29 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

—Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

A NEVADA REPORTER describes a divorce case in the following succinct manner. "Judge R——, yesterday, ordered a disjunctive decree to be issued, in the case of Mary Smith vs. John Smith, severing the copulative conjunction heretofore existing between the parties. The frequent imperative moods and violent interjections of the masculine gender had rendered it impossible for the feminine to agree with him in the plural number. The husband was much affected during the parsing of the sentence by the Judge."

—A member of Oneida Community writing on the importance of mulching fruit trees and plants of every kind, says, that he mulched a row of the Franconia raspberry, and also one of the Philadelphia, side by side. The effect was very marked. While the Franconias which were not mulched were literally scorched, and the leaves crumpled in the sun, the row which received the mulching, carried through nearly double the crop of fruit. The material used for mulching was old, half-decayed buckwheat straw.

FRANKING by machinery may now be regarded as at an end, the Postmaster-General having issued a general order that, in accordance with the recent law of Congress, all franking stamps must be disregarded. As only autograph signatures can now be used in franking, it is probable that the revenue of the Post-office Department will be increased, neither the time nor the disposition of members of Congress being equal to the task of keeping the supply up to the old standard.—Advance.

—A writer for the Turf, Field and Farm in suggesting that horses which herd together are oftener injured in their rough sports than in combat, remarks that the bite of the horse, even in play, is no trifle, for, from some peculiarity in the muscles of the jaws, they do not seem gifted with the facility to let go, like the dog. The jaws become locked and the piece must cut out or the teeth slip off and crack together before he again seems able to control their action.

A DIRTY JOB UNDONE.—One of the orders issued by the Secretary of the Navy undoes the dirty job done by Mr. Welles at the Portsmouth Navy Yard about a year ago, when he court-martial Engineer Sawyer for saying in discussion with other persons that Andrew Johnson had violated his pledges to the people, and ought to be impeached. Sawyer is restored to his rank, and gets all his back pay.—Boston Sunday Times.

—The sprouts of the potato contain an alkaloid termed by chemists solanine, which is very poisonous if taken into the system. This does not exist in the tubers, unless they are exposed to the light and air, which sometimes occurs from the accidental removal of the earth in cultivation. A potato that shows a blackish-green tint on one side should never be cooked for the table or fed to stock.

—A Frenchman, who had been a practical joker all his life, even played a trick after he had lost the power of enjoying it. He left four large candles to be carried at his funeral, and they had not been burning more than fifteen minutes before they went off as fireworks.

—It is said that the business interests of Portland are very much depressed. The Cuban troubles have proved very injurious to the sugar and molasses business, in which that city is so largely engaged, and the expensive buildings which were erected after the great fire do not find occupants.

—It costs us three hundred thousand dollars to do our duty towards the Chippewa Indians in northern Minnesota. The tribe numbers ten thousand. Among the items is one of $4000 a year for "utility"—certainly a very expensive article whatever it may be.

— If the corn used for whiskey in one district of Kentucky were used in feeding hogs, it would make the pork of 200,000 swine.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the paroxysms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like those of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.
Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken down at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies were given us by recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began giving the Nervine just before going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—and rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands in Death's dark night,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons.
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mask?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption's fatal dart,
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh adorns your throat!
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption's dire grip,
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify our friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand?
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll bear my pain again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never sting;
Pumps inflammation out;
Its harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at this disease's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores: also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress. APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office: FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondences should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurer as the use of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1869.

The News.

The Indians in Alaska are giving our forces considerable trouble.

The Senate on Monday confirmed Sydney A. Stockdale, collector of internal revenue for the first district of Louisiana, vice General Steedman; James W. King, Chief of the Bureau of Engineering of the Navy Department, vice Isherwood, removed.

Arkansas has ratified the 15th Constitutional Amendment.

Mr. Robert M. Douglas, one of the sons of the late Senator Douglas, has been made one of President Grant's secretaries.

The Pacific Steam Navigation Company's fine new steamer Santiago, from Valparaiso for Liverpool, ran on a rock in the Strait of Magellan, Jan. 25, and sunk. All on board were saved except two sailors and a child, by the American schooner Sarah H. Merrill, of Gloucester, Capt. Howe. The schooner had been beating about the Straits 28 days.

Heavy earthquake shocks continue along the Peruvian coast and interior, and in Chili.

Yellow fever prevails in Peru, and is very severe in Arica.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Monday, Mr. Cragin of N. H. introduced a bill to pay deputy collectors and assessors the same as collectors and assessors when discharging their duties. Referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Trumbull reported, with an amendment, the House bill to repeal an act regulating the tenure of civil offices. The amendment makes the bill read:—

Be it enacted &c., That an act passed March 2, 1867, entitled an act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices, be and the same is hereby suspended until the next session of Congress.

Mr. Conkling of N. Y. introduced a bill to encourage the building of ships in the United States. Referred to the committee on commerce.

On motion of Mr. Patterson of N. H., the joint resolution to provide for a joint committee to reorganize the departments was taken up and passed.

On motion of Mr. Grimes of Iowa, the bill to reorganize the navy was taken up, and several amendments reported by the committee agreed to.

The bill to strengthen the public credit, which had passed the House, was passed by a vote of 42 to 18.

In the House, the Committees were announced. Mr. Ela of N. H. is on the Committee on Claims, and the Committee on Expenditures on Public Buildings; Mr. Benton is on the Committee on Agriculture and Committee on Invalid Pensions; Mr. Stevens is on the Committee on Naval affairs. 400 bills have been introduced in both houses since March 4th.

The Senate, on Tuesday, passed Mr. Grimes' bill reorganizing the navy, without any formal vote or manifestations of opposition. Its passage by the House, this session, is doubtful.

☞ It appears by the Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the amount of spirits in bonded warehouse July 1st, 1866, was 6,081,551 gallons; in 1867, 17,887,272 gallons; in 1868, 27,278,420 gallons.

☞ It is rumored that Secretary of the Navy Borie and Minister to Spain Hale are to exchange places; i. e. that Hon. John P. Hale will be Secretary of the Navy, and Mr. Borie Spanish Minister.

☞ The editorial profession is now represented in Washington by the Vice-President, President of the Senate, pro tem., Secretary of the Senate Speaker of the House, and Clerk of the House.

The Odd Fellows of Manchester will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into this country on the 26th of April. It is designed to make this grand semi-centennial a gala occasion and to give it a State character. To this end invitations will be extended to each Encampment and Lodge in New Hampshire. The number of Odd Fellows in the State is over three thousand.

The building known as the Ryan farm house, in Plymouth, with most of its contents, was destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. It was occupied by Rev. Charles Greenwood. It was considered the best made house in town. It cost $15,000, and was insured for $5000. It is thought the fire originated from the furnace.

Several inches of snow fell at Concord Sunday night, and it is the ninety-eighth day of uninterrupted sledging.

There is great interest manifested as to the choice of Commissioner for Merrimack county. It is a close matter; but Daniel E. Hill of Northfield, the Republican nominee, is undoubtedly chosen.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market price of $30 per ton. Crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years). They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Wm. D. Bishop, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, cider by five with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap, for Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good results as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows manured with the Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called Chyme. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by the mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The Chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The medicine by which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing the acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage thro' the bowels of the useless dregs.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid face, the hectic flush, and emaciated form and the impossibility of application to any mental effort, show its baneful influence—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the patient is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for weaknesses arising from indiscretion or indulgence, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Head, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Nervous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Eruptions of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably CURES—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Blooming Dale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by Insanity or Consumption? Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually swollen and quite destitute—either Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sitting, sigh'd on her unpitied Care."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an antidote for the evil, for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY RECTIFIED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no medicine like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through handling Waltham Watches.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale on such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, in the interest of Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of these unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let this party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Bearing this in view, our policy has always been to sell to self-interested parties at the lowest possible price in order to secure the largest possible sale, thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that today we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THE CO. QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the record of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted such as have proved, only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, where such persons were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more remunerative than the trade of the gold bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to digest the food, neutralizes the acids to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to settle fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are in a state of inflammation and decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body; for months and years past, and all your power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will take from the lungs the ulcerated matter, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest well and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for the past years past, and yet now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians pronouncing consumption incurable, hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly situated have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to see the Doctor personally, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally in his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the services of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c. ☞

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr Hayes. It treats upon the EARLY DECLINE OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise on the Blood ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. The book is the result of the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offering,—Beauty, Its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect,—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills.—The symptoms of dyspepsia often closely resemble those of heart disease. Hot flushes, violent palpitation, spasms, sudden faintness, suffocating sensations, &c., are ordinary results of chronic indigestion. These somewhat alarming indications of a foul stomach incapable of converting the aliment it receives to a wholesome purpose, can only be got rid of by proper stomachic aid and cathartic medicine, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the very best medicine that can be administered in such cases. Sold by all Druggists.

☞ To Remove Moth Patches, Freckles, and Tan from the face, use PERRY'S MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY.

FOR BLACK WORMS, AND PIMPLES ON THE FACE, use PERRY'S COMEDONE AND PIMPLE REMEDY, prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY, 49 Bond Street, New York. Sold everywhere.—The trade supplied by wholesale Druggists. m8dawdm

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and thus by producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the lungs outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will loosen and cast it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are required to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing its torpidity, when the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

ESTHER, with her retinue, reigned supreme as the beautiful Queen, at the Temple on Tuesday evening—the King and his party well aiding. The Concert was largely attended, and generally pronounced a great success. Miss Lizzie Ham as the Queen, with her sweet vocalism, won much applause, and was the recipient of an elegant bouquet; and all the parts were well sustained, considering the circumstances. The Cantata will be given once more, this evening; and it is understood that Haman, although royally sentenced to be hanged, will be reprieved long enough to appear again with the rest on this occasion, and will no doubt bring his stylish and high-spirited wife Zeresh along. The Readings were certainly some of the best we ever heard. The performance may reasonably be expected to improve on the first representation, this evening.

MINOR LOCALS.—Deering & Gammon are to have another race Friday evening, at their Velocipede Rink-tum. This time the slowest rider wins.

E. A. Batchelder has a new circulating library at his newspaper establishment.

A full attendance of the Thespians is requested at the Rehearsal, Friday evening.

Betton & Stephenson offer a prize, a silver cup, to the best Velocipede rider, the holder of the cup to accept all challenges and all contests to be decided at the Rink, on Vaughan Street, First trial, Thursday evening.

The snow of Monday made fair sleighing again.

The Masons have a ball at Congress Hall Thursday evening.

☞ Messrs. Pierce of the Sagamore House, have a bunch of Grouse and a quantity of Venison, which they have kept up to the exact point of toothsomeness, for the occasion of the Venison Supper this evening—which will very likely be the last of the sleighing. It will be seen that the big sleigh will run cheap.

HYPERCRITICISM. — Our correspondent H., a few days ago, wrote a short communication respecting the Episcopal Chapel, or as we ourselves added, Vestry. This called out another article, in the paper whose chief capital is opposition to this Chronicle,—and to which it is welcome so long as the managers like it—and to which we never think it worth our while to reply; but as our correspondent does, we give the gist of his rejoinder.

As stated above, we called the Chapel a Vestry, because that is common usage now-a-days, for such buildings, among most denominations other than the Episcopal—while of course, every school-boy knows the literal definition of the word. — The windows are not strictly Gothic, but the term is accurate enough for us or our correspondent, as distinguished from square: So also of dais, which means a platform or raised floor, as one definition. There is certainly as good authority for this, as for calling a quartet a choir, originally chorus. The last hold of instruction, was evidently enough a mere typographical error. Lectern was a blunder of the clerk who copied the communication, and was pointed out in our office, but accidentally passed the proof-reader twice at a late hour.

The size of the window was the estimate of our correspondent's eye only; but is near enough, as is also the statement of cost. One of the chairs, he finds on closer examination, is sawed in fret-work, while he called both carved. What a mighty distinction!—It seems he was wrong in stating new chandeliers, as there is but one, and that not new, while the other gas-fixtures are. Sabbath-school will pass for good-enough Sunday talk with us.

In fact, if our correspondent understood and appreciated the newspaper referred to, as well as we do, he would readily see that it is nothing if not critical of us, and pass by all its talk as the idle wind to be heeded not. The only real error in the piece worth noticing, was that the windows are ornamented with representations of the eight Evangelists—and this, which was not noticed at all by our Hypercritic, should have included also four other symbols or monograms, for the eight windows. The Journal took our type, and doubtless read no further proof of the article.

We have used more of our space than we wish for this star-struck critic, who we think must be a very high, not to say highfalutin, Churchman. Living, spoken languages, are constantly changing with use; and even theologians who allow of no improvement in their creed, will find themselves left high and dry, when the great tide of humanity and real Christianity rolls on.

☞ Rev. Dr. Bingham of Boston will preach in the North Church Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 17, and 18, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Seats free—all are invited.

☞ Mr. Mark G. Ham, who died in this city last week, was Carpenter's Mate in the U. S. Navy,—of late on board the Vandalia Receiving Ship in this harbor. He was on board the Kearsarge when she sunk the Alabama, and was employed in fitting the chain-mail which protected the ship. His funeral was attended by a Corporal's Guard of Sailors and Marines, with the Cornet Band; and the body was laid, with military honors, in the South Cemetery.

Last performance of Esther this (Wednesday) evening.

TO MY PATIENTS.

TOO GREAT DEVOTION to professional duties in the past, resulting in declining health in the present, will compel me until further notice to make the following curtailment of my Office Hours:

Forenoons, each day of the week, from 9½ to 1. Afternoons of Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 3 to 4, or one hour only.

Nothing but the most imperative necessity on the part of my patients will induce me to alter or extend these hours. Will they therefore please bear them in mind and time their calls to them?

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Influence of Farming upon the Farmer.

The following is an Abstract of an Address of Rev. H. O. WALKER, to the Deerfield Farmers' Club, Feb. 10, 1869.

After some general remarks upon the influence of different occupations upon the men that follow them, the speaker stated his proposition, "The calling of the Farmer is adapted to promote the best type of manhood." Admitting that allowance must be made for the original difference in the characters of men, that no skill can give the polish of mahogany to the cross-grained hemlock, and that a man may thwart all the natural tendencies of his profession,—he said the proper benefits of his occupation are secured only when one loves and honors his profession, and respects himself in it. The farmer who engages with earnestness and enthusiasm in his calling, will find a field for the exercise of his best energies, and a discipline suited to make the best style of man.

1. Its influence on the Intellect. He denied the doctrine that farming is all hard work, and demands only the exercise of strong muscles, and affirmed that it affords the means for a broad and generous mental culture. It calls into requisition something more than mere professional knowledge. The lawyer in extensive practice must confine his attention to the law from year to year. So the physician, forever must study the various phases of diseases, and their remedies,—and the clergyman and the merchant, to succeed, must confine themselves closely to their own professions. But the good farmer becomes something more than a farmer. He enjoys time for thought.

Knowledge is not so much the result of study as of patient thought. The farmer is surrounded by things that will waken thought, if he has the power to think. He has pressed on his attention, problems in Geology, Mineralogy and Chemistry, and with careful reading will be able to carry on an extensive investigation, while he tills. In his cornfield, wider fields open before him, and he may run into the study of the physiology of plants, the peculiar laws of their structure and growth and the cultivation required by each.

Curious insects will often be met, and afford him opportunity to collect specimens and pursue the science of Entomology. In every part of the field of his labor, questions will be forced upon him, that can be answered only by an extensive knowledge of Natural Science. The material world is a storehouse of facts to instruct us; and the farmer, living in close and constant contact with nature, has superior facilities to secure a knowledge of her.—These principles the speaker illustrated by facts in his own experience and observation when a boy, in a Vermont farm house. Of all men the farmer ought to know most, about the greatest number of things. But to do this, he must not only have eyes, but use them, and keep all his faculties awake.

2. He argued its influence on man's social nature, and that it tends to cultivate true manliness.—He is more independent, and free from petty rivalries. The fluctuations and panics which harass and ruin many, affect him but little. His broad acres are secure from the thief and from the ravages of fire. He does not feed on the quarrels, or the extravagances or the diseases of other people, as the lawyer, the merchant and the doctor do, but on the fruit of his own soil.

3. He considered the influence of farming upon the cultivation of the Taste.—The world is full of beautiful things, and man was made to enjoy them, and to be elevated by them. He pointed out the objects which are suited to cultivate the taste and gratify it, which often attract the attention of the farmer, and illustrated how differently different men see the same things.—In the street gutter you may see only slosh and water, or you may see the reflection of the blue sky, far above you. And he concluded that one cannot become a full grown man, whose taste for the beautiful is uncultivated.

4. He briefly considered the moral influence of the profession. — Though, in a sense, more independent than men in other professions, the farmer is bro't to feel his dependence on an over ruling Providente. When he has planted he cannot cause one seed to grow,—God gives the increase. The drought may wither his crops, or frost may blight them, or the flood may destroy them. These facts should teach him faith and humility. The joy of the harvest should be mingled with gratitude to the Giver of all good. The goodness and benevolence of God should teach him to be merciful and benevolent to his fellowmen.

[This is only a meagre outline of an Address that, at a late hour, secured the close attention of the audience. I wished that some of the young men who think they can never know anything if they remain on the farm, could have listened to it. Yours, &c., J. C.]

NEW SABBATH SCHOOL BOOK

"THE MORNING STARS."

JUST PUBLISHED.

A Collection of Religious Songs, for SUNDAY SCHOOLS and the HOME CIRCLE.

This book of religious songs for children was undertaken because the authors could find no Book which appeared to them to be well adapted for the use of Sunday Schools, and the choir of children whose musical instruction they have in charge.—Great care has been taken in the selection that the words might faithfully reflect the sentiment or the music as well as equal it in elevation of tone.

is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experiences and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among the New States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and views. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—The wedge in the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By splitting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.

'No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, flaking scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, nitric or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,
No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.
JOHN E. ROBERTS, Agent for Portsmouth.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the glossy freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HORSES AND TOBACCO.—The following is an extract from the annual Address before the New York State Agricultural Society, by Thomas H. Fail, Esq., retiring President, delivered at the annual meeting of the Society, in the Capitol at Albany, Feb. 10, 1869.—The author, it will be seen, "talks horse" in a different way from some others, and tobacco also.

Surprise was expressed at the last Fair that no premiums were offered for Thoroughbreds, or in other words, Race Horses. The efforts of this Society have been, and should continue to be, put forth for the promotion of the Agricultural interests of the State, and these it would seem will be best served by encouraging the production of that which is most generally useful, in so far at least as live stock is concerned. For large, active horses, of about sixteen hands high, there is always a great demand, at high prices; and a farmer who will use mares can raise one or two colts of that kind every year, by merely exercising the necessary care in selecting a stallion of good size and temper, and of requisite bone and muscle. If the stallion be thoroughbred, so much the worse.

In portions of Europe where the climate permits of plowing being done nearly throughout the year, the Clydesdale and other heavy draught horses are no doubt used to advantage. But in this State, with its long winter, the farmer cannot afford to keep a team for any special purpose, and as those which come under the class of "Horses of all work," will do almost anything that heavy draught horses can do, and do it quicker, and at the same time are available as roadsters, I think the Society will most benefit the farmer by encouraging the breeding of horses adapted to general purposes.

I do not object to, or under-estimate, the thoroughbred horse, but the money value of those of good pedigree and fine qualities is so great that very few farmers can afford to own them, and those of inferior quality have nothing to recommend them, either as roadsters or work-horses. The simple truth is, that farmers have no use, either for weedy thoroughbreds or for those little trotting-horses so common at this time, and the breeders of them not only lose money, but run a great risk of spoiling their sons. For, though there is no reason why it should necessarily be so, yet it is undeniably true, that the racing and trotting of horses, whether at Fairs or upon the track, is accompanied by falsehood, trickery, profanity, the excessive use of intoxicating drinks, and the disgusting use of tobacco.

I find, with much surprise, that for many years past a premium has been offered for the cultivation of Tobacco. I never heard of its being even suggested by any Executive Committee of the Society, and personally, I would as soon think of giving a premium to the man who could drink the most rum.—All classes seem to indulge in it, and even Ministers of the Gospel, from whom we should expect a better example—I state it with much regret—use it in proportion to their numbers, almost as generally as the people of any other profession or occupation. I could give the names of several—were it not improper to do so—whose days were ended in insane asylums from its effects.

It is the forerunner of intemperance, and thus of almost every other vice; and it may not be out of place to state that the most experienced in the care of inebriates say they never knew a permanent cure of a patient who continued the use of tobacco in any way. Thus, with a full knowledge of its evil influences, I trust this Society will never again offer a premium for its cultivation.

Before leaving this subject, I desire to call your attention to the fact that over 800,000,000 of dollars are annually expended in this country for intoxicating drinks and tobacco. The sum has been stated as being really much larger, but that just named is, no doubt, under the actual amount, and all for that which is drunk—guzzled would be a more appropriate word — smoked, chewed and spit away.

Now, if this immense expenditure, which, in its results, tends to vitiate and demoralize man, by injuring his physical, mental and moral nature, could be diverted to the supply of the necessary wants of the people, poor-houses would hardly be needed in our land, and prisons and penitentiaries would be almost unknown.

—A penitentiary is built over hot springs in Carson City, Nevada, and the land is found to be slowly but steadily sinking. The prisoners are anything but pleased at the prospect of being swallowed up.

— Miss Lizzie Boynton of Crawfordsville, Ind., having lectured on the subject "After Suffrage, What?" received an answer the other day in the shape of an old pair of trousers, a jacket, and a dull razor.

—A local poet indicted a sonnet to a lady, entitled "I kissed her snub rosa." The compositor knew better than that, and set it up in printer's Latin, "I kissed her snub nosa."

—The uncle of an actor in Wisconsin has died and left him 7000 acres of land in Texas, but no one ever dares to go there to claim property.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.
Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by interested neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once to see a fact immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a disease the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Rust down instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you are laid in earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And cures quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps out sumation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest single phrase.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflamation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
Oh this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D.C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. FEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News

Memphis, Tenn., had a hail storm on Monday, and window glass suffered extensively.

An order has been issued by Secretary Rawlins directing the consolidation of the infantry regiments in the service, in accordance with the new law for the reduction of the army.—Twenty-three white and two negro regiments will comprise the permanent force.

Cuban advices report that the revolutionists have succeeded in keeping government re-enforcements from reaching Puerto Principe, and that city, the capital of the central department, is in danger of falling into the hands of the insurrectionists.

The suit of the Baltimore firm of Kimberly Brothers against General Butler has been removed to the United States District Court for the district of Maryland.

Farm labor in Tennessee is very scarce.

Stephen Clark, late financial editor of the New York Tribune, died at Genoa, Italy, on Sunday.

President Grant had an interview with a delegation of Cherokee, Choctaw, Creek and Chickasaw Indians, on Monday.

A committee of three, delegated by the Washington City Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, waited on the President on Monday, to urge the claims of crippled soldiers for appointment to official positions. The President assured them that he felt a warm interest in this class of citizens, and plainly intimated that their claims would not be overlooked.

An inquest on one of the victims of the fever ship James Foster, jr., was held at Staten Island, N. Y., on Monday, and resulted in a verdict that the deceased came to his death from starvation and brutal treatment at the hands of three under-officers of the ship. The jury further state it to be their belief that the captain and second mate were accessories.

The insurgents in the neighborhood of Sagua La Grande, Cuba, number 1500 and are under the command of an American named Randolph Pale, formerly in the confederate service and lately a clerk in the mercantile house of Bishop in Caibairen.

A steam transport has arrived at Havana from Barcelona with 1100 Spanish troops.

Mr. Kingsley, just confirmed as Spanish Secretary of Legation, is Minister Hale's son-in-law.

Secretary of State Fish took the oath of office on Tuesday.

A new style of postage stamps is next in order.

Three thousand people have died of small pox in San Francisco.

The President has ordered the appointment of Miss Van Lew as postmistress of Richmond, Va. This lady is well known by reputation, if not in person, to most of the soldiers who served in the army of Virginia. Her family was constant in attentions such as could be rendered to Union soldiers in Libby prison, and she herself rendered a good deal of valuable service to Gen. Grant and other leading army officers.

Lancashire, England, had a slight shock of earthquake on Tuesday.

Lewiston, Me., just made a city, has elected a Republican Mayor.

A colored man named Basset is strongly urged for Minister to Hayti.

St. Patrick's day was generally celebrated by Hibernians all over the country.

It is reported that Gen. Custar has been captured by Indians.

Arequipa has had another earthquake.

A church in Toseatecas was struck by lightning on the 5th inst. and destroyed. One hundred persons were buried in the ruins.

NAVAL.—Rear Admirals Stringham, Stribling and Lee are ordered to make a tour of inspection of the navy yards, and make an extended report to the Navy Department of the condition of the same. The order giving rank to apothecaries in the navy is revoked.

It is reported that the Secretary of the Navy will soon issue an order directing a portion of the Pacific squadron to proceed to the West Indies to re-enforce the squadron stationed there, and that two iron-clads of the first class are to be sent to Key West to be in readiness for orders from the Commander of the West India squadron. These preparations are taken to meet any emergency that may arise relative to the rights of American citizens in Cuba.

—A Detroit paper calls Black Kettle's orphans "fatherless skilletts."

Congress.

The Senate laid the House resolution to adjourn on the 26th inst. on the table, and passed the joint resolution in relation to the provisional governments of Virginia and Texas, and the bill to reorganize the navy. Mr. Cragin of N.H. succeeded in getting in an amendment, limiting the office of solicitor and naval judge advocate general until January 3, 1869.

Mr. Ramsey of Minn. introduced a bill to incorporate the United States Postal Telegraph Company. Referred to the committee on post roads.

Mr. Sherman of Ohio introduced a joint resolution authorizing the recognition of the independence of Cuba. Referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Mr. Pomeroy of Kan. introduced a bill to define the qualification of voters in Utah. It establishes woman suffrage.

The bill to repeal the tenure-of-office act was taken up and debated at great length and with considerable spirit, but before any action was had thereon, the Senate went into an executive session, and afterwards adjourned.

In the House, the Speaker announced that Mr. Blair declined service on the committee on foreign affairs and as chairman of the committee on private land claims; that he had appointed him to a position on the committee on ways and means, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Orth, and that he appointed Mr. Orth chairman of the committee on private land claims, and to the second place on the committee on foreign affairs previously held by him. He also staied that by an error in copying, Mr. Dewcese had been announced as chairman of two committees. The chairman of the committee on expenditures in the interior department was Mr. Ela of New Hampshire.

The Senate Judiciary Committee on Wednesday reported back to the Senate Mr. Edmund's bill repealing the act admitting Georgia to representation and re-establishing a provisional government therein.

MILITARY CHANGES.—By direction of the President of the United States Lieutenant General P. H. Sheridan is assigned to the command of the Military Division of Missouri.

Major General H. W. Halleck is assigned to the command of the Military Division of the South, to be composed of the Departments of the South, Louisiana, the Fourth Military District, and the States composing the present Department of the Cumberland, headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky.

Major General George H. Thomas is assigned to the command of the military division of the Pacific.

Major General Schofield is assigned to the command of the Department of the Missouri. The State of Illinois and the post of Fort Smith are transferred to this department.

Brigadier and Brevet Major General O. O. Howard is assigned to the command of the department of Louisiana.

The Department of Washington will be discontinued and merged into the Department of the East.

The first military district will be added to the military division of the Atlantic.

As soon as Major General Thomas is ready to relinquish the command of the Department of the Cumberland, the department will be discontinued, and the States composing it will be transferred to another department to be hereafter designated.

New Hampshire Items.

The amount of snow near Gorham has no parallel in the memory of The Oldest Inhabitant; in many places it is from nine to eleven feet deep on a level. Fences are entirely obliterated, and people take the most available routes they can find without regard to prescribed lines of travel. Along the Grand Trunk as far down as Bethel, the snow is up to the car windows, and in many places much deeper. Railroad travel borders on the impossible.

☞ We learn that Hon. E. H. Rollins was not a candidate for Representative in a caucus at Concord, just previous to election, and furthermore that Mr. Rollins worked hard towards rolling up the handsome gain which the Republicans made in his own ward. As Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee Mr. Rollins has shown a vigor and efficiency which deserves the praise of all unprejudiced men in the party, and which will in time bring its own reward.

—A Virginia paper contains a card from an F. F. V., "claiming that cock fighting is a very improving sport, and that eating the eggs of game chickens "makes men plucky, punctilious, and sensitive for their honor."

"BARRETT'S Vegetable Hair Restorative" is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "roll of pomatum." Softens brash, day and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—Savannah (Ga.) Rep.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original, standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the recipe is wrapped around each bottle. TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where none other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this section."

Danl. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever tried in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X. L. Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three from four rows with Bradley's Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X. L.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of the muscles of the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The Chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it is converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the first failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious portion of the chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage thro' the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia, and liver complaint. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical and true.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is preying upon the fairest gem of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent home to the country. This sometimes does wonders. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! the increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Followed by Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and quicker sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support they think it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale on such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the unwary inexperienced buyer to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated in this country, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. It is every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch can be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American watch the question, HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those whether to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the UnitedStates put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the reputation of many valuable inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have always kept the best, when only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, one being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more remunerative by reason of the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a red-dish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since we have recommended it to our friends in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we sometimes reject this remedy, we recall the sleepless nights we spent in the cabin of the prairie, come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which will "cleanse"—cleanse the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health, feels a strong desire to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, PA., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have conferred on me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throat, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, insect bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

DR. TOBIAS—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.

Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimonials will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, or when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing the obstructions, relieving the duct or gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented equal calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions for the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop the night sweats, to stop fever, to stop the hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation, or they are gone for lung. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach loses its power to digest food or to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will ripen the matter in the lungs, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as she has been able to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for forty years past, and now weighs 25 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the after-said medicines, and since his recovery many thousands have taken the same medicines Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to consult a physician. Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 37 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

"ESTHER," Wednesday evening, had favorable audience, not only from the King, but the people—and the performance passed off very satisfactorily. Miss Ham, the Queen, was very evidently suffering, on both evenings, from a severe cold, that almost forbade her appearing at all; but notwithstanding this she took her part in a manner which shows her one of the sweetest of vocalists, of this or any other city. Mr. Ilsley and several others were similarly afflicted, but still acted well their parts. We shall refer to some particulars hereafter, but will only say now, that while any such amateur performance can hardly be expected to be free from inaccuracies and anachronisms, even incongruities—yet a gentleman of competent judgment in the audience said he had seen "Somnambula" put on a New York stage with less credit for completeness than this.

GENERAL STONEMAN, Commanding the first Military district, has issued an order vacating all civil offices whose occupants cannot take ironclad oath, and the panic among office-holders is great, the larger part of them being unable to comply with the conditions imposed.

We wish our new Secretary of the Navy would adopt the same excellent plan. There are some rebels still holding positions at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, who ought to thank their lucky stars that they go unhung. They could not take the iron clad oath without committing perjury: but we have no doubt of the willingness of some of them to take a false oath that they might continue to get a living out of the Government they sought to ruin.

☞ Among the audience at the Concert of Esther, Tuesday evening, was a sleighing party of thirty or forty ladies and gentlemen from Exeter, including Mr. Gale and many others who were engaged in the recent Haymaker's Concert there. They expressed much pleasure at the representation of Esther. The party stopped at the Rockingham House, and drove home after the Concert, having excellent sleighing.

☞ The best judges pronounce Esther altogether finer music, and much more dramatic than the Haymakers; but Esther being a serious, sacred theme, has perhaps less attraction for the crowd than the light and almost comic Haymakers. It is the "amusive music," as our former correspondent Sensitivus used to put it, that pleases—Opera Bouffe, &c.

☞ At the late Soldiers' Fair, a flag, which was kindly loaned the G. A. R.'s by Mr. Clarence B. Mason, was lost or misplaced. The owner's name was on the missing flag and we are requested to inquire if any of the participants in the Fair can give any information of the whereabouts of said flag.

MORE WORK AT THE NAVY YARD.—The U. S. Steamer Algoma, now at the Charlestown Yard, will be towed to Portsmouth and prepared for sea. She is barque rigged, with a hoisting propeller, and pronounced to have evidence of good sailing qualities. She will carry a steam launch.

MINOR LOCALS.—It cost about $300 for "Esther" to make her appearance twice at the Temple—not to mention the time, trouble and fearful colds which resulted therefrom those who took part in the operatic presentation.

Wednesday was St. Patrick's day—one of the finest days of the season, too—which was duly observed by Portsmouth graduates of Erin.

That Mason's ball comes off this (Thursday) evening.

So does the Velocipede Race at Betton & Stephenson's Rink, on Vaughan Street.

Thespians are notified of an important Rehearsal, Friday evening.

The Atalantas had a very nice private dramatic exhibition, Tuesday evening.

Drunken marines were plenty on Congress Street Wednesday afternoon.

Trafton's 3-4 horse power miniature steam engine started on Wednesday under a full head of steam, and ran beautifully, making 225 revolutions per minute.

☞ Bostonians don't like the idea of erecting a temporary building on the Common for the Musical Peace Festival in June, inasmuch as it interferes with Boston's grand play ground. They are not to be blamed for their opposition to the scheme.

REASONS FOR ATTENDING OR NEGLECTING PUBLIC WORSHIP.—A Concord paper says:—

We have never been able to understand why persons in ordinary health, who trudge through mud and rain, sleet and snow to their business on working-days, should stay away from church on stormy Sundays, unless it be that they do not want to go.

To this the Manchester News replies:

That is not the reason. The class of people who stay at home on stormy days do want to go to church on stormy Sundays, just as much as on pleasant days,—but the new dress, the new overcoat, or the new hat, or some other new thing, cannot be worn when it storms! That is the reason. People do not go to church at this advanced age of civilization to hear the sermon or to attend to their devotions; they go to see and to be seen,—for nothing more and for nothing less. Take away the fascination of dress and the expectation of appearing in attractive and stunning costume, and the churches would have as few followers as a pauper's funeral.—There are exceptions, of course, but this is the rule. The men as well as the women are fond of this display; they go to church not to worship God, but to worship fashion and pass away the time among fashionable people—and they return from church to criticise the dress and general make up of the congregation.

The motives which send people to church on Sundays, (says Uncle Toby,) are not the same in every individual case, and the All-Seeing Eye alone can know them perfectly. But judging as well as we can from appearances and absences, it is true that some persons go chiefly to see and be seen. We should be slow, however, to say that this is the only motive, in most of these cases; and we are quite unwilling to believe that this is the rule, and that fashion only, keeps up a congregation!

The meetings which have been held in the five evangelical churches in this city, and their vestries or chapels, almost ever since New Year, not only Sundays, but other days and evenings, present a case in point: and while there may have been a mingling of motives, including fashion, curiosity, and the pleasure of being in a crowd,—it would be uncharitable, and we think untrue, to say there were generally no motives higher or better, viz., the desire to worship God, and the purpose to benefit mankind in general, and to improve the attendants in particular.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Anecdotes of Dogs.

A sagacious dog at Holyoke went every morning to market for his master. On his way home, a crowd of hungry dogs would come snuffing about him, intent upon getting a taste of his delicious steaks and marrowy joints, and snarl and bite at him because he would not yield to their demands. He could not fight them all, thus encumbered, and would not put down his meat lest it should be stolen.

After being thus harrassed for many days, he made up his mind to put a stop to such annoyances; for, to the great amusement of a crowd of men and boys, he set down his basket in a safe place, and punished his tormenters so effectually, that not a dog in town dared to molest him again.—Another dog in the same town seems to have had less regard for his master's rights. He used to ride out with him, sitting bolt upright upon the seat by his side, and when desired would hold the horse as well as his master.

One day, Mr. Lucas dropped his whip by accident, and upon discovering his loss, put the reins, as usual, into Ponto's teeth, and ran back to recover it. Just as he stooped to pick it up, Ponto, in a spirit of mischief, started the horse into a run. Mr. Lucas called out, "Whoa! whoa!" and ran with all speed to overtake them; but Ponto cheared on his steed by barking "go ahead," and soon left his master far behind to walk home at his leisure. It amused Mr. Lucas, in the height of his vexation, to see how perfectly delighted the dog was with the success of the trick he was playing upon him.

"Our Watch," said Miss Selden, "was so shrewd, that when my brother or the hired man got up early of a cold winter's morning, he would crawl into their warm bed, and after smoothing the clothes up nicely around his ears, enjoy a good nap. More than once, I found him there, stretched out, and covered up in a way to look as much like the right occupant as possible, and had not the heart to disturb his repose, in order to air the beds.

"One morning, it struck me that his snoring did not sound quite genuine, so I went out, shut the door as usual, and then peeped in again; there I saw the deceitful Watch, head up, peeping back at me, as much delighted at the success of his ruse as any dog could be.

"Here! here!" said I, going back, "just please to get up, sir, you are making believe;" but Watch lay back snoring, as if he was in a profound slumber. I threw off the clothes, and drove him up, and although he tried the trick again, he never gained anything by it.

Two or three young ladies in——were bathing one fine summer day. They were a merry party, and shouted, and laughed, and threw about the water so vigorously, that a sober Newfoundland dog, who was passing by, concluded they were in great trouble. With the most chivalrous of intentions, he flew to their assistance, seized one of the girls between his teeth, and trotted off to the shore with her.

Poor Miss Law, finding herself so unexpectedly in the jaws of a powerful monster, she knew not what, fainted. When Jack laid her softly upon the grass, he supposed she was nearly drowned, and began kindly to lap her face. It was the only restorative he had at command. Some people who ran to her assistance found him at work over the unconscious girl, evidently much troubled at his want of success in bringing her to herself.

BLUNDERS.—Some blunders are amusing, others vexatious. We have before us an instance that combines both qualities. Last Friday, the reporter of the Manchester News, in a Police Court, having occasion to use the name of James Adams, took the precaution to write it "James Adams, (not J. O.,)" and the article appeared with the word not omitted,—which was a very awkward blunder. But the editor explains, saying;—

This omission was unintentional, and the mistake was made by the person, (a young lady) who put the article in type. The proof war not read by the reporter, editor, or any one in the office.

Such things are not uncommon.—The News is usually as free from errors as almost any daily.

DEPARTED GLORY.—The Boston Sunday Times' Washington correspondent says of Hon. Hugh McCullough, late Secretary of the Treasury;

Hearing him give his present views, one would think he had always been the sworn foe of rascality and corruptions. In office, he was so weak that he couldn't stand alone; out of office, he is so erect that he leans backward.

—Damaged oranges and unsaleable raisins are brewed by Paris chiffonniers into an execrable drink which they call "Champagne Mouffetard," which is highly relished as an "extra."

—Strawberry vines loaded with ripe fruit were frozen solid by the late frost in Florida, and it is feared that both fruit and vines are wholly destroyed.

—After living sixty days without food an Indiana doctor died. A post mortem examination showed that his stomach was wholly destroyed.

—Learners on the velocipede are very much unlike Micawber. They are not obliged to wait long for "something to turn up."

—"Equality means," says a French writer, "a desire to be equal to your superiors and superior to your equals."

HOWARD AT ATLANTA.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

Right in the track where Sherman
Ploughed his red furrow,
Out of the narrow cabin,
Up from the cellar's burrow,
Gathered the little black people,
With freedom newly dowered,
Where, beside their Northern teacher,
Stood the soldier, Howard.

He listened and heard the children
Of the poor and long-enslaved
Reading the words of Moses,
Singing the songs of David.
Behold!—the dumb lips speaking,
The blind eyes seeing!—
Bones of the Prophet's vision
Warmed into being!

Transformed he saw them passing
Their new life's portal;
Almost it seemed the mortal
Put on the immortal.
No more with the beasts of burden,
No more with the stone and clod,
But crowned with glory and honor
In the image of God!

There was the human chattel
Its manhood taking;
There, in each dark, bronze statute,
A soul was waking!
The man of many battles,
With tears his eyelids pressing,
Stretched over those dusky foreheads
His one-armed blessing.

And he said: "Who hears can never Fear for or doubt you:
What shall I tell the children
Up north about you?"
Than ran round a whisper, murmur,
Some answer devising;
And a little boy stood up: "Massa,
Tell 'em we're rising!"

O black boy of Atlanta!
But half was spoken:
The slave's chain and the master's Alike are broken.
The one curse of the races
Held both in tether:
They are rising,—all are rising,
The black and white together!

O brave men and fair women!
Ill comes of hate and scorning;
Shall the dark faces only
Be turned to morning?
Make time your sole avenger,
All healing, all-redressing;
Meet Fate half-way, and make it
A joy and blessing!

is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—Nothing in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

RETORTING CHINAMEN.—The dwellers on the Pacific Coast and in the adjoining Countries further inland are tormented at the avalanche of Chinese who pour continually in upon them and swarm in every place where labor is to be done, and thus reduce the wages of the natives of the country and emigrants from the States. The rough denizens of that region play sorry jokes upon the Chinamen when opportunities offer, and care not how serious the result may be. The Humboldt (Nevada) Register tells the following tale.

"An entirely original and very peaceable manner of disposing of our Canton friends, was recently suggested to us by an accident which occurred at one of the mills in this place. Four Chinamen employed at the mill, either for comfort, convenience, or probably for protection from the lawless ruffians, with which, according to truthful (?) but somewhat sensational correspondents, Unionville is infested, were furnished with comfortable sleeping apartments, secure from mob violence, etc., by the foreman who has charge of the premises, over the retort in the building adjoining the mill. The Johns, as usual, sought repose in their peaceful but not well ventilated quarters, and, securely reposing in the arms of Morpheus, were dreaming of by-gone days in the Flowery Kingdom, visions of sumptuous repasts rising vividly before them, where rat pies and dog chowder graced the festive board. From this blissful state they were awakened at daylight to sober and not very pleasant realities.

During the night a batch of amalgam had been placed in the retort and a brisk fire kindled in the furnace beneath. The quicksilver, volatilized by the heat, escaped through a crack or chink in the retort, and the innocent Celestials, unconscious of danger, inhaled the poisonous fumes, not suspecting the dangerous character of the air they had breathed until their tongues became swollen and sickness and nausea ensued. As soon as they were able to make outsiders comprehend the situation, a wagish Leaguer who happened along told them it was a preconcerted arrangement on the part of the foreman to poison them, which they, of course, having no cause to doubt, readily believed. The result was that seats in the first conveyance which left town were immediately engaged and our Chinese population was reduced by four on the departure of the Mill City stage.

Shall a Young Man be a Farmer?

We say yes. * He should for many reasons. Some must be farmers and producers. There are too many non-producers now. Farming is a healthful pursuit. It is a pleasant one, with few exceptions. It tends to long life. It brings one in direct contact with the works of nature. The earth, vegetation, the air, the clouds are constantly about him, or in view. He can study nature in all her changing moods. He is almost sure of a living, and has a good chance, provided he has sufficient capital, to secure a comfortable fortune. We believe there is no business that pays better on the amount of capital invested.

Many think that those that are not fit for business will do for farmers, and if they have not capital sufficient to give them a good start in trade they had better go to farming. This is all wrong. Talent can be used to good advantage on the farm as well as in the counting-room; capital can also be profitably employed there, and it is a fact that too many farmers lack that important element, and so have to plod on for years, just keeping soul and body together, when if they had greater means that they could employ, they would be able to lay up money.

Let young men who are looking about to see what they had better do for a living, remember the advantages of a farmer's life and the uncertainties of mercantile business; that nine-tenths of all the business men in the large cities fail sometime during their business career, and many die poor, leaving families, possibly, to struggle on in want. Such a thing rarely happens to the farmer, however small his means.

If one object of the young man be to make himself useful in the community, then he will stand a much better chance of making his influence felt in a rural neighborhood than in the crowded city, where he might find and be obliged to compete with those greatly his superiors. We grant that in farming there is no chance to gain riches suddenly, and it is well there is not, and it would be far better if there was not in any direction, for the desire to become rich at a single stroke has ruined thousands, while sudden riches have really benefitted few.

We wish we could speak to the thousands of young men now on farms in New England, but who are looking forward to the time when they will be old enough to leave the old homestead to seek their fortunes in the crowded marts of trade. It is a sad sight to see thousands of old farm-houses going to decay because the occupant is too old to carry on the farm and keep the buildings in repair, while the sons, and the daughters too, in many cases, have gone away, never to return to keep the farm. Many farms are going back to a state of nature, growing up to wood for the want of care. Young man, ponder well before you decide to throw away a certainty on the farm, for an uncertainty in trade.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferer along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be perhaps unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people live on, become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I am not the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. The convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. We have not left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you number one!
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, if let alone, will do,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now do not forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, plain as day,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN EXTRACTOR, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN EXTRACTOR stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents will catch;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress. APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

Louisiana is to have mixed schools.

Georgia has rejected the 15th Constitutional Amendment. It passed the House and received a tie vote in the Senate. The presiding officer, a Republican, then threw his casting vote for indefinite postponement.

Judge Wm. A. Richardson of Cambridge, Mass., is to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Sarah Sherman of Worcester, Mass., has got a verdict for $4000 damages against Richard Ranson for breach of promise.

The joint commission of the British and American governments to settle the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound difficulties met in New York on Thursday. There was present for the British government, Hon. John Rose; for the United States, Hon. Alexander S. Johnson; umpire, Hon. B. R. Curtis; counsel for the United States, Mr. Caleb Cushing; for the British government, Charles D. Day of Canada. The united amounts of the claims of the two companies are $6,000,000.

President Grant is moving his household goods into the White House.

The President has informed a delegation of loyal Republicans that he has directed the members of his cabinet to appoint none but trustworthy and outspoken republicans to office in the border States, and if any other kind obtained positions he would not hesitate to remove them.

Hon. A. J. Hamilton has been nominated for governor of Texas, and is supported by the conservatives of the northeastern part of the State.

The Cuban government has reduced the taxes one-half and largely increased the duties on exports. Some of the insurgents have issued a currency payable on the achievement of Cuban independence.

Gen Custer has not been captured by the Indians.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Sumner of Mass., presented a memorial of citizens of Texas, setting forth the frightful condition of affairs in that State, which they attribute to Johnson's policy, protesting against the organization of a State government at present, and suggesting as a remedy that the State be divided into two or three parts and placed under territorial or military government. Referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Mr. Trumbull of Ill., from the judiciary committee, reported, with an amendment but without recommending any action, the bill to enforce the fourteenth constitutional amendment in the State of Georgiita. remands the State to the condition it was in at the meeting of the first legislature under the new constitution; restores the colored members of that body to their seats, and provides that all members shall be expelled who cannot take the iron-clad oath.

Mr. Conkling of N. Y., introduced a bill to promote the building of steamships in the United States, and to provide for the carriage of United States mails between New York and Europe by steamships built in the United States. Referred to the committee on commerce.

In executive session several nominations of Postmasters and other officials were made, among them that of Frank Moore of New York, to be secretary of the American legation at Paris; John T. Forbes, pension agent at Philadelphia. Ariel Washburn, jr., collector of customs for Portland, Me.; Henry D. Moore, collector of customs at Philadelphia.

In the House Mr. Dawes, of Mass., from the committee on appropriations, reported a joint resolution to supply omissions in the enrolment of some of the general appropriation bills of last session. One clause requires the owners of bonded warehouses to reimburse to the government the salaries of storekeepers, &c. Gen. Butler stated that $1,500,000 would be saved yearly by the latter clause.

☞ Is it the duty and inclination of those who denounce and lament over Negro Concerts and the like, (as we do not, indiscriminately, by any means,) to see to it that entertainments of a higher and better character, according to their profession, are well sustained?

And would it not be well for those who condemn Billiard and similar saloons, and grieve for their number and success, to make some little effort each week to add to the interest and efficiency of the Mercantile Library Association, almost the only institution of the sort in the city?

New Hampshire Items.

Fast Day, Thursday, April 8.

There have been twenty-three snow storms and forty-six inches of snow in Pelham, this winter.

Thirty persons united with the Congregational church, Lebanon, on the 7th.

Daniel Bailey has brought from Illinois to Manchester, for sale, 14 horses weighing from 1000 lbs. to 1150 each.

Last week W. Sabin cut down a tree in Allenstown in which six gray squirrels had made their home. They were all captured.

D. E. Willard, of Orford, has a sow that had a litter of fourteen pigs before he bought her, and since then (in less than a year,) has brought him three litters, the two first seventeen each, and the last or present litter eighteen; sixty-six in all. Who can tell a larger story than that, and tell the truth?

David Hayes of Allenstown lost a valuable horse on Sunday night, by its breaking loose and falling through a scuttle-hole in the stable floor.

The Lake Village Times of last week says, The Democratic motto is, "we must preserve our liberties or perish in the last ditch." The Laconia Democrats preserved their "liberties" on Tuesday, and a good part of them came near perishing in the ditches round town. Liquor was free, and its effects deplorable.

"The Dead House" is the significant name applied to a crib in Laconia, where drunken men were laid away on Monday night, ready for the resurrection on Tuesday.

Dr. L. W. Peabody was appointed on the 22d of February, Postmaster at Epsom, in place of A. C. Locke, removed. Mr. Locke came out a democrat in Feb., 1868, to get the Post Office, voted for Grant last fall to keep it, and at the March election voted the whole democratic ticket. The same power that appointed has now removed him.

On town-meeting day Mr. Bolles of Pepperell drove his horse into the shed connected with A. Greely's store at the head of Main street, in Nashua. A pendant icicle dropped and frightened the horse so that he detached and quite demolished the sleigh. No one dared to go near him until Mr. Silas Hobert offered to do so, remarking that he had never seen a horse that he was afraid of. His temerity was somewhat stimulated by intoxication, and as he approached the animal, he received a kick that broke his right leg just below the knee. He was taken to his home and Dr. Hammond was called. The limb was properly dressed and doing well, but as Mr. Hobert had been an intemperate man, symptoms of delirium tremens soon appeared, and he died in convulsions on the 14th. Mr. Hobert had been a resident of Nashua some twenty years, and was a shoemaker by trade. But for strong drink he might have been a useful citizen. His age was 53.—Nashua Telegraph.

The people of Keene have voted, (for the 4th time,) not to accept the City Charter. The votes this time, were 177 for the Charter, and 786 against it. A decisive vote of 4-5ths against the measure.

Mr. John O. Parker, manager of the freight depot at Manchester, was assaulted in the depot by a party of Irishmen, on Wednesday and knocked senseless by a blow across the head with a stake. He was insensible for some time, but later it was thought he would recover.

NAVAL.—A naval board, consisting of three of the oldest and most experienced officers of the navy, and of which Rear-Admiral Goldsborough is president, has been ordered to make an inspection of all the naval vessels at the different naval stations, and report the condition of hull, machinery and equipments to the Navy Department, with a view to placing at the disposal of the Secretary of the Navy those vessels at this time most available for service under the economical plans determined upon by the department.

Chief Engineer Wood has been ordered to report to Rear-Admiral Goldsborough, as an expert in the examination of the naval engines designed and built under the supervision of Chief Engineer Isherwood, late chief of the Naval Bureau.

☞ Speaking of Engineer Sawyer, who has been restored to his rank and pay in the U. S. service, a friend informs us that he is now living in New York State—and is a member of the Legislature, with good prospect of being nominated for Congress.

☞ We understand that Owen Linehan, fireman at the Kearsarge Mills, was very severely burned on Thursday morning, about the head, by coming in contact with the blaze from beneath the boiler. Dr. Perry was called, and the patient is comparatively comfortable.

Work at the Mill was suspended during the day.

☞ The Boston Journal says that William H. Hackett, Esq., of this city, is a prominent candidate for the office of U. S. District Attorney of the District of New Hampshire. Success to him.

☞ In the official order rescinding the Court Martial sentence of Engineer Sawyer for using language disrespectful to the President—Secretary Borie suggestively adds:

Surgeon Gihon was the chief witness for the prosecution. It appears from the record, Gihon used hard terms and unofficerlike language in regard to the Congress of the United States, and hence the controversy arose. No charges were preferred against Gihon.

It is more than doubtful whether any such language, from either, was actionable before a Court Martial or any other Court, except under the Johnsonian dienasty—the Article under which the action was brought against Sawyer, referring no doubt solely to disrespectful or insubordinate language directly against some official act or a superior officer, and by no fair or legitimate construction to be applied to general conversation, as it was. Great is, or great was humbug—especially political humbug.

—Would not Mr. Fish be more in his element if he were Secretary of the Navy?

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I beg to state that I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine, in family sewing, fourteen years without even the most trifling repairs, and it is in so good condition that I would not exchange it for your latest number (now upwards of 350,000). One needle served me more than a year for fine sewing.
New-York. m13 Mrs. Anne Warner.

"Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, day and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the facility with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—Savannah (Ga.) Rep.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why Plantation Bitters are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it ind. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the recipe is wrapped around each bottle. Don't go home without a bottle. m12

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $45 per ton.

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

They also make superior articles of

Nitro Phosphate and Pure Bone Dust.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, of Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no manure had been used for years.) They came up vigorous and outstripped the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Dani. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Cox's and Baker's N. X. Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Baker's N. X."

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called Chyme. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The Chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a third called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantities, or the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of its mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the chyme into Chyle, and to promote the passage thro' the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia, and liver complaint. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical and true.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, full of, and buoyant; how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show the baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consultation of the family Physician reveals the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary amusements, and ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature will show her power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergoes fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and hastens the grave but waiting for its victim.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite, Pain in the Digestive Organs, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequent Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Want of Memory, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread than the Presence of Strangers. Express Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which the medicine invariably removes—produce Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy tablets to the memory of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is habitually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice escape it is rarely articulate:

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemical science to remove the consequences. Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Fluid Extract of Buchu. There is no tonic like it. It is as free from alcohol as the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village there are now some wearers of a Waltham Watch who may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAVE YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those willing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured of any establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all other manufacturers in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have been the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every skilled department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by retail jewelers generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we had not the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a red-dish liquid.

It was some of the Pain Killer. He had been to California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore perfect health. Purchased in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to inquire of druggists for it. Hear what publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other remedy had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 43 YEARS STANDING CURED.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, mosquito bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

Dr. Tobias—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

Holloway's Pills.—The symptoms of dyspepsia often closely resemble those of heart disease. Hot flushes, violent palpitation, spasms, sudden faintness, suffocating sensations, &c., are ordinary results of chronic indigestion. These somewhat alarming indications of a foul stomach incapable of converting the aliment it receives to a wholesome purpose, can only be got rid of by gentle aperients and cathartic treatment, and Holloway's Pills are the very best medicine that can be administered in such cases. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs), and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is sold. 25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient commences to cough and get well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, and throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has room to cough until the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which is in this preparation is made out, aids the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop the pile, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and these will take care of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some stage are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, plethora, or ulceration of the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decay. The question is, what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wanted to fill the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to digest and make out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; the blood will begin to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills for all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since then hundreds of many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from nine o'clock in the morning until 3 P. M. He does not make professional calls. 22 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover St., Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. dtyja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

ESTHER.—As a matter of general interest to all who have regard for our home music, we think it well to speak a little in detail of those who were prominent in bringing out what is pronounced by the most competent judges, the most extensive, complete and creditable representation of the sort ever given in the city.

To Mr. Tilton, as Musical Director, (in which capacity his services have been devoted and unwearied,) is due a great deal of its success; and the beautiful and greatly improved singing of Mr. Newell especially, and others, is as strong testimony as we ever heard of any man, as to the capacity of Mr. T. as a teacher of vocalism.

Dr. Goodall, as heretofore, rendered the Society the most intelligent, efficient and valuable assistance, musically; and the credit of the fine stage decorations and arrangements is chiefly due to his good taste, and not a little to the earnest assistance and exertions of Mr. Stavers, who is constantly laboring to render the Temple more attractive and convenient as a place of exhibition, and who as a member of the Society, rendered all the aid in his power on this occasion. Dr. Goodall's personation of Haman was also exceedingly creditable.

The Banquet Scene, and the duets between the King and Haman, and Haman and Zeresh, were among the gems of the evening. The chorus, Bringing his Sheaves, is superb.

Of the Queen, Miss Lizzie Ham, although suffering from hoarseness to such an extent as to be obliged to apply external counter-irritants in order to be able to sing at all,—we shall only repeat what is patent to all judges, that no superior and few equals have appeared among our native songsters for many years. She both looked and sung the part finely, but her rather delicate and fragile appearance, which so well befitted the mourning suppliant, might have been exchanged to advantage for a little more of the robust when she and her people came to the victory. A Queen of song she certainly is, and a beautiful Esther she made. No king to blame for promising such a mate half his kingdom.

Mr. J. C. Butler is such a prince of good fellows, any and everywhere, that one can but enjoy him always.—His reign was a glorious one, we think, and we hope is by no means ended.—He has long filled an important part in our social music, and his rich voice and good execution told well throughout.

Mr. L. S. Butler, as Mordecai, was a fine personation—generally regarded as one of the most complete and satisfactory of all. His music was good, and well he rendered it. The duet with the Queen was very nicely done, on the second evening especially. He deserved the seals of State.

Miss Susie Ham thoroughly satisfied us as Zeresh—scornful, haughty, imperious and implacable; we thought no part was taken better.—Mr. Ilsley's splendid voice told with fine effect, as it always does, in solo and chorus. Hegai did his full share for the cause.

Mr. E. P. Davis, as Harbonah, and also as chorus-master, rendered most efficient assistance, which his accomplishments as a musician well fit him for. His reading we thought was fine.

Mr. A. A. Fernald, High Priest, and Mr. L. V. Newell as Prophet, acquitted themselves with much credit. So also did Mrs. J. P. Hart, as first Maid to the Queen; and Miss Mary Freeman, first attendant on Zeresh, who has shown herself one of the best altos we have had in the city for many a year. As to the other Maids, Miss Jennie Davis sang in chorus only, and sang well as usual, but Miss Annie we have heard sing better. Miss Fitts as reader, could not easily be excelled.

In fine, we think all acted well their parts, and that the exhibition was an honor to the city, and the whole cast would be hard to improve on among amateurs almost anywhere.

The managers were indebted to Messrs. C. H. Mendum & Co., for the loan of rich carpets, rugs, &c.; to Rowell & Hutchinson for elegant Silver Ware, &c.; to Sheldon Brothers for rich Furniture, to Admiral Lanman for Persian flags, to Larrabee & Sons for Mohair Robes; and to various others for similar favors — not forgetting the good coffee and cream, &c., behind the scenes as a FINIS.

MORE FUN.—Messrs. Deering & Gammon offer more prizes for a Velocipede Race at their Rink on Saturday afternoon—for the amusement of the children and ladies who will find it more convenient to attend at that time. Admission 10 cents for adults, and 5 cents for children. Racing from 2 o'clock to 5.

More snow (or less) wouldn't be out of place in our streets, just now.

City Council, Thursday Eve. March 18.

Borrowed for the Chronicle and Gazette.

In the Aldermen, the Com. on Streets reported a communication from Dr. Rundlett, stating that he should ask for $1200 (twelve hundred dollars!) damages for the land taken to extend Summer Street through his field!

The Committee on Licensing Velocipede Rinks reported that the subject be laid on the table, as all these institutions are now managed by citizens. Adopted.

Mr. B. Cheever, Agent of Harmony Grove Cemetery, asked for the exchange of a lot in the Cotton Ground on South Street for building a tomb. Referred to Committee on Burying Grounds.

The City Clerk stated that the Concord and Eastern Railroads would oppose the new Highway asked for across their tracks from Cabot Street to the North Mill Pond and Bridge (?); and to accommodate them, the time of the hearing was fixed for Tuesday, April 6, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.

Petition of Wm. F. Fernald and others, for continuation and completion of the Freeman's Point Road, now leading from North Road at the Cutts House to the Cushing land, extending it through to the Point,—was referred to Com. on Streets with the Mayor added.

A communication from Mr. Cushman, asking that his bill for Fire Extinguishers be paid, was allowed to be withdrawn for correction and reduction.

Bills for Election Services of Selectmen of Ward One, were after quite a spicy debate, and calling the yeas and nays, several times, voted to be paid—by a strict party vote, 6 to 2.

Petition of Henry C. Allard of Newington for payment of $12 for damage caused to his sleigh and milk-cans, by his horse taking fright from snow falling from a building on Market St.,—was laid on table.

Voted to concur in the Resolution sent up by the Common Council, that the Joint Com. on City Lands and Buildings be authorized to alter and repair the State St. School House for a Ward Room, at an expense not exceeding $2500. Also to sell the Lot of Land on Middle St., to the highest bidder.

The Common Council also voted that the same Com. proceed with remodelling the Lock-up, as previously proposed.

THE SILVER CUP offered to the Velocipede rider making the best time at Betton & Stephenson's Rink, Thursday evening, was awarded to Mr. John S. Perry. There were five entries, each party to go 22 times around the Rink, a strong half mile. Geo. Lyman Sides did it in 3 minutes, Chas Clark in 4.30 Oliver D. Rowell in 3.02 and John S. Perry in 3 minutes. Perry and Sides rode off their tie, Perry doing the half-mile in 2.43 1-2 and Sides 3 minutes. By the terms of the race Perry must accept challenges for the championship for 30 days, which will keep him busy during that time.

Messrs. Rowell, Clark and Wm. N. Hanscom have challenged Mr. Perry, and the contest will come off on Wednesday evening next.

MINOR LOCALS.—The $30 velvet belt voted to S. F. Engine Company No 2, at the late Soldiers' and Sailors' Fair, is on exhibition in the window of Mr. Gershom F. Melcher's jewelry store, Congress Street.

The slow-riding Velocipede Race at Deering & Gammon's Rink, this (Thursday) evening, will doubtless attract a large audience of ladies and gentlemen. The exhibition will be productive of rare sport. The contestants are allowed to ride in a straight or zig-zag course twice around the Rink, the prize to be awarded to the one who succeeds in making the slowest time, without stopping or touching a foot to the ground.

The Thespians have a Rehearsal this (Friday) evening. The attendance of every member is desired, at an early hour.

The new scenery at the Temple is neat and handsome. Mr. Stavers deserves commendation for his attention to the wants of the amusement—loving public.

Drunken marines were scarce on Congress Street, Thursday.

The City Council holds shorter sessions this year than last. There is more work and less talk, perhaps.

Trafton's engine works nicely—it draws.

March, hereabouts, is the worst month for months.

Copperhead officials at the Navy Yard are awaiting decapitation.

Likewise elsewhere.

It costs all it brings in to give a creditable entertainment in Portsmouth.

The above doesn't particularly refer to Velocipede exhibitions.

Portsmouth audiences are critical.

The representation of "Esther" is the best thing ever produced in this city, including scenery, costumes, &c.

Who is to be Postmaster?

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Morning Chronicle.

IF WE KNEW.

If we knew the woe and heartache
Waiting for us down the road,
If our lips could taste the wormwood,
If our backs could feel the load,
Would we waste the day in wishing
For a time that us'er can be;
Would we wait in such impatience
For our ships to come from sea?

If we knew the baby fingers
Pressed against the window pane,
Would be cold and stiff tomorrow—
Never trouble us again—
Would the bright eyes of our darling
Catch the frown upon our brow;
Would the print of rosy fingers
Vex us then as they do now?

Ah, these little ice-cold fingers,
How they point our memories back
To the hasty words and actions
Strewn along our backward track!
How these little hands remind us,
As in snowy grace they lie,
Not to scatter thorns—but roses—
For our reaping by-and-by!

Strange we never prize the music
Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown;
Strange that we should slight the violets
Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange that summer skies and sunshine
Never seem one-half so fair
As when Winter's snowy pinions
Shake their white down in the air!

Lips from which the seal of silence
None but God can roll away,
Never blossomed in such beauty
As adorns the mouth to-day;
And sweet words that freight our mem'ry,
With their beautiful perfume,
Come to us in sweeter accents
Through the portals of the tomb.

Let us gather up the anabeams
Lying all around our path;
Let us keep the wheat and roses,
Casting out the thorns and chaff;
Let us find our sweetest comfort
In the blessings of to-day,
With a patient hand removing
All the briars from our way.

Binckley on His Muscle.

Ex-Solicitor of Internal Revenue Binckley is never at peace unless he is in a row. Ex-Commissioner Rollins, a few days ago, had him summarily removed by General Grant, which inspired in the mind of the irascible Binckley a feeling of "r-r-revenge! r-r-revenge! r-r-revenge!" He has thirsted for the blood of Rollins, and for several days tried to catch him outside on the street, that he might "punch his head." The opportune moment came at last. Rollins was walking along New York avenue, without suspecting danger, when the irate Binckley, who is a big, strapping six-footer, and stout in proportion, stepped in front of the ex-commissioner (who is comparatively a small man) and dared him to a personal combat.—Rollins, not wishing to engage in a street fight, declined and passed on.

In a few minutes afterward Thomas Harland, Deputy Commissioner, came along and was met by Binckley, who, without any parley, "struck out from the shoulder with his left duke," and followed it up with his right upon the "mug" of Harland, who, quick as a flash, "went to grass,"—or, rather, the pavement. Binckley was about to follow his advantage by giving Harland more of the same, when bystanders interfered and held him. Harland "came to time," and attempted to put in a clincher upon Binckley's peeper, but was not quick enough. They clinched and both men went to the ropes—i. e., the gutter, where they rolled for some time and were finally separated by the crowd.

The damages to Harland were two distinct marks on his forehead, and Binckley sustained a shocking "rent" in the seat of his trousers, which permitted one of his under garments to flutter in the breeze. "Time" was called, but neither being willing to continue the fight, they mutually hauled off to repair damages. Binckley, after fixing up his wardrobe, rushed to a squire's office, surrendered himself and was held in $300 bail. He was a hero during the remainder of the day among his "chums." Harland repaired to the Internal Revenue Bureau, where his wounds showed he fell with his face to the foe, so he was considered a hero, too, and received the congratulations of his friends upon his bravery.—Cincinnati Times.

BAKED BEANS.—It is singular that many people in this vicinity do not understand how to have nice baked beans. But their difficulty is in not baking them a sufficient length of time. No one can take a pot of baked beans and another of brown bread from the oven, and have them of the cherry red and delicious flavor that our fathers used to have, in "ye olden time," unless they have baked more than three or four hours, the time only that many allow them to stay in the oven. Bake your beans all day Saturday, and if convenient let them stay in the oven over night, baking full twenty-four hours, and our word for it, your beans will come out in the morning smoking with a flavor that will make your mouth water to taste of them, and your breakfast will be the best you ever had.—Exchange.

—Indian outrages are reported in Humboldt County, California. One man while ploughing his field was shot and killed by the savages, his house plundered and fired, the family barely escaping by flight. Immediate pursuit was made, but the Indians escaped to the mountains. Late Arizona intelligence represents that Indian depredations are numerous. The people are becoming exasperated, and a war of extermination against them, commencing with the massacre of the Indians residing on the government reservation, is suggested.

☞ How many wives are allowed to one Husband, by the Rubric of the church? Sixteen: viz: Four better, Four worse, Four richer, Four poorer.

CHINOIS.—Four hundred of what our Chinamen brethren no doubt think "dear creatures" recently landed in San Francisco, at which there was such a scramble among the pigtails as an upper celestial must have laughed to look down upon. The Chinese pioneers of the Pacific coast are about in the condition of the original settlers from the Atlantic side. Plenty of money; plenty of liquor; but no women and no homes. It was a melancholy state of affairs. The Flowery Land people are to be congratulated on the accession to their number, which they will doubtless proceed to celebrate with a general scratching and biting among themselves for first chances for partners.

AN IMPORTANT CURATIVE AGENT DISCOVERED.—It has been found by experiment that dry pulverized earth makes an excellent dressing for ulcers and purulent wounds. It not only absorbs the bad odor arising from the matter discharged, but seems to exercise a healing influence, causing a healthy granulation to take place and greatly diminishing the inflammation.

—Seventy thousand acres of land in Florida, owned under Spanish grants, are to be sold at Jacksonville early in April. Some of the most valuable land in the State is included in the tract.

To the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

Respectfully represents the City of Portsmouth that on the eleventh day of February last past, the City Council of the City of Portsmouth, at their regular meeting, voted to discontinue the highway leading from Market Street, formerly Fore Street, to the Channel of the Piscataqua River, known as the "Ferry Ways," laid out by the Court of General Sessions of the Peace, on the fourteenth day of February, A. D. seventeen hundred and twenty-five.

Said highway is no longer needed for the accommodation of the public.

Wherefore said City requests said Court to consent to the discontinuance of the same.

March 1, 1869. CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.
By FRANK JONES, Mayor.

In the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

This petition having been filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court this first day of March, A. D., 1869.

It is Ordered that said City of Portsmouth notify all persons interested in the subject matter of said petition to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be held at Exeter on the second Tuesday of April next, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order thereon to be published once a week in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County of Rockingham, for three successive weeks before said term.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition, and of the original order thereon.

The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. NOTHING EQUAL TO IT. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to, or address HAWKEST CO.,

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.;—HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

BURIAL OF SIR JOHN MULE.

A. J. left for Tennessee on Tuesday, by the way of Lynchburg.—Washington Telegram.

Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As his trunks to the depot we hurried;
Not a soldier discharged his farewell shot,
Not a single policeman was flurried.

We got him off darkly, at dead of night,
For we knew in his heart he was yearning,
To hurry away out of hearing and sight
Of the place where his luck had been turning.

No Marseilles vest enclosed his breast,
Nor in useless dress coat we bound him.
But like an Ex-President, bound for the West,
He stood with his overcoat round him.

Few and crisp were the words he said,
And he looked, more in anger than sorrow,
At the Capitol dome as it loomed overhead,
And bitterly thought of the morrow.

In East Tennessee we set him down,
Where the mountains rise snow-white and hoary,
"I'm a pleb'ian," he said, with a smothered groan;
And we left him alone in his glory.

The Lazy Man.

BY THE FAT CONTRIBUTOR.

The lazy man is almost always good natured. He never flies into a passion. He might crawl into one, if that were possible, but the idea of his flying into anything is preposterous.

Whoever heard of a lazy man breaking into a bank, where a crowbar had to be used, or drilling into a safe? Nobody. Not that he might not covet his neighbor's goods therein contained, but the horror of handling crowbar and drills would always deter him from actually committing burglary. He never runs away with his neighbor's wife, simply on account of the horrors he has of running. If he is ever known to run, it is—run to seed.

He rarely lies about his neighbors, for it would be too much exertion, but he can lie at a bar room all day.

He is of inestimable service to a billiard saloon, keeping the chairs warm and watching the game, for few would care to play were there no spectators.—The fact that he does this without pay, day in and day out, shows the unselfishness of his nature. What an industrious man, who considers his time worth something, would want pay for, the lazy man generally does for nothing, showing a freedom from mercenary motives that should go far to his credit.

The lazy man never gets up revolutions, insurrections or other popular excitements, and don't make a nuisance of himself by tramping around the country making incendiary speeches to promote public discontent.

In his own neighborhood he is never a busy body in other people's affairs, for the very idea of being a busy-body at anything would drive him out of his head. By the way, if he ever got out of his head, you would have to drive him out, for he wouldn't have the energy to go out of his own accord.

No lazy man ever ran mad. If he went crazy, it was because he couldn't go anywhere else without walking.

Lazy men don't disturb the quiet of peaceful neighbors by putting up factories, furnaces, and such abominations.

—Rev. Dr. T. L. Cuyler says: Cannot ministers of Christ agree to preach more frequently and more earnestly against drunkenness and the dangers of the cup? From many pulpits this whole subject is practically excluded. The drunkard is rarely prayed for; the young not warned against this ensnaring device of the devil; the law of God against drunkenness is substantially ignored. And yet it is undeniable that the bottle is sending more souls to perdition than all the infidel tongues and pens in the land.

—A "Cat suit" has just been decided in Baltimore. The plaintiff sued out a writ of replevin for a favorite Maltese cat. The defendant claimed $13,20 for boarding the cat 132 days, at ten cents a day. Judgment for plaintiff, with one cent damages and cost from defendant.

— Democratic papers have sent up a dismal wail about the banishment of Gen. Hancock, by being assigned to the Department of Dakota, but no one tho't it necessary to commiserate the gallant little Phil. Sheridan who has been out in that region for a year or more.

— Shirley United Society (Shakers) of Harvard has lost two of its members recently, who found a modern Gretna Green in Still river, and from thence went on their way rejoicing—one in name as in heart.

— The increase of population in New York is six per cent. yearly; in Chicago forty per cent. Hence Chicago notifies Gotham that by 1880 she will have the largest population by about 800,000.—There's nothing like brag.

—A rich citizen of Cincinnati is going to present to that city a beautiful fountain, costing $60,000, thirty feet high, and surmounted by a female figure in bronze, — In a German town notice has been given that the municipal authorities will hereafter grant no marriage license to a drunkard.—A good move.

— English papers speak of a girl still living in Wales who has not eaten anything for sixteen months.

—There is a wonderful cow in Kentucky, whose milk turns to solid butter on stirring it with a spoon.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.

All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.

Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.

Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.

Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)

The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.

All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.

No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its force or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the seed and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stoically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once with a fact bordering on the surprising. The convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered had its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who night, but did not think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What pitfalls throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter accumulates in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, and health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you no more have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the Insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY, and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1869.

The News.

Prof. Chas. W. Eliot is to be the new President of Harvard College.

The first law signed by President Grant is that to strengthen the public credit. The second bill signed was that striking the word "white" from the charters and laws of Washington and Georgetown.

Delaware has voted against the 15th Constitutional Amendment.

The First National Bank of Rockford, Ill., has failed, and a receiver has been appointed. The capital of this bank is only $50,000, and its liabilities are limited.

Steamship Holsatia arrived off Southampton, England, on the 9th, after a passage of 8 days and 22 hours.

The Cambridge (Mass.) School Committee has authorized the purchase of eight piano-fortes for the high and grammar schools, at a cost not exceeding $2500.

Judge Benedict of the United States District Court of Brooklyn has rendered a decision in favor of Joseph W. Dyer, who sued the National Steam Navigation Company for $255,000 damages for the loss of the ship Kate Dyer and her cargo, by a collision with the steamship Scotland in September, 1866. The decision was given on the ground of carelessness of the steamer's officers.

A curious freak occurred in Bethel Me., lately. A damp snow fell in the evening, which was followed by a powerful wind that rolled it up into balls frequently as large as a four gallon keg. Hundreds of them might be counted in a single field. Professor Cleaveland described a similar phenomenon that occurred about the year 1867, when they were as large as a barrel.

Thomaston, Me., intends to build this year 10,000 tons more of shipping than last year. The largest ship ever built in the State (2200 tons) is now on the stocks in that town.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Sumner of Mass. presented a memorial asking the government of the United States to issue a call for an International Congress of Republics.

The proposed repeal of the Tenure of Office Bill was discussed, but no action was taken.

The Senate passed a bill extending the operation of the educational and bounty collection branches of the Freedmen's Bureau untill 1870.

The President sent to the Senate on Friday the nomination of W. A. Richardson, of Massachusetts, as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

RYE, March 19th.

The Communication in the opposition organ of the 16th inst., from Rye, signed "Harry," is certainly quite interesting and spicy; and while admitting that there was perhaps a little "unpleasantness" among the Republicans before Election, on account of certain nominations,—still he could have made his revelations a great deal more interesting, if he had gone a little further and told the story of the "unpleasantness" in his own party, which made more of them cast their candidates for Senator and Treasurer, than there were Republicans who cast theirs.

And also he should have told us why it was that a certain prominent Democratic candidate for Representative, was almost entirely ignored in the Caucus, except by his few personal friends; and who at the election received quite a number of votes in opposition to the regular candidate. And also it might have been told, how a certain leading young Democrat, who was fairly nominated in the Caucus for a Town office, was thrown squarely overboard at the Election; and who naturally feels so indignant thereat, that he publicly avows that he will never vote the Democratic ticket again,—and that there are a good many more who feel the same way; and furthermore, he is willing to bet $100 to $50 that a Republican Representative will be elected from Rye next year.

All of which may come to pass and may not,—but it shows that there is a little unpleasantness among our Democratic brethren, as well as among ourselves; and if such should result in a split, the Republicans of Rye will be ready and willing to take all the advantage they can therefrom, by giving the bolters every inducement to help them elect good Republicans next Spring, or town offices, &c.

But one thing would prevent a great deal of speculation among most of the Republicans in Rye, and that is, to know what it was that induced so many Democrats to scratch Frank Jones? Can "Harry" give the required information?

RADICAL.

ELECTIONEERING SCRAPS. with a few Notes.—The new democratic organ at Concord, called The People, said, just before election.

Now that the election is close at hand, the Radical papers throughout the State, evidently alarmed (1) at the ominous quiet which pervades the political atmosphere, are resorting to the stale old cry which they so successfully used to smother argument and drown the voice of reason in the days of the past, thinking that through redoubled vigor in its use it may still prove efficacious.

"Copperhead," "rebel," and "traitor," is now, as heretofore, the reiterated answer with which the Radical press meets the arguments of the Democracy. (2)

Remember when you go to the polls that the party whose ticket is headed in this State by the name of Onslow Stearns controlled our government during the four years of war for the Union, and managed the conduct of that war. (3)

Let it be remembered that while John Bedel was risking his life for the Union in the late war, Onslow Stearns was enjoying his ease at home, removed from all danger and drawing his large salary as President of an overgrown corporation. (4)

NOTES. 1. Not very much alarmed, so far as we observed.

2. Such arguments as the Democracy used, were intended to gull the flats, and probably did so, in some cases; but the American people who were loyal during the war, are rather disposed to distrust everything that comes from such poor authority as democratic partizan papers;—and therefore, once replied to, they deserved no further notice.

The term Copperhead is not a meaningless word of reproach, but a significant epithet. When South Carolina seceded, the rebels there raised the Rattlesnake flag, their State emblem.—Some sympathisers with them, in the State of Maine, who had been leaders in the democratic party, took ground promptly, against the United States, and in favor of the rebels. But the whole party did not at once go with them; and, to distinguish these pro-rebels from other democrats, they were termed copperheads,—as the copperhead snake is nearly like the rattlesnake, except the rattle.—The copperheads in Maine soon brought the democratic party into their traces, and the dissenters from them were termed war democrats, to distinguish them.

The term copperhead was adopted in New Hampshire, by democrats, as one item will show. At the great Powow in Concord, on the 4th of July, when ex-president Pierce made his famous speech about the Mansoleum of Hearts, there was in the procession a large company of boys, with a Banner inscribed "Young Copperheads," with a suitable device:—as we learned from a glowing account of the same in the Boston Post.

3. Even so; the republican party, aided by the war democrats and negroes, did carry on the war, and finally, thank God, put down the rebellion.

4. Bedel and Donohue both risked their lives to put down the lost cause, and have the credit of it. But they are not entitled to any great credit now, for suffering themselves to be the tools of a party who would aid the rebels to regain their cause. Col. Quarles went out to war, and Mr. Stearns did not; but he aided in keeping a solid moral and pecuniary support for the armies which were in the field.—The People (the men, not the paper,) understood all about this; and they have elected Stearns and Quarles, rather than Bedel and Donohue, by about 3700 majority.

New Hampshire Items.

A building for storing lumber for Samuel Waldron's last factory in South Danbury was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday morning. The loss of stock was considerable.

William Everett, Esq., son of the late Hon. Edward Everett, has made a donation of Cicero's Orations, in twenty-nine volumes, to the public library at Nashua. He had previously made several valuable contributions to the library.

The peg factory of Mr. George A. Robbins was burned Thursday morning.

The Laconia Democrat says that Mr. C. O. Davis of Lake Village slipped from the railroad bridge and fell into the river at Laconia. His son, aged sixteen, plunged in and saved him.—The morning was by no means a warm one, and the bath was not very agreeable.

Ashland, at a recent meeting, voted $16,000 to the stock of the New Hampshire Central Railroad Company, the New Hampshire section to the Portland and Rutland line.

John N. Brown, a respected citizen of Manchester, committed suicide March 18, doubtless in a fit of insanity, to which he had previously been liable.

The house and farm buildings of Hazen N. Cross, at Plymouth, were burnt on the night of the 18th. Mr. C. was asleep alone in his house, and had to escape through a window for his life.

Cattle Market at Brighton.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, MARCH 17.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1815; Sheep and Lambs 6300; Swine 900; number of Western Cattle 1454; Eastern Cattle 141; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 220.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $12 50 @ $14 00; first quality $12 50 @ $13 25; second quality $11 75 @ $13 00; third quality $9 50 @ $11 50; poorest grade of coarse stock, and the trade has not been so lively. Prices remain about the same. The quality of Western Cattle was of an ordinary grade.—There been but few Cattle sold for more than 14c ₱ lb, dressed. Cattle from Maine were mostly workers, for which there has not been a very active demand. One extra pair from Maine sold at 15c ₱ lb, dressed weight.

Stores—With the exception of Working Oxen and Milch Cows there are but few Store Cattle brought to market at this season of the year.—Nearly all that are in a fair condition are bought up to slaughter.

Working Cattle.—There is a good supply in market. We quote sales at $202 ₱ pair, 227, 180, 220, 190, 260, $320 @ $325 ₱ pair. Trade dull.

Milch Cows—Extra $90 @ $110; ordinary $50 @ $75 ₱ head. Most of the Cows brought to market are of an ordinary grade, there being but few fancy cows among them. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply is not much different from that of last week. Nearly all the Western Sheep were taken at a commission. Prices remain about the same as those of last week. We quote sales of Northern Sheep at $4 75 @ $5 12 ₱ head; 6, 6¼, 7½ @ 8c ₱ lb. Most of the best lots of Northern Sheep were taken at a commission.

Swine—Wholesale 12 @ 13c ₱ lb; retail 12 @ 16c ₱ lb; selected lots 14c ₱ lb.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected, partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The Chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is suspended, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the acid nutritious particles of the Chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage thro' the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia, and liver complaint. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical and true.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years the youthful form begins to fade, the lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—In the youth is very evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This does not remove the evil. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body to make resistance to the enfeebles have so weakened, and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Sleepless Night, Fear of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Pain in the Back, Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Emaciation of the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the general characteristic exhibition appears. The countenance is actually vacant and quite destitute—, either Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Speech is a sound of the voice only; it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we admit the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the despairing patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does less business, he makes more money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, his report which it deserves. This portion of his trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our interest, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the bowels, where it has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are as fine in time keeping as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. The success of this rule our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every skilled operative of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

A Waltham Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and the retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

ROBBINS & APPLETON, GEN'L AGENTS,
f25dawzm 182 BROADWAY, N. Y.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief. Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and when we persons requiring the remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents for the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relaxe the Liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient recovers from the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, and when the ripening of matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove the dark mercurial pills, which make the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing had ever been invented before calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions [of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw off the acids which dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost the power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will stop the wasting in time to the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain flesh, and as soon as the lungs heal, the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and gained weight 25 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands of similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every Tuesday, and at Nahant, No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

For the Chronicle.

THE CONCERT.—Messrs. Editors: On Wednesday evening last I went to the Temple to see and hear the Philharmonic Society in the Cantata of "Esther."—I am not a skilled dramatic or musical critic, but I can always tell what pleases me, just as well as anybody can; and I never have to wait to learn how others like it, before knowing whether or no I like it myself. That's more than some folks can say without touching the borders of romance. I was much pleased with the whole performance—the dressing, the acting and the singing—particularly with the choruses. Solo-singing I don't think much of—never did—wouldn't walk a mile in bad weather to hear the best soloist that ever astonished without gratifying me.—(There's musical heresy for you.) But I like choruses, quartets, duets—anything that employs more than one voice; and I enjoyed this concert very much. My chance of gaining a reputation for good taste in musical affairs has probably been so thoroughly upset by my confession of non-admiration for solos, that my praise or disapprobation will have but little weight; so I will say nothing more about the music.

When I went in I expected to find the audience very largely composed of those who reprobate Theatres, Ethiopian Serenaders, &c., thinking, of course, that that class would be only too happy to encourage a different style of entertainment; but I looked all round with a spy-glass and didn't see any of 'em worth mentioning, so I have concluded that there must be something objectionable in this Cantata, too, and that it is not "the great moral exhibition" I formerly considered it.

The juvenile performers who give the out-door entertainments when theatricals are being performed inside,—varying their programme with foot races in the entry, and ceasing altogether when a policeman heaves in sight,—didn't muster so strongly as usual; I escaped being squeezed in getting out, by waiting for all the rest to go ahead—and altogether the evening was very pleasantly spent by PAKEHA.

Communication.

THE NORTH MILLPOND BRIDGE AND ROAD.—We see it stated that the Eastern and Concord Railroads will oppose the new Highway asked for across their tracks, at Cabot Street. But the land owners, before selling to either of the corporations, took good care to make the reserve of the right of way over all the tracks; and what is more, the Roads are bound to make and keep the Crossings in good repair, and when called upon have and do now keep a good teaming way across to the Point where the Ice House now is; and where, the coming summer, it is expected three or four small Tenements will be erected. Objections might with as much propriety be made to the Vaughan Street crossing at to the crossing aforesaid.

THE SLOW TIME MATCH came off at Deering & Gammon's Rink on Friday evening. There were five Velocipeders and their "wobbling" was something to admire, and made much sport. The time was as follows: Hansoom, 2 58; Amazeen, 2.50; Grouse, 2.16; Clark and Wallace, distanced. This (Saturday) afternoon there is to be some sport there for the children, who will be admitted at half price—5 cts. each.

LOSS OF A BOSTON SHIP.—The ship Astrea, with a cargo of coal from Philadelphia for Acapulco, was abandoned at sea on the 16th of February in latitude 36 deg. N., longitude 62 deg. 50 min. W., in a sinking condition, having sprung a leak soon after leaving port. The crew were all saved and landed at Bermuda March 2.

The Astrea was an old ship of 750 tons, built at Newburyport in 1851, and was owned by Mr. George B. Chase of Boston, and Wm. Jones & Son of this city. We understand that she was not fully insured.

A VALUABLE CARGO OF TEAS.—One of the most valuable cargoes of teas ever brought to this country from China, was recently landed in New York in the Boston ship Charger, the total value of which was $1,700,000, owned by New York and Boston parties. The Charger is a Portsmouth built ship, and is owned by Henry Hastings of Boston, and it may be stated to the credit of New England ships that every ounce of her cargo was discharged in perfect order. This ship is commanded by Capt. Wm. Lester of this city, who is now at home and looking finely.

☞ Numerous requests are wake for repertition of Esther on Fast Night—and it may be done.

☞ Harper's Magazing for April is for sale at Batchelder & Co's Store.

☞ Parts of the following named vessels were sold at auction by William H. Hackett, Esq., of this city, recently: Schrs Jacob William, at rate of $2200; M. Sewall, at $3375; Free Wind, at $6750; Fannie A. Bailey, at $12,150. Brig Sally Brown, and schrs Othello and Albert Clarence were withdrawn.

MORE FUN.—Messrs. Deering & Gammon offer more prizes for a Velocipede Race at their Rink this Saturday afternoon—for the amusement of the children and ladies, who will find it more convenient to attend at that time. Admission 10 cents for adults, and 5 cents for children. Racing from 2 o'clock to 5.

NAVAL.—The Portsmouth, Commander A. A. Semmes, was at Funchal, Madeira, Feb. 17th, on her way to Rio Janeiro. Three of her crew were drowned on the 13th at Funchal. Their names were Thos. Lairins, Thos. Wallace and Geo. A. Burnham.

SOUP HOUSES—AND GOOD OLD TIMES.—The Dover Gazette in a long editorial just before election, said:—

To the voters of the State, then, we have to say, see to it that you vote for the interests of the State and people rather than for the advancement of these gigantic schemes of swindling the people, and trampling their rights under foot to favor these rascally contrivances for stealing, not only the money from their pockets, but the bread from their mouths. For this is fast getting to be a question of bread for the poor, in proof of which we cite the soup houses established in our large cities, from which, in the city of Boston alone, nearly two thousand people are daily fed. Yet, in the face of all this poverty, we are told of the prosperity of the country. Was the like ever known in those good old Democratic times now unfortunately known only in memory? In those days economy was the rule, and plenty smiled upon all. No soup houses were then required to feed the poor. Such a proposition would then have been considered an insult by those whom want now drives to partake of this charity.

We think we remember some soup houses in some of our cities, in those "good old democratic" times which are so admired by those who can look only backward;—"those golden days, when every hog bore wool, and hens were geese."

And when we come to Boston, it should be borne in mind that the present is a "good democratic time," as their mayor of that stripe is in his second year, and they have a city government which was chosen by that party combined with the liquor license men.

Bear in mind also the fact that most of the 2000 people who eat the soup are not native Americans, but a very large part are the voters who were naturalized at the cost of the party on purpose to vote for it, with their families;—and that in a large portion of the whole number, the extreme poverty comes of tippling and other vices.

The proposition to give soup to these people in Boston could not have insulted many of them in very old democratic times, for most of them were then not in this country.

The days when economy was the rule and "plenty smiled on all," must have been before our remembrance, (says Uncle Toby,)—for there have always been in our day, paupers, beggars, and sufferers from improvidence and intemperance, in all our cities—and public or private charity, of course, has been taxed to feed them. The government, whether Democratic, Republican, or Despotic, cannot make all men prudent or successful. It can and does, commonly, feed the very poor.

☞ The Town Farm of Rye is advertised to be sold April 12th by Auction. All the Town establishments will ere long follow suit, in favor of the new County Almshouse. Rye has at present no Town paupers, and but four County paupers, and their Farm has been a bill of expense to the Town.

DID THEY HAVE A LICENSE?—It is said that one of the democracy, in a town not a thousand miles distant, kept 58 voters at his house, the night before Election, and kept 10 men to watch them and keep them in condition for the work next day. That man is a worker.—Exeter News Letter.

DEATHS.

In this city, March 18, CHARLES H. DOW, son of the late James H. Dow of Rye, aged 14 years, 8 mos., 18 days.

☞ Funeral this Saturday P. M., at 2 o'clock, from North Church.

In Brooklyn, Conn., March 11th, Mr. I. SPENCE PICKERING, formerly of this city.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from recent colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe is the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Mr. Gilman Berry, who left Newington for California overland, in 1849, has just now for the first time returned to his old home. He was recently re-elected Sheriff of Lewiston County, Idaho, for another two-years' term. His brother William, who went with him, is his Deputy and Jailor, and remains in charge.

These sons had not been heard from for several years until recently, numerous letters from both sides failing to reach the other. Mr. Berry finds his father recently deceased, a chief portion of his estate being willed to him and his brother, should they ever return.—The Sheriff is yet a bachelor, a heavy man in person and influence, and it is said not without a fair share of the rocks in his pocket.

Among his adventures in the new country, he was once, when a miner, obliged by three highwaymen, at the muzzles of their pistols, to throw his three purses or bags of gold into the road for them to pick up, and pass on—but he afterwards had the grim satisfaction, before he was a Judge, of assisting as a joiner in building the gallows on which these very robbers were hung, for other crimes.

A certain cure for founder in a horse, says a correspondent of the Rural World is to stand him in water to his belly. "I have known this course successfully practised for fifty years."

The London dairymen have decided that the most profitable cows are graded short-horns, not because they give more milk, but because, when past milking, they make more beef.

Professor Brewer, of Yale Scientific School, recommends the Breton cattle for scanty pastures. They yield eight times their weight of milk per year, and thrive well where other breeds fail.

A recent writer states that three hundred and fifty bushels of potatoes remove ninety pounds of potash from the soil on which they are grown; consequently, wood ashes is one of the most valuable manures for this crop.

The number of threshing-machines in the United states is about 229,000, and they save five per cent more of the grain than the flail. There is accordingly a saving by these machines of about ten million bushels of grain annually.

As a general practice, Southern and Western farmers have depended on a hundred acres, ploughed three inches deep, for three thousand bushels of corn, when the same store could have been gathered from fifty acres ploughed six inches deep and well manured.

ADVERTISING.—It is a great mistake, the idea that the value of advertising depends wholly or mainly upon the number of circulation. There are certain classes of advertisements to which this rule may apply, but they are exceptional. All the local advertisements depend for their value upon circulation among the people whose wants are to be supplied.—Thus, an advertisement in this paper meets the eyes of all or very nearly all, the most able and desirable customers who look for patronage in this vicinity.— Evansville Herald, Indiana.

— Warmth, it appears, is not essential to comfort in Minnesota. A St. Paul paper says that in that city it was impossible to keep warm even in comfortable houses, during a recent cold snap which carried the thermometer down to 20 degrees below zero. A high wind was blowing at the time and the intense cold caused everything to shrink so that great cracks appeared in the houses and admitted the entrance of the bitter air from without.

— A moralist took his daughter to see the Siamese Twins. "Observe, Prudence, my dear," he remarked to her, "observe the care exercised by Providence which united these two citizens; and think what a heavy and wearisome fetter might that membrane which attaches them together have been, if instead of being brothers they had been strangers to each other."

—Gen. S. B. Hazeltine of Bakersfield, Vt., 78 years of age, has been unanimously elected town clerk for the fiftieth year. During that period only 18 votes were ever cast against him for that office.

—Anna Dickinson was too late for the train at Desmoines, Iowa, a few mornings since, and she hired a locomotive to take her 165 miles, and rode upon it with the engineer and fireman.

— A lady in Lowell, Mass., who has kept crape on the knob of her house door since the assassination of President Lincoln, removed it on inauguration day.

—The peach buds in Somerset County, N. J., were killed by the cold weather last week and the crop is likely to prove a failure.

FEEDING ANIMALS.—"Hearth and Home" says it is not good to compel or allow a horse to eat too much hay or straw. Three meals per day, sufficient to keep him eating one hour each, provided a proper portion of grain or vegetables be given, is probably sufficient, in ordinary cases. Many horses, especially those of farmers, are fed altogether too much hay; and there is no doubt but it is good policy to sell hay and buy grain, where little is raised, rather than feed so much straw.

A little extra high feed will often change a useless Pullet into a constant layer. It is hardly fair to expect hens to turn out such rich and concentrated substances as compose eggs, without giving them a good supply of hearty food. They should also have green food in winter, and for this chopped cabbage is good.

CURE FOR SCRATCHES.— Not quite two weeks ago I found that the horse I am using was very much afflicted about the pastern joints and ankles of both of its fore feet, with what is called grease or scratches. I immediately washed the parts affected with warm soap suds, and wiped as dry as I could, and then bathed thoroughly with benzine, and rubbed it well in with a rag or my hand. I pursued this course daily for about a week, when I found that all the sores on one leg had healed, leaving the skin soft and smooth, and the others had nearly healed. I used my horse nearly every day and did not change her feed only to give two or three messes of potatoes sprinkled with sulphur and saltpetre. It is the simplest and cheapest remedy I have ever found, and I think it might be used as a preventive. N. E. Farmer.

— We learn from an exchange that a lady one hundred years old "was lately matrimonialized" in Pennsylvania.

The large and increasing sales of these

is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from Civil Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among over new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of the wonderful region—the Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed forward. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interview between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they live, polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayal of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—Supposing the whole labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

Our Present System of Domestic Service, a Relic of Slavery.

We mistresses who try to regulate independently these creatures who come to us we knew not whence, and flit away we knew not where, little realize that we are bearing up the heavy fag-end of the once universal system under which not only domestic labor, but every possible species of agricultural and manufacturing art, was carried on in the houses or on the estates of their owners, by slaves who could no more dream of giving their mistresses warning of leaving the following week, if they disapproved of her arrangements, than they could hope to reverse the decrees of fate itself, — running away when there was nothing but slavery elsewhere to run to, not holding out those rosy inducements that of late the North did to the Southern bondwoman.

Seridom was at its last gasp in Queen Elizabeth's day, but the tradition of bondage remained for a hundred years or more. In Cromwell's time servants were only paid a few dollars a year; they seldom left their places, and were glad to transmit them to their children after them. But the disorganization begun by emancipation has culminated in our American chaos, where from its very foundation the domestic sways and fluctuates uneasily on its ever-changing basis of ill-trained and unprincipled service, creating an antagonistic feeling which renders the relation of mistress and servant but a cold-blooded bargain, formed in suspicion and dissolved with pleasure on on the slightest provocation.

All our trouble comes because we are going against the spirit of the age, which revolts against submission to an individual will, but freely subjects itself to the despotism of an organization. American-born girls, as we all know, have long abandoned domestic service for the factory, the shop, and the district school; and the Irish girls are following their example, so that under the present system it is a grave question where, when Irish emigration ceases, the servants of the next generation are to come from.

Even without this problem to trouble us, however,—with the American idea deeply implanted in servants that the maid is as good as the mistress, it is absurd to hope for obedience and respect, and the only way to control them is by the unalterable laws and regulations of an organized corporation. The community would need fewer of them, their wages would be higher, and as service would then be as "respectable" and "independent" as factory work, and (owing to the good meals and lodgings we could easily provide for them) far more comfortable, a much better class of women would go into it than we ever see in our families, while even those who do so badly in private houses, by the accurate division of labor, and he having only one kind of thing to attend to all day long, would reach a higher standard of perfection than with their present diversity of duties they are capable of.—Atlantic Monthly for January.

THE BISHOP OF THE NIGER.—When Joseph was carried into Egypt and sold a slave, it was a dark providence; yet that was as much a part of the great purpose of Jehovah for preparing the way and bring into the world a Savior as was the calling of Abraham. So in the history of the Bishop of the Niger God moved in a mysterious way—mysterious to us, not to him. The account says:—

Some years ago, a company of slave catchers in Africa went out on their horrible business. At midnight they surrounded a village. They set fire to the huts in different places. When the frightened people ran into the fields and woods to escape the flames, the wretched men who were there seized them and made them prisoners. A little boy named Adjai was caught that night. He was separated from his mother and sisters. He was carried down to the coast and put on board a crowded slave ship, to be carried to the island of Cuba and sold as a slave.

An English cruiser captured that slaver. The slaves were carried to Sierra Leone, and put into the mission school there. Adjai soon learned to read. He became a tutor, then a teacher, then he joined the church. Afterward he was sent to England to be educated. Then he was ordained as a minister. He went out as a missionary to his own country. His mother, who had never seen him since that night in which the slave-stealers burnt their village and stole them away, heard the gospel from his lips and became a Christian. Afterwards he was made a Bishop: and so he, who once was little Adjai the slave-boy, is now the Rt. Rev. Samuel Crowther, bishop of the Niger. He is the first colored man in connection with the English Church who has ever been made a bishop. And now he goes up the river Niger and far into the interior of Africa, carrying the Bible to those who have never heard of it before.

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to say, they are left to fight it through as they have all else, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.
Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or preparations were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
We procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon fell into a quiet, refreshing sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
To fathers, daughters, mothers, sons.
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind in health cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill both, yes, counts their millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Make the air blind in health cannot see
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, if slow, will feed you too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
Are habitual, and chronic,
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the dreaded foe;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stands alone,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease, of course;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis this PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Table of Mortality, the double means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1869.

The News.

The civil war in Japan is ended.

Fast Day in Massachusetts and Vermont, April 8.

President Grant's family took possession of the White House on Friday.

United States bonds have advanced to 84 in the London market, the highest price yet reached.

Miss Elizabeth Van Lew has been confirmed by the Senate as postmistress at Richmond, Va.

The President declares his intention to appoint Quakers as Superintendents and Indian Agents.

Secretary Boutwell states that he shall sell gold publicly. Heretofore it has been sold at private sale.

Orders have been received at the Armory at Springfield, Mass., to begin the manufacture of the model breech-loading musket, and to turn out five hundred per day.

The financial condition of the government at the close of the present fiscal year in June will undoubtedly be very favorable. The customs receipts for the fiscal year will probably reach $185,000,000 or $190,000,000, and those from internal revenue at least $150,000,000 and perhaps $160,000,000.

The late law requiring heads of departments to do all their own franking has proved so burdensome that the Postmaster-General has ordered the transmission of official matter when franked by the chief clerk. The whole time of one of the deputy commissioners of internal revenue was occupied some days in this business.

CUBA.—The revolutionists have begun to burn all the sugar plantations within their reach, and it is feared that this year's sugar crop will be but little more than half the average. Skirmishes and battles continue. More troops have arrived from Spain. The insurgents are carrying off slaves from plantations, and making them soldiers.

SPAIN.—The troubles in Andalusia still continue. At Jerez De La Frontera the opposition to the military conscription culminated in a battle between the insurgents and troops. The engagement was of short duration, but was very fierce. The insurgents were defeated and routed; 600 of them were taken prisoners.

EGYPT.—The waters of the Mediterranean have been successfully admitted into Bitter Lake through the Suez Canal.

AUSTRIA.—A royal decree has been published, establishing trial by jury for offences against the press laws.

PRUSSIA.—Dr. Peterman is preparing to send out a new polar expedition,—to sail in June.

NAVAL.—By direction of the Secretary of the Navy, the sea service of officers hereafter will be for a period of three years, counting from the day they receive their order until they are detached on the return of their vessel to the United States. Officers who have been three years at sea will on their return be allowed three years at a shore station. The officers now on the Mediterranean station will not be ordered there again until they have performed duty on the coast of Brazil, China, Pacific and home squadron, which will be the four of duty.

The officers of the Navy have been directed by a general order just issued from the Navy Department to inform the Secretary of the Navy of their actual places of residence. The object is to ascertain where they live, so that they may be assigned to duty at points nearest their places of residence, not only as a convenience to themselves, but also to save the government their travelling expenses when ordered to distant points instead of those nearer home.

COMMISSIONER ROLLINS.—The New York Independent makes the following honorable mention of Mr. Rollins:

Hon. E. A. Rollins, late Commissioner of Internal Revenue, left Washington for home on Wednesday evening.—Few men in the country have done better service than Mr. Rollins. He has nobly fought villains, thieves, whiskey-rings, and their illustrious chief, Andy Johnson; and was honored at last with a vial of wrath from Binckley—a splendid graduation tribute.

☞ We notice that Dr. Barney, the Democratic Senator from District No. 12, has been chosen chairman of the Board of Hogreeves, in the town of Lancaster. We are not ready to bet on the wind of the portly Senator in a race with the Lancasterian swine, but when the cutting up occurs, we back the Doctor in the use of the knife.

— Kansas is said to have the best system of railroads constructed and projected of all States in the Union.

New Hampshire Items.

A Minnesota correspondent writes as follows; "I have concluded to sell out here, and go back to New Hampshire to live the rest of my days. I like to live east better than here, although I have been here thirteen years. I see that farms sell reasonably in New Hampshire; and I used to enjoy life there. I know I am tired of raising wheat for 85 cents a bushel. I choose to have less flour, and more apples and other fruit; and also to be where I can see old Kearsarge mountain once in a while."—Statesman.

The Exeter News Letter says that on account of the free and unwarrantable use of money at Elections, the towns of Kingston, East Kingston and Kensington, by the agreement of respectable citizens, attempted to bar out the purchase of voters' suffrages, and, as far as has been learned, the plan has worked admirably.

Joshua M. Smith of Sanbornton, who was 70 years old on the 5th day of this month, cut, split and piled two cords of wood in nine hours. When any boy of his age beats that, he will "see his pile" and go half a cord better.

Marlborough, at the annual town-meeting, voted five per cent of its valuation towards building a railroad from Peterborough to Keene, according to the surveyed route.

Capt. Moses Hook of Fremont, 92 years of age, voted on Tuesday, the 9th inst. He has never missed voting since he was old enough to vote, it being 71 years.

Mr. Gardner D. Durgin of Epping has a pair of steers which weigh 4,400 lbs. and are fast growing. Epping is noted for fat beeves and good working oxen.

On the 15th inst., Benjamin F. Moulton of Kensington had a beef steer killed, in the intestines of which was found a living tape worm 17 feet long.

Willie Ryan, aged 4 years, fell thro' an elevator in Sawyer's Mills, Dover, March 13;—he fell about 40 feet, and died in half an hour.

Epping town debt is $37,462; Fremont, $10,077; Chester, $28,574. In this last town the poll tax last year was $2.15.

Keene, at a recent meeting, decided by a large majority not to have Roxbury annexed to it.

AN ITEM TO BE READ.—We have probably all of us met with circumstances in which a word heedlessly spoken against the reputation of a female has been magnified by malicious minds until the cloud has been dark enough to overshadow her whole existence. To those who are accustomed, not necessarily from bad motives, but from thoughtlessness, to speak lightly of ladies, we recommend these "hints" as worthy of consideration.

Never use a lady's name in an improper time, or in mixed company. Never make an assertions about her that you think untrue, or allusions that you feel she herself would blush to hear. When you meet with men who do not scruple to make use of a woman's name in a reckless and unprincipled manner, shun them, for they are the very worst members of the community—men lost to every sense of honor, every feeling of humanity.

Many a good and worthy woman's character has been forever ruined and she heart-broken by a lie manufactured by some villain, and repeated where it should not have been, and in the presence of those whose little judgment could not deter them from circulating the foul and braggart report.

A slander is soon propagated, and the smallest thing derogatory to a woman's character will fly on the wings of the wind and magnify as it circulates, until its monstrous weight crushes the poor unconscious victim. Respect the name of woman, for your mother and sisters are women; and as you would have their fair name untarnished and their lives unembittered by the slanderer's tongue, heed the ill that your own words may bring upon the mother, the sister, or the wife of some fellow creature.

NEW ENGLAND MECHANICS AND ART ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the officers of this association, held at the Tremont House, Boston, Dr. George B. Loring was called to the chair, and Mr. William A. Currier of Exeter acted as secretary. Messrs. A. C. Dennison of Maine, Walter Harriman of New Hampshire, A. D. Hagar of Vermont, Daniel Needham of Massachusetts, Henry A. Warner of Connecticut, and George Corliss of Rhode Island, were appointed a committee to report a form of government for the association, and to make arrangements for an exhibition by the association at such time as it may be deemed expedient to have one. The committee will report at a future meeting.

☞ The traveling public will be glad that Conductor Ansel Tucker, the veteran of the Boston & Maine Road, is able to resume charge of his train, after a three months' severe illness of rheumatic fever.

NORTH HAMPTON.—The vote of this town for 1868 was Rep. 87, Dem. 128, Dem. majority 41. For 1869 Rep. 90, Dem. 116, " 26. Rep. gain for 1869, 15.

A WOMAN'S IDEA OF WHAT A KITCHEN SHOULD BE.—To begin with, I would have a kitchen well lighted,—some, yes, a great deal of the broad, rich, expansive sunshine coming right in boldly, as if it had a perfect right to be there. That would, of course, necessitate large windows. And then I would give as much attention to the ventilation of a kitchen, as I would to that of a sleeping-room. I would have a large circular device suspended over the cooking-stove, with a hole in the centre, and a tube leading to the top of the house, to carry off the savory smells which the process of cooking generates, and prevent them from permeating the entire house.

For these smells, however savory and agreeable, are apt to take away something from the keenness of our appetite; or, at least, to cause us to anticipate something better than the reality. Then I would have a large sink with a permanent soap-stone or marble washbowl for washing the dishes; and another for draining. I would also have an adjustable pipe, leading from the hot water tank to either of these basins. Besides this, I would have sundry closets and cupboards arranged upon the wall, so as to be tasteful and decorative, as well as convenient.

Then I would have a space devoted to tiny drawers, such as one sees in a drug store, and labelled in this manner: soda, allspice, cream of tartar, nutmegs, etc.; so that at a glance I could discover just what I wanted, without rummaging to find these things in some out-of-the-way corner, placed there by some careless, untidy Bridget. This would save one a world of care now devoted to restoring every new servant as to all the places of things.—Cooking is becoming so complicated now-a-days, that one needs all the arrangements, and as many utensils, a chemical laboratory; and the good architect should give the good mater familias "a place for every thing."—American Builder.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The Chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and an alkaline secretion, and is thus rolled into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, be not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also evident that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the Chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the first failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the Chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage thro' the bowels of the useless debris.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering 10 years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest Back and Limbs, Sprains and Bruises. Never fails if used as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even Ulcers and Sores, which have resisted all other treatment, have found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, and his colon injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of Allcock's Porous Plaster, and was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

Holloway's Pills.—The symptoms of dyspepsia often closely resemble those of heart disease. Hot flushes, violent palpitation, spasms, sudden faintness, suffocating sensations, &c., are ordinary results of chronic indigestion. These somewhat alarming indications of a foul stomach incapable of converting the aliment it receives to a wholesome purpose, can only be got rid of by proper alterative and cathartic treatment, and Holloway's Pills are the very best medicine that can be administered in such cases. Sold by all Druggists.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the trade feel satisfied that they can close not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch the hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our trade, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches, in every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST and as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to so shape our transacts at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together.

WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved in QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, betray the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it feeds on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Fear of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no B. loss of Hope, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transaction from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Blooming Dale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Lunatic Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these statements. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it; indeed, a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are happy to add, there is an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, suffered untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and when we see persons copying this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a light cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel which is deadly poison, that will compare to use unless with great care, that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali of the sea weed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Cancer, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food, and the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills for all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a skeleton. Consumption, the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless possible, when the patient can be examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where letters for advice should be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 56 Hanover St., Boston, every other Monday. But he gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—

Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

HOW WONDERFULLY SCRUPULOUS.—We observe, in the Concord newspaper called The People, some marvellous statements about the Republican victory in Senatorial District number One, which are doubtless derived from the biggest liar on the seacoast. One of them is as follows:—

Had Mr. Jones gone out and bought men, as did his opponent, he could have been elected. This explanation or statement of the facts is due our Democratic friends in the surrounding towns who rolled up such a handsome vote.

This must be news to Mr. Jones himself, and to all his political friends, especially to those who have nominated him again and again, chiefly because his money and beer could be freely used in carrying on the election. He has never before, we think, been accused of being so very scrupulous.

Another statement from the same source is:—

The significant fact that that Mr. Bailey's majority in this city is ninety-eight less than that of the Republican candidate for Governor, is proof that our conclusions are correct.

This is about as droll a proof, as anything we have seen. Putting it in another shape, it will read thus:—Mr. Jones run 51 votes ahead of his ticket; and Mr. B. fell 44 votes short of his;—and the big liar wishes the dupes, whom he misleads, to believe that one man fell behind his ticket because he bought votes, and that another man ran ahead of his, because he would not buy!—Perhaps some of them can believe it, but men in their sober senses cannot.

It is an important fact, that Mr Bailey's nomination for Senator, and the lively canvass that followed, added large numbers to the republican vote for governor. And the State is the better to-day, for his efforts and his success.

For the Chronicle.

MUSIC IN PORTSMOUTH.—The Philharmonic Society.—This Society has recently given two Concerts, with very general acceptance, and reflecting upon them very great credit. The fine representation of the Haymakers, last year, was so well rendered, that a repetition was met by a full house; and a request from a neighboring city, that it might be given there, was responded to, and greeted with a large and delighted audience.

Last week, the Cantata of Esther was placed before us, in a style very acceptable to all, and there is an earnest desire to have another representation.—The members were at great expense in procuring costumes to add to the attraction, and although the Temple was pretty well filled, the receipts did not meet the expenses.

We have two musical organizations in this city, of which we should feel proud; and which should be encouraged and sustained by all lovers of music. The Portsmouth Cornet Band has kept together, amid many difficulties and discouragements, for some years; and by perseverance and weekly rehearsals, now rank among the first Bands in New England; and as musicians and gentlemen, their equal is difficult to find. Now, we have the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society, which bids fair to become a permanent institution Let all good citizens take an interest in the prosperity of these organizations in our midst; and when they announce an appearance in public, reward them with smiling faces and full houses

P***.

WELL DONE, PORTSMOUTH.—We notice several paragraphs in the papers complimentary of Portsmouth at the last Election, inasmuch as John H. Bailey has been elected. This is hardly of note, seeing that Mr. Bailey run 43 behind his ticket in that city.—Exeter News Letter.

Not true, by a long shot, Mr. N. L., in all its inferences. Mr. B. did not run behind so much, strictly speaking, as Mr. Jones ran ahead — by means of persuasion which "moral suasion" don't always seem able to overcome or control. It was not that the people loved Bailey less, nor copperheadism more. The Democrats put up their strongest rich man, and few besides him who is elected could have defeated him.

The News Letter also says, "We learn that the caucus at Portsmouth, had it not been under 'gag law,' would have presented different Legislative candidates for the support of the party,"—which is also false, of course, and the report merely of those who, having been squarely out-voted on their candidate, cried foul, and did all they could to defeat the Election—and all such bolters, especially if holding office from Republicans, ought to be remembered.

THE VELOCIPEDE RACE at Deering & Gammon's Rink, Saturday afternoon, was won in 1.39 (5 times around the rink) by Marshall Gammon. Another contestant in his anxiety to make good time got capsized twice and gave up the contest.

PATENT BRICKS, OR BUILDING BLOCKS. At Washington a committee of the trustees have made a thorough investigation of the fitness of the "building block" of Howard University buildings as a building material. They have (says the Independent) the written statements of several architects and practical builders, the reports of four different series of experiments, with from five to sixteen specimens each, to test the amount of pressure the block will bear, and a chemical analysis of the material.

All the architects and practical builders invited to examine the buildings concur in saying that they are well constructed, and the walls stand erect and free from the ordinary effects of an unsound structure. All the doubt expressed is as to the sufficiency of the material to endure pressure and the action of the elements.

The only unfavorable opinions have been based on experiments with single specimens, proved to be, although unknown at the time, of recent manufacture and not fully hardened. As to the action of the elements, various experiments show a hardening process going on by repeated wetting and drying. — And blocks made several months are not affected like common brick by wetting and freezing; but if exposed too soon without shelter, they saturate and crumble.

The University buildings are almost wholly made of old blocks, which have not been affected by frost, except where a leaky spout allowed the wall to be saturated. The chemical analysis proved the hardening process going on as claimed; and all the testimony confirms the opinion that the buildings are strong and abundantly safe, so as not to require shoreing or any manner of strengthening.

A small part of the walls of the Freedmen's Hospital, made of similar material, fell, because the blocks had been too recently made, and were laid in freezing weather, so that it would have been a wonder if they had not fallen. Besides this accident, the University buildings have been brought into distrust wholly by hostile newspaper correspondents; but these fine buildings obstinately refuse to show signs of weakness or to fall under all the force of such harmless weapons.

☞ Ship Astraea (before reported) was abandoned at sea in lat. 36.20, lon. 63, February 17th, at nightfall. The Astraea sailed from Philadelphia Feb. 7th for Acapulco, and encountered continuous terrific gales after leaving. By the concussion of several heavy seas one pump gave out and was broken in two.

When abandoned, the Astraea had 8 feet of water in her hold, and was totally unmanageable. The captain and crew were picked up by North German Barque Anna, and landed at Bermuda March 4th.

CASUALTY AT THE KEARSARGE MILLS.—Owen Linnehan, fireman at the Kearsarge Mills in this city, met with serious injury Thursday forenoon, and in a singular manner. When he opened the furnace door, the flames burst out, as we have sometimes witnessed at a coal stove, with such force as to prostrate him, and several similar explosions, doubtless caused by the gas from the burning coal, followed, by which Mr. Linnehan was very seriously burned about the face, hands, arms and breast, but it is thought he will recover from the injury. He was experienced in his business, having been employed a number of years in the engine room The boiler was uninjured, and the casualty is one of that nature for which no one can be held responsible.—Journal.

☞ The town debt of Kittery is $18,300.

—The youngest man elected President of the United States is General Grant, who will be 47 years old on the 22d of April next. Polk 49, Zachary Taylor 63, Franklin Pierce 48, James Buchanan 65, and Abraham Lincoln nearly 51, when they were elected.

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight years in the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe is the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Morning Chronicle.

A PREACHER in a frontier settlement had been collecting money for some church object. There was still some twenty dollars wanting, and after a vain effort to make up the deficiency, he plainly intimated as he locked the church door one day after service, that he intended to have that said twenty dollars before any left the house. At the same time he sat the example by tossing $5 on the table. Another put down a dollar, another a quarter of a dollar, a fourth half a dollar, and so on.

The parson read out, every now and then, the state of the funds: There is seven and a half, my friends. There is nine and a quarter. Ten and six bits are all that are in the hat, friends and Christian brethern. Slowly it was raised. Twelve and a half—Fourteen—Fifteen—Sixteen and three bits, and so on, until it stuck at $19.50. 'It only wants fifty cents, my friends, to make it up!' Everybody had subscribed and not a cent forthcoming. Silence reigned, and how long it might have lasted it was difficult to say, had not a half dollar been tossed through the open window, and a rough, explanatory voice shouted: 'Here, parson, there's yer money; let out my gal; I'm about tired of waiting for her.

WE PASS FOR WHAT WE ARE.—Ralph Waldo Emerson says: A man passes for what he is worth. Very idle is all curiosity concerning other people's estimate of us, and all fear for remaining unknown is not less so. If a man knows he can do anything—knows that he can do better than any one else—he has a pledge of acknowledgment of that fact by all persons. The world is full of judgment days, and into every assemblage that a man enters, in every action that he attempts, he is gauged and stamped.

In every troop of boys that whoop and run in each yard and square, a new comer is well and accurately weighed in the course of a few days, and stamped with his right number, as if he had undergone a formal trial of his speed and temper. A stranger comes from a distant school with a better dress, trinkets in his pockets, with airs and pretensions. An older boy says: "It's of no use, we shall find him out to-morrow."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—A Teachers' Institute will be held in Exeter commencing on the 5th day of April, and the generosity of our citizens will be called into action, if we mistake not. The plan is, if our public spirited people will adopt it, to give to every female teacher her board during the few days of her attendance at this Convention.

We hope the response will be general to this call to aid a cause in which all, particularly in Exeter, are engaged. It is proposed by Mr. Hadley, Supt., of public instruction, to have a general good time as well as one for profit to the minds and bodies of all who may attend, whether to discuss the subjects before the meeting or only to listen to what is offered in behalf of the cause. The best teachers and lecturers from abroad are expected.—News Letter.

—Sheffield, Vt., boasts of a somewhat remarkable family—that of Joseph H. and Comfort Ingalls. To begin with, all the children of that couple, ten in number (six boys and four girls,) are still living, the oldest being sixty-eight and the youngest forty-eight years old. In the second place, they average 200 pounds each, the heaviest weighing 260 and the lightest 180. The ten weigh just 2000 pounds, and when the father and mother were alive the family of twelve members weighed a little over 2400. Most of the girls weigh over 200 pounds each. The tallest boy is six feet and three inches, and we believe none of the boys stop short of six feet.

HE HAD FORGOTTEN HIS NAME.—A Brooklyn friend, who has great faith in catechism, and teaches it with a pertinacity that would challenge the admiration of a Luther or Calvin, was putting the youngest of four through a course one day, when the question came up—"What tempted Eve?" The little fellow, after a few moments' thought, with an air of confidence exclaimed, "It's the gentleman who lives in hell; I've forgotten his name!"

—Lord Byron's valet, Lindsley, who was present at the poet's death and immediately thereafter, is now a cripple in a Western hospital. He was in Abraham Lincoln's company in the Black Hawk war, and served throughout the late conflict in the Sixty-first Illinois Regiment. He is in great destitution and distress.

—"Take yourself off! bag and baggage!" is said to be the literal meaning of "Foig a Ballagh," though the more common rendering is "clear the way." Not only is there a difference in the translation, but in the orthography of the name there is also a variation, and we find Foig, Folgh, and Faugh all used.

—Chicago has been called the palm city of Sabbath schools; it has recently been shown to be the palm city of Sabbath breaking also; for two thousand saloons are kept open there on Sunday, and ten thousand persons are occupied in waiting on customers.

— A man in Minnesota who lived 12 miles from a village got his jaw dislocated, and was obliged to walk that distance with his mouth involuntarily open before he could have it set right.

— The depth of snow in Canada is shown by the statement that a traveler's horse was fatally injured by becoming entangled in a telegraph wire twenty feet from the ground.

For the Chronicle.

On the Death of a Departed Hero.

Droop the banners, fire the gun,
For a sailor brave and true,
One of a gallant band, is gone
One of the Kearsarge crew!

Out on a distant sea,
Far from his native town,
We heard his wild hurra
As the pirate ship went down.

Over the land and over the main,
Thrilling the startled air,
His country shouted back again,
Revenge on the dread corsair.

And do we not feel pride,
That a Portsmouth boy on board,
Had clad with chains the good ship's side,
While the waves about him roared?

There waved the flag of France,
And the Cross of England flew,
To witness deeds of high romance
On the perilous waters blue.

And history, long will tell
Of those gallant boys so true,
Who fought the ocean battle
With the Pirate and her crew.

Praise ye pillar of Granite, then,
To tell of his renown,
That he was one of the Kearsarge men,
Who sent the Pirate down.

PHILIP O'NEILL.

NEW ORLEANS.—The Picayune says there is a vast amount of building going on in New Orleans and its suburbs.—What is remarkable, there has never before been a time when buildings could be erected with so little cost in that city. All building material which is produced in the South may now be obtained for the same—if not lower—prices in greenbacks than before the war in gold.—Every article, however, that comes from the North, is fully up to the gold standard, and always has been so. In consequence of the cheapness of lumber, etc., parties who have never before considered themselves able to build, are now erecting residences of their own. This is certainly a fortunate state of things for the residents of the Crescent City.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these

SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

ap11 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority to all the multitude of scales offered for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are warranted sound and for sale by

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

NASBY is in doubt whether to go for or against the 15th Constitutional Amendment. Hear him!

I feel tolerbly easy. It the ballot is given the niggers in Kentucky and we ken keep out them cussid missionaries with ther primmers and spellin-books and skool-houses, I hev faith to bleeve that the Ablishnists will, after all, hev scheeved a barron victry; that is, for the present. Troo, we cannot alluz hold em. The Bible societies, and the Chrischen assoseashens, and them other nachrel enemies uv our party, spellin books, will evenchooally git hold uv um, but tha can't do it for tin yeers and before that time passes, I shel sleep in the valley. On good likker I cood only hope to survive ten yeers—on Bascom's a shorter period will suffise. I feel now a leak uv fizzikle vigger. My haltin steps and the incapassity to take over three drinks per fifteen minits warn me that my biler is rustid, that the rivits is weaknin, and that ere long it must bust.

After that wat do I care who rools Kentucky! When I am sleepin in the burying ground behind Pennibacker's distillery, wat difference will it make to me whether that buildin is convertin corn into sustenance, or whether it is being used ez a young lady's seminary, with teachers from Massychoosites with ther hair in intellectual ringlets? When this frail body is a moldrin into dust, wat do I care whether Confedrit X Roads is wat it now is, or whether its name is changed to Summerville, with a cotton factory, and a nail factory and a rollin mill and sich; with the country cleared up around it, and all devoted to dairies and market gardens?

Nary. But ez this frail body aint moldrin into dust, and ez it aint sleepin in the buryin ground, but on the contrary is livin and movin with wants and necessities uv an earthly nacher, which must be attended to, and ez the sed body hez a disinclination to labor to precoor the sed necessities, it prefers to have Confedrit X Roads remain jist ez it is doorin its stay on this subluinary speer. And to this end I am willing to do whatever may be necessary to keep it so. Ef the way is thro Afrikey—I am willing to embrace Afrikey. Ef it is kickin Afrikey, why then Afrikey shel find there's vigger yet in my foot and leg.

And the Dimocrisy, of they are wise, will hold theirselves in equil readinis to drop on either side. In New York city for egg-sample, ef the nigger theeves an suckers will only vote ez the white theeves and suckers do, the carryin uv the state will allus be a shoor thing. The only question is kin they be kept in this condishen? Here is where doubt comes in, and beclouds an otherwise fair pickter. Kin John Morrissy control the nigger in his distrik, ez he does the Irish, an by the same means?

How long will it take to get a nigger of ordinary sensibility down to the point uv assoshiatin with John Allen and Kit Burns? An for the sake of their vote cood our Irish fellow citizens of Noo York be persuaded to forego their trooly nashnel amoosement in killin a d—d nigger, now an then? I won't ask whether they cood be indoost to occasionally give me an offis, for that question would be lunatic, there not being quite offises enuff in Noo-york to provide for the Irish alone, to say nothin uv the others who want em.

Upon the anser to these questions depends my ackshun. I shel study it over for a day or two longer before I decide. In the mean time I shel prepare myself. I shel shake hands with sich niggers ez I meet, when unobserved by white men, and shel prevent, of possible, the hangin uv any more uv them till I hev solved these doubts.

HON. JOHN P. HALE.—We give place to the following article from the Dover Enquirer, concerning the attack upon our Minister to Spain, Mr. Hale, by a correspondent of the Tribune, heartily agreeing with it. The attack upon Mr. Hale was an atrocious one, to say the least, and made in the interest of one whom we are glad to know is no longer to occupy the official position which he has too long disgraced.

A foreign correspondent of the New York Tribune—Smaller or Smalley by name—who regulates the affairs of Europe for the great American journal, devotes his last letter to the American Embassy in Spain, in which, after making a pretext of great respect for the character and past services of our Minister, Mr. Hale, he represents that he is now, mentally and physically, incapable of discharging the duties of his office; that he has no influence or standing at the court of Madrid; and that (worse than all), he is openly hostile to the liberal cause in Spain and an avowed partisan and supporter of the "royal prostitute" who has just been driven from the throne.

Mr. Perry, the Secretary of Legation, is, at the same time, lauded as the only capable man belonging to the embassy, by whom, if we may believe the writer, all its business is transacted and its character and dignity sustained. After this indictment, no evidence is needed as to the credibility of the writer, nor is it necessary to look beneath the surface for his object in filing it. Mr. Perry, in his own and the writer's opinion, is just the man to take Mr. Hale's place as Minister to Spain, and this correspondent is just the man for his Secretary of Legation!

That Mr. Hale, a few months since, was in impaired health, is well known, but his friends will be glad to hear that it is now fully re-established. That he has been or is physically or mentally incapable of discharging the duties of his office no one will believe without other and better evidence than the assertions of the writer referred to. The stale dodge of eulogizing the past services of a man for the purpose of more effectually depreciating his present standing, will deceive no one. As to the charge of "hostility to the liberal cause of Spain," the calumny is so monstrous and absurd that instead of affecting the person at whom it is aimed, it kicks back and knocks its author over. John P. Hale the enemy of liberal institutions! John P. Hale a worshipper of royalty! When the writer can find any one who will believe that story, we beg he will make a note of it. Even as we write, a Washington telegram gives lie to the preposterous calumny. The official and other correspondence of Mr. Hale, received in that city, amply refutes it.

The private letter from Mr. Hale recently published, is also made the ground of accusation against him.—That letter, the writer must have known, was not intended for publication. It was surreptitiously obtained from the friend of Mr. Hale to whom it was addressed and given to the public probably by some person, who like this writer, is engaged in the laudable enterprise of attempting to drive Mr. Hale from the public service. That its charges against Perry, as well as his friend Mr. Secretary Seward, are true, is so well known to President Grant, as well as the United States Senate, that they have just superceded Perry in his office, by appointing a friend of Mr. Hale to his place. The gentleman who has thus been relieved of his official duties, can now devote his whole attention to those private speculations in which, it is well known, he has of late been chiefly engaged.

The assertion that for three years preceding the appointment of Mr. Hale, Perry was acting Minister of his Government, is also unfounded. The official register shows that Mr. Koerner, of Illinois, was the predecessor, of Mr. Hale and held the office from 1862 until 1865. As for this friend and confederate of Perry, the correspondent of the Tribune, whatever alias he may now travel under, there can be no doubt, after this exhibition of himself, that he is the veritable McCracken whose savory letter, some two years since, is still fragrant in the memory of our foreign diplomats as well as of all newspaper readers.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH! DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange as it may seem, they do fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken or rent at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since repeatedly recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Table, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

1000 more Spanish troops have arrived in Cuba.

Heavy storms are reported at Salt Lake and further west.

General Samuel Fessenden of Portland died on Friday night at the age of eighty-five years.

The orders banishing certain Cuban political prisoners were carried into effect on Saturday. The crowd at the Havana wharf to witness the departure of the vessel for Fernando Po, was very large, and a number of disturbances occurred, resulting in the shooting of two Cubans by the guards. The city was considerably excited at the last advices.

Petroleum wells are becoming more productive in Pennsylvania.

One of the last acts of President Johnson and his Secretary of the Interior was to order the issue of $2,400,000 in government bonds to the Central Pacific Railroad of California on advance work. One of the first acts of President Grant was to stop the execution of the order, so that only $1,400,000 worth were issued, and the new Secretary of the Interior has sent a letter to the railroad committee of the Senate asking legislation on the matter. One of the questions involved is the determination of the point at which the Union Pacific road and the Central Pacific road shall meet, and the government commissioners are now making an examination for the settlement of this question.

The Republican Senators held a caucus on Monday at which considerable excitement prevailed in discussing the Tenure of office bill. It seems probable that it will be suspended until March 4, 1873.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

Messtrs. Editors:—Mayor Clark, "a victim of circumstance," was inaugurated last Monday. His address was one of brevity and sense, and far different from the elaborate and lengthy discussions of national affairs that has hitherto been a characteristic. By his statement we learn that at the commencement of last year the debt of the city was $214,186.03, and at the commencement of this year it amounted to $208,156.00, making a reduction during the year of $6,030.03. The city has a floating debt of $27,356.00, consisting of outstanding notes, which his Honor desires to be funded by exchanging these notes for bonds of the city. He also recommends some very radical changes in the government of the city. First is the consolidation of the school districts, and the abolishing of the Board of School Agent and Superintending School Committee, and having a Board of Education appointed who shall have complete supervision. Second, to do away with the interest on taxes not collected after a certain date,—the disbanding of the two hand engine companies, and purchasing another steamer.

The City Government stands politically as follows,—Republicans 19, Democrats 16. The man who wasn't elected to Congress is a member of the City Council, and received two votes for President of that body. The city government of Saco was organized on the same day, and Mayor Lovell stated the debt of the town up to March 1st to amount to $84,132.23.

Governor Chamberlin delivered his lecture on the "Surrender of Lee," at Shaw's Hall last Tuesday evening. Quite a large delegation turned out to hear him, and went away well satisfied. Some of his remarks were rather scathing to some of the copperheads present, who sat and bore it without a murmur. Some considerable animation exists about the course of the Governor in the Capital Punishment affair. Some among both political parties are inclined to land him for his promptness in carrying into effect the law, while others are just as prompt to condemn him.

A concert was given at Shaws Hall on Friday evening by the South Parish Choir of your city. All the parts were taken excellently, and as far as I learn gave general satisfaction. I wish I could believe that the receipts were so remunerative as to enable them to appear here again.

The Charter granted by the Legislature for the Saco River Railroad is already in the hands of some of our citizens, and a meeting will soon be called to take action upon it. H.

RAILROAD BONDS FOR INVESTMENT.—The attention of capitalists is invited to the bonds of the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad Company, which are now being offered by the well-known banking house of Lee, Higginson & Co., 40 State Street, Boston. These are a first mortgage sinking fund bond, secured by land grant, and paying seven per cent. interest in gold, free of government tax. Their present price is 95 and accrued interest in currency. Circulars, containing full particulars, may be had as above.

Deputy Sheriff John D. Wadleigh, of Bradford, died yery suddenly on Saturday morning week. His wife rose first, and going back to the sleeping room shortly after, found her husband dead in bed. Mr. W. was 65 years old.

Married, at Marlow, March 10th, by J. Q. Jones, Esq., Mr. John A. Wood of Stoddard, to Miss Rosina D. Richardson of Alstead—the New Hampshire giantess. The bridegroom's weight 140 lbs., the bride's weight 400!

Gov. Harriman and Hon. G. G. Fogg returned to Concord Saturday, from Washington.

The manilla paper mill of Fisher & Aiken of Franklin has been sold to William A. Russell, a paper manufacturer of Lawrence, Mass. The mill will be devoted to making wood pulp for paper.

In Laconia, recently, a car which was switched off on the wrong track, made an unexpected entrance among a lot of workmen in a building. Two were knocked down and narrowly escaped being killed.

Mrs. Sarah Carleton of West Concord, aged ninety-five, died on the 18th. She was thought to be the oldest person in the city at the time of her death.

Mrs. Fanny Morse, of East Weare, was 100 years old on the 12th inst. Her maiden name was Chase, and she has been married three times; first to a Mr. Worthly, then to a Mr. Favor, and last to a Mr. Morse, who was a revolutionary soldier, on whose account she draws a pension. She has a brother living in Maine, who is 98 years old.

A sheep in a flock being wintered on what is known as the "Preston Place" in Orange, occupied by Mr. Simon Tuttle, gave birth to a lamb about two weeks ago, entirely black, and which shortly after died. A day or two since the same sheep brought forth a pair of twins, white, and which are now alive and doing well.

The Merrimack River was frozen over above the Amoskeag bridge at Manchester, on Wednesday last for the first time.

☞ The full returns of the State election show the following result:—

Whole number of votes for governor,	67,829
Stearns, republican,	35,773
Bedel, democrat,	32,057
	3,716

There were thirty scattering votes. The majority for Mr. Ela for Congress in the first district is about 1700, for Mr. Stevens in the second 1600, and for Mr. Benton in the third district 600. The Senate has ten republicans and two democrats, and the House consists of 193 republicans and 139 democrats. One of the democratic senators may be proved ineligible. Republican majority in the Senate eight; in the House 54; on joint ballot 62.

EXETER, March 20.

A destructive fire occurred in Brentwood, Friday, consuming the house, store, barn, and sheds of Eliphalet B. B. Wood, Esq., with most of their contents. I am informed that the loss will be in the neighborhood of $7000 to $8000, and that Mr. Wood had no insurance.

A Rockingham County Teachers' Institute will commence here on the 5th of April, and continue through the week. Hon. Amos Hadley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and other talented speakers will be present and deliver interesting addresses on educational matters. Arrangements are being made for the gratuitous accommodation of all female teachers from abroad. Male teachers can procure board at the Squamscott House at the very reasonable rate of one dollar per day. It is hoped the attendance will be large; and that an increased interest will be awakened on the all-important subject of education.

The Cantata of "Esther" will be produced here on the evening of April 7.

A cariboo shot by Mr. C. H. Calkins of this town, in the woods of Maine, has been on exhibition at Garland's provision store. It is to be cut up today, much to the delight of our epicures, who anticipate a rare treat. Half a moose that Mr. C. brought home, went off "like hot cakes," and I can conscientiously testify to its excellence.

There is a fair prospect that a portion of Water street, which has long been an eyesore, and in the Spring, a nuisance, will be widened and straightened.

Velocipedes have had their day in this town; at least, for the present. The patronage bestowed on the "rinks" is scattering and uncertain, and I believe one of them, which has been running four or five machines, has been closed. H.

NAVAL.—Chief Engineer William Roberts has resigned, and is in business in Massachusetts.

On the Death of Charles H. Dow.

BY J. G. H.

Suddenly the Saviour called him
From this earth to heaven above,
There with saints and angels resting
In his full undying love.

Young in years, but manly, noble,
He has fallen beneath death's sway,
Like the fragile, tender blossom,
He has early passed away.

Passed away—not dead—but living,
Living in a brighter sphere,
For his hopes were stayed on heaven
And he loved his Savior here.

Weep not, then, for the departed,
He is free from care and strife;
Free from sin, affliction, sorrow,
Death is the christian's key to life.

God accepted the young christian,
Took him to His mansions fair,
Clothed him in those robes of whiteness,
Bade him all His glories share.

Widowed mother, Oh, behold him,
See thy son in glory there,
Sisters, there behold thy brother,
And your hearts for heaven prepare.

SPECIAL NOTICES

The Trying Season.

The searching winds, the cold, drizzling rains, and heavy fogs, and occasional warm and moist days of March, render it, upon the whole, the most unhealthy month of the year. Its depressing influences are especially unfavorable to invalids, and thousands of persons with feeble constitutions, who have borne the winter bravely, break down in the first month of spring.

The variations of temperature and cold east winds are a serious trial to the dyspeptic and bilious, whose symptoms they invariably aggravate. Intermittent fever is rife wherever there is evolvable poison in the water or the soil.

To enable the system to combat these evils, there is nothing like a good vegetable tonic, and among this class of medicines HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stand supreme. Medical men prescribe it in preference to any of the tonic preparations of the pharmacopœia. They are aware that the ordinary tinctures and extracts are all based upon cheap alcohol, which is surcharged with an acrid essential oil, and absolutely poisonous.

They know, on the other hand, that the rectified essence of the finest rye grown in this country is the sole spirituous ingredient of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and that the vegetable medicinal element of which it is composed are of rare efficacy. Hence it has the confidence of physicians, and finds its way into hospitals where no other proprietary medicine is manufactured.

A course of the BITTERS is especially recommended to persons of delicate habit, of both sexes, at this season. In the fever and ague districts of the West and South, quinine has been almost universally discarded as a therapeutic, and this invaluable antidote to malarious disorders adopted in its stead.

A double gain is realized by the change, for the Bitters, unlike that dangerous alkaloid, are agreeable to the palate, and their curative effect is much more permanent.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which he sent to Dr. Tobias, his uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it on the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following Complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain. I used it when first attacked. No one by using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, opening of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

Holloway's Pills.—The symptoms of dyspepsia often closely resemble those of heart disease. Hot flushes, violent palpitation, spasms, sudden faintness, suffocating sensations, &c., are ordinary results of chronic indigestion. These somewhat alarming indications of a foul stomach incapable of converting the aliment it receives to a wholesome purpose, can only be got rid of by proper alterative and cathartic treatment, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the very best medicine that can be administered in such cases. SPECIAL NOTICES,

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on other goods, yet the trade is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably influenced by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the cost of the machinery for any article manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our product at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAT THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our production we have constantly improved in QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve the product of watches, and have adopted all those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, those services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the premature decline betray, in addition to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of his worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give vent to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! the process of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy disarranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds with anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Nervous Nervous Irritability, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Muscular System, Often Great Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing more dreaded for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a Jaded Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful effects—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample testimony to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite vacant, indicating Mind nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry to the world, to all the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no medicine like it. It is a boon to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price, $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the Doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many times then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and feel the sale of it some may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient gains in grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and make good blood; the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions for the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the active principle in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Coughs, Tight, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases we must be down to work; in two only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of the food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at his Boston Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjs4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without straining those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

The Recent Gale on Georges.

Saturday night, 6th instant, will long be remembered by the fishermen of this port, who were exposed to the fury of one of the most violent gales that was ever experienced on the treacherous Banks of Georges. There were, as near as can be ascertained, one hundred and fifty sail of vessels lying at anchor quite near each other. The day had been spent in fishing, but the latter part of the afternoon there were indications of a storm. Several of the more cautious skippers got underway and sailed clear from the fleet, and were comparatively safe. But there was no time now for others to follow their example. As the darkness came down the storm increased; the wind howled through the rigging, the sea rose, seething and raging in its fury. The waves broke in feathery whiteness over the shoals, and the vessels strained heavily at their anchors, as they rose and fell with the billows. The snow flew thick and fast, blinding the eyes of the fishermen, who were all on deck, anxiously watching.

All through the night the storm continued. Heavy seas swept the decks of the vessels, in many instances sweeping overboard some of the men, the majority of whom were fortunate in saving themselves, but others met their death. On board each craft the skipper or some one of the crew whose coolness could be relied upon, stood ready with hatchet in hand to cut the cable, should any drifting craft come near enough to endanger their safety. Every one who cut made the danger still greater, as it added to the number of those were drifting among the fleet. When Sunday morning dawned, about twenty vessels out of the fleet remained at anchor, having rode it out and were not obliged to cut. The remainder, or most of them, were under easy sail, lying to, awaiting the first chance for home, as they could not remain on the Banks without cable and anchors.

Thursday and Friday were quite exciting days. Upwards of fifty sail of vessels came in during the two days, most of which had lost their cables and anchors and were otherwise damaged. Schooner Racer was towed in on Friday by the Thomas Hunt, having become disabled by the loss of her rudder; and later in the evening the schooner Charles Haskell arrived with loss of bowsprit, head and other damage. Since Saturday the vessels have arrived rather slowly, and considerable anxiety prevails to hear from the rest of the fleet.

Schooner Charles Haskell had a very narrow escape from foundering. On Saturday night, during the gale, dragged her anchors and was obliged to cut. While under sail, endeavoring to get clear of the fleet, came in collision with another vessel, staving her bowsprit completely through her, breaking it off, carrying away her head gear; then rising on a wave struck her again, and it is supposed that she foundered and all on board perished. The Haskell returned to port. This is the only instance known where two vessels have collided on the Georges and one has escaped foundering. Samuel Smith was lost overboard from schooner Veteran. He was about forty years of age, and a native of Liverpool, N. S. This makes seven lives in all thus far known to be lost.

The number of vessels that have lost cables and anchors and met with other disasters, is seventy-eight. Total number of fathoms of cable lost, 8392, valued at $20,960. Number of anchors lost, seventy-five, valued at $3075.—Other damages, such as loss of boats, spars, sailed, repairs, &c., estimated at $11,000, making a total of $35,035 as the result of the partial losses. The schooner A. R. Andrews, lost on the Banks, was valued at $3400, which swells the aggregate losses thus far, to $38,435.

Mr. Joseph F. Webber of Bremen, Me., one of the crew of schooner A. H. Wonson, performed an act of heroism which is worthy of honorable mention. On Sunday while the vessel was lying at anchor with her full string of cable out, it was observed that the parcelling on the bob-stay had worked loose and that the cable had commenced chafing. Directly astern were two vessels, and if the Wonson parted her cable, sure destruction awaited two if not three of the craft. At this time of peril Mr. Webber stepped forward saying, "Put a rope around me, and I will go over the bows and put the parcelling on so as to stop that chafing." His companions endeavored to dissuade him; the brave fellow was not to be deterred. Over the bows he went. One moment the bow would plunge beneath the foam and he would be completely immersed, then he would come up and continue his labor. He stuck to it manfully, and in reply to the repeated inquiry, "Shall we haul you in?" he said, "not until I finish my job." He did finish it, and the A. H. Wonson rode out the gale. When taken in on deck he was pretty well exhausted, but soon recovered and did not suffer any material injury from his arduous undertaking.

Sunday morning the wind blew fearfully, but it moderated slowly during the day. Schooner Nevada, while under sail, saw a schooner struck by a heavy squall, which knocked her down. As soon as the squall abated, saw that the vessel was in a sinking condition. Her crew were on the bowsprit, making signals for assistance. A cruel wave swept off four of them, and then another took the remainder. All this occured within sight of the men on board the Nevada, and they could do nothing to save them. The vessel soon after went down.

The schooner Sophronia had a narrow escape from being burned up. A lamp exploded during the night, and next morning, when one of the crew went into the forecastle, he found the table burned to a crisp. Had the vessel taken fire, all on board would have perished, as they could not have been taken off. This was a providential escape.

Information received up to the hour of our going to press, leaves thirty-four vessels yet absent, which were out in the storm. Of this number, eighteen have been spoken with, and are known to be safe, as in all probability, are a large portion of the others. The last arrivals report thick weather the past week, which prevented their speaking with other vessels of the fleet. Another week will bring in the majority of the absent ones, and relieve the great anxiety which now prevails in this community. At present it is impossible to form any definite idea of how many are lost, but we should judge that the number will be much smaller than was at first feared.—Cape Ann Adv. March 19.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE
is a splendid tool, for these reasons:
First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.
Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.
Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.
Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.
Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.
The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ A musical friend at Exeter, who was one of the sleighing party down to hear Esther, made a very pleasant and complimentary notice for the Exeter News Letter. He thinks the reading of Miss Fitts was a strong point, that the parts were generally well taken, but the soprano hardly sufficient to balance the bass in chorus. That a little more promptness in bringing on the different acts, (which is not an easy matter, especially for amateur performers,) would have given more reality and interest to the performance.

He states that Esther has been given three times in Exeter, but without costumes, scenery or stage-action; and that it will be given April 7th with all these additions, as a benevolent benefit.

He thinks the Philharmonic Society must have worked hard, and that the large audience must have felt well repaid for their attendance, and would generally pronounce it a decided success. He closes by proposing that next Fall, the two Societies in Exeter and Portsmouth unite their forces on some basis of operation, and give joint concerts in the two places, and thus awaken a new and stronger interest in singing by a little pleasant rivalry.

☞ We learn that Mr. J. H. Head of his city, is soon to issue his voluminous work on Floral Architecture, Decorations, &c., sufficient for a book of 700 pages, with numerous engravings and plans, on which he has labored for the past eight years,—in one of the leading journals of the day. This method of publishing will bring the work into the hands of many who otherwise could not afford to purchase so costly a volume as it would make were it issued in the usual way. It will also amply remunerate the author for his labor. Mr. Head has for the past six months furnished one of the weekly Literary Papers of Boston with a series of articles written somewhat after the style of "Ike Marvels Reveries," which have been well received by the public.

THAT LITTLE DOGGIE.—Our advertisement of a dog found in Rye brought the owner instantaneously, and a friend urges us to advertise for a dog which a lady of his acquaintance is continually inquiring after. "Oh! where! tell me where is my little torgy gone" has so often passed her hunkidori-perfumed lips that one friend, thinking that patience should receive its own reward, is anxious to obtain a canine (of no particular size, color or age) that the mournful refrain may cease and the interesting young lady be comforted. No "liberal reward" is offered, as the finder of the "dorg" would probably be too gallant to accept any remuneration.

IN POLICE COURT, Monday, Harriet Moore was sent to the House of Correction 4 months, and assessed costs $9.95, and Albertina L. Badger 3 mos. and $9.18 costs—for street walking. The City Marshal says he intends to clear the sidewalks at least of so many of this species of curb-stone brokers.

☞ We learn that about 40 operatives were discharged from the Kearsarge Mills on Monday, and that in consequence of the lack of sufficient power with the present boilers to run all the machinery, full one-third of the whole number of employees will be discharged.

☞ It is reported that Detective A. S. Stimson, of this Navy Yard, has been removed. The A. J.'s seem to be leaving. The office is probably abolished. He was a healthy detective, and will have an opportunity of earning his living hereafter.

A BIG LOAD of hay from the farm of Col. J. W. Pierce at Greenland, was weighed at Greenleaf's scales in this city on Monday, and tipped 5000 pounds. It was of prime quality, and went to Stoddard & Beacham's Livery Stable.

☞ Those fine stereoscopic views of Portsmouth and vicinity, for sale by Davis Brothers' are just the thing to send to absent friends, and for absent friends to send for. They are only $3 per dozen.

☞ Rev. Russel P. Ambler, of this city, has accepted a call from the Universalist Society in Medford, Mass., and will commence his labors there on the first Sunday in April.

☞ Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett of this city, commences his 17th term of Legislative duty in June. He was Clerk of the Senate in 1828, and President in 1862.

☞ The City Missionary acknowledges the receipt of $5, from the Freewill Baptist Society, for the benefit of the poor.

HAVE your letter and note paper stamped at J. F. Shores', No. 1 Congress Block.

☞ Mr. J. S. Montgomery, Teacher of the Spencerian system of Penmanship, who has been engaged for the last few weeks as instructor in this beautiful, easy and natural style of writing at the New Hampton Institute, has returned and re-opened his Writing Academy, over Ferguson & Frye's store on Congress Street, where may be seen various handsome specimens of writing and drawing, executed by Mr. Montgomery, who is now prepared to receive pupils both in the afternoon and evening, and the many bad writers in the city, young and old, should not let this opportunity of improving their chirography pass without placing themselves under Mr. M.'s care for a few weeks—which they will ever have occasion to be thankful for.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. G. H. Jenness, Superintending School Committee of Rye, for a copy of his Report for the year to March 1st. It is a very sensible and well drawn document, and shows the intelligent interest Mr. Jenness has long evinced in the public Schools. Rye appropriated $900 for School purposes; the salary of the Supt. Com. is $10; value of Books furnished indigent children, $6.25.

☞ We have received from Mr. T. E. Wood, of this city, several papers from Jacksonville, Florida—in one of which is noted the election of E. Hopkins, Republican, for Mayor.

☞ Thos. L. Tullock, Esq., of this city, has been appointed Appointment Clerk in the Treasury Department by Secretary Boutwell.

☞ It is reported that there is to be a considerable reduction in the Clerical force at the Navy Yard, immediately.

KITTERY Town Election, Monday, resulted in a clean Republican victory, by 194 majority or so. The Democrats threw 91 votes, the Republicans 286.—The following are the officers elected—all Republicans:

Town Clerk, Charles L. Duncan.
Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of Poor—Alexander Dennett, Dennis M. Shapleigh, E. F. Safford.
Treas. and Coll., Wm. W. Cutts.
Town Agent, Charles N. Holmes.
Sup. Sch. Com., M. A. Safford.
Health Officers, M. F. Wentworth, Luther P. Call, R. M. Otis.
Auditors, J. H. Sanborn, John Wentworth.
Constables, Charles H. Bartlett, Richard D. Philbrick, J. E. Tobey.

The Town indefinitely postponed the Truant Law, Dog Tax, Agt. for Highways, and making Sup. S. Com Agents for hiring teachers, &c.,

YORK RIGHT SIDE UP.—At the election on Monday the old Democratic stronghold chose Republican town officers by from 80 to 100 majority. Good for York!

☞ The Bostonians are getting excited over the proposed descration of their Common by Prof. Gilmore's wigwam—and they are not far out of the way in demanding that the building shall not go up on the play ground.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

☞ Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—Hon. James W. Grimes of Iowa, class of '36, has given $5,000 to Dartmouth College, to be devoted to the following purposes: he founds two scholarships of $1000 each, in the name of his wife and self; $1000 is to be a prize fund, the income to be given to that Senior who shall make the most satisfactory progress in his studies, $1000 is to furnish two prizes in composition, and the remaining $1000 is to be a fund for the benefit of the Social Friends' Library, of which society Mr. G. was a member.

By the will of the late William Carr of Newport, another thousand dollar scholarship has been founded.

A Historical Lectureship has been established by a friend of the college, to be filled by Rev. John Loud, L. L. D., class of '33, of Montpelier, Vt. All students are to have free access to them—to begin in the summer term. Judge Parker's lectures on law begin the present term. Prof. Hitchcock's lectures on mineralogy and geology have already begun.

The ladies of President Smith's former parish, in New York City, have presented him with a new and costly Presidential gown.

The Germania Band has been engaged for the Centennial Anniversary, and a mammoth tent has been secured and will be pitched upon the common.—Many classes are securing tents for their accommodation. The neighborhood of Hanover bids fair to be well whitened with them during the coming Commencement.

The Senior class have made the following elections for class day; Marshal, C. E. Bartlett, Durham; Orator, R. O. Linsley, Alstead; Poet, M. H. Fuller, Newport, Vt.; Chronicler, H. R. Monteith, McIndoe's Falls, Vt.; Prophet, I. L. Nicholson, Baltimore, Md.; Address to the President, C. H. Cook, Greensboro', Vt.; Address at the Tree, A. F. Blaisdell, Haverhill, Mass.; Odist, S. A. FILL LAMPS IN THE MORNING.—Scarcely a week passes, during the winter months, but we read accounts of frightful accidents from kerosene lamps exploding and killing or scarring for life, women and children. A simple knowledge of the inflammable nature of the fluid, would probably put a stop to nearly all the accidents. As the oil burns down into the lamp, a highly inflammable gas gathers over its surface, and as the oil decreases, the gas increases. When the oil is nearly consumed a slight jar will often inflame the gas, and an explosion is sure to follow dealing death and destruction. A bombshell is not more to be dreaded. Now if the lamp is not allowed to burn more than half-way down, such accidents are almost impossible. Always fill your lamps every morning; then you never need fear an explosion.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!
LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.
The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily accentuated improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.
We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a compliment that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stoically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we do cleave our peascrafs or be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.
Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PACKARD, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once in the morning and surprising, indeed, the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its influence felt; cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly improved in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

Fast Day in Maine, April 15.

Haverhill, Mass., is to have a chime of bells.

The examination of Leonard Choate, the alleged Newburyport incendiary, was concluded before Justice Currier of that city, on Monday, and he was held for trial before the Superior Court.

Barcelona, Spain, wants free trade.

The yellow fever still prevails at Caracas.

Col. T. Bigelow Lawrence, American Consul at Geneva, is dead.

Kansas has a population of 400,000 and a debt of ten million dollars, the constitutional limit.

Congress.

On Monday, the Senate elected the following officers:—Sergeant-at-Arms, John R. French of North Carolina.

Executive Clerk, John M. Morris of South Carolina.

Congressional Printer, Aaron M. Clapp of Buffalo, New York.

A resolution to correct the error in enrolling the civil appropriation bill, by inserting the omission requiring proprietors of bonded warehouses to pay the salaries of storekeepers, was agreed to,—109 to 49, a strict party vote.

In the House over 100 bills were introduced,—among the most important were the following:

By Mr. Lynch of Maine,—to provide for the gradual resumption of specie payments.

By Mr. Poland of Vt.,—to provide for a uniform system of naturalization.

By Mr. Kelsey of N. Y.,—to prohibit secret sales of gold or bonds for the government.

Mr. Lynch of Me. moved to suspend the rules for the offering and adoption of the resolution creating a select committee of nine to enquire into and report at the next session the cause of the great reduction of American tonnage engaged in the foreign carrying trade, and the great depression in the navigation interests of the country; also to report what measures are necessary to increase our ocean tonnage, revive our navigation interests, and regain for the country the position it once held among the nations as a great maritime power.

The rules were suspended, and the resolution was offered and adopted.

Messrs. Butler and Lawrence endeavored to have the joint resolution of adjournment (Friday next) recalled from the Senate, without success.

Communication.

BRADFORD ACADEMY, MASS.—A recent visit to this, the pioneer institution of its class in our country, has awakened anew an interest in the cause it represents. While so much is said and written about female suffrage and kindred topics, it is a fit time to emphasize the claims of female education.

Since the days of Harriet Newell and Mrs. Judson, forty young ladies from this Academy have followed the steps of these sainted foreign missionaries and 300 more have become wives of clergymen, while others like Mrs. Daniel Safford have been no less useful in other spheres.

Rev. Dr. Anderson is the President and Hon. Geo. Cogswell, M. D., the Treasurer of the Board at present. By the munificence of a few friends, an elegant edifice of cruciform shape is now erected, which furnishes recitation rooms for 250 pupils, a chapel 80 by 50 and dormitories for 130 or more pupils. A fine cellar, steam and gas, drainage, water closets, bath rooms, library, laboratory, museum and the other conveniences of a public edifice of this kind have been arranged with great care. The purest water from a well 55 ft. deep affords a bountiful supply for internal use, for a fountain in the three acre lawn before the building, and for protection against fire. The view from the top of the roof is varied and extensive. The valley of the Merrimac, Haverhill opposite and neighboring towns, with the blue mountains far away to the north, form a delightful picture.

Its rural quiet and yet proximity to Boston, its high literary repute and religious character and these new material appliances contribute to make Bradford second at least to no female college in the country, with the history of fifty six years such as any institution may be proud of and the facilities for still larger usefulness in the future it deserves well of a New England community. The furnishing of the inside with domestic and school furniture will proceed as rapidly as the means are furnished, it being the purpose of the trustees to incur no burden of debt. With co-operation of the friends of education this pioneer institution will still keep in the van and in the future repeat the success of the past. E. P. T.

A horse belonging to Walter Aiken, Esq., of Franklin, was being driven with his mate on the 16th, and met an ox sled in the road whose driver turned out. The sled did not leave the track, and the horse becoming frightened, reared, and was impaled on a stake in coming down. It died soon after the accident.

A Proclamation, for

A Day of Fasting, Humiliation & Prayer.

By and with the advice and consent of the Council, I designate Thursday, April 8, 1869, as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer.

On that day, let the people of this State, both in places of public worship and at their homes, with humility, penitence and faith, implore the forgiveness and invoke the blessing of the Most High.

Let us acknowledge our forgetfulness of the divine law and our waste of a Father's precious gifts; our misuse of blessed opportunities; our indulgence of unregulated desires; our tolerance of manifold forms of sinful customs, social injustice and public wrongs.

Encouraged by the advancement of light and liberty in the world, and especially in our own land, let us seek a fuller realization of the Kingdom of God and of His Son in our midst.

Under a deep sense of our weakness and our sins, let us rise into communion with Him who is the source of all strength and the fountain of all mercy.

Council Chamber, Concord, Mch. 16, '69.

WALTER HARRIMAN, Governor.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, March 20.

The questions which now most interest Bostonians are "who owns the Common, and who is to guard the rights of those owners?" Our musical Festival proposes, as everybody knows, to build a huge Coliseum on the Parade ground of the Common. The matter was hurried through and the consent of the City Fathers gained, it is alleged, unfairly. An injunction of the courts is looked for. The press is divided in opinion, or, perhaps more truthfully, is manipulated by the petitioners and the remonstrants.

If an edifice costing eighty or a hundred thousand dollars is erected, it won't be removed in a week or a month. The June Festival continues till after Independence. Then the Mechanics' Fair will need the building, then the vast auditorium during the following winter will make a grand Skating Rink, or, if the bicycle fever continues, a fine hippodrome. Prof. Tourjee is receiving from all parts of New England, offers from vocalists to aid in the grand choruses; and the money, too, seems to be coming in, so that despite the present hitch, in reference to location, the thing is bound to succeed.

The last of the series of the Harvard Symphony Concerts came off this week; but one more extra concert is announced. Boston fosters art, and musicians are agreed that this city is surpassed by none other in its appreciation of their efforts. A new thing in the way of musical instruments is the Conservatory Organ, just put into the market by those enterprising manufacturers, H. D. & S. W. Smith of this city. Like their other styles of American organs, this wins commendation by its purity and richness of tone, and must prove a general favorite. Yesterday I attended the sale of French paintings at De Vrie's. A crowd was in attendance and some of the pictures went at high figures, but others for a song. Toulmanche's "Mother's Kiss," not a large picture either, brought $750,—Chavet's "Hurdy-gurdy," the size of a cabinet photograph, three hundred.

Of the State Prohibitory Convention I meant to have written, but will only add a line. It called together a fair attendance; gave some good resolutions and elicited some good speaking. If, as a leading license law paper admits, it has succeeded in fixing the somewhat wavering minds of the legislators to a strong prohibitory law, its mission is accomplished. DUO ALA.

P. S. The Walker House in Portland, opposite the upper depot, is a very convenient and comfortable stopping place for passengers by the late trains. Its charges are moderate.

Congress Record Ink, D. B. Brooks & Brother, Boston, is pronounced by all who use it, superior to any in its purity, richness of color and permanency.

Alfred Dale & Co., 23 School Street, are the Boston manufacturers of rubber goods of every description. All kinds of rubber jewelry constantly on hand.

New Publications.

Our Own, a new Home Magazine, published at Philadelphia by Gillin, M'Guigan & Griffin and conducted by Fannie Warner, is very readable and shows much care and ability in management. $2 per annum.

The Phrenological Journal for April contains the portraits and Biographies of Harvey P. Peet, LL.D., the eminent instructor of the deaf and dumb; James T. Brady, the distinguished lawyer; Henry D. Barron, the legislator; Henry Frank, the Jewish publisher; sketches and illustrated articles; Is there an open Polar Sea? Music. Price $3 a year or 30 cts. a number. S. R. Wells, Publisher, 389 Broadway, N. Y.

☞ Palmer, Jacobs & Co., 230 Washington Street, Boston, the well known dealers in Linens and House-keeping Dry Goods, invite attention to their new and elegant stock. Dealing exclusively in one class of goods, they are enabled to offer a most complete variety of the best goods manufactured, and at very favorable prices.

—The folly of holding and speculating in breadstuffs, with such an abundant crop as we had last year, is now quite apparent. If we had supplied the wants of Great Britain last fall, at the current rates, the farmers and speculators at the West would be much better off to-day, and the home markets would be far more satisfactory. On all the flour held over since last fall there is a loss of $2 to $3 per bbl. besides storage, interest and other expenses. In some instances sales have been made at even a much larger loss, and the public have not the least sympathy for the victims. Exchange.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Trying Season.

The searching winds, the cold, drizzling rains, and heavy fogs, and occasional warm and moist days of March, render it, upon the whole, the most unhealthy month of the year. Its depressing influences are especially unfavorable to invalids, and thousands of persons with feeble constitutions, who have borne the winter bravely, break down in the first month of spring.

The variations of temperature and cold east winds are a serious trial to the dyspeptic and bilious, whose symptoms they invariably aggravate. Intermittent fever is also rife wherever there is evolvable poison in the water or the soil.

To enable the system to combat these evils, there is nothing like good vegetable tonic, and among this class of medicines HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stand supreme. Medical men prescribe it in preference to any of the tonic preparations of the pharmacopœia. They are aware that the ordinary tinctures and extracts are all based upon cheap alcohol, which is surcharged with an acrid essential oil, and absolutely poisonous.

They know, on the other hand, that the rectified essence of the finest rye grown in this country is the sole spirituous ingredient of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and that the vegetable medicinal elements of which it is composed are of rare efficacy. Hence it has the confidence of physicians, and finds its way into hospitals where no other proprietary medicine is sanctioned.

A course of the BITTERS is especially recommended to persons of delicate habit, of both sexes, and to those exposed to the fever and ague districts of the West and South, quinine has been almost universally discarded as a chelogogue, and this invaluable antidote to malarious disorders adopted in its stead.

A double gain is realized by the change, for the Bitters, unlike that dangerous alkaloid, are agreeable to the palate, and their curative effect is much more permanent.

In 1862 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is in the possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramps, Spasms, Sprains and Sore Throat, internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails. If used as directed. For Cholera and Dysentery it is certain. I used it on my family for twenty years, and never lost one. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 19 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially with Spine, and also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man was cured in three weeks by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

Peekskill, Oct. 5, 1868. E. D. FULLER.

Holloway's Pills.—The symptoms of dyspepsia often closely resemble those of heart disease. Hot flushes, violent palpitation, spasms, sudden faintness, suffocating sensations, &c., are ordinary results of chronic indigestion. These somewhat alarming indications of a foul stomach incapable of converting the aliment it receives to a wholesome purpose, can only be got rid of by proper alterative and cathartic treatment, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the very best medicine that can be administered in such cases. Sold by all Druggists.

To Remove Moth Patches, Freckles, and Tan from the face, use PERRY'S MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY.

FOR BLACK WORMS, AND PIMPLES ON THE FACE, use PERRY'S COMEDONE AND PIMPLE REMEDY, prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY, 49 Bond Street, New York. Sold everywhere.—The trade supplied by wholesale Druggists. m4dawfm

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual article compared with other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are less informed, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village in this country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAVE YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to all our product, at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental affairs, the result of early indiscretion, it soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom to which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of years brings no change to a sufferer; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful portion in which body and mind undergoes fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and hastens the grave to which he is tending.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Society can allure, Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Blooming Isle Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of dysphagia. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of our Lunatic Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Consumption the intellect is generally exhibition appears. The countenance is lactually pallid and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Scarcely a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sitting cries—I know any lot."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. It consists in HELMBOLD'S CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, as the following testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart Frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief. Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken in strict obeying to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, now as his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions for the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which the Mandrake and Pulmonic Syrup will throw out through the stomach without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to dry the skin, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking in the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some sense are diseased, and ulcerations, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fact decay. In some cases it must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient will begin to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK unless patients wish to have their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday. Here all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover St., Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjs4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

P. P. S. AND ESTHER.—The following correspondence explains itself:—

F. W. MILLER, ESQ., President of the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society.

There is a very general desire expressed by those who attended the performance of the Cantata of "Esther," last week, by this Society, at the Temple, that it may be repeated.

The pleasure and satisfaction we derived on both evenings, induces us to request through you, that it may be given again at some early day; and we would suggest, if convenient, the evening of Fast Day.

We feel warranted in saying the Society will be greeted with a full and overflowing house; and trust they will accede to this request. Yours truly,

WILLIAM R. PRESTON,
RUFUS W. CLARK,
H. L. KELSEY,
W. H. Y. HACKETT,
JOHN H. BAILEY,
EZRA A. STEVENS,
HENRY M. CLARK, and many others.

MESSRS. W. R. PRESTON and others.

Gentlemen:—Fully appreciating your kind and efficient interest in the cause of our home music, and thanking you for the compliments expressed, the Philharmonic Society have voted to accede to your suggestions, and will appear once more in Esther on Fast Night. For the Society, yours, truly,

FRANK W. MILLER, President.

☞ Mr. B. F. Webster, besides the new House he has just got covered in on Union Street, has another under way on the corner of Lincoln Avenue and Broad Street, both not far from Middle Street; and he will probably commence others when these are sold. Both will be tasteful, convenient and desirable tenements, finely located and well built; and of just about the size and cost which best contribute to the prosperity of a community.

There ought to be at least one hundred such dwellings built this year in Portsmouth, and they would rent well. But far better would it be for each house keeper to own his own home—indeed, there is not much true home without this. The most laudable ambition for any young couple, is to own a house over their heads, and many more might do this, but for their improvident follies or vices.

WHO IS THE VELOCIPEDE CHAMPION? Dr. John S. Perry now holds the silver cup, the emblem of championship,—and three ambitious contestants (Messrs. Rowell, Hanscom and Clark) have challenged him to ride the race of the swift at the Rink of Messrs. Betton & Stephenson, on Vaughan Street, this (Wednesday) evening, every mother's son of them anticipating the pleasure of carrying off the coveted prize. There will be a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen, weather permitting, and the contest bids fair to be an exciting one.

KITTERY.—At the town election, on Monday, the following sums of money were appropriated. For Schools, $3000, Town $1500, Contingent Poor $1200, Town Debt $1500, Highway (Winter) $2000, Highway (Summer) $2000.

The State last fall voted to indemnify Town bounties, which will clear this town within $1000. Kittery put in 182 three years' men during the war.

MR. TULLOCK'S APPOINTMENT.—Secretary Boutwell's designation of T. L. Tullock, Esq., as head of the appointment bureau of the Treasury, is accepted by everybody as a proof that the Department is to be speedily purged of semi-rebel officials.

☞ It's a V!

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.—Probably no department of the Government during the Administration of Andrew Johnson was so completely miscued by designing men as that of the navy; and we are glad to see that our new Secretary, Mr. Borie, has entered upon the disharge of his duties in the spirit that actuated President Grant himself. Mr. Borie's own experience in Philadelphia, and especially in the 1st Congressional district, the enormous frauds in which were stimulated and increased by the encouragement which his predecessor extended to them through the navy-yard, is similar to that of the experience of all loyal men living near similar influences.

The tyranny over the Republicans and the preference for rebel sympathizers at the navy-yards in Washington city, Baltimore, New York, Boston, Portsmouth, N. H., and Norfolk, Virginia, were so monstrous as to be only excelled by the extravagance and corruptions of many of the agents of the department. The exposure of this extravagance and corruption in various authoritative publications, and in the reduction of the extraordinary naval estimates last year by the indomitable Elihu B. Washburne, makes up one of the blackest records in our history.

We are glad, therefore, to see that a citizen like Mr. Borie, who understands the situation, should be authorized by Second Assistant Engineer George F. Sawyer, United States navy, suspended from rank and duty for one year, placed on half waiting orders, and publicly reprimanded by Secretary Welles "for using disrespectful language" about Andrew Johnson, is one of the acts, and the prompt approval of the revocation by General Grant, shows how completely the Secretary's conduct meets the sanction of his chief. It will take years to repair the injuries inflicted upon the true friends of the Government by the desperate men who have been wielding the tremendous enginery of the Navy Department. But the work is in the right hands at last.—Exchange.

HOW TO PREVENT A PLACE FROM THRIVING.—If you wish to keep a town or city from thriving, don't put up any more buildings than you can conveniently occupy yourselves. If you should accidentally have an empty dwelling and any one wants to rent it, ask him about three times the actual value of it. Demand a Shylock price for every spot of ground God has given you stewardship over. Turn a cold shoulder to every mechanic or business man seeking a home among you. Look at every new comer with a scowl.

Run down the work of every new workman. Go abroad for wares, rather than trade with those who seek to do business in your midst. Wrap yourselves up within yourselves and cover yourselves up with a coat of impervious selfishness. There is no more effectual way to retard the growth of a town than actions like these enumerated, and there are people in every town who are persuing the above course every day of their lives, and to whom the above remarks are most respectfully offered for their careful attention.—Salem Gazette.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

POISONOUS DRINK.—The Legislature of Maine has passed a law making it a State Prison offence to manufacture or sell poisonous or adulterated liquors.—This will do more, if enforced, to suppress liquor selling than all the Maine laws that can be passed.—Exchange.

The word IF is very important here; and the difficulty of enforcing this new law may be found to be as great as that of enforcing the other. The Boston Courier, which ought to be good authority in this matter, says that much brandy is sold which has not a drop of grape spirits in it, but is merely whiskey, with the taste of brandy added by some flavoring extract, and the brandy color given by burnt sugar. And the New York World has an analysis of brandies and whiskeys, from several of the best Hotel Bars in that city, and sold for from 20 to 50 cts. a glass,—all of which are diluted with water, and most of the brandies are imitations. If these things are true of the best bars, what is the case with the worst?

The only safe way to treat all such trash is to let it severely alone. The total abstinent need not trouble himself about the relative purity or impurity of liquors. If he needs a spirit, either for himself or his horse, let him buy of a good druggist proof alcohol, and dilute it to any desired extent.

If the law above referred to shall be enforced, of course no temperance man will object.

THE MEMORIAL CHURCH.—The "Metropolitan Memorial M. E. Church" at Washington is a grand and imposing structure. According to the description of it contained in the Methodist Almanac for 1869, "the building is of brown stone, in the Gothic order, capable of seating 2000 persons, and will cost over $200,000. Pews are set apart for the President and his cabinet, the judges of the courts, generals of the army, and other distinguished persons.—All the windows are memorial or historical, commemorating the great men and events of the age. The spire will rise to the height of 220 feet, and contain a full chime of bells. The altar and pulpit furniture are made of cedar and olive wood, brought from Mount Lebanon and Gethsemane expressly for this purpose. The vestibules are paved with marble, portions of which came from Solomon's Temple. There is a fire-proof vault for the preservation of valuable records; church parlors and supper rooms for social gatherings, with many other modern improvements, rendering it one of the finest churches in our land." It adds that the church "has a silver communion service—the richest and costliest in America."

An exchange publishing the above description, calls attention to a question and its answer in the Methodist Book of discipline, which are as follows:—Question: Is anything advisable in regard to building churches? Answer: Let all our churches be built plain and decent, and with free seats wherever practicable; but not more expensive than is absolutely unavoidable, otherwise the necessity of raising money will make rich men necessary to us. But if so, we must be dependent on them, yea, and governed by them. And then farewell to Methodist discipline, if not doctrine too."—Exchange.

Times and Fashions have changed since that item of discipline was formed; then the Methodist Societies were poor; now many of them are rich; then they were few; now they are many:—then they could not have the most costly houses; now they can.

CHAPTER I.

A LIFE GLORIOUSLY STAKED!

Toward the close of a beautiful day in June, 1867, a man and woman mounted on fleet horses, came galloping over one of the great plains of the West, and drew rein in the shade of a clump of cotton-woods upon the bank of a beautiful river. They had ridden far and rapidly. Their steeds were panting, and covered with sweat and foam.

"We must give the horses a breathing spell," said the former, slipping to the ground; and his companion nodded a graceful assent, as she followed his example.

The couple were evidently father and daughter.

The man was in the prime of life, hale and hearty, with a large frame, which was sinewy and athletic, without being to be refined and prepossessing. He had the keen, shrewd look peculiar to the advance-guards of civilization, and there was an honest, frank expression on his sunbrowned face that proclaimed his integrity and courage.

In her way, his daughter was equally picturesque and attractive.

In the early flush of womanhood, with a pure, sweet and tender face, with eyes dark and glowing, with coral tinted lips, and cheeks softly flushed the hue of the rose, with amber curls floating behind her, she was as graceful as a gazelle, as light-hearted as a bird, as lovely as a flower, and as spirited as an untamed steeling.

The stream by which the couple had halted was Wood river, a branch of the Platte, in Nebraska, at a point fifty miles northwest of Fort Kearney.

"Are you tired, Miriam?" asked the hunter, George Dane, with fatherly solicitude.

"Tired, father?" rejoined the maiden, with a happy laugh. "Oh, no. How could I be tired after a day like this! Every minute has been filled with pleasure and excitement. I feel as fresh as yonder bird."

The father smiled understandingly, with a look full of the fondest affection.

"I can guess the cause of your lightness of heart," said he, smilingly. "The return, now daily expected, of a certain Hubert Earle, from the mines of Idaho, may account, I suspect, for for your present gladness."

A heightened color appeared on Miram's face, for the name mentioned was that of her lover. She answered the amused glances of her father, however, with a frankness that attested his entire sympathy with her, and said:

"True, father, my heart has been unusually light for several days past. How could it be otherwise, since I know that Hubert is coming!"

Mr. Dane did not reply. He was looking, with kindling eyes, over the fair flower-dotted plain; and his next remark showed how widely his thoughts had strayed.

I wonder what mother has been doing without us all day, Miram. She must be lonely, with no one to speak to or to share her meals. I wonder if we could see our home from this point, and his face lighted up with a soulful glow. Our cottage is not more than seven miles distant; let me see?

He drew from his coat a pocket-glass, adjusted it to his sight, pointing it in a northerly direction, and gazed through it long and earnestly, towards his ranche upon Carrey's Fork.

Yes, I see it, he said, at last, with a long, deep, and joyful inspiration, as if the sight refreshed him in every nerve. There is our cottage, as plain as day. I can even see the vines you planted bfore the windows, Miriam. And there, on the grape-vine bench, under the big elm, sits your mother, busy at her sewing. Bless her! She does not imagine we are looking at her. Look, Miram.

He yielded the instrument to his daughter, who obeyed his injunction, her lovely face glowing with smiles as she regarded the distant home-scene.

Dear Mother! she murmured. It is a treat to her to be able to sit out under the trees without fear of molestation. There are no hostile Indians hereabouts now—are there, father?

No. Red Knife, as you have already heard, was killed yesterday by a settler, and his band has retreated towards the mountains. I will confess, Miriam, that during all the time we have been in the West, I have not felt so light-hearted and care-free as since we received news of Red Knife's death. You have just seen how this joy bubbles over in me. Red Knife was a demon, rather than a savage.

Miriam shuddered, and her features evinced at the memory of the Indian mentioned.

He never spared a pale face, striving to speak calmly. Desolation and cruelty marked his path. For more than three years he has raged to and fro upon the plains like a ravening wolf. He was the terror of the border.

You have named him appropriately, Miriam, said the hunter. He had fiendish hatred of the white race, and his victims have been many.

Mr. Dane held out his hand for the glass, and Miriam was in the act of restoring it, when a strange gurgling, panting sound startled them both, and sent them quickly to their saddles.

The hunter wheeled his horse and looked down upon the river band, from which direction the sound had come, his manner self-possessed, but his countenance indicative of alarm.

The maiden followed his example.

Her eyes were the first to discover the cause of the sound that had startled them, detecting a man's figure creeping along through the undergrowth of bushes lining the shore.

At the same moment their presence in turn was detected, for the man dropped suddenly among the protecting bushes, as if he had been shot.

An Indian! whispered Miriam, drawing a from her bosom a revolver.

The hunter shook his head, continuing to watch the spot, at which the man had fallen, his hand on his rifle, his manner that of one ready for action.

Suddenly, as the man showed a haggard face peering cautiously from his concealment, Mr. Dane's anxious countenance broke into a smile, and he cried out:

Hallo! Is that you, Thompson? Do you take us for Indians, that you skulk there in the bushes?

The individual addressed was silent a full minute, as it seemed, from sheer amazement; then he sprang out from his hiding place with a cry of relief, and advanced swiftly towards the father and daughter.

He was a man of middle age, of the ordinary type of backwoodsman, strong and brown and stalwart. of the rude, rough type that seems to belong to the border. His face was haggered and white, although covered with perspiration. His breath came through his parted lips in quick, uneven gasps. He had run far and swiftly, and looked as if about to drop from fatigue.

What has happened, Thompson? asked Dane, with keen anxiety, the man's singular appearance giving him a sudden shock of alarm.

The Indians! gasped Thompson, scarcely able to command his voice. They are coming! Red Knife and his band—divided—my wife my children! Help me! Help me!

What talk is this! cried Dane, agitated in spite of his efforts at self-control. Red Knife was killed yesterday—

He was only wounded, interrupted Thompson. He is coming to take his vengeance on us settlers. He has divided his band into two. They were up at the Deer Fork this morning and are now coming this way. The points to be struck are your house and mine.

My God! ejaculated Dane, as his information passed in his excited, breathless narration.

A horse! a horse! cried Thompson, reeling with fatigue. I can go no further on foot. My wife, my children—God pity and save them!

He looked from the hunter to his daughter in agonized and mute supplication.

Then glowed with new alarm from Miriam's hands and placed it to his eyes.

He looked to the northward—saw his pretty cottage, his wife busy at her needle under the trees—and glanced at the dim line of the horizon stretching away eastward and westward from his home.

Suddenly the glass dropped from his hands—his face blanched to the hue of snow. From the west, seemed to come from the clouds of scarlet and gold, he had beheld a band of mounted Indians riding boldly towards that unprotected home, towards that unconscious and helpless woman.

With a frenzied cry, he put spurs to his horse, and dashed away like a madman, shouting to his daughter to follow him; at the same instant Thompson staggered forward and fell in the maiden's path; holding up his hands in anguish.

"My wife! my children! he groaned.

There was no hesitation in the soul of the brave Miriam.

"Mine is but a single life; he has seven depending on him," she said, aloud.

As she spoke, she leaped from her saddle, and, with a gesture, commanded him to take her place.

"But—your danger!" faltered Thompson. "The Indians—"

Miriam again pointed to the saddle.

"Quick, man! she commanded. "Think only of your family, and be gone!"

Still Thompson hesitated, sweeping the horizon-with eager glances, to assure himself that no immediate danger threatened. A change came over his face as he looked, and he uttered a wild cry, catching up the glass Mr. Dane had let fall, and looking through it.

The sight he beheld convulsed him with terror.

Not a mile away, to the west, he saw coming over a ridge in the plain, and approaching rapidly, a considerable body of mounted savages.

"They're coming—a band of redskins—directly toward us!" he gasped. "I'm lost! Fly, Miriam, while you have the time!"

The maiden took the glass and gazed through it an instant at the approaching foe. A strange light appeared in her eyes—a light possessed only by those upon whom God has bestowed a consciousness of His great protection—the light of a heroism which death itself cannot master.

Sure enough, she murmured. They are coming! The leader is Red Knife. Go, neighbor Thompson—on the instant!

No! cried Thompson—no! cried Thompson.

No! The horse is tired. We have been to Willow Island. We should be overtaken before we had gone two miles!

Then we'll die together!

No! no! You must mount!

With a grasp so sudden and firm that it startled him, the maiden pushed him towards the horse, and in another instant he found himself in the saddle, mounted by instinct than by thought, seated in the saddle.

Away, Selim! cried Miriam to her steed, with an imperative gesture. Away!

The horse broke furiously over the plain, giving Thompson only time enough to flash a look of gratitude towards the maiden, as he swept away to the northeast, towards his menaced home.

A moment later, Mr. Dane looked over his shoulder—took in at a glance the situation of affairs, recognizing the peril as well as the heroism of his child—bowed his head solemnly, as one submits to the inevitable, in approbation of her conduct, and then he swept on to the rescue of his wife, his soul torn by such emotions as are seldom brought to battle together.

And Miriam, throwing herself flat upon the ground, remained alone upon the plain, in the very path of a score of mounted Indians, who were galloping towards her with the swiftness of the wind!

CHAPTER II.

A CURIOUS AND STARTLING MYSTERY!

Skirting the Black Hills, forty miles west of Fort Laramie, a party of horsemen were riding eastward.

They had left Fort Bridger eight days before, taking the route of the North Platte, and were now following the Oregon emigrant road, among those long ridges, dry beds of rivers, and sterile plains, by which the region of the Black Hills is distinguished.

The bulk of the party consisted of ten cavalry-men, under a lieutenant, who were returning to Fort Laramie with a train of wagons. They were well mounted, and had several led horses in their train, loaded with their provisions and appurtenances of travel.

The balance of the party were civilians, who had seized the opportunity of crossing the mountains under military escort. Two of these were emigrants who had settled near Fort Bridger, but who had tired of the great solitude, or been frightened by the Indians, and were now returning eastward in search of homes nearer the haunts of civilization.

The third civilian was Hubert Earle, the lover of Miriam Dane, the settler's daughter, whom we have just left in such deadly peril.

He was a splendid specimen of American manhood, magnificently formed, broad shouldered, deepchested, as vigorous as an athlete, and rode his horse, a fiery Mexican steed, with the grace and ease of a Centaur.

At the moment of his introduction to the reader, he was riding in the rear of the little train, busy with his own reflections, which were evidently as bright as the morning itself—the forenoon preceding the events we have recorded.

His thoughts were wrapt in the sweet memory of Miriam, who had wept so bitterly at his departure, and who, he expected, would smile so joyously at his return.

The dear little soul! he murmured aloud. Where is she now?

His eyes darkened with tender sweetness, his lips quivered with the ineffable love that flooded his being with a happiness akin to pain. He pictured their meeting, the pretty home they would share together, the years they would spend in each other's society, the tender mutual love and care that would bless all their coming days.

He had left her a poor adventurer, to seek his fortune among the mines of Idaho. He was returning a more than moderately rich man, with bills of exchange in his chamois money-belt of sufficient value to support them both in luxury as long as they might live.

It was not to be wondered at that his thoughts were pleasant.

Suddenly he was aroused from his trance-like silence, by cries of delight from his companions, and by the fact that they had checked their speed.

Looking around him quickly, he beheld the cause of the unusual excitement. To the southward, at no great distance, a small herd of buffaloes was grazing lazily, seemingly not at all alarmed by the near presence of a formidable enemy.

The wind was blowing from them, the horses were fresh, and, as he looked at the tempting game, Hubert felt the spirit of the hunter grow strong within him.

Giving rein to his horse, he galloped along the line to speak to the lieutenant, but was met half way by that officer, whose sparkling eyes and eager demeanor attested to a kindling of Nimrod like zeal.

What do you say to an hour's sport, Mr. Earle? shouted the lieutenant, as he bore down upon his friend, for Hubert was a dead shot, and a favorite with every member of the party.

I think it would be a downright shame to turn our backs on such splendid game, was the quick response. Who could eat a dinner of salt pork; with those fat buffaloes so near us?

The lieutenant smiled, glanced up and down the line, reading eager longing in the faces of his men, and resolved to carry out his own and the general desire.

At a word of command from him, the party set out at a quick gallop for the scene of action.

The buffaloes allowed the enemy to approach quite near, the wind favoring the hunters; but at length began to sniff the air uneasily, to shake their heads, and to look for the cause of their apprehensions.

A moment later they had beheld the enemy, and, with frightful bellowings and mighty tramp, had began their wild, mad flight to the southward.

The chase was a long one; and it was not till the hunters had run the buffaloes upon a spur of the Black Hills that they got a good chance at them. They then brought down several plump young buffaloes, and dinner speedily became the watchword.

It is noon, and we'll have dinner, said the lieutenant, observing that the baggage animals with their drivers were approaching. Kindle a fire, boys, and we'll have steaks and roasts in abundance.

While this order was being carried into effect, Hubert and several others were engaged in surveying the scene.

Strangely desolate spot, said Hubert, thoughtfully. It looks as if man had no ver before visited it.

And no wonder, returned Brydges, since it's five miles off the route. What could any man want here, unless he might be in pursuit of buffaloes.

There being no answer to this question, Hubert proceeded to find an excellent grazing spot for his horse, tethered him, and flung himself on the ground in the shadow of the hill. The lieutenant and a portion of the men followed his example.

Plenty of low bushes were found dry enough to burn, and several fires were soon kindled. The choicest portions of the buffaloes were readily prepared for cooking, and it was not long before the odor of burning flesh was diffused on the air; four or five hungry soldiers serving as cooks.

It was a wild picnic scene on those lonely wilds, and every man there enjoyed it with true gipsy zest.

Suddenly, a shout from one of the men who were strolling around, arrested the attention of the others.

Hallo, boys! he cried. I'm blest if here isn't a cave in the hill! Come, see the hole under these bushes. You never saw anything hidden nearer in your lives.

Jones thinks nobody ever saw a cave before, said one of the loungers. For my part, I think more of something to eat, than of a hole in the ground.

This sentiment was echoed by the others, but the inquisitive cave discoverer, nothing daunted, approached the fire, took from it a torch, hurried to the spot, parted the bushes, revealing a dark aperture in the face of the rock, and disappeared within it, his light giving back a yellow glare for a second after he has ceased to be seen.

The camp revelry went on, the cooking progressed, the minutes passed, and Jones did not reappear.

If that fellow had found a gold mine in there he wouldn't call one of us, growled the lounger who had before spoken. I wonder what Jones has found. I'll just take a look, as dinner isn't ready.

He arose lazily, abstracted a stick of burning wood for a torch, proceeded to the cavern entrance, and disappeared from view.

Probably, said Hubert, there's a large cavern under that hill. If we had time, it might pay to explore it. Under the present circumstances, I am like Brown, and prefer my dinner to scientific explorations.

The meal seemed to be nearly ready, for the rattle of tin cups and dishes began to be heard; the lieutenant's small camp-chest was unpacked, and the cooks shouted to the strollers to come to dinner.

Have Jones and Brown come back? asked the lieutenant, as he rose to a sitting position, and glanced towards the cavern.

The men replied in the negative.

Go after them then, King, and hurry them up, said the officer. We must resume the march after dinner, and cannot afford to waste time here.

King, a fine young soldier, took a torch, and entered the cave.

The dinner was dealt out—hot savory steaks and roasts—the coffee measured, and the meal commenced, but none of the men who had entered the cave made their appearance!

How singular! ejaculated Brydges, testily and impatiently. What can keep those men? King has been gone ten minutes. Here, Sergeant Hailey, hurry those men up!

The sergeant, a brown, strong man of middle age, hesitated, and ventured to stammer:

I beg your pardon Lieutenant, but I think there's something wrong inside the cave. There's three men in there—all hungry and know that dinner's ready. Surely they'd come back if they could. Perhaps there's wild beasts, or some strange kind of gas that smothers 'm or—

Nonsense, Sergeant! interrapted the lieutenant, frowning. I give you five minutes to bring those men back. Go!

The sergeant's face paled, but, without another word, he took up a torch and entered the cave, disappearing from the gaze of his friends.

The minutes passed, the lieutenant and the men ate their dinner mechanically, awaiting anxiously the expected return; yet none of the four came back.

The words of the sergeant had made a deep impression on the minds of his hearers. A general gloom fell upon the camp, and the men cast frequent and fearful glances in the direction of the cavern. Even the lieutenant and Hubert felt a strange depression creeping over them, which neither could resist.

What can be the matter? at length demanded the officer. The sergeant's in trouble, I should judge, by this long absence.—There can't be gas in the cave, for if so, he would probably have time to cry out. There can't be wild beasts, for these four men were all well armed, and would at least have fired. Which of all you men will go into the cave and learn what the matter is?

There was a general shrinking back. Every soldier was brave in an Indian fight, but not one dared to face a mysterious and unknown danger. Not one wished to risk the complete and total disappearance from earth and from all human knowledge that had befallen his comrades.

Whoever will venture in search of the missing, men shall receive from me a hundred dollars in gold! exclaimed Hubert, in his clear ringing tones. Who speaks first for the money?

The offer was tempting; but it was not accepted. Not a word of reply was made to it.

Hubert hesitated, giving a brief thought to Miriam, his loved and waiting Miriam! His face then glowed with a noble light, and he said, in tones that did not falter:

I will go in search of the men, Lieutenant Brydges. Only, your party is now small, and if I do not return in twenty minutes, you may resume your journey.

But, Earle, expostulated the lieutenant, this is positive madness. You must not risk your life. We will wait a while, and if the men do not return, we will move on!

They may need help, replied Hubert, steadily. They may have encountered—well, God knows what, I can't imagine. If I fire my rifle, come to me. If I fail to return within the time appointed, move on!

He went up to the nearest fire, picked up a blazing stick, arranged his rifle for instant use, approached the mouth of the cave, peered into it cautiously, and listened intently for some sound of life within.

No sound came. All was as still as death within the cavern.

All was now breathless suspense. The lieutenant and his men gathered around to listen for the report of the rifle. The minutes passed, but it came not. Five minutes dragged by—ten—fifteen, and still no sound reached their ears. They could see a brief space into the cavern, by the light of their own torches, but nothing but rocky walls and floor met their gaze.

Twenty minutes were thus passed. The time was up, and Hubert had not returned.

The men looked at one another with pallid faces. As if turned to stone, they stood an awe-stricken group about the cavern's mouth, until the minutes had more than made up an hour—and still they lingered.

But, with the time they had cleared away the bushes from the mouth of the cave. They had tried again and again to peer into the dark depths of the opening, but could not. The lieutenant called repeatedly to Hubert, but received no answer. At length he proposed to tie a rope around his waist and descend into the sinister abyss, but his men objected unanimously.

What's the use? asked one. There's something here that no mortal man can conquer.

We can't risk your life, lieutenant, said another. Just think how few there are of us.

The time continued to drag on.

At last, when two full hours had passed, Lieut. Brydges staggered to his feet, and said;

This is horrible—terrible beyond expression! We have lost four of our comrades and this noble young stranger, whom I loved as a brother. This fearful cave must hold the secret of their fate, be what it may. Let us go—

Without a word, but with white faces—in a sort of mute terror—the men mounted their horses and resumed their journey. The above is all of this story that will be published in our columns. The continuation of it from where it leaves off here can be found only in the New York Ledger, which is for sale at all the book-stores and news depots. Ask for the number dated April 10, 1869, and in it you will find the continuation of the marvellous tale. The Ledger is mailed to subscribers at three dollars a year. The publication of Rev. Dr. Tyng's great story, which has been written expressly for the Ledger, is just commenced in the Ledger, so that our readers will get the whole of these new stories in it. The Ledger has the best stories of any paper in the world and Henry Ward Beecher, James Parton and Fanny Fern, have articles in every number.

RED JACKET AXE!
THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE
is a splendid tool, for these reasons:
First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.
Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.
Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.
Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.
Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.
The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:
HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.;—HART MANUFACTURING Co., New York;—WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

THOSE SAVAGES.—With the prospect of a more Christian course of treatment of the Indians under Gen. Grant and Secretary Cox, we can read with less impatience such a statement as this in a letter from an army officer to Gen. Garfield. Who wonders that the Indians are faithless to treaty stipulations? Where is the Christian people that would be more faithful with similar treatment? This officer says:

I speak what I know when I say that of every dollar appropriated by Congress for the Sioux during the last ten years, eighty cents have been stolen—only twenty cents reaching the Indians. In 1859, when the afflicted tribes were brought from Texas, a large sum was paid for moving them, although they moved without aid. They were settled on the Washita and fed by the government until the rebellion broke out. They never exceeded twenty-five hundred in number; yet they were mustered on paper at from five to eight thousand. The contract was let to feed them one pound of beef and one pound of flour per so at daily. Texas cattle not averaging over four hundred pounds net were issued to them at eight hundred pounds; and although the contract called for good merchantable flour, yet during the year and a half I was there, the Indians never saw an ounce of flour. The agents gave them shorts and middlings, while the government paid for flour.

WHITTIER is the name of a new first class ship built by John Currier, Jr., and owned chiefly by the Cushings of Newburyport. The poet who has done so much to enhance the fame of the Merrimac replied thus to to the request for permission to pay him this appropriate honor:

In the course of my life I have done something in the seafaring line as well as in Spanish castles, but unfortunately my ships rarely come to port. It is a satisfaction, therefore, to feel that I have now an interest in a stauncher craft, substantial as oaken ribs and copper bolts can make her. With renewed thanks to the owners and builders, for the complimentary use of my name, I am very truly thy friend, JOHN G. WHITTIER.

If the fine vessel weathers the storms of ocean, half as stoutly as the Quaker singer faced the tempest that roared around him and other opponents of slavery in former days, and ploughs the sea before favoring gales as gracefully as he has described the scenery and told the legends of her native river, she cannot fail of making prosperous voyages and finding welcome harbors; and however far she may sail, she will not cut sail his bravely earned fame, as the poet of justice and humanity as well as of purest beauty and truest sentiment.—Boston Transcript.

—A Southern writer, who has just had an interview with Mr. George D. Prentice, says he is not the man he was ten years ago. Indeed, his genius is gone, and his person is a mere wreck. His family is broken up—wife dead, one son killed on the Confederate side, another settled on a farm down the river—and the old man, verging on threescore and ten, cooks his breakfast and dinner in his little room on the third floor of the Courier building, and lives only in conversation about the past. This man once wielded an imperial power with his wit and his music. Now the world has whirled past him, and he lies on the shore a mere stranded wreck.

—Captain Owen Chase, who died in Nantucket on the 7th inst., aged about seventy-four years, was first mate of the ship Essex, which was capsized and sunk in the Pacific Ocean in 1820, in consequence of being stove by a whale. Captain C. with others took the boats, and his suffering then was the remote cause of his death. The whale, which was eighty-five feet long, at first struck the ship on the bow, causing her to reel and shake like a reed in the wind. He then went to windward, and soon came again furiously to the ship, striking her bow near the cathead, crushing plank and timber, and causing her to sink.

—Allison Smith, an old resident of Spencersport, New York, was almost instantly killed Sunday afternoon, while entering the Congregational church of that village at the head of a funeral procession. The trap door of the belfry of the church was taken from its fastenings by the wind and hurled upon his head with great violence, crushing his skull and rupturing an artery.

PARDONS.—It is stated by a Washington correspondent that the Attorney-General of the United States has considered the question of the revocation of pardons signed by Andrew Johnson, and that he decides that a pardon takes effect as soon as it is placed in the hands of a United States Marshal.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange as it may seem, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unconsonable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become morally unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unreasoning word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.
Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

The News.

Arkansas is free from martial law.

Arkansas bonds have risen to 90.

Owing to the great opposition to the erection of the Coliseum for the National Peace Festival on Boston Common, the executive committee having the matter in charge have decided to erect the building on St. James' Park—which is satisfactory to all.

In one of the appropriation bills of the last session, Congress included an item of $7000 for the repair and preservation of the property at Mount Vernon.

Mr. J. C. Bancroft Davis, of New York, has been appointed Assistant Secretary of State. He was secretary of legation under Minister Lawrence at England, and is the eldest son of the late John Davis of Massachusetts, governor and senator.

The cotton operatives in various parts of Scotland are on a strike, and several mills have suspended operations in consequence.

Gen. Almonte is dead. He was a Mexican.

Paraguay has cholera.

Pernambuco has suffered by a freshet.

The workingmen of New York city had a mass meeting on Tuesday.

The contested election case of Mr. Russell Thayer (republican) against Thomas Greenbank (democrat) for a judgeship in Philadelphia, has been decided in favor of Thayer, who will accordingly take the seat now occupied by Greenbank.

The Irish Church Disestablishment Bill passed the British House of Commons on Wednesday, by 118 majority—368 to 250.

Congress.

In the Senate on Tuesday, Senator Anthony of R. I. was unanimously elected President pro tem. in the absence of Mr. Colfax.

A bill to authorize the payment of interest on the public debt was passed.

The bill repealing the Tenure-of-office act was re-committed to the Judiciary Committee.

The committee on post-offices was instructed to inquire into the expediency of providing for the regular conveyance of the mails between Portland, Oregon, and Alaska.

The bill re-organizing the judicial system of the United States was passed.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. William Gage, an old resident of Lebanon, recently offered to give the town $1667.67 if the town would pay him 7 3-10 per cent. interest during his life. After his death the town was to have the principal as a permanent fund, and use the interest at its discretion.

The late William Carr, esq., of Newport, left Dartmouth College a thousand dollars to found a scholarship.

The friends of the Portland and Franklin Railroad met at upper Gilmanton on Saturday last. Large delegations from the different towns on the road were present. A committee was chosen to report as soon as possible the time and place for a meeting to permanently organize the company.—This road begins at Downing's Crossing on the Cocheco road and runs through the towns of Alton, New Durham, Barnstead, Gilmanton, Upper Gilmanton and Sanborton to Franklin, where it intersects with the Northern road, and is intended as a connecting link between the Portland & Rochester and Northern Railroads, thus making a great through line to the West.

Concord had a blocking snow storm on Tuesday.

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.—The Worcester Spy tells the following story, which clears a deceased man's character from suspicion, and is interesting on that account.

Last Saturday morning, as parties were searching the river at Blackstone in search of a missing person, supposed to be drowned, they came across the dead body of a man standing in an upright position, which on investigation proved to be Olney Saunders, who, it will be remembered, was thrown from a train of cars (of which he was a conductor, Nov. 30, 1868, by coming in contact with a bridge, since which nothing has been heard of him.

He was found about twelve rods from the Blackstone depot, the body being considerably decomposed. The supposition is that after being struck he was precipitated into the river, where, striking on his feet, he sunk in the mud and was unable to extricate himself, and probably being stunned by the collision with the bridge, perished in the water.

The fact that the body was not found at the time of the accident, and some other circumstances, led many to believe that Saunders was not drowned, but had purposely absented himself.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

HAMPTON FALLS, March 24.

There have several enterprising young men gone West from this place, and more are to follow from Hampton and Seabrook. This is a good move, and in the right place; the west needs just such young men. We wish them success. SUB.

[Remarks.—So do we wish them success, but we don't believe they will win so much as they could at home, with the same exertion. We never could see the attraction to lead Eastern born and reared men to the West. Let those not so fortunate as to be born and reared in New England, help to people and improve the mighty and glorious West; but let never a man leave the Granite State therefor. The West owes the East enough now, for her drain of her young men. No, no, better stay at home, boys. P.]

RECORD OF A STRONG COMPANY.—The National Life Insurance Company, which received its charter from the national Congress in July last, has already made its record in unmistakable characters. With its agencies as yet only in process of organization, it has, as we learn, issued insurance to an amount exceeding seven million dollars. This we think is a very marked success—it is so much needful work well done.

The Company does a strictly cash business, as being in its judgment the simplest and best for both the insurer and the insured, and it never complicates its affairs with either notes, loans, or dividends, and thus leaves no door open to misapprehension or disappointment in the future. While the principle of "so much insurance for so much money" is rigidly adhered to, and every policy has thus a fixed and determinate value, all accumulations that might otherwise be declared as dividends at some future time, are discounted in advance, and the exact pro rata is counted in with the amount of each policy when it is issued.

Managed by men of the highest financial ability and undoubted integrity, protected by a large paid-up cash capital, and possessing all the elements that have given success to other similar enterprises, we should expect this would become one of the most successful institutions of its kind.—Com.

Mr. Jerome C. Butler, Bell Tavern Block, is the Agent in this city.

CUBA.—The insurgents are massing their forces on the south side of the island.

The Peruvian monitors remain at Ragged Island. During their voyage one of the rams broke loose, ran into the steamer Havana and sunk her. Seven of the men of the Havana were drowned.

The Nassau Herald reports the capture of the American brig Mary Lowell at Ragged Island by the Spanish man-of-war Andalusia. The brig at the time of her capture was in possession of the British custom house office on a charge that she was carrying arms and supplies to the insurgents in Cuba.

Gov. Claflin of Massachusetts has tendered the vacant judgeship of the Mass. Supreme Bench to Congressman Dawes—in place of Judge Hoar.

A new Tenure-of-office bill has been drawn up, which pleases Senators and Gen. Grant. It will probably pass both Houses, and Congress may adjourn next week.

☞The Concord Monitor gives a list of five gentleman of that city whose total weight is 1416 pounds! Haven't we five heavy men in Portsmouth who can go ahead of that? The weight of the Concord heavies are 330, 280, 276, 265, 265.

We shall be pleased to register some of our Portsmouth solid men among the distinguished citizens of the State, if only they be weighed and not found wanting. None under 260 need think of entering the list.

GOOD.—Advices from Washington state that the House naval committee have put over to next winter the naval bill which passed the Senate last week. It involves the old and much-debated question of the relative position of the line and staff officers. Gen. Stevens of the Second (N. H.) District, who is on the committee, deserves the thanks of the country and the friends of the hardest working class in the Navy, for his opposition to the scheme which would tend to reduce the power of the staff officers and increase the puffed-up importance of the aristocrats, whose self-conceit leads them to think that a four years' academical course will bring out a set of full-fledged line officers who should command the rest of mankind, no matter how little they know about the useful learning that experience brings.

A MARE'S NEST.—The fertile and imaginative Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal furnishes that paper the following precious bit of information, which may certainly be pronounced "important if true:"—Monitor.

It came to light yesterday that a movement is on foot for the formation of a new political organization in New Hampshire, to include as many as possible of the Conservative members of the two existing parties. The matter is now in the hands of twenty prominent men, ten of them being Republicans and ten Democrats. Private meetings of those having the thing in charge have been held, but nothing can be obtained as to the prospects of the movements. It is said that the whole scheme will be made public in June next.

NAVAL.—The Secretary of the Navy has ordered Chief Engineer Elbridge Lawton to the Boston Navy Yard.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Without a Good Digestion

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable, would give half of his income to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has turned from the friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, insinuating that he has no faith in any "patent medicine." If this has been the case, so much the worse for him. His incredulity has condemned him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure.—His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which most men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. These are the classes that patronize and recommend HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Why do they approve this famous anti-dyspeptic and anti-malarious preparation? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Strike, but hear," said the Roman sage, when his ignorant enemies were assailing him. "Doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion, or biliousness, or intermittent fever, by the Bitters, as he relates his experience of the benefits to his invalid friends. Whoever is so wedded to his own foregone theoretical conclusions as to decline to test the properties of a medicine recommended by thousands of intelligent men as every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer. m25

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soothing the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

In 1862 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attendants deeming his case being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered $1000 reward for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have used it myself to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. I never fail. Use as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been proved to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment I am writing a note and supplies for one who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

Flower Alleson & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and contusion, and strengthening the part upon which it is applied. Peekskill, Oct. 5, 1868. E. D. FULLER.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the inquiry be made of any this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those inquiring to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say.

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE SAY, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND UNIFORMITY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change, from childhood to woman, looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weaknesses arising from excesses or other causes, indicated by the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Dyspepsia, Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more destroy to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Impose of Manner, no Quackery, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably remove—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Hospital Lunatic Asylum, this sad result occurred in two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and under twenty years of age.

Who can say that these dreadfull diseases are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the numerous victims to the last consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears, the patients being mentally sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice come in paroxysms, it is

Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer the invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is as much the delight of the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, or when the phlegm or mucus is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the acrid juice, so that all the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop the fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord, so no one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleurisy, adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and are ulcerating. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to grow in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the severest last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly cured have let their powerful testimonials in favor of Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed, and also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Friday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1m4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to ripen without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

GRAND VELOCIPEDE EXHIBITION.—Messrs. Betton & Stephenson have engaged Miss Ella Franklin, (said to be the finest ladyriderin the country,) Mr. — Franklin, and Dan. V. Kern, the celebrated bicyclist, (whose exhibitions of remarkable riding at Horticultural Hall in Boston have created such enthusiasm among the staid citizens of that innocent village,) to appear for two days and evenings, Tuesday and Wednesday, of next week, at the Temple.

The temporary floor is to be laid and opportunities will be furnished to any of the audiences who wish to indulge in the favorite pastime of the day to do so. As Portsmouth boasts of many swift riders there will be fun enough. Stephenson's new velocipedes, which are among the best now made, will be used.

☞ The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society gave their first Concert on Christmas Night, 1865; and have, we think, given thirteen or fourteen entertainments in all. With Esther once more on Fast Night, and perhaps a trip afterwards with her to Newburyport, they propose to close this their fourth season —in which the public seem to think they have added to their already good name, social and artistic.

During the existence of the Society, besides holding considerably more than an hundred rehearsals, they have twice chartered extra trains of cars to accommodate their Concerts in Dover, and once at Newburyport; held one picnic per steamer at Dover Point, and another by omnibus at Frost's Point, made a sleigh-ride visit to Exeter, and by quite a strong delegation, per cars, to Lawrence. What similar local Musical Association has done more?

☞ The wide awake correspondent of the Boston Journal telegraphs that paper that J. F. Jefferds, of South Boston, second postal clerk on the Eastern Railroad to Portland, has been promoted to Chief Clerk, vice W. W. Graves, reduced.

William Palmer of Salem, Mass., has also been promoted to be head clerk vice E. A. Phalon of Salem, removed.

William L. Philbrick, Superintendent of the City Farm, has been appointed by the County Commissioners Superintendent of the Rockingham County Farm at Brentwood, at a salary of $800 per annum. Portsmouth will therefore lose the services of a valuable officer—one of the best farmers in New Hampshire.

OLIVER D. ROWELL is the champion velocipedestrian of Portsmouth. The contest for the silver cup, Wednesday evening, resulted as follows: George Wallace 2.55, Wm. N. Hanscom 3.03, Dr. John S. Perry (former champion) 2.45, Oliver D. Rowell 2.35. The route was 22 times around the Rink of Messrs. Betton & Stephenson, a half mile, and Mr. Rowell has made the fastest time thus far. He is to hold the cup unless it shall be taken from him within thirty days, being obliged to race with all who challenge him during that time.

☞ As a correspondent stated a day or two since, there is a right of passage reserved over the Railroad tracks near the Sagamore Mill, but no Highway,—and the Railroads will oppose the granting of such to the utmost, no doubt, as it would be on a level with their five sets of track. A great improvement over that, or any present crossing, at the Creek or Vaughan Street, would be a bridge high over the Roads at Dover Street, if not too high to be feasible,

☞ A bigger load of Hay yet, (from Capt. Salter, not Col. Pierce as our reporter had it,) was drawn to this city from Greenland, and on wheels this time, Tuesday, by four cattle—6441 lbs. net, for Stoddard & Beacham, Good farms and good hay in Greenland.

ANOTHER RACE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.—Mr. Deering offers a Silver Goblet to the fastest rider at his rink, foot of State Street, on Friday evening.—The prize is now on exhibition at Mr. Melcher's jewelry store, Congress Street.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ It is suggested that the line officers at this Naval Station should wear crape for six months in consequence of the postponement in Congress of the bill to degrade the staff officers of the Navy.

THEFT.—Marshal Johnson arrested three boys, from 12 to 14 years of age, Wednesday evening, for breaking and entering the millinery store of the Misses Hatch, on Daniel Street.

HON. THOMAS L. TULLOCK.—The appointment of Mr. Tullock as Chief of the Appointment Division of the Treasury Department, will command universal approbation in one respect, at least, for it secures to that office the services of perhaps the very best man to whom its duties could have been intrusted.—If there is any dissent from the feeling of satisfaction in the appointment, it will be upon the ground that it is not as good as Mr. Tullock deserved. His labors for the success of the Republican cause during the late campaign were not surpassed by those of any one man in the country. Occupying the responsible position of Secretary of the Union Republican Congressional Committee, he was the working man of that body. Watching the progress of the cause in every doubtful section of the country, he was compelled to wade through a mass of correspondence that would have appalled most men.

His supervision extended not merely to States, but to counties and neighborhoods, and wherever a blow could be most effectively struck with the limited means placed at his command, he stood ready to strike, and never failed to do so. Entertaining an almost religious devotion to the principles of the Republican party, he threw all his energies into the work, performing it with the zeal of a devotee rather than the cold fidelity of an agent. The appointment he has received is by no means commensurate with the services he rendered to the cause, and we must assume that it was not made with a view of rewarding him therefor, but rather for the purpose of securing the benefit of his ability, integrity, and indomitable industry, in one of the most responsible, laborious and poorly-paid positions under the Government.—Wash. Chron.

ENGINEER SAWYER.—Sec. Borie's order, restoring Mr. Sawyer to his rightful position, states that the sentence "is revoked,—there being insufficient evidence on the record to sustain the finding of the Court." Rather an unpleasant Guest to entertain, this, for that copperhead Court, eh?

The Rochester, N. Y., Express states that Mr. Sawyer, when removed from his position here in October last, returned home to Albion, Orleans County, New York, and took an active part in the Presidential campaign by singing and speaking. Not long since he was married to a daughter of Mr. O. Boyce, of Albion, and has since become engaged with his father-in-law in the hardware business at that place. His restored pay to the amount of three or four hundred dollars a year, will be a pleasant plum to him, under the circumstances, and he is now about the best advertised man in the country.—The Express adds what we all know, that he is a young man of high character, the son of a very respectable family, and has the best regards of his townsmen. The tyranny of the "old man of the sea" has driven from the service a young man who was serving his country faithfully in an important department of duty, and given to him a new vocation, wherein we wish him great success.

NAVAL.—Comdr. Badger in addition to his present duties as Equipment Officer at the Navy Yard, is also to be Inspector of all material and supplies that may be delivered.

The Watchmen at the Yard we hear are to be uniformed as Navy Officers—whether staff or line we do not learn, nor who is to furnish the clothing.

Gunner A. F. Thompson has reported for duty at this Yard.

Gunner Thomas Robinson is ordered hence to Mare Island.

Writers and Clerks, at this Yard, it is reported, are ordered hereafter to make the same hours at the Yard as the workmen.

We are pleased to learn that A. M. Hoyt, Esq., is not yet included in the discharges from this Yard, and we hope he may not be.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE KEARSARGE BOYS.—The sailors who comprised the crew of the United States steamer Kearsarge at the time of the destruction of the rebel cruiser Alabama, are now entitled to "head" money, under an old law of Congress, which is payable on application to the proper department.—Further information can be obtained of Captain James R. Wheeler (a former officer of the Kearsarge) who is to be found at the barge office of the Boston Custom House. The recent attempt to obtain full prize money was not successful, but another effort will probably be made at the next session of Congress.

☞ The noon train from Boston, Tuesday, ran over a cow at Wenham; but without damage, except to the poor animal. A calf was killed for the same man a year ago—on account of poor fences. We should think he would soon take a hint, if no offence.

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Danl. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of double manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

THE OUTCASTS OF POKER FLAT.

BY FRANK BRET HARTE.

As John Oakhurst, gambler, stepped into the main street of Poker Flat on the morning of the twenty-third of November, 1850, he was conscious of a change in its moral atmosphere from the preceding night. Two or three men, conversing earnestly together, ceased as he approached, and exchanged significant glances. There was a Sabbath lull in the air, which, in a settlement unused to Sabbath influences, looked ominous.

Mr. Oakhurst's calm, handsome face betrayed small concern of these indications. Whether he was conscious of any predisposing cause was another question. "I reckon they're after somebody," he reflected; "likely it's me." He returned to his pocket the handkerchief with which he had been wiping away the red dust of Poker Flat from his neat boots, and quietly discharged his mind of any further conjecture.

In point of fact Poker Flat was "after somebody." It had lately suffered the loss of several thousand dollars, two valuable horses, and a prominent citizen. It was experiencing a spasm of virtuous reaction, quite as lawless and ungovernable as any of the acts that provoked it. A secret committee had determined to rid the town of all improper persons. This was done permanently in regard of two men who were then hanging from the boughs of a sycamore in the gulch, and temporarily in the banishment of certain other objectionable characters. I regret to say that some of these were women. It is but due to the sex, however, to say that their improprieties were professional, and it was only in such easily-established standards of evil that Poker Flat ventured to sit in judgment.

Mr. Oakhurst was right in supposing that he was included in this category. A few of the committee had urged hanging him as a possible example, and a sure method of reimbursing themselves from his pockets of the sums he had won from them. "It's agin justice," said Jim Wheeler, "to let this yer young man from Roaring Camp—an entire stranger—carry away our money." But a crude sentiment of equity residing in the breasts of those who had been fortunate enough to win from Mr. Oakhurst, overruled this narrower local prejudice.

Mr. Oakhurst received his sentence with philosophic calmness, none the less coolly that he was aware of the hesitation of his judges. He was too much of a gambler not to accept his fate. With him life at best was an uncertain game, and he recognized the usual percentage in favor of the dealer.

A body of armed men accompanied the departed wickedness of Poker Flat to the outskirts of the settlement. Besides Mr. Oakhurst, who was known to be a coolly desperate man, and for whose intimidation the armed escort was intended, the expatriated party consisted of a young woman, familiarly known as "The Duchess;" another who had gained the infelicitous title of "Mother Shipton;" and "Uncle Billy," a suspected sluice robber and confirmed drunkard. The cavalcade provoked no comments from the spectators, nor was any word uttered by the escort. Only when the gulch which marked the uttermost limit of Poker Flat was reached, the leader spoke briefly and to the point. The exiles were forbidden to return at the peril of their lives.

As the escort disappeared, their pent-up feelings found vent in a few hysterical tears from "The Duchess," some bad language from Mother Shipton, and a Parthian volley of expletives from Uncle Billy. The philosophic Oakhurst alone remained silent. He listened calmly to Mother Shipton's desire to cut somebody's heart out, to the repeated statements of the Duchess, that she would die in the road, and to the alarming oaths that seemed to be bumped out of Uncle Billy as he rode forward. With the easy good-humor characteristic of his class, he insisted upon exchanging his own riding horse, "Five Spot" for the sorry mule which the Duchess rode. But even this act did not draw the party into any closer sympathy. The young woman readjusted her somewhat draggled plumes, with a feeble, faded coquetry; Mother Shipton eyed the possessor of 'Five Spot' with malevolence, and Uncle Billy included the whole party in one sweeping anathema.

The road to Sandy Bar—a camp that not having as yet experienced the regenerating influences of Poker Flat, consequently seemed to offer some invitation to the emigrants—lay over a steep mountain range. It was distant a severe day's journey. In that advanced season, the party soon passed out of the moist, temperate regions of the foot-hills, into the dry, cold, bracing air of the Sierras. The trail was now narrow and difficult. At noon the Duchess, rolling out of her saddle upon the ground, declared her intention of going no further and the party halted.

The spot was singularly wild and impressive. A wooded amphitheatre, surrounded on three sides by precipitous cliffs of naked granite, sloped gently towards the crest of another precipice that over-looked the valley. It was undoubtedly the most suitable spot for a camp, had camping been advisable. But Mr. Oakhurst knew that scarcely half the journey to Sandy Bar was accomplished, and the party were not equipped or provisioned for delay. This fact he pointed out to his companions curtly, with a philosophic commentary on the folly of "throwing up their hand before the game was played out." But they were furnished with liquor, which in this emergency stood them in place of food, fuel, rest and prescience. In spite of his remonstrances it was not long before they were more or less under its influence. Uncle Billy passed rapidly from a bellicose state into one of stupor, the Duchess became maudlin, and Mother Shipton snored. Mr. Oakhurst alone remained erect, leaning on a rock, calmly surveying them.

TEN LITTLE INJUNS.

Ten little Injuns standing in a line;
One toddled home, and then there were nine.
Nine little Injuns swinging on a gate;
One tumbled off, and then there were eight.

Eight little Injuns never heard of heaven;
One kicked the bucket and then there were seven.
Seven little Injuns cutting up tricks;
One broke his neck, and then there were six.

Six little Injuns kicking, all alive;
One went to bed and then there were five,
Five little Injuns on a cellar door;
One tumbled in and then there were four.

Four little Indians out on a spree;
One got drunk, and then there were three.
Three little Injuns out in a canoe;
One tumbled overboard, and then there were two.

Two little Injuns foolin' with a gun;
One shot t'other, and then there was one.
One little Injun livin' all alone;
He got married, and then there were none.

SAVING LIQUID MANURE.—At a meeting of the Franklin Farmers' Club, it was stated that the solid matter in the urine of a cow for one year would weigh nine hundred pounds, and was richer in elements yielding ammonia, and equal in phosphates and other salts to the most valuable guano, pound for pound. In order to save this, farmers were under the necessity of using some material to absorb the liquid. What that material should be was an important question; and all must be governed more or less by surrounding circumstances. If sand is used, and is free from water, every cord will weigh seven tons; half sand half clay, free from water, will weigh six tons; pure clay, four and three-fourths tons; garden mould, rich in vegetable matter, four tons; peat or muck, two tons.

It should be borne in mind that these weights are after the material has been heated so as to drive off the water, and is free from moisture, when one cord of each will hold or take up, if fully saturated with water—pure sand, one and one-half tons; half sand, half clay or a strong loam, two tons; pure clay, two and one-fourth tons; peat or muck, three tons.

These statements are from a source believed to be reliable, and should be well studied by every farmer who would use them for preserving his manure.

It was the opinion of the Club that for ordinary cultivated soils, sand of itself, without considering its weight or power to absorb and retain liquid and gases, is the poorest material for composts; as it contains no matter that is of value in composts. Peat is the best; as it is composed almost wholly of matter that can be appropriated by the growing crop—and retains liquids and gases with good results.—New Hampshire Statesman.

A NOVEL MACHINE.—A highway locomotive steam engine built in Worcester, Mass., and designed to run over the common roads of California and furnish power for sawing lumber, etc., made an experimental trip guided by horses, and ran at a speed of about three miles an hour, and although not yet perfected gave evident demonstration of its practicability and utility.

—Great joy was manifested by the miners in the White Pine district over the birth of the first native of the region. They made up a purse of several thousand dollars in silver bars and gave it to the pioneer infant.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous other Government Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of the world's country—its Mines, Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they live; Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. NOTHING EQUAL TO IT. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to, or address, HARTFORD CO.,

TO THE WORKING CLASS:—I am now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at their homes, the whole of the time, or for the spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Fifty cents to $5 per evening is easily earned by persons of either sex, and the boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. Great inducements are offered those who will devote their whole time to the business; and, that every person who sees this notice may send me their address and test the business for themselves, I make the following unparalled offer: To all who are not well satisfied with the business, I will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing me. Full particulars, directions, &c., sent free. Sample sent by mail for 10 cts. Address E. ALLEN, Augusta, Me.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—The bit with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL, Manufacturers and Sole Owners of Colburn's Red Jacket Patent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, combining it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am satisfied with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, picking and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

The Chronicle.

MARRIAGE UNDER DIFFICULTIES.—We have already chronicled the marriage of Prince Louis de Bourbon, nephew of the ex-King of Naples, with Miss Amelia Isabel Hamel, a young Cuban, at New York. The lady is said to be a person of remarkable beauty and mental accomplishments. The history of their love and marriage is a romantic one, and is thus told by a New York paper:

Four years ago Miss Hamel appeared at the French Court in company with her mother, where her wealth and beauty attracted much attention. Prince Louis de Bourbon became the favorite suitor, and an engagement was entered into by the young couple. The father of the Prince opposed the betrothal because Miss Hamel was not of royal blood. After a lapse of two years the young man made an appeal to Napoleon to marry the young lady without his father's consent, which was not granted. The couple then went to London, accompanied by Mrs. Hamel, to be married, but the Count d'Aquilla followed and renewed his protest, saying also that the Countess d'Aquilla was dangerously ill, and that her death might be hastened by the marriage. Returning to Paris, the Countess was found in excellent health. They went to Cologne, but the Archbishop informed them that they could not be married in Prussia.—They then came to the United States, arriving about a week ago, and on reaching New York put up at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Father Lafout, of the Church of St. Vincent de Paul, was engaged to perform the marriage ceremony, on Saturday, at 6 P. M. At 2 o'clock, however, a message came that he could not officiate. It is supposed this refusal was caused by telegraphic instructions from the Pope. They then went before Justice Dodge and were married. It is said that if this marriage of the Prince is not fully recognized by his family in Europe, then he proposes to become a citizen of the United States.

Common sense and human nature, in this case, have triumphed over royal nonsense and stupid European traditions.

Rural Items.

Mangers should be low and stables well ventilated and well lighted. Many horses are made blind or skittish by being kept in the dark.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman gives the following definition of the art of good farming: To grow as much unexhausting produce as is possible, and to manufacture all such product into manure for the increasing of the fertility of the soil.

A Kentuckian writes to the Northwestern Farmer that, of a lot of telegraph poles he put up in Kentucky, the chestnut rotted first, the cedar gave way next, the locust stood five years longer, and were still nearly sound.

The Utica Herald gives three rules for renovating old pastures: 1. In winter, lime them in the wet places. 2. In summer, mow them where bushy. 3. Keep sheep on them, and feed the sheep with beans and oil-cake.

Farmers are often troubled by wasps. They can readily destroy them by the following method: Saturate a piece of lint with a strong solution of cyanide of potassium, and place at the outlet of the hole leading to the nest. The inhalation of the cyanide destroys the insects very rapidly, and a nest full is thus quickly put out of the way.

—At his reinauguration as President, in Philadelphia, March 4, 1793, Washington was dressed in a full suit of the richest black velvet, his lower limbs in short clothes, with diamond knee-buckles and black silk stockings. His shoes, which were brightly japanned, were surmounted with large, square silver buckles. In his hand he carried a plain cocked hat, decorated with the American cockade. His hair, powdered, was gathered into a black silk bag, on which was a bow of black ribbon. He wore a light dress sword, with green shagreen scabbard, and a richly ornamented hilt.

—Among the members of the British Parliament who have been unseated on account of bribery in the elections is Alexander W. Kingsdale, the historian of the Crimean war. The judges exonerated Mr. Kingslake personally, but it seems that his friends were so anxious to have him enjoy the honor of a Parliamentary seat that they used unquestionable means for influencing votes.

—The Riverside Echo, published at Portland, tells the following story of a dog: "The children were in the habit of sliding down a hill near the house, accompanied by a favorite dog. Early one morning they discovered that the dog had taken the sled, drawn it to the top, and was now sliding down hill all alone by himself; and this was frequently repeated."

—The National Baptist, under the heading "A Bad Baptist," gives an account of the political life of Senator Doolittle. The Baptist is mistaken. Mr. Doolittle left the Baptist Church three years ago, because his pastor preached politics, and connected himself with an Episcopal church.—Ex.

The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect seems little excusable, to say the least, for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stonically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a dangerous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the crowning blow were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What we left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

A reconstruction of the towns of Sanbornton and Northfield is in contemplation. It is proposed to take the southern third of Sanbornton and the northern two-thirds of Northfield and form a new town, having Sanbornton Bridge for its centre. Should this be carried into effect, the remaining two-thirds of Sanbornton will retain its present name; and the remaining one-third of Northfield will be annexed to Gilmanton and Canterbury.

Congress.

In the Senate on Wednesday, Mr. Trumbull of Ill., from the committee on the Judiciary, reported the bill to repeal the tenure-of-office act, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute as follows:—

SECTION 1. Strike out all after the enactment clause and insert the following:—The first and second sections of an act entitled, "An Act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices," passed March 2, 1868, be and the same are hereby repealed, and in lieu of said repealed sections the following are hereby enacted:—That every person holding any civil office to which he has been or may hereafter be appointed, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall have become duly qualified to act therein, shall be entitled to hold such office during the term for which he shall have been appointed, unless sooner removed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, or by the appointment, with the like advice and consent, of a successor in his place, except as herein otherwise provided.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That during any recess of the Senate the President is hereby empowered in his discretion to suspend any civil officer appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, except judges of the United States courts, until the end of the next session of the Senate, and to designate some suitable person, subject to be removed in his discretion, by the appointment of another, to perform the duties of such suspended officer in the meantime; and such person so designated shall take the oaths and give the bonds required by law to be taken and given by the suspended officer, and shall, during the time he performs the duties he entitled to the salary and emoluments of such officer, no part of which shall belong to the officer suspended. And it shall be the duty of the President within thirty days after the commencement of each session of the Senate, — except for any office which in his opinion ought not to be filled, to nominate persons to fill all vacancies in offices which existed at the meeting of the Senate, whether temporarily filled or not, and also in the place of all officers suspended. And if the Senate during such session shall refuse to advise and consent to an appointment in the place of any suspended officer, and shall also refuse by vote to assent to his suspension, then, and not otherwise, such officer at the end of the session, shall be entitled to resume the duties of the office from which he was suspended, and afterwards to discharge its duties add receive its emoluments as though no such suspension had taken place.

The report of the committee was then adopted as a substitute for the pending bill by the following vote:—

Yeas — Messrs. Abbott, Anthony, Boreman, Brownlow, Buckingham, Carpenter, Cattell, Chandler, Conkling, Cragin, Drake, Edmunds, Ferry, Gilbert, Hamlin, Harlan, Harris, Howard, Kellogg, Morrill, Osborn, Patterson, Pratt, Ramsey, Rice, Sawyer, Schurz, Scott, Spencer, Stewart, Sumner, Tipton, Trumbull, Willey, Williams, Wilson and Yates—27.

Nays — Messrs. Bayard, Casserly, Davis, Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, McCreery, McDonald, Morton, Ross, Sprague, Stockton, Thurman, Vickers and Warner—15.

The bill then passed without division.

In the House Mr. Garfield of Ohio, from the the select committee on the census, reported the bill for taking the ninth and subsequent censuses. The bill establishes a census bureau in the department of the interior, the head of which is to be appointed by the President. An assistant superintendent is to be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior for each congressional district of teritory. The district superintendents are to employ all the subordinates they need for taking the census, which is to be taken the first of April, 1870. The whole work is to be done in two months and the final publication made and the bureau closed by the 1st of May, 1872. The Secretary of the Interior, the Attorney-General and Census Commissioner are to prepare and perfect schedules and tables to lay before Congress on the first Monday of December next. When the census is taken, the population of each State is to be divided by 150,000 and the quotient will give the number of representatives to which the State is entitled in Congress. This is expected to give 270 members in the House. The basis of representation hereafter is to be fixed at one member for 170,000 population.

The House committee on appropriations is making up its deficiency bill and will bring it in early next week.

Gen. Banks introduced a resolution in the House on Thursday from the Committee on Foreign Relations, which was recommitted at his request, declaring sympathy with the revolutionists who are seeking to obtain independence in Cuba, and pledging the support of Congress to the President when he shall recognize the struggling Cubans as belligerents.

The President sent to the Senate on Thursday the following nominations:

Edward L. Plumb, to be Consul General to Havana.

Reader W. Clarke, to be Third Auditor of the Treasury.

Alonzo B. Cornell to be Surveyor of Customs at the port of New York.

E. A. Merritt to be Naval Officer at New York.

F. A. Babson to be Collector of Customs at Gloucester, Mass.

E. A. Palfrey to be Collector of Customs at Salem, Mass.

☞ Salt Lake contains 38,000 Mormons and 8000 Gentiles.

☞ Only fourteen members of Napoleon's grand army are now living.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Without a Good Digestion

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable, would give half of his fortune to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has turned from his friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, intimating that he has no faith in any "patent medicine." It this has been the case, so much the worse for him. His incredulity dooms him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure.—His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. These are the class that patronize and recommend HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Why do they approve of this famous anti-dyspeptic and anti-bilious preparation? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Strike, but hear," said the Roman sage, when his ignorant enemies were assailing him. "Doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion, or biliousness, or intermittent fever, by the Bitters, as he relates his experience of the medicine to his invalid friends. Whoever is so wedded to his own foregone theoretical conclusions as to decline to test the properties of a medicine endorsed by the testimony of intelligent men in every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer. m26

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe free and deeply." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

1802. 1847. 1868.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His son, Tobias, Physician to George IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered $100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramp, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, I speak

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Council, Thursday Eve. March 25.

In the Aldermen, the City Clerk being absent on account of sickness, Charles A. Shannon Esq., was chosen Clerk pro tem, and qualified by Ald. Slater administering the oath, as Justice of the Peace.

Mr. John L. Bowles, 73 years of age, stated in a communication, that he was knocked down by boys coasting at the corner of Pleasant and Water Streets some time since, and by the consequent injuries had been confined to his house and unable to work for eight weeks—for which damage he asks $150. Referred to Com. on Claims.

Wm. Claggett, Esq., on petition for payment of his bill, several times before presented, relative to Myrtle Road last year,—was given leave to withdraw. Likewise on a communication relative to the need of further clearing out the Spring at Spring Hill.

The City Marshal was directed to strictly enforce Sec. 9 of Ordinance No. 10,—which section, applied to Velocipedes, forbids their running on the city sidewalks.

An Amendment to Ordinance No. 114, reducing the number of men on Steam Fire Engine No. 1 from 50 to 24 men, and allowing them a pair of horses to draw the machine, at $100 a year, was after much discussion, adopted under suspension of the rules, by 6 to 2, a strict party vote—and sent down for concurrence. [In Common Council, referred to Com. on Bills on 2d Reading.]

A new Ordinance No. 135, fixing the pay of Selectmen of Wards at $10 each, and Moderators at 5 each, per year, was referred to Com. on Bills on 2d Reading.

Another Ordinance No. 136, fixing our City Election on the 2d Tuesday of March, and the official Municipal year from the 4th Tuesday, was referred to same Com.

A Resolution that the Mayor, Ald. Nowell and Miller, and Councilmen Marvin and Freeman, be a Com. to report on the expediency of selling the City Farm or a porlion of it—was laid on the table.

A joint Resolution inquiring inio the expediency of a reorganization of the Fire Department, was passed by a yea and nay vote, 6 to 2; [and in Com. Council concurred in.]

Ald. Cotton moved a resolution that State St. Schoolhouse, to be changed to a Ward Room, be done by contract. Neratived; 6 to 2.

C. C. Cushman again had leave to withdraw and amend his bill for Fire Extinguishers.

The joint resolution from the Com. Council last week, that the Joint Com. on City Lands and Buildings be authorized to proceed at once with the repairs and alterations of the Lock-up,—was concurred in.

The Finance Com. were requested to ascertain and report the expense of wieening Fleet St. 6 feet or 20 feet. It is now 20 feet only, North of Congress.

Join Resolations were recieued from the Common Council, as passed in that Board, thanking Mr. Elwyn for his gift of land for a Mall or Common, and approving the appropriation of $3000 towards building a Road around the South Pond to said Park, when the Trustees of same shall have raised $3000 for same purpose by private subscription. [So here is a chance, all ye rich Sons of Portsmouth, at home or abroad, to do something worth while for the old city.]

For the Chronicle.

NEW ROADS, &c.—Messrs. Editors: The owners of the land north of the Railroads, near the Factories, are perfectly satisfied with their right of way across the tracks. They ask nothing of the Roads, as they have, hold and use the right of way for all purposes, either walking, driving or teaming, and want nothing more; these rights were never parted with, consequently there can be no dispute about it. The two Roads, as by their obligations, have always at their own expense kept the Teaming way in good order, by planking and gravelling the roads at the crossings; and so long as they continue to fulfil their obligations, there can be no dispute. The only difficulty is, the increase of travel that way, as a natural consequence.—And let us have the new Bridges over the North and South Millponds, and Newcastle and Portsmouth Toll-bridges made free. When this is done, the taxable property in Portsmouth will be immediately increased more than five times the cost of outlay. We had better try and do something in a business way, or sell out to Newcastle. TAX PAYER.

☞ Mr. Chas. W. Rand of Rye had his right hand sawed off by a circular saw a few days since.

GOOD FRIDAY, this day, March 26.

NAVAL.—Nathaniel J. Herrick, Clerk in the Construction Department, was discharged as Store Clerk at the Navy Yard on Thursday. Capt. Charles H. Chase of this city takes his place.

OVER THEY GO.—Fourteen months ago Andrew Johnson and Grandma Welles, finding that there were several hungry copperhead mouths to feed, peremptorily began discharging Republican clerks at the Portsmouth Navy Yard to make room for their pets. Capt. Chas. H. Chase was the first one removed and N. J. Herrick of Alfred Me. was put in his place. Under the new regime at Washington, these removals have been examined into and now Mr. Herrick gives place to Capt. Chase, who, being the first to be discharged, is the first to be re-employed.

This is eminently proper and while we congratulate the Captain on his reinstatement, we also congratulate loyal men on the speedy riddance to be given to the rest of the hangers-on of the contemptible Johnson-Welles dynasty. Justice comes apace and the day of retribution is at hand, when copperheads high and low must give way to loyal men. G.

☞ The Portsmouth Aqueduct Company announce by circular to their customers, an increase of Water Rates, on account of the large cost of their new mains into the city,—by which the supply of water has been ample of late, so far as we know. Payments will also in future be required at the Company's office, and will be assessed in July and January, with 10 per cent additional for non-payment within the current 6 mos. No Company furnishes purer water than this; nor any cheaper, that we know of.

☞ Rev. Mr. DeNormandie of this city, has been on a short trip South, as far as Raleigh, N. C. The Sabbath previous he supplied the pulpit of Rev. Mr. Frothingham at Buffalo; but that gentleman could not get here through the snow blockade, and Rev. C. C. Shackford preached. Rev. Dr. Hill officiated here last Sunday. Rev. Mr. DeNormandie returned home on Tuesday.

☞ Tickets for Esther on Fast Night may now be had at the Stores. The occasion is a complimentary benefit for the Philharmonic Society, and the free list will of course be entirely suspended and the house no doubt filled to the full. The late audiences were the most select and appreciative that can be gathered in the city, and were large—but the expenses still larger.

THE VELOCIPEDE RACE at Deering's Rink on State Street for a Silver Goblet, takes place this (Friday) evening, and there is considerable emulation among the circumrotators, all of whom view the prize with longing eyes. A large audience of ladies and gentlemen will be in attendance.

☞ Various old maxims will come to mind on reading our Police Court Report for Thursday. Those concerning the pot and kettle, the beggar and louse, sauce for goose and sauce for gander, going for wool and getting shorn, when rogues fall out, &c., are among them.

POLICE COURT, Thursday, March 25. Jos. B. Flagg, arrested on the charge of embezzling money collected on account of the Stars and Bars newspaper, recognized in the sum of $500 for his appearance on Tuesday, March 30th, the case being continued till that time.

☞ Wouldn't it be a good plan to keep Portsmouth time ahead rather than behind railroad time? We ask the question only because the change might be very convenient for travellers and people who get letters into the Post Office a few minutes too late!

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Geo. L. Treadwell advertises his intention of retiring from the Hardware business in this city. A good opportunity for somebody to engage in it.

☞ Rev. W. W. Dow, formerly of this city, has removed to Waterford, Me., where he is to take charge of the Congregational Church.

☞ An important meeting of the Thespian Dramatic Association will be held this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—Rehearsal at Mr. TILTON'S Music Room, No. 5½ Daniel Street, on TUESDAY Evening, March 30th, promptly at half-past 7.

For the Chronicle.

Good Friday.

Whence is the tumult and the shout
That rends the sky to-day?
Why throng the Roman soldiers out
About the public way?
To-day within Jerusalem,
In purple mockery seen,—
A crown of thorns his diadem,—
Behold the Nazarene!

O, little thought those Jewish men,
That him they crowned in scorn,
And robed in royal mockery then,
Was a King Divinely born.
He bears unmoved the Roman jeer,
The Pharisees' ill will—
For man he came to suffer here,
And do his Father's will.

He climbed up Calvary's steep,
Fenced round with lance and spear,
With bloody spear and whip,—
There was no mercy there.
Upon his shoulders weighed
The Roman cross of guilt,
Whereon he might be crucified
And his own blood for us spilt.

O Jesus, undismayed
Wore ye the martyr crown,
'Twas not the cross upon thee laid,
But our sins, that bore thee down.
O ignominious cross,
Heart-lifting victory,
'Tis our gain by thy loss—
Symbol of faith in thee.

Jesus, aloft and dying,
With thy side pierced through,
For thy cruel enemies praying,
"They know not what they do;"
O mercy, grandly rising,
Conquering agony,
With thy parched lips forgiving
The hand that smote thee through.

O promise of God fulfilled,
And by the prophets spoken,
Alas, thy people self-willed
Needed some fearful token;
Heard they his voice uprising,
Up to his Father's throne;
The earth at his last works quaking,
And darkened the midday sun.

is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

THE OUTCASTS OF POKER FLAT.

BY FRANK BRET HARTE.

Continued.

Mr. Oakhurst did not drink. It interfered with a profession which required mind, and, in his own language, he "couldn't afford it." As he gazed on his fellow exiles, the loneliness begotten of his pariah-trade, his habits of life, his very vices, for the first time, seriously oppressed him. He bestirred himself in dusting his black clothes, washing his hands and face, and other acts characteristic of his studiously neat habits, and for a moment forgot his annoyance. The thought of deserting his weaker and more pitiable companions never perhaps occurred to him. Yet he could not help feeling the want of that excitement which, singularly enough, was most conducive to that calm equanimity for which he was notorious. He looked at the gloomy walls that rose a thousand feet sheer above the circling pines around him; at the sky, ominously clouded; at the valley below, already deepening into shadow. And doing so, suddenly he heard his own name called.

A horseman slowly ascended the trail. In the fresh open face of the new-comer, Mr. Oakhurst recognized Tom Simpson, otherwise known as "The Innocent" of Sandy Bar. He had met him some months before, over a "little game," and had, with perfect equanimity, won the entire fortune—amounting to some forty dollars—of that guileless youth. After the game was finished, Mr. Oakhurst drew the youthful speculator behind the door and thus addressed him: "Tommy, you're a good little man, but you can't gamble worth a cent. Don't try it ever again." He then handed him his money back, pushed him gently out of the room, and so made a devoted slave of Tom Simpson.

There is a remembrance of this in his boyish and enthusiastic greeting of Mr. Oakhurst. He had started to go to Poker Flat, he said, to seek his fortune.

Alone? No, not exactly alone; in fact,—a giggle—he had run away with Piney Woods! Didn't Mr. Oakhurst remember Piney? she that used to wait on the table at the Temperance House? They had been engaged for a long time, but old Jake Woods objected, and so they had run away, and were going to Poker Flat to be married, and here they were. And they were tired out, and how lucky it was they had found a place to camp and company. All this "The Innocent" delivered rapidly while Piney—a stout, comely damsel of fifteen—emerged from behind the pine tree, where she had been blushing unseen, and rode to the side of her lover.

Mr. Oakhurst seldom troubled himself with sentiment. Still less with propriety. But he had a vague idea that the situation was not felicitous. He retained, however, his presence of mind sufficiently to kick Uncle Billy, who was about to say something, and Uncle Billy was sober enough to recognize in Mr. Oakhurst's kick, a superior power that would not bear trifling. He then endeavored to dissuade Tom Simpson from delaying further, but in vain. He even pointed out the fact that there were no provisions, nor means of making a camp. But, unluckily, 'The Innocent, met this objection by assuring the party that he was provided with an extra mule loaded with provisions, and by the discovery of a rude log house near the trail. 'Piney can stay with Mrs. Oakhurst,' said 'The Innocent,' pointing to the to the Duchess, 'and I can shift for myself.'

Nothing but Mr. Oakhurst's admonishing foot saved Uncle Billy from bursting into a roar of laughter. As it was, he felt compelled to retire upon the canon until he could recover his gravity. There he confided the joke to the tall pine trees, with many slaps of his leg, contortions of his face, and the usual profanity. But when he returned to the party, he found them seated by a fire—for the air had grown strangely chill and the sky overcast—in apparently amicable conversation. Piney was actually talking in an impulsive, girlish fashion to the Duchess, who was listening with an interest and animation she had not shown for many days. 'The Innocent' was holding forth, apparently with equal effect, to Mr. Oakhurst and Mother Shipton, who was actually relaxing into amiability. "Is this a picnic?" said Uncle Billy, with inward oaths, as he surveyed the Sylvan group, the glancing fire-light, and the tethered animals in the foreground. Suddenly an idea mingled with the alcoholic fumes that disturbed his brain. It was apparently of a jocular nature, for he felt impelled to slap his leg again and cram his fist into his mouth.

As the shadows crept slowly up the mountain, a slight breeze rocked the tops of the pine trees, and moaned through their long and gloomy aisles. The ruined cabin, patched and covered with pine boughs, was set apart for the ladies. As the lovers parted, they unaffectedly exchanged a parting kiss, so honest and sincere that it might have been heard above the swaying pines. The frail Duchess and the malevolent Mother Shipton were probably too stunned to remark upon the last evidence of simplicity, and so turned without a word to the hut. The fire was replenished, the men lay down before the door, and in a few moments were asleep.

Mr. Oakhurst was a light sleeper. Towards morning he awoke benumbed and cold. As he stirred the dying fire, the wind which was now blowing strongly, brought to his cheek that which caused the blood to leave it—snow.

He started to his feet with the intention of awakening the sleepers, for there was no time to lose. But turning to where Uncle Billy had been lying, he found him gone. A suspicion leaped across his brain and a curse to his lips. He ran to the spot where the mules had been tethered; they were no longer there. The tracks were already rapidly disappearing in the snow.

The momentary excitement brought Mr. Oakhurst back to the fire with his usual calm. He did not awaken the sleepers. 'The Innocent' slumbered peacefully, with a smile on his good-humored, freckled face; the virgin Piney slept beside her frailer sisters as sweetly as though attended by celestial guardians, and Mr. Oakhurst, drawing his blanket over his shoulders, stroked his moustachios, and waited for the dawn. It came slowly in a whirling mist of snow flakes, that dazzled and confused the eye. What could be seen of the landscape appeared magically changed. He looked over the valley, and summed up the present and future in two words—'snowed in!'

A careful inventory of the provisions, which, fortunately for the party, had been stored within the hut, and so escaped the felonious fingers of Uncle Billy, disclosed the fact that with care and prudence, they might last ten days longer. 'That is,' said Mr. Oakhurst, sotto voce to 'The Innocent,' 'if you're willing to board us. If you ain't—and perhaps you had better not—we can wait until Uncle Billy gets back with provisions.' For some occult reason, Mr. Oakhurst could not bring himself to disclose Uncle Billy's rascality, and so offered the hypothesis that he had wandered from the camp, and had accidently stampeded the animals. He dropped a warning to the Duchess and Mother Shipton, who of course, knew the facts of their associate's defection. 'They'll find out the truth about us all, when they find out anything,' he added, significantly, 'and there's no good in frightning them now.'

Tom Simpson not only put all his worldly store at the disposal of Mr. Oakhurst, but seemed to enjoy the prospect of their enforced seclusion. We'll have a good camp for a week, and then the snow will melt, and we'll go back together. The gayety of the young man, and Mr. Oakhurst's calm and infected the others. 'The Innocent,' with the aid of pine boughs, extemporized a thatch for the roofless cabin, and the Dutchess directed Piney in the arrangement of the interior, with a taste and tact that opened the blue eyes of the mother maiden to their fullest extent. 'I reckon now you're used to fine things at Poker Flat,' said Piney. The Duchess turned away sharply to conceal something that reddened her cheeks through its professional tint, and Mother Shipton requested Piney not to chatter. But when Mr. Oakhurst returned from a weary search for the trail, he heard the sound of happy laughter echoed from the rocks. He stopped in some alarm, and his thoughts first naturally reverted to the whiskey—which he had prudently cached. 'And yet it don't somehow sound like whiskey,' said the gambler. It was not until he caught sight of the blazing fire through the still binding storm, and the group around it, that he settled to the conviction that it was 'square fun.'

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our own patent process, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal wholesale house.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

THE SNOW-FALL.

The snow had been in the gloaming,
And busily all the night,
Had been heaping field and highway
With a silence deep and white.

Every pine and fir and hemlock
Wore ermine too dear for an earl,
And the poorest twig on the elm-tree
Was ridged inch deep with pearl.

From sheds new-roofed with Carrara,
Came Chanticleer's muffled crow,
The stiff rails were softened to swan's down,
And still fluttered down the snow.

I stood and watched by the window
The noiseless work of the sky,
And the sudden flurries of snow-birds,
Like brown leaves whirling by.

I thought of a mound in sweet Auburn,
Where a little headstone stood;
How the flakes were folding it gently,
As did robins the babes in the woods.

Up spake our own little Mabel,
Saying, "Father, who makes it snow?"
And I told of the good All-father
Who cares for us here below.

Again I looked at the snow-fall,
And thought of the leaden sky
That arched o'er our first great sorrow,
When that mound was heaped so high.

I remember the gradual patience
That fell from that cloud like snow,
Flake by flake, healing and hiding
The scar of our deep plunged woe.

And again to the child I whispered
"The snow that husheth all,
Darling, the merciful Father
Alone can make it fall!"

Then, with eyes that saw not, I kissed her;
And she, kissing back, could not know
That my kiss was given to her sister,
Folded close under deepening snow.

SPELLING.—The Proof Readers' Society of Paris have addressed a communication to the Perpetual Secretary of the French Academy, M. Villemain, imploring the Academy to enter upon measures to harmonize and simplify French spelling. They are particularly anxious to have such words as assonnance and consonnance, dissonance and resonnance, reduced uniformly to two n's or one; to have some rememberable rule settle it why such words as fève should take the grave accent, and such as seve take the acute; why sanglier should be written with one, and ballotter with two l's; and why such words as souffler should need a double f, and such words as boursouffler be content with a single one. They estimate that, at a moderate computation, the cost of the correction of proofs amounts to $12,000 in gold annually to the printers of Paris—a tax utterly without profit of any kind to author, publisher, printer or type-setter. And they would like to have the Academy fix all this.—Things may not be quite so bad in this country, but every person at all acquainted with practical printing knows that a great deal of money is continually wasted here in the same way. If Dr. Webster's efforts at simplifying and unifying the spelling of our tongue could meet with universal adoption, one long step would be taken in this needed reform. Congregationalist.

Let no man dream, (says Uncle Toby,) of the "universal adoption" of any thing in the literary line, especially in this country. The Standard of Literature, must not and cannot be a fixed, immovable thing, like a stone post, or a ledge of rocks, but a progressive, movable, and moving thing, like the Standard of a regiment, or an army. A living language must grow, and of course it will gather something from its neighbors. A dead language might have a fixed standard, as it cannot grow; but if it could grow, it would change.

Dr. Webster, in his Spelling Books and Dictionary, did some great things; and his books have undoubtedly done some good things;—but unifying the English language is not one of them; and if our memory of spelling, proof-reading and correcting, does not deceive us, there is rather more looseness in American-English orthography now, than there was fifty or sixty years ago.

We have a copy of Webster's Dictionary, first edition, printed in 1806; in which he very ingeniously unsettled the then existing modes of spelling, and added one more mode.—This has been gradually adopted by many, tho' not by all the learned: and as the ignorant also have a voice in such matters, the mode was not settled again in his day; and it is not very likely to be in ours.

A few days since one Thurston Smith of Albany, eloped with the wife of one Jeremiah Harriman, of same place.—They proceeded as far as Fryeburg, Me., where they put up for the night. At a late hour the same night, they were roused by Hiram Mason, brother to the woman. The latter endeavored to make her escape by going down a certain street in Fryeburg, but was overtaken by her brother and compelled to return to her home in Albany.—Wolfeborough News.

The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stoically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as they did before, generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were harshest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. This was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It seems to be worthy to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1869.

The News.

Major-Gen. Kilpatrick and Governor Harriman, are to stump Connecticut for the Republicans.

Pennsylvania has ratified the 15th Constitutional Amendment.

The Hudson Bay Company have been advised by Sir Stafford Northcote, the Secretary for India under Mr. Disraeli, to accept £300,000 for their territory on this continent.

On Thursday two young women were killed on the Fitchburg Railroad, near Groton Junction, Mass., three laborers were killed by an earth-fall on the new railroad between Framingham and Mansfield, and a young lady at North Andover was shot and badly wounded by her lover, who afterwards shot himself dead.

A large meeting of sympathizers with the Cuban revolutionists was held in Steinway Hall, New York city, Thursday evening. Speeches were made by Mayor Hall and Rev. Henry Ward Beecher and others.

Andrew Johnson's disease is said to be paralysis of the right side.

Pierre Soule is said to be insane.

The official vote of the late State election in Illinois is at length announced. The vote for John M. Palmer was 249,912; for John R. Eden, 199,813; majority for Palmer, 50,099. Grant's majority in the Presidential vote was 51,152.

Congress.

In the Senate on Thursday Mr. Patterson of N. H. introduced a bill to provide for retrenchment and greater efficiency in the diplomatic and consular system of the United States. Referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

In the House the Speaker announced Mr. Jenckes of R. I. and Mr. Benton of N. H., additional members of the committee on retrenchment.

The amended Tenure-of-office bill from the Senate was referred to the Judiciary Committee after a spirited debate, by a vote of 95 to 79.

SPAIN.—The new constitution which was laid before the Cortes on Wednesday provides that the government shall be monarchical in form, with a Senate and Congress. The senatorial term is limited to twelve years. Senators to be elected by provisional councils — four for each province. Deputies to the Congress are to be elected every three years by universal suffrage. The reign of the king is limited to a term of eighteen years. The majority of the Committee which reported the constitution are favorable to the separation of Church and State. The minority propose that the Roman Catholic be retained as the religion of the State, with toleration for other creeds. The liberty of the press and the right of public meetings are fully guaranteed by the new constitution.

The Cortes has passed the conscription law, which provides that no more men shall be raised by means of the conscription than are actually required by the government to fill up the ranks of the army to their standard strength.

Miramon, who was at the head of a band of Carlists near Almeria, has been captured.

ALASKA.—Immense discoveries of gold placers are reported on the main land, one hundred and twenty miles from Kodiak Island, in latitude 61 north and longitude 100 west, from Greenwich. Three discoveries have been made. The first on the Kuyack River and Chigmet Mountain; the second about sixty miles above Sitka; the third on an island, the name of which is unknown. The mines on account of the climate can only be worked five months in the year.

CUBA.—Several prominent Spanish officials, among them the governors of Trinidad and Villa Clara, have been charged with treachery, and an entire batallion of Spanish troops is said to have gone over to the insurgents. It is suspected that several vessels, now on the Florida coast, are preparing to run the blockade, and the Spanish cruisers are on the lookout for them. Nassau is full of Cubans and trouble between them and the Spaniards is somewhat feared.

POLICE COURT, Odell, J., Friday, Mch. 26.—The three youngsters charged with breaking into the store of Mr. Tilton on Daniel Street, last Wednesday evening, were held in the sum of $400 each, and were liberated on furnishing bail.

☞ The Robins were numerous and musical, in the outskirts of the city, on Good Friday, the 26th.

THE CHINESE NORTHERN YAM. A native of the Northern limits of the Temperate zone.—Wm. R. Prince, Nurseries, Flushing, New York, has just published in pamphlet form, a complete history of this great Chinese esculent, which furnishes the most nutritious food for over 350 millions of people who never eat meat. There are more than fifty varieties, comprising every form—round ovate, oval, oblong and very long; and they are different colors—snow white, pale straw, yellow and pink tinge. It yields continual annual crops, without re-planting. He thinks it is destined to entirely supersede the Potato in our Northern, Eastern and Western States, and in all other Northern countries of the earth. The following constitutes its principal claims to universal adoption:—

1st. Its great hardihood, and the capacity of withstanding the cold of the severest winters, in the open ground.

2d. Its facility and simplicity of culture, its adaption to all soils, and especially to such as have hitherto been deemed barren and valueless.

3d. Its productiveness and cheapness, which far exceed the Potato, the crop being 600 to 800 bushels to the acre.

4th. Its nutritions and farinacious qualities, comprising all the essential constituents of an esculent of the highest alimentary character. Its combination of nitrogen, which gives to it a most distinctive character, equivalent to meat and wheat combined, and thus rendering the use of meat, as food, entirely unnecessary.

5th. Its unexceptional excellence of flavor, and freedom from all insipid taste.

6th. Its long keeping and freedom from all rot or decay, in the ground or out of it, and its retention of its excellence for more than a year.

7th. It is a purifying and highly nutritious constitutional food capable of developing the muscular power of man to its fullest capacity.

8th. The root being perfectly hardy, the crop, when so desired, may be allowed to remain during the entire Winter, in the open ground.

The price of the Pamphlet, History of the Yam, is 15 cents.

The Governor has appointed Joseph H. Hobbs of Madison, solicitor of Carroll County, and Grove S. Stevens, of Haverhill, sheriff of Grafton County.

Daniel Lord, late of Dunkirk, N. Y., and formerly of Ossipee, this State, where his father still lives, was among those lost on the Steamer United States. Mr. L.'s body was found at Veazie, Ind., about thirteen miles below Warsaw. It was identified by papers on his person. He was buried at Dunkirk, Feb. 14.

A convict in the State Prison had his jaw broken and his face cut by a circular saw throwing a piece of wood against it, Tuesday.

Full returns show that there is no choice for Senator in the Sixth District. The vote stands:—Pease, 3744, Gould, 3754; Scattering 61. The joint Convention of the Legislature will of course make a choice of Gould, Republican.

Ordained over the Presbyterian church in Antrim, March 18th, by the Londonderry Presbytery, Mr. W. R. Cochran, of New Boston, recently tutor in Dartmouth College.

Rev. Geo. Bowler of Nashua died suddenly in that place on Friday, aged forty-eight years.

The Salisbury Villager says "the largest pine stick of timber ever seen in this section, we noticed last week on the team of Mr. Edmund Morrill. It measured twelve feet in circumference at the butt, and eight feet from the butt it was ten feet and 11 inches in circumference, and was 45 feet in length. It was unloaded at tide water on Powow river, to be floated down stream to Newburyport."

☞ Mrs. Chanfrau, the popular Boston favorite, re-appears at Selwyn's Theatre, in "Dora," on the 12th of April, after a severe illness lasting nearly six months. The occasion will be an interesting one and Mrs. C. will meet with a flattering reception.

☞ Enoch Tilton, Republican, has been re-appointed Postmaster of Hampton Falls, vice a Johnson-ite removed.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

* THE SILVER GOBLET, for the champion Velocipeder of Deering's Arena, was awarded to Wm. N. Hanscom, who "did" the distance (5 times round the rink, or 1-4 of a mile,) in 1.10; and his only competitor, Amazeen, scored 1.17.

The weather was rather too moist to bring out the large number of spectators who would otherwise have attended to witness the fun; but there will be a fine chance next Wednesday to see some good sport, as Mr. Deering intends to offer another prize to be contended for on that evening. Rain or shine it will be given, and those who go to see the race will not be disappointed on account of any postponement.

EASTER is a movable feast, being the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the twenty-first day of March (the vernal equinox.) The period during which it can occur extends from March 22d to April 25th—thirty-five days. From this feast—the Christian passover—are calculated all the other movable feasts, as well as the fasts, observed by Christians.

Easter is so called from the Saxon "Oster," to rise, being the day commemorative of Christ's resurrection; or, as others think, from the Teutonic goddess Ostera, whose feast was celebrated early in spring.

The egg at Easter is an emblem of the rising up out of the grave, in the same manner as the chick, entombed, as it were in the egg, is in due time brought to life. As an emblem of the universe, the work of the Supreme Divinity, the egg had a place in the theology and philosophy of the Egyptians, Persians, Gauls, Greeks, and Romans.

☞ One of the wonders of the great deep has recently been on exhibition in Newburyport, in the shape of a rasp fish, a rare and curious monster, so named from the roughness of his skin, which exactly resembles a coarse wood rasp. The fellow is fourteen feet long, and weighs two thousand pounds. He was caught a few miles from Newburyport and was very ferocious when taken, but is perfectly tame and quiet now.

Without a Good Digestion

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable, would give half of his fortune to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has turned from the friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, intimating that he has no faith in any "patent nostrums." If such be the case, so much the worse for him. His incredulity dooms him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure.—His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. These are the class that patronize and recommend HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Why do they approve this famous anti-dyspeptic and antibilious preparation? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Shall we try it?" said the Roman sage, when his ignorant enemies were assailing him. "Doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion, or relieved from the nightmare of Bitters, as he relates his experience of the medicine to his invalid friends. Whoever is so weighed down by the combined influence of liver, bigotry and prejudice as to decline to test the properties of a medicine endorsed by the testimony of intelligent men in every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer. m25 work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation, and consequently the sooner the patient is freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

In 1862 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a superior article, and his price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered $100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it, and it is used by physicians extensionally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints, viz: Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m29

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and inflammation and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by selling Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches, at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those interested in other watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has only left to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say.

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have pursued with marked success, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. We CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have maintained our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master workmen cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a reasonable profit made more tempting by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. Nature's powers are evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energy of all the system was prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergoes the cleansing a change from girl to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Sleep, Loss of Memory, Difficult Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dim Eyes, Loss of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequent Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Indisposition to Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Society agrees with them, no Recreation, no Amusement, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—must follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Blockley Hospital, upwards of 1500 cases occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Lunatic Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the majority of cases arise from this cause. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is a sound without meaning.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief begulled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used it. SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to those testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, makes it easy to throw it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions (of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they prescribe to suit the symptoms, to stop the cough, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, please satisfy your conscience. Ample accommodations furnished for the ladies, and the Hall thoroughly warmed.

If the lungs that are wasting, put it in the wholesome food, the stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance for life is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, when all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York; every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover St., Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It's perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—

Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NAVY YARD MATTERS.—The appropriations for Salaries in Bureau of Yards and Docks, for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1869, has been reduced from $15,439, the amount asked for, to $5500. This will necessitate the discharge in that department of a Draughtsman, Clerk to Civil Engineer, Clerk of Pay Rolls, Chief Accountant, Second Clerk to Commandant, and Writer. The Clerk to Chief Accountant and the Gatekeeper have already been dispensed with.

After the first of July the Civil Engineer is to receive a salary of $2000; Receiver and Inspector $1400; Clerk to Commandant, $500; and Messenger, $600.

It is understood that the little ferry boat "Emerald" will be hauled up, and a market boat run instead. Three is no doubt as to who the discommoded individuals who cross the river in the steamer are indebted for this conservative movement backwards towards barbarism.

The new uniform for the watchmen consists of a regulation single-breasted sack coat, and pants, of navy blue.—"Squibbs" says that the pants are single-breasted, also! Fifteen suits are now being manufactured at William Walker's City Clothing House, Market Square.

It is reported that on and after April 1, the Navy Yard economists will recommend an inferior article of oil for lubricating purposes, and that all workmen will be ordered to refrain from the practice of greasing their boots with oiley waste, on pain of instant dismissal.

NEWCASTLE.—Sickness is very prevalent on Great Island, chiefly pneumonia.

It is feared that one young man, if not more, from this town, was lost during the recent gale among the fishermen, on Georges.

Messrs. Harding & Doane, of Harwich, are receiving their vessels and stores, preparatory to commencing the fishing business at this most eligible position immediately, on a large scale.

It is reported that the Omnibuses are to cease running between both Newcastle and Kittery and this city—and the property is to be removed to a Cambridge and Boston line.

Mr. Joshua Bickford of Newcastle has been appointed keeper of White Island Light, Smith's Isles.

It is proposed that the Town of Newcastle purchase one, Portsmouth one, and the United States the other, of the three toll Bridges between this city and the Island, and free them. We believe a Town Meeting has been held in Newcastle to consider and vote on the subject.

With this improvement, there is no finer location on the coast for a Summer Hotel, than this Island.

☞ The Stars and Bars man sues J. B. Flagg, for embezzling money collected by him as agent for that paper. Flagg says he only deducted his commissions, and don't owe the concern a cent, and that it was hard work to find any good dues not offset by whiskey bills, &c. Judging between the two—we have done a good deal of business with Flagg years ago, and paid him many a thousand dollars for paper, and he always did as he agreed; but three or four dollars worth of printing ink our foreman was green enough to lend the Bars man, we have never seen yet, and when we sent a boy for it, he told us to go to the place whither he himself is certainly "bent."

☞ Isn't it a little singular, that the factious majority of 6 Republicans in the Board of Aldermen, should not try harder to administer the Government more to the satisfaction of the unanimous 2 of the Opposition and the contrary, and the Mayor's hand-organ?

☞ Charles C. Ricker, of this city, late of the U. S. Navy, is to be master of the bark Atlanta, now at New York, for Cronstadt,—in which vessel he has purchased an interest, but has never seen her. We give, prosperous voyages, to master and craft.

A GOOD MOVE.—For the accommodation of the public the Post Office will be kept open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings for the distribution of the 8 o'clock Boston mail. This new arrangement will commence on the fifth of April.

☞ Mr. Robert C. Sides is building a new house on Union Street, West End, opposite that of B. D. Laighton, Esq. Probably he wanted a good neighbor.

☞ The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society are to give Esther in this city on Fast Night, and probably in Newburyport on the 14th April.

Velocipedians.

Messrs. Editors:—I see by your report of the doings of the City Fathers on Thursday evening, that the City Marshal has been instructed to crowd all velocipeders off the sidewalk into the street; but I would respectfully suggest to them the propriety of reconsidering that action, and allowing velocipedes to run wherever their riders choose to steer them. There are many reasons why they should do this. In the first place, Portland has prohibited the bicycles from using the footpaths. Now Portland, a Republican city, elects a Democratic Mayor—so Portsmouth doesn't want to follow her example in anything; and should let velocipeders go where they like, if only to differ from that city.

Again: the velocipeders have a perfect right on the sidewalks, which were made for pedestrians—a velocipeder is a pedestrian, of course, not being on horseback or in a carriage. If the ordinance against wheeling barrows on the footpath is twisted so as to bear against these machines, it will be a bit of rank tyranny. No authorities have any right to do this, any more than they have to prevent railroad trains from blockading Noble's Island Bridge, or to stop free and respectable citizens from selling milk, quack medicines, sugar, rum, prussic acid or gunpowder.

But a reason still more conclusive even than the foregoing, is—a machine, either runaway or driven by a whiskified rider, might some evening plunge into the midst of one of the numerous gangs of loafers that infest our street corners and sidewalks to such an extent as to render them almost impassable—quite so, to an unprotected, modest woman—and break some of their legs; by a "special dispensation," might even be so happy as to kill a few of those pests outright. True, small children might occasionally get run over,—but that's nothing; the bare possibility of the Corner Loafer being translated into a nice funeral, or at least getting knocked off the sidewalk into the gutter and having to pay a surgeon's bill, should secure for the riders of the new locomotive the enthusiastic support of all decent citizens,—even if no pecuniary reward was given by the city for causing a decease in the sidewalk brigade. For these reasons I submit that velocipeders should be encouraged to ride on all the sidewalks, particularly on Congress Street after dark.

PAKEHA.

[Private.—Of course. I know that the velocipede has no more business on the sidewalk than an ox-team has; but the fact of the matter is, that I want to ride round town on a machine myself, as soon as the weather permits, and I think I could manage better on the sidewalk than in the street; anyhow, I'd rather fall on bricks than in the mud. So I hope you'll advocate my proposition in your columns.]

PROPOSED ENLARGEMENT OF THE NAVY YARD.—Mr Lynch of Maine introduced the following resolution into the National House of Reprsentatives on Thursday, and it was referred to the committee on naval affairs:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Navy be authorized and directed to appoint a commission consisting of three officers of the navy and two officers of the corps of engineers to examine and report at the next session of Congress:

First—Whether the efficiency of the naval service requires the maintenance of two navy yards at points so near together as Charlestown, Massachusetts, and Kittery, Maine.

Second—Whether the territory owned by the United States at Kittery is ample in area, suitable in location, and every way well adapted to accommodate the work now carried on at both yards, and for such extension as the future demands of the service will probably require in that section.

Third—The probable cost of extending the yard at Kittery sufficiently to accomodate the work now performed at both yard; the probable amount which could be realized by the sale of the site and permanent fixtures of the Charlestown yards, and also the probable annual saving in expense to the government which would result from consolidating the two yards.

A WAIF.—A domesticated horse attached to a wagon, while quietly walking by our office alone and unattended, on Good Friday, was stopped in his mad career by an impetuous staff officer of the United States Navy, who threw himself in the rear of the infuriated beast and checked his onward course instantaneously. Would a line officer have put himself to so much trouble and usefulness? G.

☞ The Spring time of year is coming—coming; but you can't depend on the Almanac for the exact date, any more than you can for the good time coming.

PERSONAL.—Special Post office Agent Hammett was in this city on Friday on business connected with the issue of the new style postage stamps.

Cattle Market at Brighton.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, MARCH 25.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1813;—Sheep and Lambs 7407; Swine 950; number of Western Cattle 1870; Eastern Cattle 158; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 275.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 50 @ $14 00; first quality $12 75 @ $13 25; second quality $11 75 @ $12 50; third quality $9 50 @ $11 50; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50@ $8 50 ⅌ 100 lbs; (the total weight of hides, tallowand dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 10 @ 10½ ⅌ lb; Country Hides 9½ @ 10c ⅌ lb.

Brighton Tallow 8¼ @ 9c per lb; Country Tallow 7½ @ 8c ⅌ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 50 @ $2 00 each; Sheep Skins $1 50 @ $2 00 each; Calf Skins 20 @ 23c ⅌ lb

There is a large supply of Cattle from in market. Most of those from the West were of an ordinary grade. The best Beeves in this week were the River Cattle, which sold at 14 @ 14½ ⅌ lb. Prices upon the best grades are full as high as those of last week, but upon the common grades we think that prices will be lower before the close of the market. Most of the Cattle from Maine were Working Oxen, for which there was not much call.

Stores—None in the market except Working Oxen and Milch Cows. Most of the small Cattle were brought up to slaughter.

Working Oxen—There is a good supply in market. We quote sales at at $185, $190, $215, $225, $225, $24, $260, $275 @ $300⅌ pair. Trade dull.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $110; ordinary $75 @ $70 @ $80; common $35 @ $50⅌ head. Most of the Cows in market are of ordinary grade. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and lambs—Most of the Western and a good share of the Northern Sheep were taken at a commission. Trade was not very active. We quote sales of 11 Western at 7c @ 7½c, 70 at 7½ ⅌ lb; Northern—13 at 9c, 50 at 9c, 81 at 8½c, 18 Lambs at 8c, 31 Sheep at 7½c ⅌ lb; 100 at 6½c, 91 at 8½c ⅌ lb; 35 at 8c, 75 @ 7½ ⅌ head.

Swine—Wholesale 12 @ 13c ⅌ lb; retail 12@16c ⅌ lb; selected lots 14c ⅌ lb.

The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

THE OUTCASTS OF POKER FLAT.

BY FRANK BRET HARTE.

Concluded from Yesterday.

Whether Mr. Oakhurst had cached his cards with the whiskey as something debarred the free access of the community, I cannot say. It was certain that, in Mother Shipton's words, he 'didn't say cards once' during that evening. Haply the time was beguiled by an accordeon, produced somewhat ostentatiously by Tom Simpson, from his pack. Notwithstanding some difficulties attending the manipulation of this instrument, Piney Woods managed to pluck several reluctant melodies from its keys, to an accompaniment by 'The Innocent' on a pair of bone castinets. But the crowning festivity of the evening was reached in a rude camp-meeting hymn, which the lovers, joining hands, sang with great earnestness and vociferation. I fear that a certain degant tone, and Covenanter's swing to its chorus, rather than any devotional quality, caused it to speedily infect the others, who at last joined in the refrain:

"I'm pound to live in the service of the Lord,
And I'm bound to die in His army."

The pines rocked, the storm eddied and whirled above the miserable group, and the flames of their altar leaped heavenward, as if in token of the vow.

At midnight the storm abated, the rolling clouds parted, and the stars glittered keenly above the sleeping camp. Mr. Oakhurst, whose professional habits had enabled him to live on the smallest possible amount of sleep, in dividing the watch with Tom Simpson, somehow managed to take upon himself the greater part of that duty. He excused himself to 'The Innocent,' by saying that he had 'often been a week without sleep.' 'Doing what?' asked Tom. 'Poker!' replied Oakhurst, sententiously; 'when a man gets a streak luck—nigger luck—he don't get tired. The luck gives in first. Luck,' continued the gambler, reflectively, 'is a mighty queer thing. All you know about it for certain is that it's bound to change. And it's finding out when it's going to change that makes you. We have had a streak of bad luck since we left Poker Flat—you come along, and slap you get into it, too. If you can hold your cards right along you're all right. For,' added the gambler, with cheerful irrelevance,

"I'm pound to live in the service of the Lord,
And I'm bound to die in His army."

The third day came, and the sun, looking through the white-curtained valley, saw the outcasts divide their slowly-decreasing store of provisions for the morning meal. It was one of the peculiarities of that mountain climate that its rays diffused a kindly warmth over the wintry landscape, as if in regretful commiseration of the past. But it revealed drift on drift of snow piled high around the hut; a hopeless, uncharted, trackless sea of white, lying below the rocky shores to which the castaways still clung. Through the marvelously clear atmosphere, the smoke of the pastoral village of Poker Flat rose miles away. Mother Shipton saw it, and from a remote pinnacle of her rocky fastness, hurled in that direction a final malediction. It was her last vituperative attempt, and perhaps for that reason invested with a certain degree of sublimity. It did her good, she privately informed the Duchess.—"Just you go out there and cuss, and see." She then set herself to the task of amusing the "child," as she and the Duchess were pleased to call Piney.—Piney was no chicken, but it was a soothing and ingenious theory of the pair to thus account for the fact that she didn't swear and wasn't improper.

When night crept up again through the gorges, the reedy notes of the accordeon rose and fell in fitful spasms and long-drawn gasps by the flickering camp-fire. But music failed to fill entirely the aching void left by insufficient food, and a new diversion was proposed by Piney—story telling. Neither Mr. Oakhurst nor his female companions caring to relate their personal experience, this plan would have failed, too, but for the Innocent. Some months before he had chanced upon a copy of Mr. Pope's ingenious translation of the Iliad. He now proposed to narrate the principal incidents of that poem—having thoroughly mastered the argument and fairly forgotten the words—in the current vernacular of Sandy Bar. And so, for the rest of that night, the Homeric demi-gods again walked the earth. Trojan bully and wily Greek wrestled in the winds, and the great pines in the canon seemed to bow to the wrath of the son of Peleus. Mr. Oakhurst listened with quiet satisfaction. Most especially was he interested in the fate of "Ash-heels," as the Innocent persisted in denominating the "swift-footed Achilles."

So with small food and much of Homer and the accordeon, a week passed over the heads of the outcasts. The sun again forsook them, and again from the leaden skies the the snowflakes were sifted over the land. Day by day closer around them drew the snowy circle, until at last they looked from their prison over drifted walls of dazzling white, that towered twenty feet above their heads. It became more and more difficult to replenish their fire, even from the fallen trees beside them, now half-hidden in the drifts. And yet no one complained. The lovers turned from the dreary prospect and looked into each other's eyes, and were happy. Mr. Oakhurst settled himself coolly to the losing game before him. The Duchess, more cheerful than she had been, assumed the care of Piney. Only Mother Shipton—once the strongest of the party—seemed to sicken and fade. At midnight on the tenth day she called Oakhurst to her side. "I'm going," she said, in a querulous weakness, "but don't say anything about it. Don't waken the kids. Take the bundle from under my head and open it." Mr. Oakhurst did so. It contained Mother Shipton's rations for the last week, untouched.—"Give 'em to the child," she said pointing to the sleeping Piney. "You've starved yourself," said the gambler. "That's what they call it," said the woman, querulously, as she lay down again, and turning her face to the wall, passed quietly away.

The accordeon and the bones were put aside that day and Homer was forgotten. When the body of Mother Shipton had been committed to the snow, Mr. Oakhurst took The Innocent aside, and showed him a pair of snow-shoes, which he had fashioned from the old pack-saddle. "There's one chance in a hundred to save her yet," he said, pointing to Piney; "but its there," he added, "Poker Flat." "If you can reach there in two days, she's safe. "And you?" asked Tom Simpson. "I'll stay here," was the curt reply.

The lovers parted with a long embrace. "You are not going too," said the Duchess, as she saw Mr. Oakhurst apparently waiting to accompany him. "As far as the canon," he replied. He turned suddenly, and kissed the Duchess, leaving her trembling limbs rigid with amazement.

Night came, but not Mr. Oakhurst. It brought the storm again and the whirling snow. Then the Duchess, feeding the fire, found that some one had quietly piled beside the hut enough fuel to last a few days longer. The tears rose to her eyes, but she hid them from Piney.

The woman slept but little. In the morning, looking into each other's faces, they read their fate. Neither spoke; but Piney, accepting the position of the stronger, drew near and placed her arm around the Duchess's waist. They kept this attitude for the rest of the day. That night the storm reached its greatest fury, and rending asunder the protecting pines, invaded the hut.

Toward morning they found themselves unable to feed the fire, which gradually died away. As the embers slowly blackened, the Duchess crept closer to Piney, and broke the silence of many hours; "Piney can you pray?"

"No, dear," said Piney, simply.

The Duchess, without knowing exactly why, felt relieved, and putting her head upon Piney's shoulder, spoke no more. And so reclining, the younger and purer pillowing the head of her soiled sister upon her virgin breast, they fell asleep.

The wind lulled as if it feared to waken them. Feathery drifts of snow, shaken from the long pine boughs, flew like white winged birds, and settled about them as they slept. The moon through the rifted clouds looked down upon what had been the camp. But all human stain, all trace of earthly travail, was hidden beneath the spotless mantle mercifully flung from above.

They slept all that day and the next, nor did they waken when voices and footsteps broke the silence of the camp. And when pitying fingers brushed the snow from their wan faces, you could scarcely have told from the equal peace that dwelt upon them, which was she that had sinned. Even the law of Poker Flat recognized this, and turned away, leaving them still locked in each other's arms.

But at the head of the gulch, on one of the largest pine trees, they found the deuce of clubs pinned to the bark with a bowie knife. It bore the following, written, in pencil, in a firm hand: "beneath this tree lies the body of John Oakhurst, who struck a streak of bad luck on the 23d day of Nov. 1850, and handed in his checks on the 7th of December, 1850."

And pulseless and cold, with a Derringer by his side and a bullet in his heart, though still calm as in life, beneath the snow, lay he who was at once the strongest and yet the weakest of the outcasts of Poker Flat.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHO SAYS No, it cannot be done? I tell you it is false. Catarrh can be radically cured. Use Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR. Pint bottles, $1, in white wrappers, or send to Dr. Wolcott, 170 Chatham square, N. Y., $5, for six pints, sent free of express charges; or one pint of Wolcott's PAIN PAINT, if you suffer any pain. 2wsaw

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I made one hundred pairs of pantaloons, all thick and lined, with one needle without changing it: also made three hundred pairs in nine months. Very respectfully, Mrs. A. M. TAYLOR, Troy, Bradford Co., Pa. m37

IT IS A WELL-KNOWN fact that the Circassian beauties possess magnificent heads of hair. If its possession can lend additional charms to the semi-enlightened ladies of Circassia, how much more does it adorn the beauty of our highly-cultivated American belles. It is easily attained by the use of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer."—Washington (D. C.) Chronicle.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the recipe is wrapped around each bottle. Don't go home without a bottle. m12

IF YOUR DRUGGIST don't have it, send $5 to Dr. Wolcott, 170 Chatham Square, N. Y., and you will get pint of PAIN PAINT, or six pints of ANNIHILATOR, free of express charges. m13 2wsaw.

AGENTS WANTED
FOR A NEW and Intensely Interesting Book entitled
OUR NEW WEST.
By Samuel Bowles.
A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Cities, Towns, Farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women. The Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.
Splendidly Illustrated

RED JACKET AXE!
THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE
is a splendid tool, for these reasons:
First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.
Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.
Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.
Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.
Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make thirty-thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.
The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:
HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre (and a grateful perfume.

TEA COMPANY
WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.
WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."
EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents to 50c, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.
OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.
ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.
THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.
WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.
WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SUMMER LONGINGS.

BY D. F. M'CARTY.

Ah! my heart is weary waiting,
Waiting for the May—
Waiting for the pleasant rambles,
Where the fragrant hawthorn brambles,
With the woodbine alternating,
Scent the dewy way.
Ah! my heart is weary waiting,
Waiting for the May.

Ah! my heart is sick with longing,
Longing for the May—
Longing to escape from study,
To the young face, fair and ruddy,
And the thousand charms belonging,
To the summer day.
Ah my heart is sick with longing,
Longing for the May.

Ah! my heart is sore with sighing,
Sighing for the May—
Sighing for their sure returning,
When the summer beams are burning,
Hopes and flowers that dead or dying,
All the winter lay.
Ah! my heart is sore with sighing,
Sighing for the May.

Ah! my heart is pained with throbbing,
Throbbing for the May.—
Throbbing for the sea-side billows,
Or the water-wooing willows,
Where in laughing and in sobbing,
Glide the streams away.
Ah! my heart, my heart is throbbing,
Throbbing for the May.

Waiting, sad, dejected, weary,
Waiting for the May—
Spring goes by with wasted warnings,
Moonlit evenings—sunbright mornings;
Summer comes, yet dark and dreary,
Life still ebbs away.
Man is ever weary, weary,
Waiting for the May.—Irish Ballad.

—The Berkeley St. Society in Boston has appointed a man who is eminently musically qualified, as chairman of its committee on music; and has abolished its quartette, and undertaken a voluntary choir which is to lead the people in Congregational singing. Under the intelligent and cultured supervision of Prof. E. B. Oliver, of the Mendelssohn Musical Institute.

—Henry T. Marsh, manufacturer of corsets at Somersville, came near losing his life last week while riding his yelocipede across a foot bridge over Scantic river. He lost his balance, fell into the water, and his machine came tumbling after, but did not fall upon him, so he escaped with some slight bruises from the stones in the stream.

—The late Hon. James Guthrie left property valued at about a million dollars, having before his death been very liberal to his children and grandchildren. His large estate is to be divided between his three daughters after liberal provision is made for each of fourteen grand-children.

—The Boston Post says: "The 'cards' at a recent wedding up town were so large as to require to be carried under the arm. Every guest was thought to be bearing a huge present to the bride. They were taken in the door endwise."

—The old adage, "the more we hoe the more plants grow," is a very true one, and it will admit of the addition, "the more we hoe the less weeds grow." Always keep the soil loose and friable if you would have good crops.

—Miss Dewey of Albany, Indiana, has invented a quilting attachment to a sewing machine, and adds herself to the roll of those who are a standing refutation of the slander that there are no women's names in the patent office reports.

—A Louisiana paper has the following:—"A mother and her child were accidentally ground up in Bogg's sugar-cane mill last week. We regret the accident, as the quality of sugar furnished at this place has been very good."

—A western paper appears to be quite sure that Garrett Davis, who is less than seven hundred years old, has already done more talking than Methuselah was able to accomplish in his two and a half centuries excess of life.

—More than the usual number of American girls are now in Europe learning to sing, and they are reported successful in an artistic way, and quite as decidedly so in the point of "personal pulchritude."

—Mehemet Ali, by his wise foresight in planting twenty million trees in the upper province of Egypt and near the Delta, has increased the rainfall in these districts ten-fold.

—The Wurtemberg police have prohibited the representation of a play whose scene is laid in America, and in which one of the actors represents General Grant.

—An exchange gives a curious account of a fight between a mastiff and a cow. It terminated in the cowardly retreat of the dog before the dogged advance of the cow.

—The Friend publishes statistics to show that the Friends in Pennsylvania are decreasing in numbers. Since 1830 but 5 new meetings have been established, while 37 have been abandoned.

—General Robert E. Lee has lately visited New England, and has returned to the South.

—Horace Greeley says that the darkest day in any man's career is that wherein he fancies that there is some easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it.

—The series of Sabbath evening temperance sermons by pastors in their own pulpits, is still continued by request of the Suffolk Temperance Union.

—A little school-girl in Norwich gave this pretty definition of the word happy. "To feel as if you wanted to give all your things to your little sister."

—Sandwich Islanders call California "Kaliponia," San Francisco becomes "Palikiko," and the festival of Christmas is pronounced "Krikimak."

—During the last year France exported a million francs' worth of velocipedes.

THE EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly unjust to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it alone, as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1869.

The News.

A Salt Lake dispatch says that no mail has reached there from the Pacific coast since Monday. A dispatch from St. George, southern Utah, says there is no doubt but the Navajo Indians have taken possession of the country south of us and between here and Colorado. It is also reported that they are trying to form an alliance with the Hualapas and Pahutes and make a general raid on the stock of settlers.

Walcott Hamlin, Esq., of Dover, is an applicant for Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the District of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, in the place of John Legro, the present incumbent. Hamlin's papers have been signed by every Congressman and Senator from the above States, with the exception of Senator Fessenden of Maine and Gen. Stevens of New Hampshire.

Nearly all the nominations before the Senate have been confirmed. Not a single nomination made by President Grant has been rejected.

Binckley has been fined $100 and costs for assault and battery on Deputy Commissioner Harland of the Internal Revenue Department.

Hon. Edward Bates, the first Attorney General in Ex-President Lincoln's Cabinet, died at St. Louis on Friday at the age of 75.

The recent order mustering out twenty infantry regiments will save fifteen million dollars annually to the government.

Seventy female clerks were discharged from the Treasury Department on Saturday.

The Georgia courts have decided that negroes are ineligible to office in that State.

Iowa is out of debt, and has a balance of $639,000 in the treasury.

Dorchester, Mass., has voted in favor of annexation to Boston.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Friday, Mr. Patterson of N. H., from the committee on the District of Columbia, reported the bill to continue in force the act extending the charter of Washington, which was passed.

In the House the amended Tenure-of office bill was debated, and non-concurred in by a vote of 99 to 70. The New Hampshire delegation voted with the minority, to concur. Fifty Republicans and 49 Democrats voted to non-concur, and 70 Republicans voted to concur.

TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE MEETINGS.—Reports have been received from different parts of the State, which indicate that the work of the State Temperance Alliance is being prosecuted with great vigor. Bristol voted at the town meeting to appoint an agent for the legal sale of liquors, and also one to prosecute all who sold in violation of law.—In all sections of the State earnest effort is being put forth in behalf of temperance, and if public sentiment fails to be developed to a hearty point, it will not be the fault of the State Temperance Alliance.

A JOKE THAT CAME NEAR BEING SERIOUS.—It is always a little dangerous playing "matrimony." At a party at West Lebanon, a few evenings since, four couples stood up and went through a mock marriage. They were badly frightened, and became the subjects of much gossip when they learned that the official in this supposed mock ceremony was a duly commissioned Justice of the Peace. After being pretty badly scared, however, they were relieved by the suggestion that the fact of his residing out of the country would invalidate the ceremony. It is reported that one of the couples had made up their minds to "accept the situation" before this last discovery was made, but whether they adhere to this determination or not deponent saith not.—Lebanon Free Press.

—The Illinois legislature is having a sort of recess. The crop of bills turned out at the late session was about eighteen hundred, of which Governor Palmer had approved only about one-sixth when the legislature was ready to adjourn. In order to save some of them and to give the governor time to consider them, the legislature adjourned for several weeks.

—The extremes of climate in California are well illustrated by the editor of a paper in Alpine County, who rides to his office in a sleigh, the snow being five feet deep in some places, and writes behind a bouquet of flowers plucked in the open air within sight of his office window.

New Hampshire Items.

Thos. W. Lane, clerk in the office of the Manchester Mirror, has been surprised by the gift of $150 worth of furniture, &c., from the hands in the office, including a handsome contribution from the proprietor.

Lyman Porter, formerly of Manchester committed suicide by drowning at Providence, last Wednesday.

George Sanborn of Sandown, has some apples that are sweet on one side, and sour on the other.

The Nashua Gazette says that the new political movement in New Hampshire has not the countenance of the Democrats of this State. Query, whether there is any such movement.—A Concord item says:—The popular feeling in both parties is being shown so decidedly against the proposed new political organization that the new daily paper project in Concord, which was to have been carried forward by certain Democrats as their part of the programme, has been abandoned.

Ebenezer Harris of Nashua, a well-known and prominent citizen, died a few days since.

Mr. Charles E. Chadwick has been appointed postmaster in Boscawen, in place of Mr. A. Wood removed.

Nashua has formed a chorus class to attend the musical festival in Boston in June next.

Oscar Cheney, teacher in the high school at Bradford, was arrested recently for severely whipping a scholar. He was fined ten dollars and costs.

William Proctor and Jacob W. Evans representatives elect from Barnstead, have offered to divide one hundred dollars among the Sunday schools in that town, instead of giving the customary public supper.

Seventy female clerks were discharged from the Treasury Department on Saturday.

The Transcript says that Mr. Geo. W. Burnham, of Hillsborough, some time since had a Chittagong hen which went upon the nest daily, but laid no eggs.—After a while it grew sick and died.—On examination, fifteen full grown eggs were found inside, and many others in embryo.

Lowell Eastman, Esq., of Concord, is the owner of a beautifully carved and polished powder horn, bearing the inscription "John Noyes—His Horn."—Mr. Noyes was born at Bow in 1744, and died in Pembroke in 1828. The horn was carried by him in the Revolution.

It is estimated that the snow in Tuckerman's ravine, in the White Mountains, is a thousand feet deep. Hopes are entertained of a magnificent snow arch there next August.

In a case heard before the Grand Jury at Laconia, on Wednesday, a deed or will was produced which purported to have been written in a certain year. The paper itself bore the die of the Hampshire Paper Company, of South Hadley Falls, Mass. Mr. J. Wells Southworth, agent of the company, was summoned, and testified that his company was not formed at that date.—There was also other evidence that the paper was a forgery.

The annual appropriations recommended by the Manchester city government, amount to $269,000.

Hon. John D. Lyman has recovered from the effects of his fall, so far as to be removed from Concord to his home at Farmington on the 25th.

A REMARKABLE MAN.—Jacob Surget, 97 years old, died at New York this week and left a property valued at $10,000,000. He was a Creole Frenchman, but was born in the United States. He lived by rule and was very abstemious, drinking nothing but water. He used to say that he had a secret of longevity which he bought of a Gipsy woman when he was a sailor, and he thought he should live to be a hundred. For many years he spent his winters in Mississippi, but when the war broke out he went to New York where he remained until he died.

Without a Good Digestion

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable would give half of his fortune to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has turned from his friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, intimating that he has no faith in any "patent medicine." If this has been the case, we would say to such persons, the incredulity dooms him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure.—His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. The masses, then? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Strike, but hear," said the Roman sage, when his ignorant enemies were assailing him. "Doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion, or biliousness, or intermittent fever, by the Bitters, as he relates his experience of the medicine to his invalid friends. Whoever is so wedded to his own foregone theoretical conclusions as to decline to test the properties of a medicine endorsed by the testimony of intelligent men in every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer. m23

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This he declares to test the superior efficacy of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

1802. 1847. 1868.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after several years' use. His father, a physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my father, who offered Sir Astley Cooper £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have used it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and therefore it, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is sure of a much larger aggregate profit in time.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at large profit. To this class of dealers we, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those who deal in other watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We need not be afraid to advise those intending to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured of one class, the lower the price at which will be sold each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our product at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. The policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND BEAUTY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employ the very head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master workmen cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own watches, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As those Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It may become evident to the observer that a depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of city life, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excessive indulgence, is recommended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Error of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Ravenous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporarily Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to more than one person had 60 a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by these direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is accordant with the mind, the intellectual wreck. Neither Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sat, and sighed the spirit dead."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S FIRMLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the despairing invalid, and the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $2.00 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good, the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with precautions) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which little tropical plant is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into healthy blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop the fever, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, ulcerated bronchial irritation, pleurisy, adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the early last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have tried Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the services of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This Institution has published a new and valuable medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats on the PHYSIOLOGY OF CREATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect medical work ever offered to the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by over 200 engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among other topics treated of, the following may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage, General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Marriet,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect, with 32 col. umns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

ALBERT H. HAYES, M. D., Resident and Consulting Physician.

N. B.—Dr. H. may be consulted in strictest confidence on all diseases requiring skill, and long experience. INVIOLABLE SECRECY AND CERTAIN RELIEF. to my9 d

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It will give you relief in a few hours, stop the night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

☞ PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R.I., general wholesale Agents for the Eastern States.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. B. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States, and to procure Reissues, Extensions and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with despatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents, and other matters relating thereto. Opinions rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting the usual dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on three rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners to whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot confide in an more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such has been a record proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ A Washington dispatch states that the New Hampshire delegation in Congress have agreed to nominate Capt. Andrew Young of Dover for Collector of Internal Revenue in the first N. H. District, in place of J. M. Lovering of Exeter; Hon. Samuel A. Haley of Newmarket, Assessor of Internal Revenue, in place of Hon. Geo. M. Herring of Farmington; and Hon. John H. Bailey, Collector of Portsmouth, in place of J. B. Upham, Esq.

☞ A little four year old feminine living at the South End rushed home from school on Thursday and saluted her mother as follows;—"There 'th no thkool to-morrow; Christ th going to be crutihified and I aint going to eat anything but eggth." A gentleman present undertook to explain matters to her, but she impatiently declared she was right for she "heard the girlth talking all about it."

☞ Col. John S. Godfrey, formerly of this city, is now in charge of the Merrimac Chemical Company's Works at South Wilmington, Mass., where great quantities of Sulphuric, Muriatic and Nitric Acids, Glauber Salts, Fine Crystals, &c., are manufactured—using from 200 to 400 lbs of sulphur per day; and the fires are not quenched night nor day, and they look like the bottomless pit itself.

— When rents in a city are very high it is usual to speak of the fact as evincing the prosperity of the place. It is noticed by the Toledo Blade that rents in that city have declined enormously of late, and this fact also is spoken of as "one of the many indications of the prosperity of the city."—Exchange,

Taking either horn of the dilemma, Portsmouth people would hail with gladness an indication of decline in rents.

☞ Barque Atalanta, 598 tons, built in Saybrook in 1864, and belonging to Messrs. Farr & Lincoln of Boston, is on the great balance dry dock near the foot of Pike Slip, New York, for the purpose of being caulked, stripped of her old and furnished with a new suit of yellow metal sheathing. Capt. C. C. Ricker, of this city, is to command her.

MORE WORK AT THE NAVY YARD.—Orders were received from Washington on Saturday to fit out the U. S. Steamer Galena, immediately. The wiseacres predict that the Galena is to join our squadron on the coast of Cuba. We are glad to hear that there is a good prospect of more activity at the Navy Yard.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE POOR.—C. E. Walker & Co. advertise to sell coal at $7.50 per ton, a lower price than has been demanded in this city for many a day.

☞ The salary of the Clerk to Rear Admiral Lanman at the Navy Yard is $1500, not $500, as heretofore stated.—May his salary never be less!

THE EXPENDITURES at this Naval Station for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, amounted to $171,934.74.

THESPIAN REHEARSAL this Monday evening, at 8 o'clock.

NAVAL.—Affairs at the Brooklyn Yard at the present time are exceedingly dull, although a little reaction is expected if the Navy Department shall, according to prevalent rumors, order a reenforcement of vessels, material and men to our squadron in the vicinity of Cuba. Instead of a force of 11,000 men, which was the number employed during the war, the workmen now number only 980. The vast machine shops, ship and store houses, are silent and solitary; and were it not for the occasional footfalls of some straggling visitor, the police or passing employes, the navy yard would have all the appearance of a deserted place.

The resignations of midshipmen Horace Mann, B. M. Shaffer and Eugene C. Tilman, at the Naval Academy have been accepted. The acceptances of the resignations of midshipmen David Whipple, Z. T. Babcock, Francis Winslow and E. A. Sanderson have been revoked, and they are restored to duty at the Naval Academy on probation.

WHY SHOULD I DIFFER WITH GRANT? Mr. Nasby, in his account of the breaking up of the meeting of Andrew Johnson and his Cabinet, thus refers to Mr. Welles:

Sekretary Welles wuz the only cheerful one in the party. He hed no idea that he wuz to stop bein Sekretary uv the Navy—he expected to go along ez tho nothin hed happened. Seward and Randall hed bin tryin for an hour to make him comprehend the citooashun—that there wuz to be a change—but to no purpose. He coodnt git it thro him. I undertook to impress it onto his intellect, but my efforts wuz futile. Huggin to his buzzum a model uv a Erie canal boat wich he hed determined to remodel into a revenoo cutter, he kept on sayin,—"Why—why shood I go out? I wuz under Linkin, and then Johnson. There aint no more difference between Linkin and Johnson than there is between Johnson and Grant, is there? I agreed with Linkin and Johnson, and I shel agree with Grant, doubtless. Why shood I differ with Grant?"

For the Chronicle.

Evidently a chronic complaint—for he has long been on the wrong side.

—A curious disease prevails on the west coast of Africa, especially on the Gaboon river, which consists in an irresistible inclination to sleep. If awakened the patient returns again to a deep sleep in a very short time. There is no pain. The disease does not yield to remedies, and generally ends in death.

—March fourth was remembered in San Francisco as the anniversary of the death of Thomas Starr King, and the newspapers contained articles devoted to his memory, on that day.

—Wood is so scarce in France that they save their sawdust, mix it with glue and press it in moulds, making, it is said, very good imitations of carved wood.

— A mechanic in Albany, Indiana, has spent two years of his life in making a checker board containing six thousand four hundred and thirty-one pieces.

—"From Ocean to Ocean, no Transfer," is the legend painted on a lot of freight cars now building in Illinois.

—Small-pox is disappearing at all the places where it was lately epidemic.

—Indiana is again beginning to be troubled by the Texas cattle fever.

—Humbug is the name of a town in California.

SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the sight and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.
We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Morning Chronicle.

How They Came There. — "There go the inevitables," said a man, the other day, on the Senate steps at Washington, as the Colored Boys in Blue marched, four abreast, into the Capitol Square, surrounded by the thousands of spectators who were waiting to witness there the inauguration of the coming pursue. "How came they here?" sneered a scornful voice! "How came they there? They are everywhere now-a-days," was the reply. "How came they there,"—we thought: well—God put them there, and if anybody doesn't like it, he may as well make up his mind to do the next best thing. How came General Grant there? How came there to be any inauguration there, at all?

God has been pleased to take this nation and shake it, and thresh it, and beat some of its great things small, and make some of its mighty things as chaff; and to overture people and institutions and prejudices, until a new nation has come out of the shell of the old, and now five hundred men, in black skins but in blue coats, some of whom walked not very many years ago under the shadow of that same sky-kissing dome, in chains of the coffle gang; now, with the uniform of freemen on their backs, and the weapons of citizens in their hands, keep step to the music of the Union, as they bear—and nobly bear—their part in the great processional civic triumph which ushers the man of war, who is also a man of peace, to his imperial place.

God has wrought these changers.—He has done it in His love, and not in His wrath. Woe to that trivial and contemptible folly which shrinks back from the large advances which His Providence has been making in the interests of genuine humanity and true religion, with a longing for the meanness and injustice of the ancient ways! Boston Recorder.

Destructive Power of Salt.—A correspondent writes from the vicinity of Baltimore, Md.: "We have lately been enjoying ice cream at rather a dear price. A few weeks since the contents of a bucket of melted ice and salt, were carelessly thrown out, and got dammed up about a fine grape vine and some healthy hop vines; they were quickly killed, as well as a raspberry bunch, that was also flooded.

A few days since the same mixture was ignorantly emptied into the bucket which is kept handy for chicken scraps; when the meal, etc., was put in to make up their breakfast, all was mixed up and given to the chickens. This error cost us fifty chickens, ranging from little bobtails up to old laying hens. In mentioning this calamity to an acquaintance, he stated that some time since a lot of salt was thrown over a field for sheep, which, being discovered by the chickens of the adjoining village, they flocked to it and regaled themselves; the consequence was a complete cleaning out of the feathery stock. Of all those attacked at our house but one recovered, though nearly a dozen fought for life from one to two days.

Last summer a friend of mine was recommended to rub her turkeys with coal oil, to destroy vermin. She did so; and thinking if a little was good, more was better, applied it very freely. Next morning all of them, sixty, were dead."

Chicago had an unseasonable snow storm, which inspired the following outburst in the Evening Post of that city:—

"Oh the snow, the beautiful snow, falling so rudely when flowers ought to blow; covering over the sidewalks again; causing street railroad folks to profane; making our feet and our noses to sting, when all the almanacs indicate spring; blowing, snowing, blustering, flustering; how pleasant this snow storm in the beautiful spring. Once we could like the beautiful snow; but that sort of thing is played out, you know; snow forts and sleigh-rides, and snow everywhere all the year round, are really not fair. Beautiful snow, will you not kindly cease falling so rapidly, and let us have peace! Growling, howling freezing, teazing, lingering old winter, depart in peace."

Garden Seeds often fail from being covered too deeply in the soil. As a general rule, it may be said that the small seeds require a very light covering. The larger seeds, as peas and beans, may be covered more deeply. Many flower seeds fail to germinate from too deep planting. We should learn wisdom from the processes of nature. The seeds that drop from the pods of flower stalks, and from weeds and grasses receive but very slight covering or none at all, and a sufficient number of them germinate. Beet-and mangold seeds often fail to germinate from being planted too deeply.—N. E. Farmer.

Flowers.—We are sorry for the little one who never comes in contact with the beautiful flowers. We pity the wife, the sister, the mother, or the daughter, whose heart is never cheered and delighted with their presence and company. We pity more those who have no love, no taste, for flowers. We pity more still, the man who is destined to live with a woman in whom the love of beauty is so slight or so dead, that she cares not for their sweet influence.

—Under the lead of the Rev. Mr. Murray, the Park St. Church, Boston, is about to establish a pastor's library. It is contemplated to expend perhaps one thousand dollars in the outset, and then, by a small yearly appropriation, keep it "up" with the best literature for its uses. The project deserves many imitators.

— Paris makes 200,000 dozen toy drums every year.

Plan the Work for Summer.—The farmer can now carefully select the best fields for each particular crop, estimate the amount of manure they will require and the amount he will be able to manufacture at home, and then determine what kinds of artificial fertilizers will supply the deficiency in the best and cheapest manner. He will now have leisure to consult the experience of others, where his own would leave him in doubt as to the best method to pursue.

He will now be able to find many facts that will aid him in deciding a doubtful point in farm management, which he would not have time to do when it became necessary to apply that knowledge. He will probably find the data for deciding whether it is best to sow his grain broadcast or drill it in,—whether it is better to plant potatoes deep or shallow, cut or whole. Scores of such questions as these can be settled to his satisfaction now, far better than when the time for sowing and planting arrives.

By all means, then, plan the campaign, leave nothing to conjecture, but determine just where each crop shall be put, just how much and what kinds of manure you will apply, and just what method of cultivation you will pursue. Shun as far as possible those conditions that have produced failure in the past, and secure those that are uniformly successful, whether in your own experience or that of others.

Cease to make farming a blind succession of guess-work and chance; adopt no method without assuring yourself that it is the best possible way under the circumstances; found your plans upon the firm basis of facts, and you may expect as large a measure of success as ever falls to the lot of the farmer.—Cor. Rural American.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, although recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by A. A. Fraser & Co.,

General Agents for the New England States, Office No. 116 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, and railroad through North prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion, and political. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chiefs and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrait of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. Nothing equal to it. RED JACKET AXE!

The Red Jacket Colburn Axe is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—The bit with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By cutting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

Heaton & Denckla, Philadelphia, Pa.;—Hart Manufacturing Co., New York; — Welch & Griffiths, Boston, Mass.; W. H. Cole, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S

Hair Vigor:

For the Renovation of the Hair.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

HURSELL'S

Purity, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

State Assayer's Office, 29 State Street, Boston.

Messrs. Hursell, Wood & Co.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

THE

TEA COMPANY

Will Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to Fine Flavored Teas, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per month than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and eating houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $20 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT Tea to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

55, 57 & 59 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the country to act as Agent for the towns where we have not already appointed one, and are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed

JOHN STOKELL & CO.
Agents for Portsmouth.

JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

The Chronicle.

LIFE IN ALASKA. — One can hardly imagine the rapidity with which summer comes on in this region. On the 27th of May the river was full of ice.—Ten days after the voyagers had to lie by during the noon-tide heat. The thermometer then stood at 80 deg. in the shade. On the 9th of June the Americans parted with their Russian companions. On the 23d they reached Fort Yukon, having rowed and tracked 600 miles against a swift current. The trip had lasted 29 days, out of which they had laid by only three. A few weeks later they descended the same space, having the current with them, in seven days.

They remained at Fort Yukon until the 8th of July, being most hospitably entertained. The fort had quite a civilized look. There were freshly plastered walls, glazed windows, and open fire places, magazines, stores, fur-room and ice-well. Camped around the fort were quite five hundred Indians, who had come there to trade. Some wore their native costumes of skins; others were tricked out in the coats and shirts of civilized people. One old chief, known as "Red Leggings," was gorgeous in a scarlet coat, with brass buttons and epaulettes. The Indians were of many tribes. There were, for example, Foolish Folks, Wood Folks, Birchbark Folks, Rat Folks, and Hill Folks.

The fur-room of the fort was a rare sight. From the beams hung marten skins by the thousand, while the cheaper kinds of furs were lying upon the floor in huge heaps. There was a fair supply of the skins of the silver-gray and black foxes. The latter is by far the most valuable. There is a story that one unlucky employee of the company bought the skin of a white fox, which had been cunningly dyed black, paying more for it in pounds than he should have paid shillings; the overplus was deducted from his salary.—"Skins" are the currency of Fort Yukon. The unit is a beaver skin, estimated at about half-a-dollar. Two martens count as one beaver, and so on.

The one thing which strikes the reader at once, and which confirms what is told by Richardson, Kane, Hall, and all other Arctic explorers, is the superabundance of animal life existing in these northern regions. Strange as it may seem, tropical and semi-tropical regions are almost bare of living creatures. Strain and his party wandered for weeks through the thick forests of Central America, never seeing an animal, or rarely even a bird; and as far as one can judge, the rivers seemed almost destitute of fish. But life abounds in the Arctic regions. The rivers swarm with fish almost begging to be caught. The Kamschatdales have reindeer by the thousand. Whymper and his friends, during their brief stay at Nulato, bought the skins of 800 white hares, which were used to cover their blankets. The Indians had caught them and appropriated the meat to their own use. Moose meat, varied by beaver, is the standing food of those who have got tired of salmon and such like fish. The delicacies are a moose's nose and a beaver's tail. A. H. GUERNSEY, in Harper's Magazine.

MARK TWAIN ON THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We stopped a short time at Cheyenne, but not long enough to visit Mr. Cheyenne, the venerable inventor of the place. A few stations westward we stopped for dinner. A singular practice has been introduced on the Pacific road—that of ringing a bell at the conclusion instead of the commencement of a repast. As the hotels are unprovided with bells, those on the locomotive engines are made to answer the purpose.

There was a sign on the tavern door, which read, "Bare Stake and dear meet for dinner." I swallowed a "bare stake" point foremost, and have been as stiff and as straight as a lightning rod ever since. I had no time for the "dear meet," though the "bare" was a little on that order.

The engine uttered a war whoop and we plunged into the mountains, or rather among the mountains, found ourselves surrounded on all sides by craggy peaks, impenetrable ravines, untutored savages, and beasts of prey. There is a vast difference between an American wilderness and an African wilderness, besides the mere consideration of geographical miles. In one you are continually surrounded by black bears; in the other by bare blacks. The woods and mountains and hollows were lined with Indians. They must have been, for there were none visible on the outside.

I have been asked repeatedly to state my views concerning the future of the Rocky Mountain region. As to its utility, I am free to confess, so far as the ordinary purposes of civilization are concerned, that is, regarding agricultural pursuits, and the more perilous but at the same time more remunerative pursuit of mining, or even the pursuit of buffalo, with the Pacific slope in constant communication with the East Indies and New Jersey, I am justified, I conscientiously believe, in declaring that the result will be, at no far distant day, precisely as I have stated. Wouldn't you?

SLANDER.

'Twas but a breath—
And yet a woman's fair fame wilted,
And friends once fond grew cold and stilled;
And life was worse than death.

One venomed word,
That struck its coward poisoned blow
In craven whispers hushed and low;
And yet the wide world heard.

'Twas but one whisper—one—
That thing the sland er dare not name,
And yet its work was done.

A hint so slight,
And yet so mighty in its power,
A human soul, in one short hour,
Lies crushed beneath its blight.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases like many other the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to do an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. At the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

For the Chronicle.

St. Mary's Church.—Messrs. Eds.: Having attended the Roman Catholic Church of this City during the closing days of the season of Lent, I propose to give your readers a few items, which may prove interesting if not instructive to the uninitiated. Lent, according to the most ancient tradition, is of Apostolic institution, and was established by the early Church, to instruct her children in the obligation of doing penance during their whole life, and prepare them to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ, by making them partake in some degree of his sufferings, thro' which it was necessary for him to pass, before he entered into his glory. It is also commemorative of the forty days' fast, which Christ sustained in the desert; as well as the fast of John the Baptist, his precursor.

The season of Lent is included in those days between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday.—Ash Wednesday is a day of public penance and humiliation through the whole Church of God, so called from the ceremony of blessing ashes, wherewith the Priest signs the people with the cross on their foreheads, giving them this admonition, "Remember, man, that dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return," (Gen. II, 9,) to remind them of their mortality, and prepare them for the Holy Fast of Lent, which begins on this day. The ashes are made of the palms blessed on the Palm Sunday before.

Easter is a movable feast, and is regulated by the full moon of the Vernal Equinox. The first Council of Nice, held in the year 325, decreed that the Feast of Easter should be celecrated on the Sunday following the full moon, which falls either on the 21st of March (which was looked upon, then, as the day of the Equinox,) or on the days following, till the 18th of April. Should the 18th of April be a Sunday, Easter would be the Sunday following, which would be the 25th. Easter, then, can be no later than the 25th of April, nor earlier than the 22d of March; hence the beginning of Lent is regulated by the changes in the date of Easter.

The last week of Lent is called, by the Church, Holy Week, because it embraces the passion, death and resurrection of our Savior. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of Holy Week, the Office of Tenebræ is recited or chanted; during which fourteen yellow lights, mounted on a triangular candlestick, are extinguished one by one, after each psalm, leaving only the white one at the summit lighted. This extinction of the lights typifies the abandonment of our Savior during his passion. During these days, the silence and solemnity of the ceremonial is deeply impressive. On Maundy Thursday the ornaments are stripped from the altar, and are not restored until Holy Saturday. On Easter day, which commemorates the glorious Resurrection of our Savior from the tomb, and which is the close of Lent, is ushered in with hymns of joy and praise; the altar is again redolent with the perfume of flowers, and the priests and acolytes are arrayed in white robes, betokening innocence and joy.

The Church has always considered this the first and most solemn of the festivals she celebrates. The passion of our Lord is commemorated with tears and works of penance, only to celebrate the more joyfully the mystery of the resurrection; for as St. Paul teaches us, this mystery is the foundation of Christianity, for while it taught the divinity of Christ, it also taught the resurrection of man. The services Sunday were peculiarly edifying; the altar was beautifully decorated with flowers and wreaths; the Mass from Beethoven was intoned with thrilling power and pathos by Father Murphy; and the choir, under the skillful leadership of Mr. Horrox, with Miss Smith as soprano, Miss Mahoney as alto, Mr. Malsbenden tenor, and Mr. Bright basso, discoursed music, sweet, joyful, delicious. The Gloria and a portion of the Stabat Mater thrilled with the soul of music, and touched every fibre of the heart as it stole upward.

At the conclusion of the service, Father Murphy delivered a sermon, brief but eloquent, touching the Mysteries of the Resurrection, and the joy that should pervade avery Christian soul, in the contemplation of Christ's triumph over death and his enemies, and the heritage he has won for us by the death and resurrection of his humanity. He ended by conjuring his flock to follow the examples that Jesus had set them; and if they would enjoy the glory of his resurrection, they must follow in the blood-stained footsteps of Christ, and take up his cross.

At Vespers, just before the Benediction of the Sacrament, I had the pleasure of witnessing the right of Baptism administered to a convert who also made a public profession of faith in the doctrine of the Catholic church. The Priest was vested in a white surplice, as denoting innocence; and two stoles, one violet, the other white; the violet color signified the unhappy state to which sin has reduced mankind.—After the exorcisms, the Priest put on the white stole, as the symbol of innocence conferred by the Sacrament. The ceremony of admission into the fold of the church was touching and solemn, and created a strong impression upon the convert. Occasional.

A National (?) Fight.—Two members of the House committee on elections, Mr. Stevenson of Ohio, a republican, and Mr. Burr of Illinois, a democrat, had a regular knock-down in the committee room on Friday, in which Mr. Burr got the worst of it, and seems to have been the aggressor.

Tea Coming.—Ship John Norman, for New York, with 312,000 pounds of tea, and barque Brilliant, for Boston, with 228,454 pounds of tea, sailed from Yokohama, March 1.

☞ At a recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association, it was voted to recommend to the Legislature, such an amendment to the present law of Libel in the State, as that the truth may be put in evidence as justification. Good so.

—Iowa farmers have begun to sow wheat.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess some vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the Blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Without a Good Digestion

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable, would give half of his fortune to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has tried a friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, intimating that he has no faith in any "patent medicine." If this has been the case, so much the worse for him. His incredulity dooms him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure.—His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. These are the consistent patronize and recommend HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Why do they approve this famous anti-dyspeptic and anti-bilious preparation? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Strike, but hear," said the Roman sage, when his injured form, and the impossibility of his doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion, or biliousness, or intermittent fever, by the Bitters, as he relates his experience of the medicine to his invalid friends. Whoever is so weddded to his own fetgeone theoretical conclusions as to decline to test the properties of a medicine endorsed by the testimony of intelligent men in every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer. m25

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had his leg badly broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He is now comfortable to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

Letter from Dr. Fuller of Peekskill.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an effect almost magical, while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

1862. 1847. 1868.

In 1862 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His son, Wilkins IV., subsequently used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physicians declaring it incurable to other cases, he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Sudden Coughing and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Inflammations and Pains in the Joints and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used at the first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 19 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who are not unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of a Waltham Watch the question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by this answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. In the head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our productions at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that today we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted the best, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, when services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics are the ablest we have had in the time of any contry. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other manufacturers, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility or indisposition to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! disease and death lurks in the grave but waiting for the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind develop for fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and hastens the grave but waiting for life;

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SHALL PORTSMOUTH HAVE A PARK? The following Resolutions were passed unanimously in the Common Council, last week; and in the Board of Aldermen, stand referred to the Committee on Bills on 2d Reading,—for report on Thursday evening next probably:

Resolved, by the City Council of Portsmouth, that we learn with much pleasure and satisfaction of the donation by John Elwyn, Esq., of a beautiful and valuable Lot of Land on the southern shore of the South Mill-pond, for a public Common or Mall in this City—to a Board of Trustees in charge of same;—and that we deem it the duty as well as privilege of the City Government, and all citizens and others interested in the improvement of the City, to countenance, encourage and aid the said desirable project to completion, by all practicable means.

Resolved, that in accordance with the desire of the Trustees of said proposed Common or Park, the sum of three thousand dollars ($3000) be and is hereby appropriated towards building a Road around the shore of the South Mill-pond, extending from Pleasant Street, at the Universalist Church, to the said land donated; and that this sum be included in the Appropriation Bill for 1869: Provided, that said sum shall be paid to said Trustees when, and not before, they shall have collected and received a like amount of three thousand dollars ($3000) for the same general purpose of making said Road and Common, by private subscription.

It is now two years since Mr. Elwyn gave the lot for a Common; and if it is ever to be improved and made available a beginning must be made, and some exertions is necessary. The most feasible and judicious plan would seem to be, to expend a few thousand dollars each year, until completed. A Bridge to cross the Pond was the first project, but a marginal Road around the shores is preferred by owners of the Pond and other parties from whom considerable aid and encouragement is expected, and it would be a grand feature.

One gentleman of wealth and position, in this city, thinks the Sons of Portsmouth abroad, will subscribe most likerally for the project—even to giving fifty thousand dollars to build this Road and stone around the shore of the Pond—as they well might and we hope will do.

The owners of the South Millpond are Messrs. W. P. Jones, M. H. Wentworth, A. R. Hatch and Oliver Ayers.

The Park Trustees are, Messrs. Albert L. Jones, T. Salter Tredick, Alfred M. Hoyt, Henry M. Clark, and Frank W. Miller.

The land on the marsh that would be needed by the proposed Road, belongs mainly or wholly we believe to Mrs. Burroughs, Samuel Hale, Esq., Col. J. W. Peirce, Dr. D. H. Peirce, and Mr. Elwyn.

☞ Rev. R. P. Ambler, of the Universalist Church in this city, preached his farewell sermon to his people, and a large audience, last Sunday after a pastorate of two years and three months; and commences his ministry next Sunday with the Universalist Society in Medford, Mass., where we understand he is to receive $2000 per annum.

He took for his text Math. 20c, 24v, "But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God." The Scripture lesson was selections from Chap. 4th of Ephesians; and his discourse was marked with the ability and scholarly finish for which Mr. Ambler is noted. His closing words were, "Farewell, brethren" He was formerly a Spiritualist, and once filled an engagement here of a week, with that denomination, several years ago.

EASTER SUNDAY.—The anniversary was especially interesting from its recurring upon the original day for the first time for nearly a century and a half. Owing to the change of reckoning in the calendar the church has not celebrated Easter on the 28th of March since 1725,—144 years.

Appropriate ceremonies were held in the churches in this city. The decorations of flowers at the Episcopal and Unitarian churches were particularly noticeable.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Rev. James DeNormandie, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever and throat disease, contracted during his late visit to the South, is improving in health. His temporary absence from his post of duty led to considerable anxiety on the part of parishioners and friends generally, who will rejoice to know of his convalescence and wish him a speedy recovery.

☞ It is the intention to fit the U. S. S. Galena for sea in 10 days, and about 50 workmen were employed at the Navy Yard on Sunday last. A suspicious chap inquires "why this haste?"

THE SUPPLY of sensible, capable and efficient American girls of good character, willing to do housework, seems to be hardly equal to the demand in this city. Whether it is in consequence of the blissful ignorance which comes of want of knowledge and experience, or the depraved ideas of modern times have demoralized useless young ladies who otherwise might be more useful, we know not; but the fact that an advertisement of work wanted by a young lady who is capable of doing all kinds of housework brought a dozen or more applicants for her services, speaks for itself. The scarcity may work to the pecuniary advantage, however, of the few who are in demand.

☞ The Franklin House in this city has been renovated and tidied-up considerably, and is now under the personal charge of Col. Wm. S. Hadley, as is also the National. The Barbers have been removed from the front room at the Franklin, which will be restored to the old use of a sitting and reading room.

Mr. James S. Peirce, of the Sagamore, is fitting the large dwelling house of Mr. N. Jones, on Vaughan Street, for a Hotel, Billiard Saloon, &c.

A LADY ON A VELOCIPEDE.—The Velocipede Exhibition opens at the Temple to-day. The Hall will be open between 7 and 12 o'clock, from 2 to 5, and in the evening. Miss Ella Franklin will ride between 3 and 4 o'clock, this afternoon, and again in the evening. Dan Kern and Sidney Franklin will also perform wonderful feats, while several Portsmouth circumrotators will do their best.

☞ Schooner Abbie S. Oakes, loaded with Corn, and bound to this port, was run into off Catharine Ferry, Brooklyn, while in tow of the tug "Unit," by the steamer City of Hartford, on the morning of the 27th inst, and subsequently sunk off Hunter's Point. The wrecking steamer "John Fuller" is engaged in raising her. The cargo was consigned to Charles Robinson & Son.

ANOTHER.—We learn that Mr. James Miller is to erect a dwelling on his lot corner of Broad and South Streets, the coming season. Probably nearly a dozen new houses will, ere another winter, stand between Middle and South Streets, on what was two years ago a desolate and unproductive waste.

☞ It is generally understood, and regretted, that Superintendent Philbrick of Portsmouth City Farm, will accept the position of Keeper of the County Farm at Brentwood; and the City Council will probably be called upon to elect his successor on Thursday evening.

☞ Those arrow rifles, are the delight of every one who sees them. They are neat, and a very pretty thing for either girls or boys to fire at a target with. E. A. Stevens has them.

☞ Ploughing has been going on to a considerable extent in this vicinity, during the whole month of March—first of snow, and latterly of mud.

☞ Luke Long made quite a disturbance at the Advent Chapel during services on Sunday, and was ejected from the building.

☞ We understand that Mr. Wm. R. Martin has been appointed Surveyor at this port.

PLAYING INCENDIARY.—A little five-year-old boy, last Saturday afternoon, entering his father's bonnet-bleaching room opposite the Journal office while no one was present, lighted and set fire to a barrel of straw, and retired to the outside of the glass-lighted door to witness the effect of his experiment. Fortunately the extraordinary illumination, as the flames ascended to the ceiling, attracted the attention of the boys in our office, and what might have been a serious fire was speedily suppressed.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED PERFECTED SPECTACLES and Eye Glasses. The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller, Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

JOSH BILLINGS ON GRASSHOPPERS.—The grasshopper is a bird of mussel. He kin jump further than enny other bird uv his age and wait that cums under the bed uv mi rekollecshun.

The grasshopper is a amalgumated bird. He is part bird, and part quadrooped, and part legs. He is mostly the latter. His behind legs is longer than his be 4 legs, and tha are brawder and wider and stronger and more develluped like. To his credit be it said, his legs are seldom used for kickin purposes. Tha are too valooable as a means of locomoshun.

Natur, in his wisdom, has pervided the grasshopper with 2 wings—1 on 2 each side uv his boddy. Theas are uv grate servis 2 him when he wants 2 convert 1 uv his hops in 2 a general fli. He is a sorin animul and a singin bird likewise. I can't edzacktly make up mi mind whether he sores as he sings or sings as he sores, but on the whole I think he duz.

Grasshoppers is uv 2 kinds—male and female. There are sum uther varieties, but tha are not menshuned in history. Tha travel in regimentle order, 2 or 3 hundred deep, in medders and cow paster and sich places, and sum how or uther tha are always goin the same way yew are, and manage with pleasin sucksess to keep ahed of yew.

Grasshopers is most frequent in summer. Tha seldum sta out late uv nights, and do not bum around enny in winter. Tha are a summer fowl exclooosively, and are a sign of grass.

I have knowed grasshoppers not yet out of their teens, that could sore 3 feet high purpendickerly, and hop 200 yards horizontully, on a bright, bootiful day Jewli, for stumps.

HOEING CORN.—Editors Country Gentleman: Your correspondent X. in your issue of Feb. 4th, in his remarks respecting Mr. J. B. Walker's corn culture, is laboring under a mistake in supposing that his land is exceedingly weedy, in the general acceptation of the term weedy. His land is not badly infested with wormwood, pig-weed and other annual "weed," but his grounds are filled with the roots of twitch grass, and it is this pest that renders it necessary to go over his corn-fields three times with the cultivator and the hand-hoe. Notwithstanding the heavy expense of cultivating this crop, he realizes a net profit of about $34 per acre, which X. says "is not bad."

In his succeeding crops, he obtains a still greater profit per acre. Mr. Walker is one of the best farmers in our county, and adapts his farming to the locality in which he resides. Hay being the most profitable farm crop, his farming operations and principally directed to that crop. He has about 100 acres of intervale land on the western side of the Merrimack River, most of which is arable, nearly level, and as free from obstruction to his farm implement as long as a cultivated prairie. He usually plants from four to six acres of corn. After the corn is harvested, say in November, the stubble ground is plowed and sown with timothy and red-top seed. The next season he cuts two bulky crops of grass, similar to second crop. This makes capital fodder for milch cows and young cattle.

If oats follow the corn crop, they grow so rank that it is bad harvesting them, and a portion of the crop is nearly worthless. But as he requires a large amount for his horses, that are kept in the stable the year round, he turns over about six acres annually and sows with oats, harvesting 35 to 40 bushels per acre. The oats are threshed with flails, for the purpose of having the straw suitable for filling under beds, &c.—the straw selling for about $25 per acre. In the autumn the oat stubble is turned under, the land manured and grass seed sown.

He usually mows his grass lands six years in succession, averaging at least two tons of stable hay per acre, for the six years. For the past four years, his hay has averaged $25 per ton. He has good horses, mowing machines, hay tedder and horse rake. He estimates the cost of cutting and storing his hay at $3 per ton; cutting from 120 to 140 tons per year, and selling from 60 to 75 tons annually; feeding the remainder to his farm stock, the manure of which, with the annual purchase of about $200 worth of stable manure, enables him continually to increase the fertility of his farm, which has been under cultivation for 140 years, and all this long while has been owned and occupied by the Walker family—now in the hands of J. B. W., of the fourth generation of that name. L. BARTLETT.

Warner, N. H., Feb., 1869.

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE must appear fearfully and wonderfully made to a foreigner. One of them, looking at the picture of a number of vessels, said, "See what a flock of ships." He was told that a flock of ships was called a fleet, and that a fleet of sheep was called a flock. And it was added, for his guidance, in mastering the intricacies of our language, that a flock of girls is called a bevy, that a bevy of wolves is called a pack, and a pack of thieves is called a gang, and that a gang of angels is called a host, and that a host of porpoises is called a shoal and a shoal of buffaloes is called a herd, and a herd of children is called a troop, and a troop of partridges is called a covey, and a covey of beauties is called a galaxy, and a galaxy of ruffians is called a horde, and a horde of rubbish is called a heap, and a heap of oxen is called a drove, and a drove of blackguards is called a mob, and a mob of whalers is called a school, and a school of worshippers is called a congregation, and a congregation of engineers is called a corps, and a corps of robbers is called a band, and a band of locusts is called a swarm, and a swarm of people is called a crowd.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Stephen G. Philbrick on the 9th instant voted the 77th time at the annual election in Tamworth, never voting in any other town, which is probably without a parallel in the State, if not in the United States. Mr. Philbrick cast his first vote for Gen. Washington at his second election and his last one for Onslow Stearns, the Governor elect. He is ninety-eight years old, having been an inhabitant of T. for ninety-five years, and was never confined to the house for a day by sickness and never took any medicine. He steps as spry as a boy, and stands as erect as a man of forty. His mental faculties are unimpaired.

In Tamworth, recently, William Price caught in a small steel trap a white headed eagle that measured from tip to tip seven and one-half feet, from the tip of the bill to the end of tail, three feet, weighing eleven pounds.

Max Shinborn, who went through the planks of our State Prison gate about two years ago, has committed a robbery in New York. Shinborn and a "pal" were arrested, held a week, and peacefully let go on disgorging three-fourths of the plunder. There is no doubt that Max and his chum kept the rest—"for their honesty," probably.—The Concord Patriot records the item for the benefit of those who once admired the fine eyes and sweet voice of this notorious jail-bird, as seen and heard at Sabbath services at the State Prison.

Three students have entered the New Hampshire Agricultural College.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHO SAYS No, it cannot be done? I tell you it is false. Catarrh can be radically cured. Use Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR. Pint bottles, $1, in white wrappers, or send to Dr. Wolcott, 170 Chatham square, N. Y., $5, for six pints, sent free of express charges; or one pint of Wolcott's PAIN PAINT, if you suffer any pain. 2wsaw

IT IS A WELL-KNOWN fact that the Circassian beauties possess magnificent heads of hair. If its possession can lend additional charms to the semi-enlightened ladies of Circassia, how much more does it adorn the beauty of our highly-cultivated American belles. It is easily attained by the use of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer."—Washington (D. C.) Chronicle.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the recipe is wrapped around each bottle. Don't go home without a bottle. m12

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1855, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific, including the most complete scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Mormons—Its origin, rise, progress—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will sell as well as other Books. NOTHING EQUAL TO IT. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to or address HARTFORD, Conn., 26 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

TO THE WORKING CLASS:—I am now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at their homes, the whole of the time, or for the spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Fifty cents to $5 per evening is easily earned by persons of either sex, and the boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. Great inducements are offered those who will devote their whole time to the business; and, that every person who sees this may send me their address and test the business for themselves, I make the following unparalled offer: To all who are not well satisfied with the business, I will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing me. Full particulars, directions, &c., sent free. Sample sent by mail for 10 cts. Address E. C. ALLEN, Augusta, Me.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable character of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

THE

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively cheapest, as the Government Duty, 12 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

THE LONE FISH-BALL.

A Collegiate Legend of Indeterminate Origin.

[The chorus, being a repetition of each verse, is to be incontinently sung by all who hear the solo. The music has been arranged to suit this, and may be altogether disregarded by the singers without much injury to the effect. Expression, however, is all-important, from the tenderest pianissimo to the most allegrotic, staccatic vim.]

There was a man
Went up and down
To seek a dinner through the town.

What wretch is he
That wife forsakes
Who best of jams and waffles makes?

He counts his cash,
To know his pence,
And finds he has but just six cents.

He finds at last
A right cheap place,
And enters in with modest face.

The bill of fare
He searches through,
To see what his six cents will do.

The cheapest viand
Of them all
Is "twelve-and a half cents for two fish-ball."

The waiter he
To him doth call,
And gently whispers, one fish-ball.

The waiter roars
It through the hall;
The guests they start at one fish-ball!

The guest then says
(Quite ill at ease),
A piece of bread, sir, if you please.

The waiter roars
It through the hall—
We don't give bread with one fish-ball.

Who would have bread
With one fish-ball,
Must get it first or not at all.

Who would fish-ball
With fixings eat,
Must get some friend to stand a treat.

Why People go to Meeting, (A Dialogue.)

Manchester News.—We have not a doubt that Uncle Toby is honest in all he has said upon this point; but let him, if it were possible so to do, take away from the people the dress, the expectation of seeing dress or of showing it for others to see, and, in our opinion his congregation could be counted without many figures. We do not say that all go to see and be seen—there are exceptions; to the rule. Real Christians would not think about dress—but the fashionable class of people are not all Christians.

U. T.—Perhaps all fashionable people are not Christians; yet we dare say that many of them are so, indeed and in truth. But then we do not believe that real Christians would be thoughtless about dress, or that they ought to be. Jesus told his disciples not to be like the hypocrites, who disfigured their faces that they might appear to men, to fast,—"but thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face!"—If it was proper on a religious fast, to appear comely, surely it is so on a religious feast, and such is the Sabbath.

We would not take away, from any of our congregations, the dress, or the music, or the social friendly gathering. We would not take away the sermon, nor the prayers, nor even the prayer books or organs. All these things are accessories, and all may be great helps, to cheerful, pleasant, acceptable public worship, beneficial to the worshipper, and honorable to God, who looks thro' the veil into the heart, and who doubtless sees much true devotion where short sighted mortals see only show.

STREET SMOKERS.—A Boston correspondent relieves himself of his feelings of disgust at this nuisance in the following terms, which though severe are deservedly so:

"A street smoker, how shall I characterize him? I cannot better describe his presence than in the words of the sister of Lazarus, 'Behold he stinketh!' Every where I go, in street or car or counting-room, the sickening effluvia of the pipe is driven into my face and lungs from the dirty mouths of smokers. Garlic is not pleasant, onions not fragrant, nor the breath from a sour stomach or defective teeth calculated to invite contact. But the stench of pipes is more painfully pungent. Bad enough is it to have tobacco smoke in private quarters, but to have the streets and public places filled with it, is rather too much for one to bear with serenity. Rev. Dr. Dwight said in our hearing, 'that if men must smoke out of doors they ought to have streets set apart for their use, where they might spit and smoke to their heart's content.' So mote it be."

To this, we add the remark of Horace Greely: "The chewing, smoking or snuffing of tobacco, has seemed to me, if not the most pernicious, certainly the vilest, most detestable abuse of his corrupted sensual appetites whereof depraved Man is capable."

—A benzinist in Terre Haute tried to climb a fence into his yard the other night, but by mistake clambered over the well-curb and tumbled down sixty feet, where he was found in about a week. He was—well!

—A compromise has been made in Paris between the long and short dresses. The latter are to be worn by ladies with small feet, while others are to be allowed to sport trains.

—A correspondent asks the Philadelphia Press "What is the crowning glory of Andy Johnson's official career?" and answers, "In getting Mudd out of the Dry Tortugas."

—The latest style of asking one to take a drink is to propose a change of breath, and being dead drunk is styled being in a trance.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—and early revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

TROUBLE WITH SPAIN.—The Spanish frigate Andalusia has seized the American brig Mary Lowell at Ragged Island, a British port, and taken the brig to Cuba as a prize. The seizure caused great excitement, and may involve Spain in a war with America and England. The Mary Lowell had supplies for the Cuban insurrectionists, and was flying the United States flag when seized.

A repetition of this kind of outrage might induce Uncle Sam to "go for Cuba."

The News.

The Reform League has ceased to exist in England, having fulfilled its mission.

Ogden is to be the point of junction for the Union and Central Pacific Railroads,—perhaps!

Six miles of the Union Pacific Railroad were laid on Saturday.

The National Peace Jubilee at Boston commences June 16th and will continue five days.

President Grant sent to the Senate on Monday the nomination of George Earle, first assistant postmaster-general, in place of General Skinner. He was formerly law-partner of Postmaster General Cresswell.

Boggs is dead. He was formerly a partner with President Grant, in St. Louis.

The President was forty-seven last Thursday.

Hon. Henry L. Dawes has declined the appointment on the Massachusetts Supreme Bench, tendered to him by Governor Claflin.

Only about 700 men are now employed in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Alex. H. Stephens is very ill.

America and Prussia have had no difficulty since Washington's time.

Good Bye, March.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Monday, joint resolutions continuing the pay of enlisted men in the army at the present rates until June, 1870, and dropping from the rolls all officers absent without leave were passed. On the announcement of the non-concurrence of the House in the action of the Senate on the tenure-of-office question, motions to insist and ask a committee of conference, and to recede and agree with the House, were at once made, and both were debated at considerable length. Finally the motion to recede was lost—20 to 37—and the motion to insist and ask for a conference committee was carried. Messrs Cragin and Patterson of N. H. voted with the majority.

MAINE NEWS.—At the Easter service on Sunday evening the Episcopal Church at Thomaston was so crowded that part of the flooring gave way, precipitating 150 into the unfinished basement below. Two persons were seriously injured, one had limbs broken, and many were wounded slightly.

The Lewiston Journal says a little daughter of J. C. Hackett of Minot owns a Leghorn hen that has been petted till she can be handled very readily. Recently the little girl put her pet in the lap of her mother, whereupon biddy immediately swallowed a gold pin that had become unfastened from Mrs. H.'s dress. The pin was an inch long, a third of an inch wide, and weighed three-fourths of an ounce. To save the pin and the life of the pet, Mr. H. cut open the crop of the hen, extracted the pin, and then closed up the wound. The hen recovered rapidly, and in a week returned to her duty of laying eggs.

HOW THE DIFFICULTY COMMENCED NEAR SWATOW, CHINA.—The commander of one of the English vessels when passing the village in his boats was pelted with stones. He seized the leader of the party and was taking him to Swatow, but was intercepted and fired upon by the villagers, who wounded 11 of his men. He returned the fire, killing 11 and wounding 30 of his assailants.

WONDER HOW THEY LIKE IT?—A Spanish man-of-war had captured the British ship Jeff Davis, which was returning with a cargo of sponges, and had also boarded and searched the schooner Britannia.

—The new rule for contestants for seats in Congress has been applied in the case of Hoge against Reed of South Carolina. Reed admits his ineligibility, and under the House resolution he cannot contest any further, or if he does, will not obtain compensation.

— Sugar culture is rapidly increasing in Louisiana, and is getting more and more into the hands of the small farmers.

A few evenings since, with bright moonshine and good sleighing, the large volunteer choir of the North Church in Concord rode out in a great sleigh to the west part of the town, and treated Deacon Farnham to an evening's concert of Psalmody. They were 24 in number.

One Sherburn Dearborn, from the rural districts, being in Manchester on election night, was invited to step in and "take something," which he did, leaving his horse and sled at the door; but when he came out the team was gone. He found the sled afterwards, but the horse is missing yet.

In Lake Village there is a house so located that a person standing in a certain position can see through two of its windows to another house. A lady passing it one evening saw a supposed ghost at the window, and was immensely scared. The matter was explained by a common sense friend, and the lady now feels cheap in proportion to her alarm.

At Walpole, recently, certain persons who are opposed to secret societies, organized an Anti Secret Society. Resolutions were passed emphatically denouncing Free Masonry and all other secret organizations, and declaring that the association will not aid, assist or support any person belonging to any secret order or society, for any office whatever. The organization has got a "hard row to hoe."

In Sutton, on the 22d inst., while Mr. John C. Bean was shooting at a target with a gun which he had just repaired, the breech pin flew out, entering his forehead and destroying the sight of one eye. On the 25th, he was still alive and hopeful of recovery, but his brain protrudes from the wound and the injury may prove fatal.

Hosea W. Parker of Claremont, the late democratic candidate for Congress in the third district, will contest the election of Jacob Benton of Lancaster, the present republican congressman from that district, on the grounds of alleged illegal voting in Claremont. He claims that there were fifty-three more votes declared in that town than there were names checked on the list, and that the case is similar to that of Congressman Julian of Indiana.

Mr. James Ordway, who died in Kensington Sunday morning, was 92 years and two months old. He has never missed a Town meeting but twice, and then on an account of sickness.

Daniel Clifford, representative elect of Danville, entertained his friends at his house of Saturday evening. An oyster supper was served with other refreshments in abundance, and partaken of by the large company in attendance with a zest, heightened by general conversation, repartee, &c. Remarks were made by Hon. I. L. Robinson of Fremont and others, Mr. Clifford is one of the staunch republicans and dates his conversion to the faith that saved our country, from the time John P. Hale refused to bow to the demands of slavery and the slave power.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, create a keen appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effect but which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which is the result of these Bitters.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale by WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. m8m3md

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled nature be neglected. Respond promptly to it by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, an ALTERATIVE, and an ALTERATIVE.—Before three days have elapsed from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revitalization of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and biliousness, the same salutary results will be manifest. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver will rapidly subside.—The sudden changes of Spring often induce these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and bilious at this season. m31

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and every affection of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

DR. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plaster. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had a wonderful effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

1802. 1847. 1868.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to effect a cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 I put it out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and innocent to apply externally, and safe to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Croup, Colic, Cramp, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Toothache, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Contractions and Pains in the Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. For Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 16 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Holloway's Ointment and Pills

work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect, penetrating and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch makes it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers, who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those intending to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view our policy has always been to sell to all our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together.

WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, they always invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid lines, the flaccid muscles and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. But, instead of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parents heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Cold Sweats, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and they dare not trust their secret for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died elegantes, as they were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the saddening melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits the Mind; a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the numerous cases above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S GENUINE UNCRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, thus throwing it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use, unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions (of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they begin medicine to stop the cough, to stop the sweats, to stop night sweats, to check diarrhea, when they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord, so no one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and are decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost the power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pill freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and from 200 to 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly cured have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It strengthens the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

☞ PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R.I., general wholesale Agents for the Eastern States.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart Frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

IF NOT, WHY?—Most live and sensible people would enjoy a public Park, Common or Mall, even for our rural and pleasant city. For those who do not think such an institution necessary or desirable, we have no words to waste—our argument is to show that such a design is reasonable and practicable. We have the land—a portion of what is needed, and doubtless more may be procured at a reasonable cost. A general plan of operations is proposed, which meets the approval of good judges in such matters. The great question of course now is, where is the money coming from to do this great and good work?

Let us see—supposing that in ten or in twenty years, thirty or sixty thousand dollars should be expended on a Common, road, pond, &c.,—is anybody short-sighted enough to call that lost or thrown away? To begin with, as most of the money would be paid to our own home mechanics, laborers, &c., would not a very large percentage of the outlay of citizens come back again in receipts to the same parties? And if the valuation of the property of the immediate vicinity and the town generally will be materially increased by the construction of such a Common, would not it actually be a good and paying money investment—especially when a considerable portion of the necessary funds may very reasonably and naturally be expected to come from Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth abroad?

We believe that good taste, public spirit and enterprise, are as desirable and necessary to the growth and prosperity of Cities and Nations, as for individuals and communities; and we are sure that Portsmouth has never, in the two and a half centuries since the settlement, had a better opportunity for growth and improvement than is now offered in this very project.

P. S.—A gentleman of this city, who is ready, able and willing to be one of the number,—says that the best way to build the Road and border the Pond, is to get twenty-five subscriptions of $2000 each; and we cordially agree with him, and should like to see them forth-coming.

When the Sons of Portsmouth came home in 1853, something of the kind could easily have been done, and should have been, for a memorial of that glorious occasion. We think this can be done now, if rightly managed, and put before the public with the sanction and approval of the citizens and the City Government.

☞ The Charlestown Advertiser thinks that while Secretary Borie of the Navy Department is reforming abuses, the next step should be to return the master mechanics to their old status, and have the business of the Yard performed in accordance with the laws of Congress and common sense. That's just so at this Naval Station.

☞ An order from the Secretary of the Navy, directs the Advertising of that Department to be done henceforth by the Chronicle and Gazette, instead of the rebel hand-organ, as heretofore, under the Welles die-nasty. This is good, not only for the Republican cause, but also for the public most interested as buyers and sellers.

☞ In Police Court, Tuesday, the Stars and Bars newspaper vs. J. B. Flagg, for embezzling collections or deducting his due commission therefrom, was withdrawn from trial by complainant; which of course throws the costs on him,—only it may cost more than it comes to, to collect them.

THE DOLLAR STORE epidemic is spreading fast in Portsmouth. One of our popular druggists, not to be outdone in the new line, has this notice in his window, "16 emetics for one dollar—not to be taken on the premises!"

☞ We don't believe March, which goes out to-day, will be lamented by many—for it has been our most boisterous and severe Winter month. The indications now are, of a backward Spring.

☞ Whether the severe rain storm of Monday and Tuesday was the Equinoctial or not,—it will surely pass for an Easterly spell of weather, coming just at this date.

☞ If the very pretty little poem on Anticipation, which comes to us anonymously, really be original, we shall hope to hear from the author again.

☞ Mr. Moses announces to open his Juvenile Singing School this Wednesday Afternoon. Send all the musical girls and boys.

☞ The Bids for the City's Lot of Land on Middle Street, close to-day.

THE BELL OF THE FALMOUTH.—The Dover Enquirer has a little article on the Academy Bell, which we copy below, with a few notes added, which may possibly bring out some recollections of the Privateers, in which fact and fiction are sometimes mixed. The Enquirer says:

The old bell on Franklin Academy, which has summoned so many to scenes of pleasant memory, has quite an interesting history. In 1813, during what is known as the last war, the privateer schooner Thomas, Capt. Shaw, sailed from Portsmouth, and returned in thirteen days, having captured, by boarding, the English ship Falmouth, running from Jamacia to Halifax. The Falmouth had ten long guns—one of which lies partly imbedded in the side of Garrison Hill,—but surrendered to the Thomas without firing a single shot.

When the Falmouth and its cargo were sold for the benefit of the brave captors, this same old bell, which had been used on board that vessel, was bought for the use of the Academy in Dover, and remains still in its belfry, summoning the youth of our city to that ancient and useful seat of learning. There are persons still living in Dover who distinctly remember its tones as it was brought, ringing, up the river on a packet.

NOTES.—The Falmouth mounted 20 guns, 24 pound cannonades, as they were called, very short, and no long ones that we remember; though we were many times on her deck. The Thomas was nicknamed the Revenge, (as it was common to give a fierce name to a privateer.) When the privateer neared the prize and fired a shot and run up a flag, the English crew ran below, except, as the story was told, that one negro sailor staid on deck, and fired the ten guns on the side next to the Thomas, hitting nobody, and doing no harm.

The Falmouth was a ship of almost (but not quite) 500 tons, a great vessel for that day, and had a valuable cargo of Jamaica Rum and Sugar, which, when unloaded covered the Pier wharf. The great ship and her great cargo were objects of curiosity and admiration to the boys generally, and many men in town and country,—and doubtless stimulated the fitting out and manning of privateers from this port.

For the Chronicle.

The re-appointment of Capt. Charles H. Chase to the position of Store Clerk in the Bureau of Construction at the Navy Yard, gives great satisfaction to his numerous friends, and to the public generally.

Capt. Chase was first appointed to this office in July, 1867, at the commencement of the Bureau System, and with his accustomed energy and industry, he labored hard to organize and systemize this department. His long experience as a shipmaster made him familiar with nearly all the Ship Stores entrusted to his custody, and gave him great facility in arranging these articles under their appropriate heads, and in delivering them to vessels then fitting out for service.

After holding this office for seven months, to the entire satisfaction of the department and all concerned, he was suddenly discharged, by order of the late Secretary of the Navy, without assigning any reason for his removal.

His re-instatement, after an absence of more than a year, reflects much credit upon the new Secretary, as well as upon the Board of Enquiry, who so thoroughly investigated his case, and also upon the Commandant of this Yard, for the promptness with which they executed this act of simple JUSTICE.

THE PROPOSED NAVY YARD CHANGES.—Mr. Lynch, of Maine, wants the Navy Yards at this place and Kittery consolidated. Well, who cares? Many people outside of Charleston think that the city would never be heard of again if the navy yard was removed. Senator Grimes thought so once, but his silence upon this question of late would seem to indicate that he thinks better of it. The removal of the navy yard would add a large amount of taxable property to our own city, and we believe a majority of the citizens are not particular as to which action Congress takes.—Charlestown Chronicle.

☞ Schooner Abbie S. Oakes, Rideout, from Baltimore for this port, before reported sunk off Hunter's Point, has been pumped up by the wrecking steamer John Fuller, and is now alongside Shaw & Co.'s elevator, discharging her cargo. She will go into the dry dock for repairs.

☞ The Velocipede Exhibition, by lady and gentlemen riders, continues at the Temple this afternoon and evening. The splendid riding is richly worth seeing. See advertisement, and go and enjoy the fun alive.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

Morning Chronicle.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

ANTICIPATION.

I press with eager feet,
While woods to Autumn tints are brightly turning,
Along the days in gold and crimson burning;
Through soft white days of snow, descending slowly,
And muffled Winter-dawns, and moonlights holy—
The blessed Spring to meet.

There comes a holier thing,
With her glad coming, than the smiling faces;
The violets shall uplift in lowly places,
Or that first, fairest flower, her haunts betraying
By the sweet prayer her fragrant lips are saying—
The morning prayer of Spring.

I scarce shall look to see
How scarlet columbines are gaily swinging,
Nor by the wall the golden May-bells ringing,
Nor purple gay-wings in the greenwood swaying,
Nor in the fields the buttercups a-playing—
So happy I shall be.

Nor yet for thee I long,
O Pentecost! strange ecstasy of brightness,
When trees are robed in sacramental whiteness,
Pink clouds of blossoms make the orchards hazy,
Broad meadows whiten with the ox-eyed daisy,
And woods are wild with song.

For when the snows depart,
And God's great Angel of the Spring advances,
While Nature thrills beneath her kindling glances,
Not on the love-filled earth or passionate sea,
Her gift of gifts, her joy of joys, will be,
But hidden in my heart.

RELIGIOUS PUBLICATIONS IN SPAIN.—The surest and most hopeful means of introducing saving truth into Spain, is by Bibles and religious tracts and books. The Christian press in Spain, as elsewhere, will be the precursor of the established institutions of the Christian church. The facts which are coming to the American Tract Society, of the wide openings, for religious publications where before they could gain no access, should quicken the faith and inspire the determination of American Christians to spread broadcast, and with an enlarged liberality, the Spanish publications of that Society, which constitute the largest and best collection of evangelical literature extant in that language.

The Society has abundant evidence that its publications, which have been sent in large quantities, are gaining admission into Spain, as they have done during past years, notwithstanding the ancient law forbidding the introduction of foreign publications. There is also ground to hope that this law will yet be repealed. The American Tract Society, with a view of enlarging their evangelical work in Spain, have appropriated one thousand dollars to begin the printing of their publications in that country, They look with confidence to the cooperation of Christians in America who desire to rescue that land from the bondage of popery and sin.

THE LAST BREATH.—An aged negress, whose eminent piety had secured for her an extensive reputation, in walking her usual round of visits dropped in upon a neighbor who was equally well known as a temperance man and a hater of tobacco. After being courteously received, the negress pulled from her pocket a long pipe, and commenced smoking some very strong tobacco, to the infinite disgust of her host. The man maintained his composure several minutes, but the fumes and smoke soon became too powerful for him, and rising from his chair, he said:

"Aunt Chloe, do you think you are a Christian?"

"Yes, brudder, I 'spects I is."

"Do you believe in the Bible, Aunty?"

"Yes, brudder."

"Do you know there is a passage in the Scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of Heaven?"

"Yes, I've heard of it."

"Do you believe it?"

"Yes."

"Well, Chloe, you smoke, and you cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven, because there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?"

"Why, I 'spects to leave my breff behind me when I go to Heaven."

GONE GROOMSMEN. — The race of these ornamentals is about to become extinct. Fashion directs that they shall subside. As few of the male sex at a wedding hereafter as possible, the remainder being the favored one and his lady stand-bys. Men may as well make up their minds that they are to be walked out of the millinery business, in all its departments. They have got to surrender the yard stick, to leave the counter, vacate half the desks, let alone fancy work, be banished, save as solitaires, from the wedding, and perhaps be allowed at parties and routs only for the necessity of having somebody to assist in the round dance called the German.

A NEW PARTY.—Some New Hampshire politicians think of inaugurating a new political party. When there is occasion for one, it will spring up of itself without any hot-house coaxing. Just now, there seems to be quite as much necessity for a famine as there is for a new party.—Boston Sunday Times.

— Colorado journals have been compelled to suspend publication. The snow blockade stopped their supplies of paper.

THE DOVER CHURCH CASE.—The Dover Enquirer publishes the whole Decree of the S. J. Court of this State, on the Unitarian Church case. It grants the prayer for the Injunction, taxes the cost at $153.61, and forbids the Wardens and Parishioners—

"to employ, suffer or permit to preach in said Meeting House any person who rejects Christianity altogether; or who teaches that, as a system of Religion, Christianity is partly true and partly false; or who preaches and inculcates a disbelief in the Lordship and Messiahship of Jesus Christ as taught by him in the New Testament Scriptures, or a disbelief in Jesus Christ as the great head of the Church, or of his Divine Mission and Authority as a religious teacher as thus taught by him; or who preaches and inculcates a denial of the doctrine that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament do contain a Divine Revelation given by inspiration of God, and containing a sufficient and perfect rule of faith and practice:

And that said Francis E. Abbott and all and every other person or persons be forever strictly enjoined and forbidden to occupy said Meeting House of said Society for the purpose of preaching and inculcating said disbeliefs, denials and doctrines hereinbefore specially prohibited to be taught therein; and any and all other doctrine or doctrines subversive of the fundamental principles of Christianity as generally received and holden by the denomination of Christians known as Unitarians."

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and morals. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. NOTHING EQUAL TO IT. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to, or address HAWKES' CO., 28 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

TO THE WORKING CLASS:—I am now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at their homes, the whole of the time, or for a portion of the time, or spare moments. Business entirely new, and profitable. Fifty cents to $5 per evening is easily earned by persons of either sex, and the boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. Great inducements are offered those who will devote their whole time to the business; and, that every person who sees this notice may send me their address and test the business for themselves, I make the following unparalled offer: To all who are not well satisfied with the business, I will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing me. Full particulars, directions, &c., sent free. Sample sent by mail for 10 cts. Address E. C. ALLEN, Augusta, Me.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.; HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York; WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE

ORIENTAL

TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price alone."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest. Our Government Duty, 9 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

The Chronicle.

Farmer or Merchant.

Seventeen years since the writer took from a situation as porter and salesman in a village grocery, a young man of promise, of the age of nineteen years, who had sagacity sufficient to be able to compare the chances of success in merchandizing and in agriculture, and see that the latter presented much the greater promise. He commenced as a farm laborer, at the common wages of a farm hand, and made his employer's interest his interest, spent his evenings in reading agricultural journals and other reading devoted to the art to which he had determined to devote his life.

He remained three years, and had his salary annually increased, which he well earned, when he went away to the State of Georgia, to take charge of a large plantation, in which situation he remained but a few years when he purchased and stocked a fine farm of several hundred acres, on which he still lives, and lives as only the farmer out of debt can. The firm he left in the grocery business have since failed, and one of them has failed twice. What a contrast!

How many young men have the same opportunity to-day, and how happy would it be for them if they would only embrace it.

The idea is a delusive one that it is more respectable and the chances of success are greater to the young man to take the position of porter or lackey in a mercantile house in the city, with hope of becoming a salesman, or bookkeeper, and finally a merchant, instead of taking a situation as a farm hand where, with the same industry and application that would secure only a living in the former, he might in a few years become competent to take charge of a large and productive farm, which he could take on shares without capital, and with a great degree of certainty he could in ten or fifteen years save enough to stock a fair farm and make a payment that would number him among the most enviable class of men, known as lords of the soil.

If the youth reared in the country could only see behind the tinsel curtain that conceals so much genteel misery in the city, he would shun it as he would a viper, and would return to the land of his nativity with the firm resolution to make the country his place of abode and field of labor for life.

If the writer with his experience with life in the "country which God made," and the city, that work of man, had a dozen sons to locate in business, he would certainly settle twelve of them on a farm, and the other one too, if it were a baker's dozen. Not one of them should come to the city by his consent, to take the one in one hundred chances of success there offered.—Germantown Telegraph.

A FROZEN FOUNTAIN.—Henry Gardner, of Franklin, has a fountain upon his land which is supplied by so powerful a spring that its stream has not frozen during the winter. It is located on the brow of the hill, about two hundred yards from the railroad, going up, and nearly opposite the depot. The fountain has become, by constant congelation, an immense mass of ice twenty-three feet high and fifty feet in circumference. It still continues in the form of a fountain, having two basins. It is thirty feet in circumference twelve feet from the ground, twenty at the height of eighteen feet, eight at twenty, and two and a half at the height of twenty-two and a half feet. At the height of ten feet it is twelve and a half feet in diameter. In one side is a cave sufficiently large for a child to hide in. Our informant saw it by moonlight and describes the sight as beautiful in the highest degree. Kimball has made stereoscopic views of rare beauty from it, and has them for sale.—Concord Pat.

A STRAY ANGEL.—Rather practical people those who manage the little details connected with public worship at Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's church.—Up to a certain time the seats of pew-holders are reserved without question. After that strangers are treated with all the courtesy that time and occasion will. Now and then a presumptuous ass attempts to "travel" on his dignity; as was the case not long since, when a tall, thin-visaged gentleman, white-cravatted, presented himself, and proceeded to march into the house.

"You can't go in there," said Mr. Palmer, the veteran usher.

"But I am a clergyman."

"We have no particular need of your services to-night, Sir."

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers," said the minister; "you may entertain angels unawares."

"Very true," said Mr. Palmer. "I have seen all sorts of people. I am very certain if I should see an angel I should know him. You must bide your time and take your chance, Sir."—EDITOR'S DRAWER, Harper's Magazine.

— One of the trains on the Boston & Maine Railroad came into Boston, recently, with a very young passenger. The mother of the boy got upon the train at Exeter.

— At the present rate of destruction, Michigan will have no forests seventeen years hence.

THE RHEUMATISM.—Guess, my dear child, what it is that comes the quickest, and goes off the slowest that brings you nearest to health, and removes you the furthest from it; that throws you into the most agreeable situation imaginable, and, at the same time, hinders you from enjoying it; that flatters you with the most pleasing hopes, and keeps you the longest from the accomplishment of them. Can you not guess? Do you give it up? Why, it is the rheumatism. I have had it these three and twenty days; since the fourteenth day I have been free from fever and pain, and in this delightful situation, thinking myself strong enough to walk, which is the summit of my wishes, I find myself swelled all over—feet, legs, hands, arms, and this swelling, which they call my cure, and in reality is so, is the sole occasion of my present vexation; were I good for any thing, I might gain myself some credit by it. However, I believe the enemy is conquered, and that in two days I shall be able to walk. Larmechin gives me great hope of this. I every day receive letters from our friends at Paris, congratulating me on my recovery.—Madame De Sevigne's Letters.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the paroxysms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were broken up, she began to gain by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What would have left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for the distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

The News.

Sing Sing is democratic.

There are heavy freshets in New York State.

Mayor Hall of New York has cautioned the country against the numerous gilt enterprise schemes which have their nominal headquarters in New York city.

Mr. Codrington, the United States consular agent at Gibara, Cuba, who was recently taken to Havana in irons, on suspicion of being a rebel spy, has been released.

The daughter of the lighthouse keeper on Tile Rocks, in Newport harbor, Miss Ada Lewis, rescued two men from drowning on Tuesday, and has once before performed a similar deed.

Commodore Thornton A. Jenkins has resigned his place as head of the Naval Bureau of Navigation, and goes into the Lighthouse Board, while Commodore James Alden will probably take his place in the Navy Department.

Arizona intelligence to March 6 says that Indian depredations were numerous and the military appear to be powerless to render any protection to the settlers. The savages are well armed and provided with ammunition. The news from the Black Canon and Lynx Creek gold mines is encouraging.

A Washington special says the idea has got abroad that the President intends to make a general sweep, and there is good foundation for it. When the recipient of an office has been an active Republican and an honest officer during his term, he may be permitted to remain, but if, at any time, he was tainted with Johnsonism, or if he has performed his duties poorly, he will have to leave.

In response to the congratulations of a delegation of Pennsylvanians who called upon Secretary Borie the other day, that gentleman is reported by the Baltimore Sun to have said that he had never aspired to the position he now occupies, but that he supposed it was given him because of a personal liking of the President for him. He intimated, too, that he would not retain the office very long, as his health was feeble. The impression left by Mr. Borie's remarks was that he would retire at a very early day.

Congress.

The Senate, on Tuesday, passed the Banking Bill which withdraws $30,000,000 from the eastern and northern banks for those of the South and West, which must be done within 3 months.

The House voted not to recede from their former vote on the Tenure-of-office bill, and voted a committee of conference, 105 to 60.

The Committee from the Senate consists of Messrs. Trumbull, Edmunds and Grimes, and from the House of Messrs. Butler, Bingham, and Washburn of Wisconsin. Of these gentlemen Mr. Grimes and Mr. Butler are decidedly for repeal, and Mr. Washburn moderately so, while Mr. Edmunds is very strong for the law, and Messrs. Trumbull and Bingham are for it, but ready to compromise.

☞ The preliminary examination of Robert D. Pyke, charged with the murder of his wife by poison, was concluded in Fitchburg, Mass., on Monday. The principal additional evidence offered was that of Dr. White of Boston, who testified that he examined the organs of the diseased and found no poisonous substance there, but indications of poisoning by oxalic acid. His opinion was very positive that the death was caused by poison. The theory of the prosecution is that the oxalic acid was bought by Pyke in Boston, and administered much diluted, in the form of lemonade. After unusually elaborate pleas by the counsel on both sides, Judge Ware expressed the opinion that the commission of a crime was certain, and that the probability was strong that the prisoner was the guilty party. Pyke was ordered to be committed to await the action of the grand jury.

SPAIN.—In the draft of the new Spanish constitution, the reign of the king is not limited to eighteen years as reported. On the contrary, the possession of the crown remains with the king for life, and descends to his heir, the period of whose majority is fixed at eighteen years of age.

☞ The Chicago Post urges Hon. John Wentworth of that city for the mission to Turkey, on the ground of his familiarity with the subject as president of the Cook County Poultry Association.

New Hampshire Items.

We learn that the glass-works at Lyndeborough have again suspended operations, and that the present company will soon offer the works for sale.—The original stockholders are mostly in Massachusetts, and will be losers to a considerable amount.

Smith French of Danville, recently killed an otter, in a swamp near his house, which weighed 26 pounds.

William Twombly of Madbury, some time since lost a favorite turkey. After fifty-five days entombment, it was found by the removal of some straw, still living.

Lima, Peru, has ordered a steamer from the Amoskeag Company's works.

There have been one hundred and twelve consecutive days of good sleighing in Concord during the past winter.

At Littleton, March 27th, Ezra B. Mann, a freight conductor on the Montreal railroad, was struck on the head by a log which extended beyond the end of the car. His injuries will not prove fatal. He was taken to his home in Woodsville.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAYS.—The testimony before the Senate committee on the Pacific Railroad goes to show that there has been no over-issue of government bonds to the Central Pacific Railroad Company. The bonds were issued in accordance with the law and the facts, and after the opinion of Attorney-General Evarts had been given to the effect that the Secretary of the Treasury could no longer withhold them under the eighth section of the act of 1864, authorizing the issue of two-thirds the amount of bonds upon the completion of the work in advance of laying the rails. It is also shown that the Union Pacific road is far from being completed to Ogden as alleged. In the Echo and Weber Canons of the Wasatch mountains, thirty miles east of Ogden, there are several miles of temporary track with grades exceeding 200 feet to the mile in use, upon which the Union Pacific Company has received a full quota of bonds, although the road is not built upon the approved line of survey, and two tunnels are still unfinished, one of which will not be completed till the 30th of April, by which time the Central Pacific Company will have reached Ogden City with its completed track.

EXEMPTION OF YACHTS FROM TONNAGE DUES.—The leading yachtsmen of New York are urging Mr. Chandler, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, to report a bill exempting yachts from the regulations under which they have to pay the same dues in going from one port to another as merchant vessels. This is not only a considerable tax, but often a source of delay and inconvenience, and young Bennett, the Vanderbilts, the Lorillards, and other amateur tars, think that our country should follow the example of England, and exempt private yachts from the payment of tonnage dues.

We think exactly to the contrary!—The pleasure yacht ought to pay as high a tax, surely, as the wood coaster or potato droger. We should say, higher rather than lower, if any difference is to be made. But we do say, let it be as it is.

THE USE OF INTOXICATING DRINKS in the United States has recently been the subject of an extended investigation by a physician of St. Louis, Mo., who has published the results of his inquiries. From these statistics it appears that out of every 300 men in the United States, 122 never drink spirits, and 178 drink to various degrees of intoxication. Of these 178, it is asserted that 100 drink moderately, but not to intoxication; 50 are ephemeral drinkers; 25 drink periodically, called "spreeing;" and 3 are habitual inebriates. This gives one confirmed inebriate to every 59 1-2 of those who use spirits. Of 700 women, 600 never taste alcohol in any form; 30 taste wine occasionally; 17 taste ardent spirits; 66 drink ale or beer constantly; 14 drink ardent spirits periodically, and 3 are habitual inebriates.

CHANGES.—In the year 1843 the Newcastle Journal, an English paper, had this announcement: "It is stated that Bright, the anti-corn law agitator, is expected to visit the wool fair, which will be held at Alnwick shortly, in order to scatter the seeds of disaffection in that quarter. Should he make his appearance, which is not improbable, it is to be hoped there may be found some stalwart yeoman ready to treat the disaffected vagabond as he deserves." In 1869 this "disaffected vagabond" is one of the most honored and influential statesmen of Great Britain and one of Her Majesty's Ministers.

BUSINESS.—The Douglass Axe Manufacturing Company of Providence, will erect this spring two large additions to its works, increasing its capacity one-third.

Arnold's print works at North Adams, Mass., consume 4000 tons of coal annually, and the tunnel works use 1000.

One of the shoe manufacturers of Lynn, who was burned out sixty days ago, and had to start with everything new, is now turning out a thousand pairs of shoes a day.

☞ A little daughter of John McCarthy, of Newburyport, 7 years old, was fatally burned on Monday, while left in charge of two younger children, by her mother, who was out washing. Her dress took fire, and she rushed into the street, where a man took off his coat and wrapped around her and put out the fire, but too late.

☞ Some one who claims to know the lack of enterprise of the wealthy men of Cincinnatti and St. Louis, says that "the great want of each city is about thirty-five first class funerals."—But that is the way flippant people talk everywhere—and the slow men are the surest, after all.

—Georgia people are very generous to their editors. One of the latter received during one week a box of blacking and brush to apply it, a box of matches, a pound of tobacco, and an old debt of four dollars, after which he was so well "treated" by a friend that he was obliged to use a shutter as a vehicle for reaching his home.

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled nature be neglected. Respond promptly to it by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, and NAVIGATOR, and a TONIC PRESERVATIVE.—Before three days have elapsed from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revivification of the physical and mental and moral powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and billiousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside.—The sudden changes of Spring often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action of the skin and liver, which mainly is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and bilious at this season. m31

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy appearance, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. Those bitters are recommended to all persons who desire a safe and valuable tonic to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects—which, although they may possess tonic expectant properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore throat, Weakness Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both legs and severally broken, and my wife and son for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plaster. He is now able to attend to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF FREEKSKILL.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied.

1802. 1847. 1868.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being unable to walk without his cane. He wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £100 sterling for the letter, but it was refused. In 1847 it put out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is also a great family medicine externally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores, Chilblains, Frost Bites, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. Its effects are instantaneous, and it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the proprietor, at 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 16 Park Place, N.Y. m29

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch sold, yet many on dealing in these watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale on other watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every neighborhood of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST in the best sense. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, the Company have been accustomed to sell on small profits at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day two manufacturing houses make watches all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our facilities we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve Watches for years, and have adopted none, and these only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics rank with the world in their respective departments. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment in this country where complete watches are made.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application for any mental effort, are too plainly visible! It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the malady is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from childhood to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

DEBILITY is a common term for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Dull Eyes, Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Universal Prostration, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Premature Decay, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Occasional Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society, Nervous Irritability, Dreams of a Nature to Frighten Sleep, Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Concentration, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

Those symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatality, and Pulmonic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Blockingfields Asylum, he was consulted by two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and under twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. Young men originally virtuously sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is merely mutter:

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer the invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the digestive organs become good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions (of the liver) like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much—they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they damage the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop the cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Catarrhal Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs to some way are diseased, either tubercles, or ulcerous, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to fatten the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills for all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. O. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate membranes (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agent where the medicine is for sale. d25

☞ PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R.I., general wholesale Agents for the Eastern States.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

DECENSUS FACILE.—A friend called our attention, a few days since, to reference which has recently been made to us, once or twice, by a certain Bummer General, in the columns of the hand-organ which was started and is supported solely to oppose and denounce this Chronicle and its managers. Now, while we hope we shall never be so unfortunate as to suffer the good opinion of such a sheet, or any of its writers; there is no doubt but when any professed Republican, be he Policeman, Fireman or General Bummer, seeks such a medium of communication with the public, he is either pretty badly imbued with rum or Copperheadism, probably both.

The Bummer General denies the statements of our correspondent, we are told, as was naturally to be expected in any such case, though he is a man entirely reliable, and no doubt told the truth only. We rarely see, and more seldom refer to, anything in the hand-organ; which only plays two tunes, and these on the same key, and rather feebly at that,—namely, abuse of Republicans and the Chronicle; but since our informant takes the trouble to inform us that the bummer and rummer General compares Lotteries to Rumselling, we shall say that while gambling or speculation of any sort is very uncertain business, in any department of life, the rum trade is not so uncertain, but is pretty sure to ruin all who stand on the outside of the bar, and also most of those inside. In support of which, we adduce the experience of many, including the General himself, and the observation of all; as well as the fact that many Life Insurance Companies will not take the risk of either class of dealers or users of the ardent.

To the Bummer General, his organ and its supporters, our compliments—and we remain yours always to command, T.

For the Chronicle.

THE APPLEDORE. — Much credit is due to Messrs. Pryor & Plumer, for their skill and workmanship in the construction of the neat and beautiful Steamer now nearly completed at their Yard on Noble's Island. It seems but a few days since we saw the large logs in their rough state as they lay awaiting the mechanical skill of the builders, for this craft. Now we have before us as fine a model as ever graced our river. In the construction of this vessel none but the best material has been used, and no pains spared to make her one of the most staunch and thorough-built craft afloat. Mr. Pryor's skill of late in the construction of steam vessels in Boston and vicinity, is too well established to allow anything but the best of workmanship to come from under his charge.

Such a boat will be an honor, and besides a great accommodation to our pleasure seeking citizens and visitors. We should judge she would measure about 100 feet in length, 20 feet beam. The cabin is 15 by 28 feet, panelled sides, and well lighted from above.—Leading from the cabin is a small saloon, 6 by 15 feet, fitted for a toilet and dressing room. The engine, which is now in course of construction by Messrs. Cook & Rhynes at East Boston, will be about 60 horse-power, and it is expected she will make about 14 knots an hour. The Captain has a neat little state-room abaft the engine-room:—Throughout the entire boat, nothing seems wanting for comfort. Captain Baker, who is so general a favorite upon our river, will be the commander of the Appledore. The trial trip is expected to take place some time next month. T.

☞ A very expensive and useless deformity, is the old fashion of fencing about the separate family lots in a burying ground, which is already enclosed within one safe and general fence. In fact, too many division fences anywhere, and high and close ones almost everywhere, especially about gardens in a city, are a blemish and a nuisance. And indeed very much of the enormous amounts expended on cemeteries generally, had often far better be devoted to the improvement of the cities and homes of the living—though we would not be understood as wishing to have burial grounds one whit less beautiful, tasteful or attractive than now—only less costly, and especially in the item of unnecessary and often unsightly fences.

☞ Instructions have been sent to all the seaboard Marshals and District Attorneys, to enforce the provisions of the Neutrality Laws against parties fitting out expeditions supposed to be intended for Cuba. As our Marshal and District Attorney live up in the back regions, and the old-fashioned Maratime District Court has gone also to the rural districts, the fillibusters will doubtless feel that New Hampshire is a good State to emigrate from.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—Of all the suggestions for the improvement of our town and the convenience of the citizens which I have seen in your columns or elsewhere, none has seemed to me to be so important as the proposition to build a bridge from Noble's Island to Freeman's Point. I would like to see bridges built over both Millponds—but this one across the Piscataqua is preeminently necessary, for several reasons. In the first place, the present bridge, from the railroad track and the highway being side by side and on a level, must always be dangerous to cross with a spirited horse not used to the cars; however, I don't own a horse, so I lay little stress on this fact.

But another and much more potent reason why the proposed bridge should be pushed on to completion is, that public traffic may not interfere with the right of the Railroad corporation to keep their trains standing across the roadway, on Noble's Island Bridge.—The Company's (I don't know what one it is) servants are always obliging, and never assail any trespassers, that I can hear of; but it must be annoying to them to have people crawling under the train, or climbing over the locked gates when no train is to be seen or heard, or sitting in wagons waiting for a passage; and though they have hitherto refrained from public complaint, such forbearance cannot last forever.

Besides,—personally, I have a prejudice against being run over by cars; and when I come across the bridge at night, I sometimes have to creep under a railway train, which may at some time or another start off without waiting for my egress, and secede my component parts beyond the possibility of a reconstruction. I can't stop all the time on this side of the river. I'm not obliged to say why I go—but I must go to Kittery, and I will go to Kittery; and the only way to preserve the Railroad people from the "unpleasantness" of smashing the Chronicle's correspondent is to build the new bridge—if that will enable me to circumnavigate the blocked passage at Noble's Island.

The bridge can easily be built. Those farmers of Kittery who have lost fingers or ears by having them frozen off while waiting for trains to start, will refrain from opposition; the railroad folks, glad to get rid of the public-highway-travel nuisance, will take much stock therein; and I will contribute to a municipal fund, to be applied to the assistance of the new enterprise, as follows: I have in my possession a receipted bill for $3.22, dated more than ten years back, which was paid by a lady school-teacher out of her salary of $175 a year, for books furnished to the children of parents who were too poor to procure them themselves,—and which money was never refunded. I will throw this bill, principal and interest, into the good work,—and if others will be as liberal, according to their means, we can have the bridge open by the time the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad is completed. PAKEHA.

NAVAL.—The Secretary of the Navy has ordered the officers of the Galena to report on board on the 8th of April.—Commander A. W. Johnson, Lieut. E. M. Stedman, Masters William T. Buck, William B. Newman and J. E. Jones, Surgeon Henry C. Nelson, Assistant Surgeon R. A. Marmion, Passed Assistant Paymaster Henry F. Wright, First Assistant Engineer Elijah Laws, Second Assistant Engineers Guy Sampson and R. B. Hine, Third Assistant Engineer T. H. Deaner, Boatswain James Nash and Carpenter O. A. Goodsoe are ordered to the Galena.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

OVER 1200 VESTS WITH ONE NEEDLE.—It will be ten years since I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine, which I have used ever since in vest-making. In that time I have made more than 3500 vests, and have done all my family sewing beside. I have used the needle now in the machine for nearly four years, and made with it over 1200 vests. Mrs. A. ☞ It is seldom that we use the columns of this paper to "puff" or notice the "thousand and one" articles known as Patent Medicines." We, however vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1860—X. Plantation Bitters." We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties. We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disability, weakness and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood. Having used the Bitters at the instigation of a friend, (and, we confess, with some misgivings at the outset,) we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction accomplished the object for which they were used. 3a

"How MODEST worth neglected lies," does not apply to the popularity of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative." Its worth, though modest, is fully appreciated by the millions who use no other preparation.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

UNFAILING EYE PRE SERVERS
LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.
The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES
is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller, Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.
We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

MEG'S DOMESTIC EXPERIENCE.

Like most other young matrons, Meg began her married life with the determination to be a model housekeeper. John should find home a paradise; he should always see a smiling face, should fare sumptuously every day, and never know the loss of a button. She brought so much love, energy, and cheerfulness to the work, that she could not but succeed, in spite of some obstacles. Her paradise was not a tranquil one; for the little women fussed, was over-anxious to please, and bustled about like a true Martha, cumbered with many cares. She was too tired, sometimes, even to smile; John grew dyspeptic after a course of dainty dishes, and ungratefully demanded plain fare. As for buttons, she soon learned to wonder where they went, to shake her head over the carelessness of men, and to threaten to make him sew them on himself, and then see if his work would stand impatient tugs and clumsy fingers any better than hers.

They were very happy, even after they discovered that they couldn't live on love alone. John did not find Meg's beauty diminished, though she beamed at him from behind the familiar coffee-pot; nor did Meg miss any of the romance from the daily parting, when her husband followed up his kiss with the tender inquiry, "Shall I send home veal or mutton for dinner, darling?" The little house ceased to be a glorified bower, but it became a home, and the young couple soon felt that it was a change for the better. At first they played keep house, and frolicked over it like children; then John took steadily to business, feeling the cares of the head of a family upon his shoulders; and Meg laid by her cambric wrappers, put on a big apron, and fell to work, as before said, with more energy than discretion.

While the cooking mania lasted, she went through Mrs. Cornelius's Receipt Book as if it was a mathematical exercise, working out the problems with patience and care. Sometimes her family were invited in to help eat up a too bountiful feast of successes, or Lotta would be privately despatched with a batch of failures which were to be concealed from all eyes, in the convenient stomachs of the little Hummels. An evening with John over the account books usually produced a temporary lull in the culinary enthusiasm, and a frugal fit would ensue, during which the poor man was put through a course of bread pudding, hash, and warmed-over coffee, which tried his soul, although he bore it with praiseworthy fortitude. Before the golden mean was found, however, Meg added to her domestic possessions what young couples seldom get on long without,—a family jar.

Fired with a housewifely wish to see her storeroom stocked with home-made preserves, she undertook to put up her own current jelly. John was requested to order home a dozen of little pots, and an extra quantity of sugar, for their own currants were ripe, and were to be attended to at once. As John firmly believed that "my wife" was equal to anything, and took a natural pride in her skill, he resolved that she should be gratified, and their only crop of fruit laid by in a most pleasing form for winter use. Home came four dozen delightful little pots, half a barrel of sugar, and a small boy to pick the currants for her. With her pretty hair tucked into a little cap, arms bared to the elbow, and a checked apron which had a coquettish look in spite of the bib, the young housewife fell to work, feeling no doubts about her success; for hadn't she seen Hannah do it hundreds of times? The array of pots rather amazed her at first, but John was so fond of jelly, and the nice little jars would look so well on the top shelf, that Meg resolved to fill them all, and so spent a long day picking, boiling, straining, and fussing over her jelly. She did her best; she asked advice of Mrs. Cornelius; she racked her brain to remember what Hannah did that she had left undone; she re-boiled, re-sugared, and re-strained, but that dreadful stuff wouldn't jell."

She longed to run home, bib and all, and ask mother to lend a hand, but John and she had agreed that they would never annoy any one with their private worries, experiments or quarrels. They had laughed over that last word as if the idea it suggested was a most preposterous one; but they had held to their resolve, and whenever they could get on without help they did so, and no one interfered,—for Mrs. March had advised the plan. So Meg wrestled alone with the refractory sweetmeats all that hot summer day, and at five o'clock sat down in her topsy-turvy kitchen, wrung her bedaubed hands, lifted up her voice, and wept.

Now in the first flush of the new life, she had often said,—

"My husband shall always feel free to bring a friend home whenever he likes. I shall always be prepared; there shall be no flurry, no scolding, no discomfort, but a neat house, a cheerful wife, and a good dinner. John, dear, never stop to ask my leave, invite whom you please, and be sure of a welcome from me."

How charming that was, to be sure! John quite glowed with pride to hear her say it, and felt what a blessed thing it was to have a superior wife. But, although they had had company from time to time, it never happened to be unexpected, and Meg had never had an opportunity to distinguish herself, till now. It always happens so in this vale of tears; there is an inevitability about such things which we can only wonder at, deplore, and bear as we best can.

If John had not forgotten all about the jelly, it really would have been unpardonable in him to choose that day, of all the days in the year, to bring a friend home to dinner unexpectedly. Congratulating himself that a handsome repast had been ordered that morning, feeling sure that it would be ready to the minute, and indulging in pleasant anticipations of the charming effect it would produce, when his pretty wife came running out to meet him, he escorted his friend to his mansion, with the irrepressible satisfaction of a young host and husband.

It is a world of disappointments, as John discovered when he reached the Dove-cote. The front door usually stood hospitably open; now it was not only shut, but locked, and yesterday's mud still adorned the steps. The parlor windows were closed and curtained, no picture of the pretty wife sewing on the piazza, in white, with a distracting little bow in her hair, or a bright-eyed hostess, smiling a shy welcome as she greeted her guest. Nothing of the sort—for not a soul appeared, but a sanguinary-looking boy asleep under the currant bushes.

"I'm afraid something has happened; step into the garden, Scott, while I look up Mrs. Brooke," said John, alarmed at the silence and solitude.

Round the house he hurried, led by a pungent smell of burnt sugar, and Mr. Scott strolled after him, with a queer look on his face. He paused discreetly at a distance when Brooke disappeared; but he could both see and hear, and, being a bachelor, enjoyed the prospect mightily.

In the kitchen reigned confusion and despair; one edition of jelly was trickled from pot to pot, another lay upon the floor, and a third was burning gaily on the stove. Lotty, with Teutonic phlegm, was calmly eating bread and currant wine, for the jelly was still in a hopelessly liquid state, while Mrs. Brooke, with her apron over her head, sat sobbing dismally.

"My dearest girl, what is the matter?" cried John, rushing in with awful visions of scalded hands, sudden news of affliction, and secret consternation as the thought of the guest in the garden.

"Oh, John, I am so tired, and hot, and cross and worried! I've been at it till I'm all worn out. Do come and help me, or I shall die!" and the exhausted housewife cast herself upon his breast, giving him a sweet welcome in every sense of the word, for her pinafore had been baptized at the same time as the floor.

"What worries you, dear? Has anything dreadful happened?" asked the anxious John, tenderly kissing the crown of the little cap, which was all askew.

"Yes," sobbed Meg, despairingly.

"Tell me quick, then; don't cry, I can bear anything better than that. Out with it, love."

"The—the jelly won't jell—and I don't know what to do!"

John Brooke laughed then as he never dared to laugh afterward; and the derisive Scott smiled involuntarily as he heard the hearty peal, which put the finishing stroke to poor Meg's woe.

"Is that all? Fling it out the window, and don't bother any more about it. I'll buy you quarts if you want it; but for heaven's sake don't have hysterics, for I've brought Jack Scott home to dinner, and—"

John got no further, for Meg cast him off, and clasped her hands with a tragic gesture as she fell into a chair, exclaiming in a tone of mingled indignation, reproach, and dismay,—

"A man to dinner, and everything in a mess! John Brooke, how could you do such a thing?"

"Hush, he's in the garden; I forgot the confounded jelly, but it can't be helped now," said John, surveying the prospect with an anxious eye.

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy; etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. NO EQUAL TO IT. RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common axe.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.;—HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York;—WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms and with despatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions; and legal opinions rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. All business transacted in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on fifty rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

The Chronicle.

ABOUT MONEY.—My chum pulled out of his pocket a half sheet of paper, folded like the back of an old letter, and began reading the notes there, in a slow and sententious way: "Money is the concentrated essence of Labor. A man who has a thousand dollars has a thousand days' work in his one hand. If he knows its value he can move about among men with the force of a thousand laborers—that is with a hundred and twenty horse-power.

To know the force of Money, one must know Labor.

When one man has money, and another has not, they contend for its possession. This is Trade, or Robbery, according to circumstances.

There are three uses of Money—the use of getting it, the use of keeping it, and the use of spending it. Consequently it classifies the bulk of mankind into Money-getters, Money-keepers, and Money-spenders. Except the misers we read of in novels, men do not love money for itself, any more than soup-tickets, or baggage-checks, or promissory notes, or title-deeds. The 'love of money' is the pleasure of mental function in getting or keeping or spending. The sponge and the spendthrift are equally guilty with the miser.

The class of Mony-getters includes merchants, gold-miners, pickpockets, politicians, and professional beggars. Americans are great Money-getters, but they do not care to keep. Hence this is a country of great incomes, but small fortunes.

The class of Money-keepers is small. Literary men are not found in it. Lawyers are good at keeping money, particularly if it is other people's. Money, like some other essences, has a pungent, sweet taste; but to be kept must be corked tightly. It evaporates in the open air, and the vapor is called Interest. A mortgage is a condensing instrument which enables a Money-keeper to evaporate a Money spender.

The class of Money-spenders includes the majority of mankind. It is natural to spend money before we get it. We are all born to this, and cost a great deal before we earn anything. The power to get into debt is essential to the happiness of all shiftless people, including most of the governments of Europe. College students and married women, who have no legal capacity to bind themselves, satisfy this propensity by getting their fathers and husbands into debt if possible.

Money is like gunpowder. To make it carry, charges should be carefully measured and well rammed down. Its explosive power depends on the tightness with which you hold it. Scattered loose it fizzles away with no effect.

To become wealthy, a man must both get and keep. To be useful the wealthy man must be also a judicious money-spender."—AUSTIN ABBOTT, in Harper's Magazine.

BONES AND ASHES.—Bones and ashes pass through the housekeeper's hand every day. Wood is still the chief fuel in the farm house, and the value of the ashes is pretty well understood. They are prized for the lye they yield, and if there is a surplus from the soap making, they help the kitchen garden at the back door. The bones are generally thrown to the dog, and lost. Now, if the careful housekeeper would save the bones as regularly as the ashes, she would practice a wiser economy, and help her kitchen garden twice as fast. Bones are worth twice as much as ashes for manure, if dissolved, and the ashes will reduce them. Put both into a barrel in the cellar, if you please, and after mixing them together half and half, keep them constantly moist with soap suds, and the hotter the better. The suds should not be poured on in such quantities as to leach the ashes. In a few months the bones will be disintegrated, and the whole mass may then be mixed, and will make an excellent fertilizer for the flower border or the kitchen garden.

An English farmer gives the following in regard to the value of soap ashes for manure:

"My opinion of soapers' ashes is confined to the application of it as a top-dressing on pasture land. About ten years ago I agreed with a soap boiler for 1500 tons of soapers' ashes. I used to apply about 20 wagon loads per acre, and a single bushing would let the whole in. I was laughed at and abused for my folly; the wise ones alleging that my land would be burned up and ruined for years; all of which I disregarded, and applied my soapers' ashes every day in the year, reeking from the vat, without any mixture whatever. I tried six acres, mixing it with earth; but I found it only doing things by halves. My land never burned; but from the time of application became a dark green color, bordering upon black, and has given me more, but never less, than two tons per acre ever since."

—The late eminent English astronomer, Sir James Smith, made an eccentric bequest. He left a pocket chronometer each to the Earls of Shaftesbury and Rosse, in the fullest confidence that they will carry them in the place where he (the deceased) is in the habit of carrying his, "namely, in the pantaloon pocket, properly so called."

—Green peas are in the Savannah market, but scarce and costly.

BOIL IT DOWN.

Whatever you have to say, my friend,
Whether witty, or grave or gay,
Condense as much as ever you can,
And say it in the readiest way;
And whether you write of rural affairs,
Or particular things in town,
Just take a word of friendly advice—
Boil it down.

For if you go spattering over a page,
When a couple of lines would do,
Your butter is spread so much, you see,
That the bread looks plainly through.
And when it is finished, and you suppose
It is done exactly brown,
Just look it over again, and then
Boil it down.

For editors do not like to print
An article lazily long,
And the general reader does not care
For a couple of yards of song.
So gather your wits in the smallest space,
If you'd win the author's crown,
And every time you write, my friend,
Boil it down.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange though it may seem, it is hard to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become totally unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling work. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of their childhood's affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or preparations were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

The cattle trade is dull.

The income from messages over the Atlantic Cable averages $3500 per day.

All vessels arriving at New York from southern ports are rigidly inspected at quarantine.

It is stated that Gen. Sickles has declined the Mexican mission.

T. J. Rollins is appointed Collector of Internal Revenue in the first Maine District.

The President has recognized Mr. E. G. Squier, late United States Commissioner in Peru, as Consul-General of the Republic of Honduras, resident in New York.

General Sherman has sent a telegraphic order to General Stoneman relieving him from duty in Virginia, and directing him to turn over the command to the officer next in rank, who was ordered to reinstate Mr. Wells as Governor of Virginia, of which office the latter had been virtually deprived by the order of General Stoneman assuming the duties of the Governor of the State.

By the terms of the amended Tenure-of-office bill the President's power of removal or suspension is not in any way way dependent on charges or reasons, but may be exercised at his own discretion; no removal can be made during a session of the Senate, except by the consent of that body given in confirming the successor; the President may suspend at pleasure during a vacation, and appoint successors who shall receive all the pay and emoluments of the offices to which they are appointed; nominations in cases of suspension must be made within thirty days after the re-assembling of the Senate; if during this session the President and the Senate fail to agree on the same one, the suspended officer goes back at the end of the session. This is all there is of the act as it now stands, and it applies to every official except judges of the United States courts.

Miss Kate Field has been lecturing in Boston on "Woman in the Lyceum."

Montana advices state that the soldiers and citizens who went in pursuit of the Indians after the late fight near the Yellow Stone, recaptured the stolen stock, but did not overtake the Indians. Two Indians, implicated in the attack on the Diamond Railroad train, have been hanged at Sunny river. A band of Blood Indians made a raid on a sawmill at Bottom Creek, twenty miles from Diamond City, a few days ago, but were repulsed by the workmen. The Indians succeeded, however, in running off the stock belonging to the mill.

Congress.

On Wednesday the Senate agreed to the report of the conference committee on the Tenure-of office bill, by a vote of 42 to 8. Senator Sprague was the only Republican who voted against it.

The House accepted the report by a vote of 106 to 67.—18 Republicans and 49 Democrats voting in the negative.—Mr. Benton of N. H. voted no, and Messrs. Ela and Stevens, yea.

The bill repeals the first and second sections of the original tenure-of-office act of the 2d of March, 1867. The first section of the Senate amendment is left untouched. The second section is amended so as to read as follows:—

That during any recess of the Senate, the President is hereby empowered, in his discretion, to suspend any civil officer appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, except Judges of the United States courts, until the end of the next session of the Senate, and to designate some suitable person, subject to be removed in his discretion by the designation of another, to perform the duties of such suspended officer in the meantime, and such person so designated shall take the oaths and give the bonds required by law to be taken and given by the suspended officer, and shall during the time he performs his duties be entitled to the salary and emoluments of such officer, no part of which shall belong to the officer suspended. And it shall be the duty of the President, within thirty days after the commencement of every session of the Senate, except for any office which in his opinion ought to be filled, to nominate persons to fill all vacancies in offices which exist to the meeting of the Senate whether temporarily filled or not and so in the place of all officers suspended, and if the Senate, during such session, shall refuse to advise and consent to an appointment in the place of any suspended officer, then and not otherwise the President shall nominate another person as soon as practicable to said session of the Senate for said office.

Mr. Julian of Ind., offered a resolution instructing the committee of ways and means to inquire into the expediency of reviving and enforcing a direct tax in the States lately in rebellion. Adopted.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

Letter from Portland.

PORTLAND, March 29th.

Messrs. Editors:—The public at large know but little of the labor and responsibility of conducting that vade mecum of the present age of progress—a newspaper. Portland has excellent papers, although not what they will be when the city is larger, and circulation increased, and profits bigger. Boston and New York necessarily are the fountains whence come the great events, the larger news of the day, and although those cities cannot well do without the news of the country press, after all, the former are certainly the great sources of important information, and deserve the best encouragement and support.

The Springfield Republican recently published a very readable letter from Boston, giving an inside view of Boston newspapers. The correspondent refers to the Advertiser and Transcript as the morning and evening representatives of the aristocracy, the Traveler as ably edited, and the Post is noticed as still under charge of the veteran Col. Charles G. Greene; the Herald as the leading paper in circulation. The Journal is alluded to as next to the Herald in circulation. The two papers are undoubtedly the leading newspapers of Boston, as regards the current events of the day. Neither of them conflict with the other. The correspondent thus justly compliments the Journal and its enterprising and efficient manager: "The best managing editor in Boston is said to be Stephen N. Stockwell of the Journal, a relative of Col. Rogers, its proprietor, and who was once a practical printer himself. Another gentleman who writes some of the leaders, and who used to be the proprietor of the Saturday Evening Gazette, is Col. W. W. Clapp. Charles G. Came, who recently appeared on the Atlantic, writes as much as an unwilling spirit will allow, and Joseph L. Shipley is another of its constant writers. The Journal has a strong hold upon the middling classes, and circulates largely in the country, especially in New Hampshire and Maine."

The musical citizens are arranging for the performance of Haydn's Creation in the course of a month or two, with Parepa Rosa as leading vocalist.

Company M, 5th Artillery, have been located at Fort Preble. Harry B. Brown, the artist, has just finished a $1500 painting—scene from Grand Menan. The New England Agricultural Fair will probably be held here next fall. The G. A. R. Fair, commencing April 12th, will be a successful enterprise it present indications are fulfilled. Collector Washburne (re-appointed and confirmed last week) will make few changes in the subordinate departments of the Custom House. The present Deputies, the Surveyor and some others are also likely to be retained by Secretary Boutwell.

The Congress Square Universalist Society are to give a new fairy spectacle April 22 and 23, at the City Hall—"the Mission of the Fairies"—a charming little play for the children. Religious associations sometimes forget the strictness of their sectarian intentions. The Young Men's Christian Association on the 25th at a Concert in their rooms by the Sherwood Quartette Club, listened with approval and applause to selections from Beethoven, Feoravanta, Offenbach (French opera) and others.—Comment needless.

The Yachting clubs here are preparing for a lively season the coming summer. We are glad to hear that William H. Hackett, Esq., of your city, is likely to be appointed United States Attorney for New Hampshire. It would be a first-rate selection. SANCHO.

The early freight train from Concord was thrown from the track Monday morning by a broken rail at Amoskeag Bridge. One car was thrown into the canal, and seven others, mostly loaded with timber, were thrown across the track, temporarily stopping the passage of trains.

The Episcopal church edifice at Hanover has added a new bell and tower. Rev. Mr. Horton of Exeter has taken the rectorship.

A fine-toned organ, built by Holbrook, and revoiced by Hook, has just been placed in the Dartmouth College Chapel. Barron, the White River caterer, is engaged for the centennial dinner. Every facility for transit and accommodation will be arranged for the approaching festival.

A HINT TO FARMERS.—The maple sugar season being at hand, we advise farmers to tap every tree. The late sudden rise in prices of sugar is maintained, and the trade generally are holding their stock, being of opinion that the present trouble in Cuba is likely to continue long enough to materially interfere with the operations of labor throughout the island. Whatever the result of the struggle in Cuba our farmers should not lose sight of their own interests to subserve those of others—but tap every tree and make all the sugar and syrup they can.—Troy Times.

FOWLS that are expected to commence laying early, should have warm and well sheltered houses and be well fed twice a day with corn and oats mixed. Give them meat scraps and the refuse of the kitchen, especially vegetable refuse in winter, except salty refuse, as salt or salt brine or anything that contains much salt will kill them. Keep the poultry house clean. Keep gravel always before them, and a box of wood dirt and ashes to dust in. Fowls will repay well for all extra trouble the farmer may go to, by giving him an extra supply of eggs, and early spring chickens.

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the sallow skin, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled nature be neglected. Respond promptly to it by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, AN INVIGORANT, AND AN ALTERATIVE.—Before three days have elapsed from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete restoration to vigorous bodily animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and billiousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will return, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside.—The sudden changes of Spring often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and bilious at this season. m31

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and reliable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At this moment of writing a man applies for one, who by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had his shoulders broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly a year entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of one from Plasters." He is now able to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

1802. 1847. 1868.

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was one guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for Chronic Rheumatism, and was entirely cured after suffering for two years, his attending physician being made a baronet for cure, and he wrote a letter of thanks, which is now in possession of my uncle, in Liverpool. I have offered £1000 sterling for the letter. In 1847 I introduced the article out in the United States, and now in 1868, the sale is immense. Thousands of families are never without it. It is safe and to be depended upon internally, and to take internally. For twenty-one years I have warranted it to cure the following complaints: Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Complaint, Colic, Cramps, Vomiting and Sea Sickness, taken Internally; and Chronic Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Frost Bites, Frosted Feet, Swellings, Insect Stings, and Pains in Chest, Back and Limbs, externally. It never fails, if used as directed. Cholera and dysentery it is certain, if used when first attacked. No one once using it will ever be without it. Sold by the Druggists. Price, 50 cents and one dollar. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. m20

Holloway's Ointment and Pills work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; neutralizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. The position of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and city of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the profits realized on a large number of articles by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, the Company have always been well in advance of competitors at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved in QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equalled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make all our movements and not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show the baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from wonted diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the blood economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change, to ripen into manhood, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

DR. SCHENCK'S EXTRACT OF Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, accompanied with the following symptoms: Indisposition to mental effort, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite, With Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more miserable than such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Hanwell Lunatic Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy tables kept by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy reflections appear. Young men, once virtuously sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice ever it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry to the suffering of the consequences. SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; for this purpose the phlegm or matter must be ripe; a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they locate the whole digestive powers, choking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop cough, night sweats, or chills until he can remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Coughs, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, bronchitis, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonic Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose Dr. Schenck is at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. Here also, for personal and thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College and Physician to Female Diseases, &c., &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the EVILS OF EARLY DISSIPATION, THE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Contains 125 pages, 125 engravings, and many valuable prescriptions, and is the most popular work of the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, the Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agent where the medicine is for sale. d25

☞ PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R.I., general wholesale Agents for the Eastern States.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. At last, we, ever, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a red-dish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

PORTSMOUTH SCHOOLS.—The following is a schedule of the number of male and female pupils, and their average attendance at the several public schools in this city, for the year ending Feb. 28, 1869:

" " " " " 1866, 2711

The above tables show that during the last year there has been a falling off of 193 scholars from the previous year, and 574 from the returns of three years ago. No part of the discrepency is to be accounted for by the opening of the Catholic School; for these children were removed from the public schools in June, 1868, and every child removed is counted in the 2137 scholars reported.

Much useful information to those interested may be gathered from consideration and comparison of these tables. The manner in which some schools are crowded, while others are half empty, is absurd, as are also some of the arrangements for grading Schools, and the limitation of district attendance.—The only sure way to improve matters, that we can see, is to employ and pay a competent man for general Superintendent of Schools.

For the Chronicle.

STREETS should be lowest in the centre. The place for the water is the middle of the street. The rounded-up streets will spread by the constant tampering of hoops and wheels, and for want of lateral support.

Many of our sidewalks at present are inundated, in consequence of the unphilosophical and expensive way of grading the streets highest in the middle, and many houses are made wretchedly unhealthy by it.

AN OLD MECHANIC.

[There are two sides to every argument, and the popular form of street now-days, is for the water to run on each side, and not in the middle. It is very difficult and expensive to make and keep good roads, in any form.]

ANOTHER BICYCLE MANUFACTORY.—At the late exhibition of Velocipede riding at the Temple a machine manufactured by Messrs. Critchley & Whalley of this city attracted general attention. It embraces the principles of the Lallemane & Carroll patent with the Hanlon improvement, and was fitted with a simple and effective brake, a very useful attachment.

The machines run smoothly and easily and are in demand. Messrs. Critchley & Whalley have the sole right to manufacture them here, and have them for sale at 30 p r cent less than the amount charged for the same kind of bicycles elsewhere.

☞ Orders were received at this Naval Station on Thursday, to reduce the pay of all persons employed by the day one fifth. This is in fact paying the employees by the hour, the eight hour law remaining in force. A workman getting $1.50 per diem, heretofore, has his pay reduced to $1.20! What a howling there would be among some people if the salaried men from Rear Admiral to Ensign should be paid according to the actual work they do at this Yard, and how much would Government save by a corresponding reduction? G.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE, Collector's office, 1st District, New Hampshire.—We are indebted to Collector Lovering of Exeter, for the following very clean report.

Whole amount of Assessments in this District from Dec. 1, 1862, to April 1, 1869, $3,872,313.22.
Amount Collected, 3,855,992.53
Amount abated as erroneous and uncollectable, 15,720.69
Uncollected Tax (one only) 600.00
$3,872,313.22

PERSONAL.—B. F. Prescott, Esq., Special Agent of the Treasury Department vice Harry Bingham, "sot back," was in town on Thursday in performance of the duties of his office, hereabouts. Mr. Prescott was removed from office by Andrew Johnson, and his reinstatement was one of the first of President Grant's official acts. If the President is always as successful in making good appointments, as in this case, New Hampshire Republicans will have nothing to complain of.

☞ Oliver Hanscom, Esq., resumed his old situation as Cooper at the Navy Yard on Thursday.

City Council, Thursday Eve. April 2.

In the Aldermen, the Com. on Bills on 2d Reading reported against appropriating $3000 conditionally toward building a Mall or Common at the South Pond. Ald. Nowell spoke against the measure, and Ald. Miller in favor. After considerable discussion, on a Yea and Nay vote, 4 to 4, the Mayor decided in the negative. Yeas, Slater, Clark, Miller and Pender; Nays, Nowell, Cotton, Pendexter and Spinney.

The resignation of Supt. Philbrick of the City Farm, was accepted; and on motion of Ald. Slater, he received the compliments of Board for his faithful and efficient services. [In Convention of the two Boards, Haven L. Scott was elected his successor. Whole number of votes 19, Scott 11, Clarence B. Mason 8. The only applicants for the place were Messrs. Scott, Mason and Joseph F. Dennett.

The Common Council gave notice that they had concurred in the Ordinance recommending a reorganization of the Fire Department; and non-concurred in the reduction of the No. of men of Engine Co. No. 2.

The Aldermen passed the Ordnance fixing salaries of Selectmen and Moderators at Elections; with an amendment that no further expense shall be paid for dinners.

Petition of J. W. Peirce and others, asking for larger Common Sewer in Vaughan St., referred to Joint Com. on Streets with Mayor added.

Petition of C. W. Gardner and others, to be allowed to ride Velocipedes on the sidewalks at night, was refused.

Petition of Wm. Plaisted for $200 to Sprinkle the City premises next Summer, laid over one week.

Likewise Com. on Claims given more time to report respecting damages claimed for Coasting injuries to persons.

A new Com. elected to report on the cost of Fleet St. widening—Ald. Miller and Cotton.

Reports received from the Chief of Police and Chief Engineer.

Ald. Nowell's motion to reduce City Night Watch from six to four men, negatived, 5 to 3.

Adj. for two weeks, on account of Fast.

ROBBERY AND HUE AND CRY.—On Sunday afternoon, about six o'clock, a stranger stepped up to Mr. John Cullen, on Valley street, and suddenly seized his watch and made off; the cry was at once raised, and a host of people started in pursuit, all bawling "stop thief." The fellow, finding what a storm he had raised, threw away the watch and darted into the alley from Hampshire street, where he disappeared. A gentleman, however, saw the fugitive enter Mr. Colley's barn on the alley, and notified the police, who were engaged in the chase. Officer Whitehouse discovered a pair of boots sticking out from under a pile of hay, which he found were upon a pair of legs, and that the said legs were attached to a body, which upon being hauled out proved to be that of the fellow who was wanted; he was taken to the station house, where he gave the name of Wm. Faulkner; he is reported to be a well known thief from Portsmouth. The watch was recovered. Faulkner, who is between twenty-five and thirty years of age, was sentenced to the House of Correction for two years. There was an immense crowd present when the thief was captured, and it was quite an exciting little affair.—Lawrence American.

☞ Ship Fleetford, Stover, 1104 tons, built in 1864, at East Boston, and belonging to this port, is on the great balance dry dock near the foot of Picks ship, New York, for the purpose of being stripped of her old and furnished with a new suit of yellow metal sheathing.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ U. S. Steamer Leyden arrived at this Naval Station, and owing to some accident to he machinery was towed up by the Navy Yard steamer, on Thursday. The Leyden has ammunition for the Galena.

For the Chronicle.

SET FRUIT TREES, in highways and by ways, and then take care of them. Portsmouth might raise its own fruit and nuts, and have abundance to spare.

☞ The Hibernian Minstrels will appear at the Temple for one night only, Monday evening of next week. They come highly recommended.

DEATHS.

In Newcastle, March 28th, Mrs. SARAH WHITE, aged nearly 94 years, widow of Mr. Wm. White—the oldest person in the town—born in Kittery, Spruce Creek Parish, on the 18th of April, 1775: the day previous to the battle of Lexington, the first in the Revolution, which terminated with the Independence of the United States.

With a memory unusually retentive to the last, she was able to communicate much important information concerning the several generations with which she was contemporary, and was often resorted to by many to obtain such intelligence. In her the words of the Apostle were verified—"Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

After a short but painful sickness, on Sunday evening, the 28th of March, she gently passed from earth, as we trust, to her home above. A.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Morning Chronicle.

From "Little Women,"—Second Part.

MEG'S DOMESTIC EXPERIENCE.

Continued.

"You ought to have sent word, or told me this morning, and you ought to have remembered how busy I was," continued Meg, petulantly; for even turtle doves will peck when ruffled.

"I didn't know it this morning, and there was no time to send word, for I met him on the way out. I never thought of asking leave, when you have always told me to do as I liked. I never tried it before, and hang me if I ever do again!" added John, with an aggrieved air.

"I should hope not! Take him away at once; I can't see him, and there isn't any dinner."

"Well, I like that! Where's the beef and vegetables I sent home, and the pudding you promised?" cried John, rushing to the larder.

"I hadn't time to cook anything; I meant to dine at mother's. I'm sorry, but I was so busy,"—and Meg's tears began again.

John was a mild man, but he was human; and after a long day's work, to come home tired, hungry and hopeful, to find a chaotic house, an empty table, and a cross wife, was not exactly conducive to repose of mind or manner.—He restrained himself, however, and the little squall would have blown over but for one unlucky word.

"It's a scrape, I acknowledge; but if you will lend a hand, we'll pull through, and have a good time yet. Don't cry, dear, but just exert yourself a bit, and knock us up something to eat. We're both as hungry as hunters, so we sha'n't mind what it is. Give us the cold meat, and bread and cheese. We won't ask for jelly."

He meant it for a good-natured joke; but that one word sealed his fate. Meg thought it was too cruel to hint about her sad failure, and the last atom of patience vanished as he spoke.

"You must get yourself out of the scrape as you can; I'm too used up to 'exert' myself for any one. It's like a man, to propose a hoe and vulgar bread and cheese for company. I won't have anything of the sort in my house. Take that Scott up to mother's, and tell him I'm away—sick, dead, anything.—I won't see him, and you two can laugh at me and my jelly as much as you like; you won't have anything else here;" and having delivered her defiance all in one breath, Meg cast away her pinafore, and precipitately left the field to bemoan herself in her own room.

What those two creatures did in her absence, she never knew; but Mr. Scott was not taken "up to mother's," and when Meg descended, after they had strolled away together, she found traces of a promiscuous lunch which filled her with horror. Lotty reported that they had eaten "a much, and greatly laughed; and the master bid her throw away all the sweet stuff, and hide the pots."

Meg longed to go and tell mother; but a sense of shame at her own shortcomings, of loyalty to John, "who might be cruel, but nobody should know it," restrained her; and after a summary cleaning up, she dressed herself prettily, and sat down to wait for John to come and be forgiven.

Unfortunately, John didn't come, not seeing the matter in that light. He had carried it off as a good joke with Scott, excused his little wife as well as he could, and played the host so hospitably, that his friend enjoyed the impromptu dinner, and promised to come again. But John was angry, though he did not show it; he felt that Meg had got him into a scrape, and then deserted him in his hour of need. "It wasn't fair to tell a man to bring folks home any time, with perfect freedom, and when he took you at your word, to flare up and blaze at him, and leave him in the lurch, to be laughed at or pitied. No, by George, it wasn't! and Meg must know it." He had fumed inwardly during the feast, but when the flurry was over, and he strolled home, after seeing Scott off, a milder mood came over him. "Poor little thing! it was hard upon her when she tried so heartily to please me. She was wrong, of course, but then she was young. I must be patient, and teach her." He hoped she had not gone home—he hated gossip and interference. For a minute he was ruffled again at the mere thought of it; and then the fear that Meg would cry herself sick softened his heart, and sent him on at a quicker pace, resolving to be calm and kind, but firm, quite firm, and show her where she had failed in her duty to her spouse.

Meg likewise resolved to be "calm and kind, but firm," and show him his duty. She longed to run and meet him, and beg pardon, and be kissed and comforted, as she was sure of being; but, of course, she did nothing of the sort; and when she saw John coming, began to hum quite naturally, as she rocked and sewed like a lady of leisure in her best parlor.

John was a little disappointed not to find a tender Niobe; but, feeling that his dignity demanded the first apology, he made none: only came leisurely in, and laid himself upon the sofa with the singularly relevant remark,—

"We are going to have a new moon, my dear."

"I've no objection," was Meg's equally soothing remark.

A few other topics of general interest were introduced by Mr. Brooke, and wet-blanketed by Mrs. Brooke, and conversation languished. John went to one window, unfolded his paper, and wrapt himself in it, figuratively speaking. Meg went to the other window, and sewed as if new rosettes for her slippers were among the necessaries of life. Neither spoke—both looked quite "calm and firm," and both felt desperately uncomfortable.

"Oh, dear," thought Meg, "married life is very trying, and does need infinite patience, as well as love, as mother says." The word "mother" suggested other maternal counsels given long ago, and received with unbelieving protests.

"John is a good man, but he has his faults, and you must learn to see and bear with them remembering your own. He is very decided, but never will be obstinate, if you reason kindly, not opposе impatiently. He is very accurate, and particular about the truth—a good trait, though you call him 'fussy.' Never deceive him by look or word, Meg, and he will give you the confidence you deserve, the support you need. He has a temper, not like ours,—one flash, and then all over,—but the white, still anger that is seldom stirred, but once kindled, is hard to quench. Be careful, very careful, not to wake this anger against yourself, for peace and happiness depend on keeping his respect. Watch yourself, be the first to ask pardon if you both err, and guard against the little piques, misunderstandings, and hasty words that often pave the way for bitter sorrow and regret."

These words came back to Meg, as she sat sewing in the sunset,—especially the last. This was the first serious disagreement; her own hasty speeches sounded both silly and unkind, as she recalled them; her own anger looked childish now, and thoughts of poor John coming home to such a scene quite melted her heart. She glanced at him with tears in her eyes, but he did not see them; she put down her work and got up, thinking, "I will be the first to say, 'forgive me,'" but he did not seem to hear her; she went very slowly across the room, for pride was hard to swallow, and stood by him, but still he did not turn his head. For a minute she felt as if she really couldn't do it; then came the thought, "This is the beginning; I'll do my part, and have nothing to reproach myself with," and stooping down she softly kissed her husband on the forehead. Of course that settled it; the penitent kiss was better that a world of words, and John had her on his knee in a minute, saying tenderly,—

"It was to bad to laugh at the poor little jellypots; forgive me, dear, I never will again!"

But he did, oh, bless you, yes, hundreds of times, and so did Meg, both declaring that it was the sweetest jelly they ever made; for family peace was preserved in that little family jar.

After this, Meg had Mr. Scott to dinner by special invitation, and served him up a pleasant feast without a cooked wife for the first course; on which occasion she was so gay and gracious, and made everything go off so charmingly, that Mr. Scott told John he was a happy fellow, and shook his head over the hardships of bachelorhood all the way home.

In the autumn, new trials and experiences came to Meg. Sallie Moffat renewed her friendship, was always running out for a dish of gossip at the little house, or inviting "that poor dear" to come in and spend the day at the big house. It was pleasant, for in dull weather Meg often felt lonely;—all were busy at home, John absent till night, and nothing to do but sew, or read, or potter about. So it naturally fell out that Meg got into the way of gadding and gossipping with her friend. Seeing Sallie's pretty things made her long for such, and pity herself because she had not got them. Sallie was very kind, and often offered her the coveted trifles! but Meg declined them, knowing that John wouldn't like it; and then this foolish little woman went and did what John disliked infinitely worse.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Coal, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, although very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from eminent Engineers, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1858, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This shows that the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions; and opinions as to the law rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SEVENTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the carge, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country, at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction, or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,
55, 57 & 59 COURT STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. We want Agents in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed

What is a Good Cow.

What we need is a good cow, that can eat and digest a good deal of food, and can then convert it into milk, not into meat or fat. It is by careful attention to and development of some points, that the good milker is at last obtained. What are these points?

First; health, good constitution or digestive apparatus, for which we require a capacious belly.

Second; that the largest possible development of the animal shall be behind, in the udder and parts adjacent.

A good cow is likely to be wedge shaped, of which the head is the smaller end.

Big heads, or horns, or shoulders are not desired, because they have to be nourished by the food. But these are indispensable; a large bag, and hindquarters to support and minister to it. How have they been attained, and how can they be further perfected? By always breeding from the cow having this development and from the bull descended from such a mother. More and more these perfections will increase as they descend from mother to child, until at last the greatest possible milk-producer is reached, if, indeed, it be not already. Possibly an individual cow may have reached the limit in this direction; but what we need now is the certainty that every calf will grow to be such a cow. We want not that one, but that every cow shall give thirty quarts in summer and twenty in winter, then we will agree to stop awhile.—Observe, both parents should have health, and both should have these posterior developments. By using due care, these properties will become so fixed as to be continued with certainty to the descendants.

So little attention has been given to this matter in this country, that our great milk-raisers say, "We know nothing about breeds; we prefer the native cow." And what is "native cow?" As early as 1609, it is supposed, cattle were brought from England into Virginia; in 1624 into New England; in 1625 into New York from Holland; in 1627 into the Delaware county from Sweden; in 1631 into New Hampshire, etc., etc. All these coming from various sources, have been mingled in every possible way, and are now known here as "natives." They have no distinctive peculiarities which they transmit: but in many cases care and climate and good food have produced from them excellent cows, and the "red oxen" of Connecticut are not easily equalled. The vast majority of our cows are of this kind, and are poor; and from these the the milk-raisers are obliged to select. What do our milkmen look for in selecting milk-giving cows?

The first appearance, to a judge, will convey an impression as to the health or constitution of the cow. He will ask, also, a bony frame, one that does not steal the fat from the milk; he will feel the skin, to find it flexible and covered with close, softish hair; he will ask for good lung room, a capacious belly, a wide rump and a well developed bag covered with soft hair. Extending from this bag forward he will be desirous to see prominent the two great veins which lose themselves in the belly; and on the back of the udder he will look for many well-defined branching veins. Then comes Guenon's "milk-mirror," which is a broad strip of hair running up from the udder to the vulva, which he considered the one thing needful; but which has not, in this country, been found an infallible test, though it is a good one. If, in addition, the cow is gentle, good-tempered, you are almost sure of a milk-maker. Look for that kind.—"The Milk-Makers" in April Galaxy.

Hogs in Orchards.

I have thought for several years that a barn cellar reeking with offensive gases was not the best place to keep hogs through the hot weather. I have made pens under shady apple trees, and have enjoyed seeing my swine on fresh earth and breathing pure air.

Last summer I went a step further and enclosed half an acre of apple orchard. My object was two-fold. I wanted the range and exercise for the swine, and I longed to see them root up and extirpate the witch grass, which I could not kill by any common means.

One old Sachem among the four turned in, soon tried his tusks upon the tender bark of one of the apple trees. I put on coal tar. This the hogs rubbed off upon their bodies, which made them look unsightly. So I washed all the trees exposed with whitewash, and had no more trouble.

It would have done you good to see the hogs root over that half acre. They did it vigorously. They found worms and roots in the soil, and seemed to enjoy their explorations marvellously. The lot was kept clean of every green thing all summer, on the surface, while the trees put on the deepest green and made wood rapidly. A part of the orchard was Hubbardston Nonesuch trees. These bore. I was proud of the apples. They were the finest I ever saw—large and high colored.

After the apples began to fall considerably, I shut the hogs into a smaller space. This they rooted over often and deep, so I was not obliged to cart in any earth all summer to keep the manure covered. They only required wood shavings, which I believe in supplying copiously, not to produce fire-fang, but to absorb liquids and provide a comfortable bed.

My experiment was so satisfactory that I have prepared materials to enclose a larger lot the coming season. If such treatment won't wake up all the apple trees, they are past hope.

Call next summer, if you can, and see ploughing done without horses.—Wm. D. Brown, in N. E. Farmer.

A CURE FOR PARALYSIS.—We lately met a gentleman who, although he walked with apparent ease; said he had been almost a hopeless paralytic, but had been substantially cured by the use of an airpump. The theory of the cure and the application of the instrument were as follows:—Paralysis is produced by the failure of the organs of life to perform their functions. They need recuperating. He applied a cup or receiver to the surface of the part affected, and by means of the pump he removed the pressure of the external atmosphere. There was then a rush of air internally, as much as the clogged condition of the system would admit, towards the vacuum produced by the pump. The blood was carried along by the air, and by mere mechanical force made to circulate in the affected limb, which thus recovered its vigor and activity.—Worcester Palladium.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be strictly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered almost its improvement; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

SATURDAY, APRIL 3, 1869.

The News.

Hon. John Allison, a former member of Congress from Pennsylvania, has been nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate as Register of the Treasury.

The ice blockade in the Hudson River has broken, and navigation is open.

Forty Treasury clerks were discharged on Thursday.

The Public Debt on the first day of April was $2,525,196,42.174.

John W. Douglas succeeds Mr. Harland as deputy commissioner of the Internal revenue.

Yellow fever is spreading rapidly along the south coast of Peru, committing terrible ravages.

Miss Lucy Adelaide Evans, stepdaughter of Robert D. Pyke of Fitchburg, who is now in custody on a charge of murdering his wife by poison, died in Boston on Thursday. It is said that Pyke was the father of her child.

The cable dispatches say that the British commission on the naturalization laws has reported in favor of recognizing naturalization abroad as alienating British subjects from allegiance to England, and of allowing aliens to hold landed property.

Biddeford, Me., had 3 fires Thursday night.

Silver mines have been discovered near Sonora, 70 miles from San Francisco, and people are rushing there and staking off claims. They have already held a meeting and established mining laws. New and rich developments in the White Pine Silver region are reported, and people are flocking there in great numbers. There are 10,000 people located there already.

San Francisco had the most severe shock of earthquake since the great shake in October last, Thursday morning at 45 minutes past 5 o'clock. As far as ascertained, no serious damage has been done to buildings, but the people are somewhat alarmed.

Congress.

In the House on Wednesday, Mr. Cleveland of N. J. offered a resolution reciting the purpose of the American Institute to hold an international exhibition of industry of all nations in New York in 1876, and instructing the committee on manufactures to inquire as to the proprietor of rendering government aid to such an undertaking. Adopted.

In the Senate on Thursday, Mr. Sumner presented the memorial of J. N. Casanova, a citizen of the United States, setting forth indignities recieved by himself and brother at the hands of the Spanish government in Cuba, and asking the interposition of the United States in their behalf. Referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Joint resolutions requiring applicants for the removal of political disabilities to state their grounds of application under oath; authorizing the commissioner of Indian affairs to appoint guardians for Indian children entitled to pensions; and conferring a grant of land for a Southern Railroad, were passed. Bills authorizing the building of a bridge over the Ohio River at Paducah, and authorizing the purchase of lands by actual settlers from the Osage Indians, were also passed.

In the House the bill providing a provisional government for Mississippi was taken up, and considerable debate followed on the motion to postpone action on the measure until the first Monday in December, which motion was finally adopted—103 to 62. Gen. Butler vainly endeavored to have the bill acted upon now, and made a coarse assault on Mr. Dawes, which was so wholly unprovoked that several members remonstrated with him for his language. He used all the powers he had to save his bill, but the House chose to follow the lead of Mr. Dawes.

THE BOSTON POST, Newspaper, has just moved into their new and splendid building, corner of Water and Devonshire Streets. The Post is always good-natured, readable, spicy and interesting. We cordially congratulate them on this new evidence of success.—Formerly, any dingy garret or dark room was considered good enough for printers—but now each paper of note has a palace of its own. This is as it should be—for why should not newspapers and churches have the best accommodations and facilities for doing good?

RESTORED TO OFFICE.—Foster Blodget, Chairman of the Republican party of Georgia, has been restored to the position of Postmaster at Augusta, from which he was suspended by Postmaster General Randall pending a prosecution which was brought against Mr. Blodget, and which, by Republicans in his State, is understood as being entirely malicious and intended only to destroy his political influence.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

NO. YAM HILL, OREGON, Jan. 12.

Messrs. Editors:—Place no confidence in perfidious Albion, — remember her faith with the treaty of Limerick in Ireland, and oppose the settlement of the Alabama claims; for the unrepented crime of fitting out pirates to prey upon the commerce of these United States, with whom she was then at peace—expecting the assistance of European despots to crush both parties in the conflict,—would be repeated the first opportunity; and, through the majestic interposition of metallic agency, sagaciously distributed in high places, escape retribution.

In the last issue of the Weekly Oregonian, a journal of slight Republican tendencies, published in Portland, and, at the annual time of election, intensely anti-British, I read an extract from the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise, stating, or conveying the idea, that this continent was first discovered by the Chinese; while Grecian coin, bearing date B. C. 300 years, has been discovered in Florida; also, an ancient manuscript in Iceland—translated, and published in the Washington Union, D. C.; and still another manuscript, much older, written in the ancient Irish language, among the Ogallaha (originally O'Gallagher) Indians of the Rocky Mountains by O'Blake,— are not only sufficient evidence to the reverse, but also prove the fallacy of that British offset, which is expressly intended, thro' the public press, to deceive the Celtic race and mixed people of the West.

The preceding facts are further corroborated by the aboriginal traditions regarding Moses and Aaron; the custom of one tribe, in all its wars, to carry the Ark of the Covenant with them; and the striking similarity of costume worn by the chiefs to that now worn by the Highland chieftains of Caledonia, near the coast of British Poland, where, to this day, they wear the coat of many colors.

In order to counteract the British secret service fund, at present under the control of its invisible leader, the Prince of Darkness, who in early days had the impudence to quote Scripture, and now, in his last emergency, has the bold assurance to circulate falsehood,—I forward you this short letter, to which I request you will give publicity.

At the office of the Wellington Independent, New Zealand, in January, 1846, a pamphlet was published, in which the writer stated that the Papal Irish and North American Indians are the offspring of the Lord's ancient people, and in the West Indian Islands many of them will be found. That pamphlet was afterward published in the Adelaide Observer, South Australia.—He, the writer, in 1840, received the revelation on board the barque Marina, on the passage from Quebec to London. By O'Blake's discovery of an ancient manuscript, that revelation is confirmed, —and now awaits its final confirmation in 1869, the year of Ireland's deliverance from the yoke of England. I request you will not delay to give this publicity. JAS. JAMISON SHEASGREEN.

PRUSSIA AND AMERICA.—The following brief speech was made at Berlin at the Grant Dinner on the 4th instant, by Count Bismark:—"This is the day upon which, on the other side of the Atlantic, the victorious commander in the service of the United States enters on his office as President. The event, inasmuch as it deeply interests the United States, has a special claim on the sympathetic interest of this country, for it was a king of Prussia—it was Frederic II—who, at the birth of the Great American Republic, was the first among the non-belligerents to recognize its independence. As for our subsequent relations with the United States, it gives me the greatest pleasure to be able to state as a fact, not only from my personal experience as a minister of Prussia, but from the archives of our history, that the cordial understanding inaugurated by Washington and Frederic, has never suffered the slightest alteration. Not only has no difficulty ever arisen between the two countries, but nothing has ever occurred between them which so much as called for an explanation. It is then to me a most agreeable as well as an appropriate duty to call on you to unite with me in drinking in German wine the health of the President of the United States, General Grant.

THE BOSTON HERALD.—Mr. Edwin C. Bailey has retired from the position of senior partner in the Herald, after 15 years, experience in its management.

The publication of the Herald is continued by the firm of R. M. Pulsifer & Co., composed of Messrs. R. M. Pulsifer, George G. Bailey, Justin Andrews, Edwin B. Haskell and Charles H. Andrews. These gentlemen, all earnest and intelligent workers, having been connected with the Herald for many years, fully understand the wants of their patrons, and will doubtless see that the popularity which has made the Herald so successful in the past is not diminished. Success to them.

—Six bushels of oats will buy a suit of clothes in Salt Lake.

LIBEL SUIT.—Enoch L. Colby, Esq., of Lancaster, has commenced an action for libel against Chester E. Cary of the Littleton Republic, based upon an article in the last issue of that paper. Mr. Colby lays his damages at $10,000, and the press and fixtures of the office were attached, but finally receipted. The article referred to contain statements of a personal nature, which Mr. Colby pronounces entirely false.—Coos Republican.

☞Rev. John Gregory of Northfield, Vermont, has obtained a verdict for $742 damages, for libel, against Hiram Atkins, publisher of the Montpelier Argus. The case has been in court two or three years, and the costs must add several hundred dollars more to the defendant's bill.

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled nature be neglected. Respond promptly to it by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, AN INVIGORANT, and an ALTERATIVE.—Before three days have elapsed from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular system begins to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and costiveness the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside.—The sudden changes of Spring often intensifies the complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is generated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful in the dyspeptic and bilious at this season. m31

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, as given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Allcock's Porous Plaster.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Cold Feet, Pain of the Chest, of the Side, Bruises and accidents, especially of the Spine, also chronic weakness or affection thereof, Sore Throat, Varicose Veins, and even in affections of the heart, this celebrated plaster has been found to afford a permanent and immediate relief.

Dr. J. W. Johnson, of Hartford, writes: "At the moment of writing a man applied for one, who, by entanglement in the shaft of machinery, had both his legs broken, spine severely injured, and was for nearly half an hour entirely helpless. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

LETTER FROM DR. FULLER OF PEEKSKILL.

Thomas Allcock & Co. Gentlemen:—Since my severe accident I have used as an application to the bruised parts your admirable Plaster.

It has had an excellent effect, soothing while drawing out the soreness and sustaining and strengthening the part upon which it is applied. Peekskill, Oct. 6, 1868. E. D. FULLER.

Allcock's Porous Plasters are sold by all Druggists. Principal Agency, Brandreth House, New York. m20

In 1802 the grandfather of Dr. Tobias introduced the Venetian Liniment in England. It was a success, although the price was a guinea per bottle. His late Majesty, William IV., used it for years, and was constantly recommending it to other sufferers. This man found relief very soon by the application of the Porous Plasters. He was soon enabled to work, and now he labors as well as ever."

Holloway's Ointment and Pills

work admirably together as remedies for the affections of the Chest, Lungs and Throat, so common at this season. A few doses of the Pills at once alleviate the general febrile symptoms, and the Ointment faithfully rubbed over the seat of the complaint produces an immediate and powerful local effect; tantalizing and subduing the internal irritation and soon enabling the sufferer to "breathe freer and deeper." This treatment will cure a Cough that resists all other remedies. Sold by all Druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve watches, and have tested all that were good, and those only which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make and sell more watches not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show the baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption lurks in the chest, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergoing fascinating a change from a child to a woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Languitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Eruptions of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Blood Shot Eyes, Flying Specks before the eyes with temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Solitude, Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Nocturnal and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred from self-abuse in more than a dozen young patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample testimony to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually the solder and cipher dial—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the despondent and patient. Ask for the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50, delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall the representations of the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to churn the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they arrange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Cancers, Scrofula, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow healthy commence to heal the lungs, the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, by the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him. He was then induced to try the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, DISEASES AND DISORDERS OF GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has also published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND ITS DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses, Its Effects,—Barrenness,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth. $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, secured in sealed envelopes free of postage. Address,

ALBERT H. HAYES, M. D., President and Consulting Physician.

N. B.—Dr. H. may be consulted in strictest confidence on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. INVIOLABLE SECRECY AND CERTAIN RELIEF. to m9 d

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and by its wonderful healing powers, it cures them. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

☞ PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R.I., general wholesale Agents for the Eastern States.

[From the "Home Monthly."]

Some years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in praise of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer." We listened incredulously to these testimonials. We, in health, had no such resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid.

It was some of the PAIN KILLER. He had bought it in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief.—Since then we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain, incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Chronicle Correspondence.

KITTERY, April 2.

Mr. Charles Cottle found a valuable horse dead in his stable Friday morning.

The U. S. S. Galena started up steam to day at noon.

The U. S. S. Leyden is down in Lower Harbor, and report says the Speedwell is to tow her up to wharf or to Boston.

The Workmen had a meeting to-day Elijah Clough in the chair, and chose Thos. S. White, John Locke, and Thos. Noyes a committee to proceed to Charlestown and other Yards, and report what action to take in regard to the 20 per cent cut off their wages.

Some leading men wish a petition sent to Congress, asking that the Army and Navy and Civil List be cut 73 per cent, to correspond to laborers' and mechanics' Pay. Perhaps they would not be so willing to recommend $1.20, $1.40, and $2.40 per day for workers. Within one month they have been reduced, with this act, 40 per cent; while the Navy Officers had 33 per cent illegally added this winter to their pay, which will amount to 73 per cent difference. We will do anything or nothing or half starve, to pay up our National debt—we have a free country—only justice asks, use all alike.

Let the 73 per cent come off officers, is what many ask,— or put our pay back. LABORER.

☞In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday Evening, the matter of allowing Velocipedes on the sidewalks after 10 or 11 o'clock at night and before 7 in the morning, caused considerable discussion; but after various notions and calling the yeas and nays several times, the whole subject was ruled off the walks,—as these machines and all others except baby carriages, always should be.

The vote to keep the sidewalks clear of Velocipedes was, Yeas, Pendexter, Pender, Miller, Clark, Cotton, 5; Nays, Spinney, Slater, Nowell, 3.

On reducing the Watch, Yeas, Nowell, Clarke, Cotton, 3; Nays, Pendexter, Spinney, Miller, Slater, Pender, 5.

Messrs. Henry A. Yeaton and Stephen L. Marston asked for better drainage of State Street, between Cabot and Anthony; and the Com. on Streets were given power to act in the matter of having the Common Sewer attended to at that point.

CITY MARSHAL JOHNSON'S QUARTERLY REPORT, January to April, gives 325 as the total number of Arrests, and $120 for the amount of Fines and Costs collected. The arrests were for Assault 15, Aggravated Assault 1, Breaking and Entering 3, Breaking Glass 1, Bastardy 1, Coasting on Sidewalks 5, Drunkenness 109, Common Drunkard 1, Disorderly Conduct 5, Deserters U. S. Service 4, Embezzlement 2, Fornication 1, Lodgings 150, Larceny 7, Night Walkers 2, Persons Assisted to homes 11, Suspicious Persons 3, Trespass 4. It will be seen that but for the 110 arrests for Drunkenness, and the 150 Lodgings given, the record would be a small one.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Chief Engineer Waterhouse made the following communication to the City Council on Thursday evening:

I would respectfully call your attention to the following statement in regard to the condition of the Fire Department of this City.

The House occupied by Steamer No. 2, needs to be enlarged in order to accommodate the Engine and Hose Carriage, they being at this time very inconveniently crowded together.

The House occupied by Hand Engine No. 3 needs new doors, the ones now in use being insufficient to protect the apparatus from the weather.

The Hose used by the Hand Engines is a very poor article; it has been in use a number of years, and the most of it is so weak that it is burst by a very small pressure.

The Steamers' Hose is in a very good condition, but the number of feet now on hand is not sufficient (3550 ft.,) the average number of feet used at fires is about 2000 feet, not leaving enough dry hose to fill the carriages.

As stated in my Annual Report, there ought to be a Water Supply for Steamers at or near the corner of Cabot and Middle Streets.

Communication.

ECONOMY.—Cutting down the pay of Mechanics and Laborers 20 per cent, and at thd same time paying the officers of the Navy 33 1-3 per cent more than the pay allowed by Congress! Wouldn't it be a good idea for some member of Congress to look the matter up? As near as we can learn, this 33 1-3 per cent was allowed by Grandma Welles without any authority from Congress! What does Secretary Borie think of it? JUSTITIA.

Communication.

☞We witnessed a sight on Vaughan Street on Friday, which was enough to sicken any heart. A lad 12 years of age, so drunk that he could hardly stand, trying to find his way home to his mother.—and made so by one calling himself a man, who put the fatal glass to his lips, and then turned him into the street. Passion, revenge, or the love of gain, may prompt to and palliate the commission of many crimes, but hard-hearted indeed must be the wretch who would give liquor to a boy of 12 years, and send him staggering home to a broken hearted and sorrowing mother. A number of our citizens saw the sad sight, and we wish it might arouse them and the many mothers and fathers whose sons are subject to like temptations, to say that such things shall be no longer in our midst. H.

THE PARK.—All the Common Council, and one-half the Aldermen, voted in favor of the City appropriating something ($3000) towards a Common; and with more than three-quarters of the City Council thus favorable to the plan, it would seem that some action in this direction will ultimately be had. The project we think is feasible, reasonable, and highly desirable for the interests of the City, public and private. By a recent law of the State, cities may legally appropriate money to build Commons.

TWENTY—OR—ONE.—An exchange says:

The twenty wives of Brigham Young, who were said to have reached Chicago last week en route to Washington, have dwindled to one, Mrs. Amelia Young, (formerly of Portsmouth) who is 25 years old, handsome and accomplished. She is one of a large number of saints who are going to confer with President Grant in regard to the Ogden and Salt Lake Railroad, of which Joseph Young is the Superintendent. It will be remembered that this Amelia is Brigham's prime favorite, and she may be regarded as invested with "full powers."

Mrs. Amelia hails from Portsmouth—but we don't know to what family she belonged,—and never heard of her until she was reported as the last new wife of Brigham. We are somewhat doubtful about the honor of her nativity or residence here.

☞The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society will give a Concert in Newburyport, April 14th—and will return in an extra train at 10 o'clock P. M. This will afford opportunity for others to visit Newburyport, for about half-fare.

☞Very few, even if ever so well practised, can paint so good a show-bill as Mr. H. Ham jr., of this city. For a beautiful sample, though entirely an off-hand production, see the poster for Esther's Concert, at the Post office corner.

☞Teacher's Institute at Exeter next Monday, and all the week. The illness of Rev. Mr. De Normandie, the President, preventing his attendance, will be regretted by every member and visitor. We are pleased to hear he is recovering from his late very severe attack.

ACCIDENT AT RYE.—By the falling of a staging at the new house of Sheridan Jenness, at Rye, on Friday, nine men were precipitated to the ground and seriously injured. Mr. John Norton, of this city, was severely if not fatally hurt.

☞The audiences at the late Concerts of the Philharmonic Society were the most select and appreciative which can be gathered in this city—and no doubt another such will assemble on Fast Night to hear Esther once more.

☞We are desired to state that the Auction Sale of a portion of the Hill Farm, on Monday the 5th of April, is postponed to the Monday following, April 12th.

NAVAL.—Lieut. Comdr. A. T. Crossman has been ordered to Portsmouth Navy Yard, and Commander C. C. Carpenter detached and placed on waiting orders.

NEW MUSIC.—We have received from the author, Mr. Albert H. Fernald, a copy of a Polka Redowa entitled "The Voice of Spring," published by Ditson & Co., Boston. This is one of Albert's brightest gems, and beautifully arranged for the Piano.

☞The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞Rev. J. Marsden, of Abington, Mass., is expected to preach on Sunday at the Universalist Church in this city.

☞Auction of Velocipede, Furniture, and Varieties, at Mr. Wendell's Store, this morning. See advertisement.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS

LAZARUS & MORRIS'

CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these

SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.
